EDITOR'S PREFACE

THE present volume is the 117th annual edition of the ASYLUM PRESS ALMANACK AND DIRECTORY OF MADRAS AND SOUTHERN INDIA, INCLUDING BURMA. As usual, the whole Directory has been revised thoroughly, statistics and information being brought up to date in every instance, and the following new and valuable information added.— Indian Income Tax Act (II of 1886) as amended up to 7th March 1917. For the convenience of Bankers, Traders, Merchants and other business people, the alphabetical list of Post Box Holders in Madras, combined with a list of Telegraphic Addresses, has been brought up to date and may be found on pages 370 to 372. It is hoped, therefore, that the 117th edition of this Directory will be as deservedly appreciated by the public as its predecessors.

The continuance of the Great War, with the consequent removal and changes of officials and also of non-officials, has again greatly affected the work of preparing the Almanack and Directory, very many alterations having had to be made in the names of the occupants of certain offices. The Military portion has, under the orders of the Government of India, Army Department, again been entirely omitted, but will be re-inserted in future editions as soon as the restriction is removed. In the case of the Civil Service and other Government officials, the lists have been corrected up to the beginning of January. The Index has again been revised and enlarged.

Though, from its size, the number, variety and complexity of the subjects dealt with therein, the Almanack and Directory *cannot be wholly free from defects and errors, still every effort has been made to reduce them to a minimum. We shall be obliged if readers will bring to our notice such errors and defects as may be discovered by them with a view to their rectification in future editions. We should also welcome any suggestions from readers tending to the improvement of the publication.

EDITOR'S PREFACE

In conclusion, we would express our hearty thanks for the cordia co-operation of numerous correspondents, official and non-official, who have willingly supplied us with information, for incorporation in the Directory, and made valued suggestions. We would especially thank the various Imperial, Provincial and Native State Government Departments for the valued assistance rendered in supplying information respecting their various departments, and who have assisted us in producing a volume which, we believe, maintains the high standard for which the Directory is renowned, and which, we trust, will prove of valuable assistance to all who use it.

CALENDAR FOR THE YEAR 1918

CHRONOLOGICAL NOTES.

Golden Number	17	Dominical Letter	F.
Epact	17	Roman Indiction	1
Solar Cycle	23	Julian Period	6691

EXPLANATION OF CHRONOLOGICAL CYCLES AND EPACTS

The Golden Number is that which any given year holds in the lunar cycle, which is a period of 19 years, at the lapse of which the phases of the moon take place on the same day of the months, respectively as at the commencement of the cycle. Therefore, while the sun performs its annual course 19 times, the courses of the moon amount to 235. In the ancient calendar, this number was inscribed on a tablet set up in the market-place of Athens in letters of gold, hence the term Golden Number. It was likewise called the Prime because it pointed out the first day of the new moon primum luna.

The Epact is the number of days of the lunar cycle, over and above all the complete courses of the moon for any number of years, hence the number indicates the age of the moon at the beginning of the year.

The Solar Cycle is a period of 28 years, which, owing to leap year, must necessarily elapse before the days of the month can return respectively to the same days of the week, as at the commencement of the cycle. The first year of the Christian Era was the tenth year of this cycle.

The Dominical Letter is that letter of the alphabet which points out in the calendar the Sundays throughout the year, hence also called the Sunday Letter or Pas Domin.

The Roman Indiction was a period of 15 years, instituted by Constantine the Great in A.D. 312, for levying certain taxes upon the subjects of his empire. The Popes, since the time of Charlemagne, have dated their acts by the year of the Indiction which was fixed on the 1st of January.

The Julian Period embraces 7,980 years, and is produced by multiplying into each other the solar cycle (28), the lunar cycle (19), and the cycle of the Indiction (15). This period is reckoned from 709 years before the usual date fixed upon for the creation i. e. at a time when the three cycles are supposed to have commenced together 1—a circumstance which cannot take place again until A.D. 3267, or the lapse of the entire period.

This style was contrived by Joseph Juste Scaliger in A.D. 1583, for chronological purposes, and is assumed as a fixed era in the calculations of all Astronomers and Chronologists. It is of great importance as the standard or general receptacle of all other epochs, periods and cycles. "Into this, as into a large ocean, all the streams of time discharge themselves, without losing their character, or if historians had recorded the number of each cycle in each year, respectively there would have been no dispute about the date of any event in past ages."

GREGORIAN CALENDAR, OR NEW STYLE.

Up to 1582 the length of the year as computed by Julius Cæsar in B.C. 45 consisted of 365 days and 6 hours, but as the true length of a solar year is only 365 days, 5 hours and nearly 49 minutes, this calculation had produced an error amounting to 10 days. Consequently Pope Gregory XIII—hence the calendar was called Gregorian—undertook in 1582 to rectify that error by making the year to consist of 355 days, ten days between the 4th and 15th October were struck out, and the 5th was reckoned as the 15th October. According to this style, the ordinary year is to consist of 365 days, but the year 1584 and every fourth year afterwards termed leap year to contain 366 days, and the centuries 1700, 1800, 1900, 2100, and so on for those centuries which are not divisible by 400 are to be reckoned, not as leap years, but as ordinary years of 365 days only.

The new style has been gradually adopted throughout Europe, except in Russian and countries in which the Greek Church is the Established Religion.

In Great Britain, the new style was adopted in 1752, by that time the error had amounted to 11 days; it was therefore enacted that September 3 of that year should be reckoned as September 14. During the present century, supposing the new style had not been adopted, the error would be 12 days, and this difference must therefore be allowed in Russian and Greek dates. Thus a Russian bill, dated March 2, must be reckoned as dated March 14.

G. Os Nos 774 & 847, Public, dated 4th July 1914 & 31st May 1915, respectively

In supersession of previous orders on the subject, His Excellency the Governor in Council resolves to prescribe the following rules relating to the observance of holidays in public offices, including holidays notified under the Negotiable Instruments Act. —(1) All public offices will be closed on days notified as holidays under the Negotiable Instruments Act. (2) The grant of every holiday is subject to the condition that arrangements will be made for the despatch of emergent business. (3) A Government servant who is called on to attend office on a holiday, except as a punishment, should be granted another day in its place when opportunity offers. If possible, a Government servant of the religious persuasion which observes a holiday should not be called upon to work on that day. (4) The closing of public offices in the Presidency town, in the case of holidays which are not notified under the Negotiable Instruments Act, will be subject to the condition that the Sea Customs office and the Reserve and the Currency departments of the Accountant-General's office shall remain open for the transaction of commercial business. In the General Stamp office the rule will be that, except when more than two holidays under the Negotiable Instruments Act occur consecutively, the office shall never be wholly closed for more than two consecutive days. Whenever, therefore, a holiday not notified under the Negotiable Instruments Act precedes or follows or falls between two or more holidays under that Act, including Sundays, the Stamp office will be opened on that day from 11 A.M. to 1 P.M. In the case of the two gazetted office holidays at Christmas which are both preceded and followed by holidays under the Negotiable Instruments Act, the effect of this rule will be that the Stamp office will be opened from 11 A.M. to 1 P.M. on each of those two days. (5) The Christmas holidays will extend from the 24th December (or from the 23rd, if the 24th is a Sunday) to the 2nd January (or to the 3rd if the 2nd is a Sunday). Of these days, the 25th December and the 1st January are already holidays under the Negotiable Instruments Act. The remaining days to be notified under the Act will be the 26th, the 27th, the 29th and the 31st December. (6) The Easter holidays will extend from Thursday, the day preceding Good Friday, to Tuesday, the day following Easter Monday. Good Friday is already a holiday under the Negotiable Instruments Act, and the Saturday before Easter and Easter Monday will in future be notified as holidays under the Act. (7) The day to be notified as a holiday under the Act in honour of the birthday of His Majesty the King will be fixed each year by the Government of India.

A statement of the holidays to be observed in public offices and to be notified under the Negotiable Instruments Act will be found on the next page. All heads of offices will be authorized to grant, in addition, two half-holidays in the year, either for the whole of holidays without the permission of Government is prohibited.

PLANETARY PHENOMENA.

MERCURY.—It is an inferior planet nearest the Sun. It is the smallest in size and the swiftest in motion. It shines by a very brilliant and white light. At the time of Superior Conjunction it appears perfectly round but very small, but when near Inferior Conjunction it presents the form of a slender but brilliant crescent. It goes round the Sun in about three months, during which period it assumes all the phases of the Moon. Its proximity to the Sun prevents important discovery being made on its surface. It is in Ascending Node on 23rd March, 15th June, 17th September and 23rd December; and in Descending Node on 2nd February, 1st May, 28th July and 25th October. It is in conjunction with Uranus on 24th February, and with Neptune on 15th July. It is at the Greatest Hel. Lat. N. on 1st January, 7th April, 4th July, 10th September, and at the greatest Hel. Lat. S. on 1st April, 31st May, 17th August, and 23rd November. In the North Declination from the 23rd March, to 4th October, and in the South Declination from 10th May to 28th October. It is at the Greatest Hel. Lat. N. on 25th February, and 23rd October and at the Greatest Hel. Lat. S. on 18th June.

VENUS.—Another inferior planet nearer the Sun than the Earth. It shines with a light extremely pleasant. Its silver brightness far surpasses that of the Moon and is unequalled by any of the heavenly luminaries except Jupiter or Sirius. It is visible to an unaided eye during every time when it attains its greatest brilliancy. It takes nearly $7\frac{1}{2}$ months to go round the Sun, during which period it presents all the phases of the Moon. It is in conjunction with Neptune on 24th August. It is in Ascending Node on 14th August and in Descending Node on 23rd April, and 2nd December. In North Declination from 10th May to 8th October. It is at the Greatest Hel. Lat. N. on 25th February, and 23rd October and at the Greatest Hel. Lat. S. on 18th June.

MARS.—A superior planet next to the Earth in order of distance from the Sun. It has a eddy fiery color. Its motion round the Sun is 2 years. It is the smallest of the Earth—it appears sometimes yellow, sometimes full, and sometimes in all the phases of the Moon like the two inferior planets—Mercury and Venus. It is attended by two satellites. It is in Descending Node on 11th July. In North Declination from 14th June. It is at the Greatest Hel. Lat. S. on 15th December.

JUPITER.—Is, next to Venus, the next brightest of the planets. The most remarkable phenomena in its disc is a number of belts by which it is encircled. It has 8 Moons which not only eclipse each other but are eclipsed by the primary. It is in Ascending Node on 19th December. In North Declination throughout the year. It takes 12 years to go round the Sun.

SATURN.—Next in size to Jupiter, is this superior planet. Like Jupiter, it has belts on its surface. A still more remarkable phenomenon of Saturn is a ring with which it is encircled, which can be seen at the time of Opposition. This ring consists of two concentric rings detached from each other and from the body of the planet. It is in the North Declination throughout the year. It is attended by 9 Moons.

URANUS.—The seventh planet was discovered by Dr. Herschel in 1781. It has about 6 Satellites which require very powerful telescopes to observe them. It is in conjunction with the Moon on 15th January, 11th February, 11th March, 7th April, 4th May, 1st and 24th June, 24th July, 22nd August, 1st and 18th September, 16th October, 12th November and 9th December; and with the Sun on 13th February. It is in Quadrature to the Sun on 17th November; and in Opposition to the Sun on 9th May and 19th August. Stationary on 8th June and 4th November.

NEPTUNE.—A superior planet most distant from the Sun. It has only one Satellite attending on it. Two different Astronomers have independently discovered this planet. It is in Conjunction with the Moon on 27th January, 23rd February, 22nd March, 19th April, 16th May, 12th June, 10th July, 6th August, 2nd and 30th September, 27th October, 23rd November and 21st December; with the Sun on 31st July. It is in Opposition to the Sun on 16th January. It is in Quadrature to the Sun on 25th April, and 2nd November. It is Stationary on 15th April, and 12th November.

MINOR PLANETS.—The supposition that a great number of these lie between Mars and Jupiter, led some Astronomers to draw their attention to find out the truth. Vesta is the only one now visible to the naked eye owing to its white, pure and intense light. The discovery of a planet in 1810 removed the belief that Eros was the nearest to the Earth after the Moon.

EXAMPLES.

1.—Required the Mean Barometric Pressure and Temperature at 7 o'clock in the morning on January 6th? The mean daily values from the table on page 48 are 30.03 inches and 75 degrees. The Winter Hourly Variations for 7 morning are + 0.02 inch and — 5 degrees. Hence the required values are—
Pressure 30.05 inches and Temperature 70 degrees.

2.—Required the Mean Barometric Pressure and Temperature at 3 o'clock in the afternoon on June 5th? The mean daily values from the table are 29.71 inches and 87 degrees. The Summer Hourly Variations for 3 afternoon are — 0.06 inch and + 7 degrees. The required values are therefore 29.65 inches and 84 degrees.

The readings of a metrical Barometer require to be reduced to 32 degrees by the help of tables to be found in every meteorological treatise. Those of an Aneroid, properly adjusted, show reduced Mean Pressure at once without reduction. The Mean Pressure is about 0.01 inch less than the numbers given for every successive rise of nine feet above the mean Sea Level.

The following couplet is designed to assist the memory. —

*All days decline, great blessings end;

The first letters of these twelve words are the same as those at the beginning of each month.

If the letter set at the first day of a month be before or after the dominical letter in any year, the day on which the month begins is before or after the Lord's day, and is as far distant as the commencing letter is distant from the dominical letter.

Thus if A be the dominical letter, January begins on the Sabbath, February and March on Wednesday.

If B be the dominical letter, January begins on Saturday, February and March on Tuesday.

EXPLANATORY NOTES ON FEASTS, FASTS AND FESTIVALS

CHRISTIAN.

Movable.

ADVENT SUNDAY.

Advent Sunday is the first Sunday of the Church's year. The season of advent embraces four Sundays, beginning with what is nearest to St. Andrew's Day. It is intended as a time of penitential devotion, with reference to Christ's first coming in the flesh, and His second coming to judge the world, and was known as the "Lesser Lent."

These Sundays precede the grand festival of Christmas. They take their name from the Latin adventus, to come.

SEPTUA, SEXA, QUINQUA, AND QUADRA GESIMA SUNDAYS

When the words Septuagesima, Sexagesima, Quinquagesima and Quadragesima (seventieth, sixtieth, fiftieth and fortieth), were first applied to denote these Sundays, the season of Lent had generally been extended to a fast of six weeks, that is, thirty-six days, not reckoning the Sundays, which were always celebrated as festivals. These days precede Easter.

EMBER DAYS

The first of the four Ember seasons falls usually about the beginning of March, originally these were times of fasting and prayer for a blessing on the fruits of the earth. From a very early time, however, they have been associated with the conferring of holy orders, and then one purpose now is to recall the faithful to fasting and prayer on behalf of those who are to be ordained to the ministry.

There are four sets of Ember days, to wit the Wednesday, Friday and Saturday following—(1) Quinquagesima of the first Sunday in Lent, (2) Whit Sunday, (3) Holy Rood Day, 14th September, and (4) St. Lucia's Day, 13th December.

Ember Day derives its name from the ancient religious custom of fasting on those days, till night and then breaking the fast by taking a cake baked under the embers, called ember bread.

SHROVE TUESDAY.

This day is also called 'Eastern's Een' and Pancake Tuesday. Shrove is the pretence of shrive, an antiquated word which signifies, to hear or make confession. On this day it was usual for the people to confess, that they might be the better prepared for the observance of the ensuing season of penitence, and for receiving the Sacrament at Easter. After confession, the Members of the church dined on pancakes or fritters, hence 'Pancake Tuesday.'

It was afterwards converted into a day of idle sports and amusements, and in many parts of England, its anniversary was distinguished by riot and drunkenness, by bull-baiting, cock fighting, and such other diversions as were calculated to promote cruelty and inhumanity. The Popish Carnival commences from 12th day, and holds till Lent.

LENT.

Lent is not of apostolic institution, nor was it known in the earlier ages of the Christian Church. But it is the name given to those forty days of fasting which the church prescribes to prepare us for Easter.

ASH WEDNESDAY.

This day was formerly called Caput Jejunii, the head of the fast, and Dies Cinerum, or Ash-Wednesday. The latter appellation is derived from the discipline of the ancient Church, in regard to penitents, who, on the first day of Lent, had ashes thrown upon their heads, and their bodies clothed in sackcloth as a token of humiliation. It is the first day of Lent and was added with the three following days to make up the 40 days of Lent, exclusive of the Sundays which are no part of the fast.

MID-LENT SUNDAY.

The middle or fourth Sunday in Lent was formerly called the Sunday of the five Loaves, the Sunday of Bread, and the Sunday of Refreshment, in allusion to the Gospel appointed for this day. It was also named Rose-Sunday, from the Pope carrying a golden rose in his hand, which he exhibited to the people in the streets as he went to celebrate the Eucharist, and at his return. Mothering Sunday is another name attached to this day, from the practice, in Roman Catholic times, of people visiting their mother-church on Mid-Lent Sunday. Hence, perhaps, the custom now existing in some parts of England, of children visiting their parents, and presenting them with money, trinkets, or some other trifle. Furmenty is commonly a rural repast on this day. It is made of whole grains of wheat first parboiled, and then put into and boiled in milk, sweetened, and seasoned with spices.

SIXTH SUNDAY IN LENT

Dominica in Passione or Passion Sunday, was the name given to this day in Mediaeval times, as the Church now begins to advert to the sufferings of Christ. In the north it is called Carling Sunday, and grey peas, first steeped at night in water, and fried with butter, form the usual repast.

PALM SUNDAY

In the miscals, this day is denominated Dominica in ramis Palmarum, or Palm Sunday, and was so called from the palm branches and green boughs distributed on this day, in commemoration of our Lord's triumphal entry into Jerusalem when the multitude strewed palm-branches in the way. Sprigs of box-wood are still used as a substitute for palms in Roman Catholic countries. On this day is still retained the ancient usage of decorating churches, houses, &c., with evergreens.

PASSION WEEK OR HOLY WEEK.

Is the week before Easter, in which our Saviour's sufferings and death took place.

MAUNDY THURSDAY.

This day is called in Latin Dies Mandati, the day of the command, being the day on which our Lord washed the feet of his disciples, as recorded in the second lesson. The practice was long kept up in the monasteries. After the ceremony, liberal donations were made to the poor, of clothing out of silver money, and refreshment was given them to mitigate the severity of the fast. On the 15th April 1731 (Maundy Thursday), the Archbishop of York on behalf of the King washed the feet of a certain number of poor persons, and James II was the last king who performed this in person. The King of England now distributes his royal maundy or alms to the poor by his almoner: in Westminster Abbey on this day.

GOOD FRIDAY.

This day commemorates the suffering of Christ as a propitiation for our sins. Holy Friday, or the Friday in Holy Week, was its most ancient and general appellation, the name Good Friday is peculiar to the English Church. It was observed as a day of extraordinary devotion. Bells, with crosses upon them, are usually carried on this day at breakfast. St. Peter's Church at Rome is most superbly illuminated on this night.

The procession on this day, at Barcelona, is thus described by the Rev. Joseph Townsend, in his "Journey through Spain": "I found two images, as large as life, distinguished from the rest as being stationary, and the more immediate objects of their devotion: the one representing Christ as taken from the cross, the other the Virgin in all her best attire pierced by seven swords, and leaning over the recumbent body of her son. Behind these images, a theatre with colonnades, supporting a multitude of wax tapers, dazzled the sight, while the ear was charmed by the harmonious chanting of the choir."

"More than a hundred thousand persons all the morning crowded the streets, hailing from church to church to express the earnestness of their zeal, and the fervor of their devotion, by bowing themselves in each, and kissing the feet of the most revered image. Most of the spectators were natives of the city, but many upon such occasions resort to Barcelona from the adjacent villages, and some from distant provinces."

"Towards the close of day the pageant appeared, moving with slow and solemn pace along the streets, and conducted with the most perfect regularity. The last supper of Christ with his disciples, the treachery of Judas, attended by the priests, together with the guards, the flagellation, the crucifixion, the taking from the Cross, the mounting of the body, and the burial, with every transaction of the closing scene, and the events subsequent to the Passion of our Lord, were represented by images as large as life, placed in proper order on lofty stages, many of which were elegant, and all as handsomely ornamented as carving and gilding, rich silks, brocades and velvets with curious embroidery, all executed by the most skilful artists, could render trees. No expense was spared either in the materials, the workmanship, or the wax lights, which, with the most splendid profusion, were consumed upon this occasion. Each of these stages was supported on the shoulders of six men, who were completely hid by a covering of black velvet hanging round the margin of the stage, and reaching nearly to the ground. This procession was preceded by Roman centurions clothed in their proper armor, and the soldiers of the garrison brought up the rear. The intermediate space was occupied by the group of images above described, attended by eight hundred burgesses, clothed in black blackamit with flowing trains, each carrying a flambeau in his hand. Besides these, one hundred and four score penitents engaged my more particular attention. Like the former, they each carried a flambeau, but their dress was singular, somewhat resembling that of the blue-coat boys of Christ's Hospital, London, being a jacket and coat in one, reaching to their heels, made of dark-brown shalloon, with a bonnet on their head, like what is called a fool's cap, being a cone covering the head and face completely, and having holes for the eyes. The design of this peculiar form is to conceal the penitents and to spare them blushes. These were followed by twenty others who, either from remorse or conscience, or having been guilty of more atrocious crimes, or for hire, or with the most benevolent intention of adding to the common fund of merit for the service of the Church, walked in the procession barefooted, dragging heavy chains, and bearing large roses on their shoulders. Their penance was severe; but, for their comfort, they had assigned to them the post of honour, for immediately after them followed the sacred corpse placed in a glass coffin, and attended by twenty-five priests, dressed in their richest robes. Next the body, a well-chosen band with hautboys, chorionets, French horns, and flutes, played the softest and most solemn music. This part of the procession wanted nothing to be given the effect. I am persuaded that every one who had a soul for harmony felt the stirring team."

His Saviour's Words Going To The Cross.

Have, have ye no regard, all ye
 Who pass this way, to pity me,
 Who am a man of misery?
 A man both bruised, and broke; and one
 Who suffers not here for mine own,
 But for my friends' transgression!
 Ah, Sion's daughters! do not fear
 The cross, the cords, the nails, the spear,
 The myrrh, the gall, the vinegar;
 For Christ, your loving Saviour, hath
 Drunk up the wine of God's fierce wrath,
 Only there's left a little froth,
 Less for to taste, than for to shew
 What bitter cups had been your due,
 Had he not drunk them up for you:—Herick

HOLY SATURDAY.

Is the day next to Good Friday and is kept to commemorate the descent of our Saviour to Hades.

EASTER-DAY OR EASTER SUNDAY.

Easter is styled, by the Fathers, the highest of all festivals, the feast of feasts, the queen of festivals, and Dominica laudis, the joyous Sunday. Masters granted freedom to their slaves at this season, and valuable presents were made to the poor. This is the first Sunday after Good Friday and is held in commemoration of the Resurrection of Our Lord.

EASTER MONDAY AND TUESDAY.

These are appointed as Holy Days to enable persons to communicate who have been prevented from receiving the Holy Communion on Easter Day according to the rubric. Every day in this week was formerly observed as a religious festival, sermons being preached, and the sacrament administered. In many places, servants were permitted to rest from their usual employments, that they might constantly attend public worship. During fifteen days, of which the paschal solemnity consisted, the Courts of Justice were shut, and all public games, shows, and amusements were prohibited: it is unnecessary to observe that this practice has long ceased, and that the Easter Week is usually devoted to relaxation and amusement, this is particularly the case at Moscow and in Catholic countries.

LOW SUNDAY.

It was a custom among the primitive Christians, on the first Sunday after Easter Day, to repeat some part of the solemnity of that grand festival, whence this Sunday took the name of Low Sunday, being celebrated as a feast, though in a lower degree.

ROGATION SUNDAY

This day takes its name from the Latin term rogare, to ask, because, on the three subsequent days, supplications were appointed by Mamertus, Bishop of Vienne, (South of France) in the year 459, to be offered up with fasting to God, to avert some particular calamities that threatened his diocese. This is the fifth Sunday after Easter. It is so called because on the Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday before Ascension Day, prayers and litanies were used to avert impending evils and to supplicate God's blessings on the fruits of the earth.

ASCENSION DAY (HOLY THURSDAY).

The 40th day after Easter was set apart to commemorate our Saviour's Ascension into Heaven. In London, and in many other places on this day, the minister, accompanied by the churchwardens, and a number of boys, with wands, walk in procession, and beat the bounds of their parish. This 'beating the bounds' is the only survival in modern times of the Rogation-tide processions. All processions on this, and the preceding rogation days, were abolished at the Reformation.

WHIT-SUNDAY OR PENTECOST.

The name Whit-Sunday means White Sunday, because catechumens, who were then baptized as well as those who had been baptized before at Easter, appeared, in the ancient Church, in white garments. This is a solemn feast in honour of the descent of the Holy Ghost in tongues of fire on the Apostles and falls on the 50th (Pentecost) day (or 7th Sunday) after Easter.

WHIT-MONDAY AND WHIT TUESDAY

In 'ancient times' Whitson Plays were acted at this season. At Chester, these plays were twenty-five in number and were performed for above three centuries, annually. In the year 1600, they were enacted by the craftmen of the twenty-five companies who were all dressed in suitable habits. The subjects were taken from the Scriptures.

Every third year, on Whit-Tuesday, the Mentem at Eton is celebrated. It consists of a procession to a small tumulus on the southern side of the Bath road, which has given the name of Salt Hill to the spot, now better known by the splendid Inns that are established there.

TRINITY SUNDAY.

Stephen, Bishop of Liege, first drew up an office in commemoration of the Holy Trinity, about the year 820; but the festival was not formally admitted into the Romish Church till the 14th century, under the pontificate of John XXII. This is the next after Whitsuntide, and appointed for the commemoration of the Mystery of the Holy Trinity. With the last Sunday in Trinity the Ecclesiastical year closes.

CORPUS CHRISTI.

This festival, 'the body of Christ,' was appointed in honour of the Eucharist, and always falls on the Thursday after Trinity Sunday. This day, termed the Fete Dieu, is one of the greatest festivals of the Roman Church, beginning on Trinity Sunday, and ending on the Sunday following.

FIXED.

* JANUARY.

The name given to this month by the Romans was taken from Janus, one of their divinities, to whom they gave two faces, because on the one side, the first day of this month looked towards the new year, and on the other towards the old one. It was called wolfmonat by our Saxon ancestors, on account of the danger they then experienced from wolves.

1.—CIRCUMCISION.

On this day is celebrated the Circumcision of our Saviour, a rite of the Jewish law first enjoined to Abraham as a token of the covenant God made with him and his posterity.

Hark! the merry bells ring round
With clamorous joy to welcome in this day,
This consecrated day
To mirth and indolence.

The ancient custom of going about with the wassail, 'a bowl of spiced ale,' is yet retained in many places. The composition was ale, nutmeg, sugar, toast, and roasted crabs or apples and was called lamb's wool.

6 — EPIPHANY.

On the Epiphany or Manifestation of Christ to the Gentiles, commonly called Twelfth day, the Eastern magi were guided by the star to pay homage to their Saviour; and it takes its name from their coming on that day, which was the twelfth after the Nativity. It is interesting to note that the observance of this Festival is older than that of Christmas itself. On the Epiphany the King tolls gold, frankincense and myrrh at the altar. The usual celebration of Twelfth-day, in the Metropolis and in the South of England, is by drawing lots, and assuming fictitious characters for the evening. Formerly the king or queen was chosen by a bean found in a piece of divided cake; and this was once a common Christmas gambol in both the English Universities. The day after Twelfth-day was called St. Duff's day.

8.—SAINT LUCIAN.

Saint Lucian, Confessor and Martyr, was born at Samosata in Syria. He was well versed in the Hebrew language, and employed much time in comparing and amending the copies of the Bible. Lucian was put to death by Maximianus II.

13.—SAINT HILARY.

Hilary was born at Poitiers in France, of an illustrious family; and of this place he was chosen bishop in the year 353. He died at Poitiers in 368. Hilary was an excellent orator and poet, he was styled by St. Jerom 'the Trumpet of the Latins against the Arians.'

18 — SAINT PRISCIA.

Priscia, a Roman lady, was early converted to Christianity, but refusing to adjure her religion, and to offer sacrifice when she was commanded, was horribly tortured, and afterwards beheaded, under the Emperor Claudius, in the year 25.

21 — SAINT AGNES.

Agnes, a young Roman lady, of a noble family, suffered martyrdom in the tenth general persecution, under the Emperor Diocletian, in the year 306. Although the executioners wounded her most cruelly with the sword, yet she bore it with incredible constancy, singing hymns all the time. She was then no more than thirteen or fourteen years of age.

22.—SAINT VINCENT.

Vincent, a deacon of the church in Spain, suffered martyrdom in the Diocletian persecution, about the year 308, being extended upon burning coals; and, after his body was broiled there, he was thrown up on heaps of broken tiles.

25.—CONVERSION OF SAINT PAUL.

This day celebrates the miraculous conversion of Saint Paul. He was beheaded under the general persecution of Nero: hence the usual representation of him with a sword in his hand.

30.—KING CHARLES, MARTYR.

King Charles I. martyred at Whitehall at 12 minutes past 1 o'clock, A.D. 1649.

FEBRUARY.

Some etymologists derive February from Februa, an epithet given to Juno, as the goddess of purification; while others attribute the origin of the name to Februa, a feast held by the Romans in this month in behalf of the manes of the deceased. The Saxons named February spring kile, on account of the sprouts of the cole-wort which began to appear in this month.

2.—PURIFICATION OF THE BLESSED VIRGIN MARY.

This festival is of high antiquity, and the ancient Christians observed it by using a great number of lights, in remembrance, as it is supposed, of our blessed Saviour being declared by Simeon, to be 'a light to lighten the Gentiles'; hence the name of Candlemasday.

3.—SAINT BLAISE.

He was Bishop of Sebaste, in Armenia, and suffered martyrdom in 316, under the persecution of Licinius. Blaise is the principal patron of Ragusa, and also of the wool-combers, who still keep a solemn guild at Norwich, in memory of their tutelary saint.

5.—SAINT AGATHA.

Saint Agatha suffered martyrdom under Decius, in the year 251. She was honourably descended, and very beautiful. Her personal charms soon attracted the notice of Quintianus, prætor or governor of the province; who, being unable to accomplish his base designs, ordered her to be scourged, and then imprisoned, for not worshipping the Pagan deities. After which, still persisting in the faith, she was put to the rack, burnt with hot irons, and had her breasts cut off.

14.—SAINT VALENTINE.

Valentine was an ancient presbyter of the Church; he suffered martyrdom in the persecution under Claudius II. at Rome, being beaten with clubs, and then beheaded, in the Via Flaminia, about the year 270.

The day Saint Valentine,

When maids are brisk, and at the break of day
Start up and turn their pillows curious all
To know what happy swain the fates provide
A mate for life. Then follows thick discourse
Of true-love knots and sonnets nicely penned,
But to the learned critic's eye no verse
But prose distracted.—HURDIS.

The custom alluded to in the verse of sending 'valentines' was probably a heathen one taken over like so many others by the Christian Church and cleansed of its loose associations. It would be difficult to imagine anything more vulgar and disgusting than the majority of the valentines exposed for sale now-a-days in England. It is hardly necessary to say that all Christian feeling has passed away from the present observance of this day.

24.—SAINT MATTHIAS.

Matthias was, probably, one of the seventy disciples, and was a constant attendant upon our Lord, from the time of His baptism by St. John until His Ascension. He was afterwards, near the river Ascanus, murdered by some barbarians.

MARCH.

Among the Romans, March, from Mars, was the first month and marriages made in this month were accounted unhappy. The Saxons called March lent-monath, or lenath-moneth, 'because the days did first begin, in length, to exceed the nights.'

1.—SAINT DAVID.

He is the patron saint of Wales; in the year 519 he was made Bishop of Caldeon, which See he removed to Menivia, ever since called after him St. David's.

2.—SAINT CHAD.

Saint Chad or Chad, educated in the monastery of Lindisfarne, under Saint Aidan was afterwards Bishop of Lichfield, and died in the great pestilence of 672.

7.—SAINT PERPETUA.

Perpetua, a noble lady of Carthage, only twenty-two years of age, suffered martyrdom in 203, by order of Minutius Firmianus, under the persecution of the Emperor Severus. In the amphitheatre, Perpetua was exposed to the attacks of a wild cow, and, after being gored by this animal, she languished for some time under the wounds given her by a young and unskilful gladiator.

12.—SAINT GREGORY.

Saint Gregory, surnamed the Great, was born about the year 540. He was consecrated Pope about the year 590, and died in 604. Before his advancement to the See, Gregory projected the conversion of the English nation; and, although his offer to this effect was at first refused, he accomplished his wishes after he assumed the papal chair, by the Mission of St. Augustine. Whence he is entitled The Apostle of England.

17.—SAINT PATRICK.

The tutelar saint of Ireland was born in the year 371, in a village called Bonaven Tabernios, probably Kilpatrick, in Scotland, between Dunbarton and Glasgow. His father was a deacon and his grandfather a priest. Being successively ordained deacon, priest, and bishop, he received the apostolical benediction from Pope Celestine, and was sent by him, about the beginning of the year 432, to preach the Gospel in Ireland; whence he is entitled The Apostle of Ireland. He died at the good old age of 123, and was buried at Down, in Ulster.

When he preached the Gospel to the Pagan Irish, he illustrated the doctrine of the Trinity by showing them trefoil, or three-leaved grass, with one stalk; the illustration touched them, and the shamrock was ever afterwards worn upon this saint's anniversary, to commemorate the event.

21.—SAINT BENEDICT.

Benedict, or Bennet, was born at Norcia in Italy, about the year 480, and of an honourable family. Being sent by his parents to Rome to complete his studies, he became disgusted with the licentiousness of the Roman youths and retired to the mountain of Subiaco, about forty miles from the city. Bennet was now only fifteen, and lived for three years in a cave, Romanus, a monk, giving him provisions: these were let down by a rope, with a bell affixed, to give notice to the holy recluse. Bennet founded the monastery of Casino in 529; it was built on the brow of a very high mountain, on the top of which there was an old temple of Apollo, surrounded with a grove. The Benedictine order of monks, first instituted by our saint, was, in the ninth century, at its height of glory.

25.—ANNUNCIATION OF THE B. V. M. OR LAY-DAY

This day celebrates the angel's message to the Virgin Mary, respecting our Blessed Lord. She was, probably, an only child, and but fifteen years of age when espoused to Joseph. She died A. D. 48, being about sixty years old. Until 1752 the reckoning of the year of our Lord in the Church of England began with this day. Her emblem is the lily. The dedications of ancient Churches in England in honour of S. Mary far exceed all others.

APRIL.

April is derived from Aprilis, or aperire, I open; because the earth, in this month, begins to open her bosom for the production of vegetables. The Saxons called this month oster-monat, from the goddess Goster or because the winds were found to blow generally from the east in this month.

1.—ALL FOOL'S DAY.

On this day everybody strives to make as many fools as he can; the wit chiefly consists in sending persons on what are called sleeveless errands, for the history of Free's mether, or pigeon's walk, stirrup oil, and similar ridiculous absurdities.

4TH.—SAINT AMBROSE.

Our saint was born about the year 340, and was educated in the palace of his father who was Prætorian Prefect of Gaul. He ruled over the See of Milan with great piety and vigilance for more than twenty years; during which time he gave all his money to pious uses and settled the reversion of his estate upon the Church. He converted the celebrated St. Augustine to the faith; he is generally represented carrying a triple scourge in his hand, in reference to his courage in excommunicating the Emperor Theodosius for an unmerciful act of revenge towards the people of Milan. He died, aged fifty-seven, in the year of our Lord 396.

19.—SAINT ALPHEGE.

A native of England, Alphege was first Abbot of Bath, then Bishop of Winchester, in the year 984 and twelve years afterwards, Archbishop of Canterbury. He was stoned to death by the Danes at Greenwich on the spot where the parish church now stands, dedicated to his memory.

21.—SAINT DOMINIC.

Found at Paris thirty of his religious followers in the chapel of St. James, and, in consequence of the name of the Chapel and the street where it stood, he called them Jacobins. This was the origin of an Order which exercised great power over kings. St. Louis had so much love for this community, that he wished to be made a Jacobin. He proposed his design to the queen, and conjured her not to oppose it. That princess immediately sent for her children and the Earl of Anjou, brother of the King; she demanded of the first whether they would prefer being the sons of a priest rather than the sons of a King? And, without waiting for their answer, she exclaimed, "The Jacobins have worked on the mind of your father, and persuaded him to abdicate the throne in order to become a priest and a preacher". At these words, the Earl of Anjou expressed his determination to oppose the King and the priests; and the eldest son of the Monarch swore by St. Denis, that, if ever he came to the throne, he would drive every mendicant idle priest out of his kingdom. The fanatic passion of St. Louis for crusades brought him to his death, near the ruins of Carthage, fighting against Mussalams in a country where Dido had established the gods of the Syrians. This King excited that religious enthusiasm which depopulated Europe during two centuries.

23.—SAINT GEORGE.

This illustrious saint, termed, by the Greeks, the 'great martyr,' was born in Cappadocia of noble Christian parents, and was a Tribune or Colonel in the army under Diocletian. He was beheaded in the year 290. Under the name and ensign of St. George, Edward III, in 1330, instituted the Order of the Garter, now the most noble order of knighthood in Europe.

25.—SAINT MARK.

St. Mark's Gospel was written in the year 63. The Order of Knights of St. Mark at Venice, under the protection of this evangelist, was instituted in the year 737, the reigning Doge being always Grand Master: their motto was, 'Pas tibi, Marce, Evangelista Meus'.

MAY.

May is so called from Maia, the Mother of Mercury, to whom sacrifices were offered by the Romans on the first of this month; or, according to some, from respect to the senators and nobles of Rome, who were named Majores as the following month was termed Junius, in honor of the youth of Rome. The Saxons called May tri-milki, because in that month they began to milk their kine three times in a day.

1.—MAY-DAY.

Anciently, all ranks of people went out a-maying early on this day. 'The Juvenile part of both sexes, in the north, were wont to rise a little after midnight, and walk to some neighbouring wood, accompanied with music and the blowing of horns, where they would break down branches from the trees, and adorn themselves with nosegays and crowns of flowers. After this they would return with their booty homewards, about the rising of the sun, and make their doors and windows to triumph in the flowery spoil. The after-part of the day is chiefly spent in dancing round a tall pole, which is called a May-pole, which being placed in a convenient part of the village, stands there, as it were, consecrated to the goddess of flowers, without the least violation offered it, in the whole circle of the year.

The custom of going a-maying is now confined wholly to the populace; and the 'Milk-maids' garland and 'chimney sweepers' dance are the most remarkable features of this annual celebration.

1.—SAINT PHILIP AND SAINT JAMES.

Philip was born at Bethsaida, near the Sea of Tiberias, the city of Andrew and Peter. He was one of the first disciples and an apostle. James the Less, called also James the Just, and, by the Apostle Paul, James, the Lord's brother, was the son of Joseph, afterwards husband to the Virgin Mary as is probable by his first wife. The first of these martyrs was stoned to death, and the second, having been thrown from a high place, was killed by a fuller's staff.

3.—INVENTION OF THE CROSS.

The Church celebrates this day as a festival, to commemorate the invention or finding of a wooden cross supposed to be the true, one, by Empress Helena, the mother of Constantine the Great. See September 14.

6.—JOHN THE EVANGELIST, A. P. L.

John the Evangelist was a Galilean by birth, the son of Zebedee and Salome, the younger brother of James; but not of him that was surnamed the Just, and who was the brother of our Lord. Being carried prisoner to Rome, he was condemned to be thrown into a cauldron of boiling oil, but was miraculously preserved, and came out of it alive. He survived to the reign of Trajan, and died about ninety years of age.

19.—SAINT DUNSTAN.

Dunstan was a native of Glastonbury, and nobly descended. He was a skilful painter-musician, and an excellent forger and refiner of metals; he manufactured crosses, vials, and sacred vestments; and also painted and copied good books. He was Bishop of London and afterwards Archbishop of Canterbury. He died in 938.

JUNE.

The Saxons called June weyd-monat, because their beasts did then weyd or feed in the meadows.

5.—SAINT BONIFACE.

Boniface was born at Crediton in Devon: and after many years of missionary preaching in Germany was created Bishop of Mainz in 745. He was one of the first priests of his day, and was also a great friend and admirer of the Venerable Bede. He was murdered in a barbarous manner by the populace near Utrecht, while preaching the Christian religion.

11.—SAINT BARNABAS.

Our saint's proper name was Joses; he was descended of the tribe of Levi, and born at Cyprus. Being shut up all night in the synagogue by some Jews at Salamis, he was the next morning cruelly tortured and afterwards stoned to death. This Epistle which he wrote is considered genuine, though not admitted into the canon of the Scriptures.

17.—SAINT ALBAN.

St. Alban, the first Christian martyr in England, suffered in 303.

21.—SAINT JOHN THE BAPTIST AND MIDSUMMER DAY.

The nativity of Saint John the Baptist is celebrated by the Christian Church on this day, because he was the Forerunner of our Blessed Lord, and, by preaching the doctrine of repentance, prepared the way for the Gospel. He was imprisoned by Herod for preaching against his marriage with his brother's wife, and was afterwards beheaded by the arts of that enraged woman.

It was formerly customary at Magdalen College, Oxford, on St. John the Baptist's Day, to have a sermon preached in the first court. There was a permanent pulpit of stone inserted in one corner, and the quadrangle used to be furnished round the sides with a large fence of green boughs, that the preaching might more nearly resemble that of John the Baptist in the Wilderness. But, as we grow more tender than our forefathers, it has been thought safer to take shelter under the roof of the chapel. It is to this institution that we owe the admirable 'Consideration on the Life and Death of John the Baptist.'

29.—SAINT PETER.

This apostle's father was Jonah, probably a fisherman of Bethsaida. Peter was first scourged, and then led out to be crucified upon the hill called Janiculus, desiring to be fastened to the cross with his head downwards, alleging that he thought himself unworthy to die in the same way as his Lord and Master.

JULY.

This word is derived from the Latin Julius the surname of C. Cæsar, the dictator, who was born in it. Mark Anthony first gave to this month the name of July Quintilis as being the fifth month in the year, in the old Roman calendar established by Romulus. July was called by the Saxons, heu-monat, or heymonat, because therein they usually mowed and made their hay-harvest.

3.—VISITATION OF THE BLESSED VIRGIN MARY.

This festival was instituted by Pope Urban VI, in commemoration of that remarkable journey which the mother of our Lord took into the mountains of Judæa, in order to visit the mother of St. John Baptist.

4.—TRANSLATION OF SAINT MARTIN.

This day was appointed to commemorate the removal or translation of St. Martin's body from one tomb to another much more noble and magnificent, viz., the Cathedral at Tours: an honour conferred upon the deceased saint by Perpetuus, one of his successors in the See. His festival is celebrated on the 11th of November.

15.—SAINT SWITHUN.

Swithun, in the Saxon Swiðun, received his clerical tonsure, and put on the monastic habit, in the old monastery at Winchester: he was of noble parentage, and passed his youth in the study of grammar, philosophy, and the Scriptures. Swithun was promoted to holy orders by Helmstan, Bishop of Winchester; at whose death, in 852, King Ethelwolf granted him the See. In this he continued eleven years, and died in 868. He is supposed to be patron Saint of the weather, and is represented in the old Clog almanacks by a shower of rain.

20.—SAINT MARGARET.

She was born at Antioch, and was the daughter of a Pagan priest. She was first tortured and then beheaded in the year 278.

22.—SAINT MARY MAGDALEN.

This day was first dedicated to the memory of St. Mary Magdalen, by King Edward VI; and in his Common Prayer, the Gospel for the day is from St. Luke, chap. vii. verse 36. The Reformers, however, upon a more strict inquiry, finding it doubtful whether this woman, mentioned in the Gospel, was really Mary Magdalen, thought it prudent to discontinue the festival.

25.—SAINT JAMES.

James "The Great" was by birth a Galilean, and partner with Peter in fishing, from which our Lord called him to be one of his disciples. Of his ardent zeal, no other proof is necessary, than his becoming the victim of Herod Agrippa. The Spaniards esteem James their tutelar saint. In London and elsewhere on this day boys erect grotes of scallop shell in his honour and invite passers-by to remember by an alms the devotions performed at his shrine at Santiago.

26.—SAINT ANNE.

The parents of the Blessed Virgin are known in the calendars by the names of St. Anne and St. Joachim.

AUGUST.

Sertilis was the ancient Roman name of this month, being the sixth from March. The Emperor Augustus changed this name, and gave it his own, because in this month Cæsar Augustus took possession of his first consulship, celebrated three triumphs, reduced Egypt under the power of the Roman people, and put an end to all civil wars. 'The Saxons called August arn-monat (more rightly barn-monat), intending thereby the then filling of their barns with corn.'

1.—LAMMAS DAY.

The name of this day is probably derived from an old Saxon term, signifying Loaf-Mass as it was customary for the Saxons to offer oblation of loaves, made of new wheat, on this day as the first-fruits of their new corn.

6.—TRANSFIGURATION OF OUR LORD.

This commemorates the day on which our Lord, taking with Him St. Peter, St. James and St. John, went up into the mountain and was transfigured before them; His countenance becoming white and glistening like lightning. This is one of the very rare occasions on which Christ allowed His Divine nature to shew itself visible during the days of His humiliation.

8.—NAME OF JESUS.

Before the Reformation, this day was dedicated to Afra, a woman who had been converted to Christianity by Narcissus, Bishop of Jerusalem, and who afterwards suffered martyrdom; and the Breviary was recognised by Paul V. Afterwards Donatus, who became martyr in the time of Julian, for refusing to sacrifice, was substituted in her place. Our Reformers devoted it to the Name of our Blessed Lord.

10.—SAINT LAWRENCE.

St. Lawrence was, by birth, a Spaniard, and treasurer of the Church of Rome, being deacon to Pope Sixtus, about the year 259. He was laid upon a gridiron, and broiled over a fire.

15.—ASSUMPTION OF THE BLESSED VIRGIN MARY.

This is a festival in the Greek and Roman Churches, in honour of the supposed miraculous assumption of the Virgin Mary into heaven. It was anciently known as the falling asleep of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

21.—SAINT BARTHOLOMEW.

He preached the Gospel in Armenia, converted the Lycaonians, and afterwards visited India. The Dissenters observe this day as the day on which the Nonconformist Ministers were ejected from their livings, and appeal to the Nonconformists' Memorial as a testimony of their wrongs. But the Church also has her memorials to produce in Walker's "Sufferings of the Clergy during the Usurpation." On both sides, no doubt, many suffered unjustly.

23.—SAINT AUGUSTINE OF HIPPO.

Augustine was born at Thagaste, a town in Numidia, in the year 354. He was a judicious divine, and the most voluminous writer of all the Fathers. He died in 430, at the age of 77.

29.—ST. JOHN THE BAPTIST BEHEADED.

This day was formerly denominated Festum Collectionis Sancti Johannis Baptiste; or, the feast of gathering up St. John the Baptist's relics; but afterwards, by corruption, Festum Decollationis, the festival in remembrance of his being beheaded. His nativity is celebrated on the 24th of June.

SEPTEMBER.

September is composed of septem seven, and the termination ber like lis in Aprilis, Quintilis, Septilis. This rule will also apply to the three following months, October, November, December. Our Saxon ancestors called it Gerst-monat, 'for that barley which that month commonly yielded was anciently called gerst.'

1.—SAINT GILES.

Giles, or Ægidius, was born at Athens, but came to France in the year 715. Charles Martel, when hunting, found him in his hermit's cell, and, pleased with his unaffected piety and sanctity of manners, erected an abbey for him at Nismes, of which he was constituted abbot. He died in the year 795.

7.—SAINT EUNUCHUS.

Eunuchus, or Euvrtius, was bishop of Orleans, and present at the Council of Valentia, A.D. 375.

8.—NATIVITY OF THE BLESSED VIRGIN MARY.

A concert of Angels having been heard in the air to solemnize this important event, the festival was appointed by Pope Servius about the year 695.

14.—HOLY CROSS DAY.

The origin of this Festival is as follows. On the spot where the Empress Helena found the true Cross, Constantine built a magnificent church, which was consecrated on 13th September 335: the following day, being Sunday, the Cross was elevated for the veneration of the people. See May 13.

The recovery of the Holy Rood was celebrated in later ages on the same day. The story is as follows: Osoeroes, King of Persia, having plundered Jerusalem, carried away large pieces of the Cross which had been left there by the Empress Helena. Heraclius, the Emperor, soon afterward engaged and defeated him, and recovered the Cross; but, bringing it back in triumph to Jerusalem, he found the gates shut against him, and heard a voice from heaven, saying, that the King of Kings did not enter into that city in so stately a manner, but meek and lowly, and riding upon an ass. The Emperor then immediately dismounted from his horse, and walked through the city barefooted, carrying the Cross himself.

17.—SAINT LAMBERT.

Lambert was Bishop of Utrecht, in the time of King Pepin I; but, reproving the King's grandson for his irregularities, he was cruelly murdered at the instigation of an abandoned woman.

21.—SAINT MATTHEW.

In the year 64 or 65 Matthew wrote his Gospel in Hebrew which was afterwards translated into Greek. After many labours and miracles, he closed his life at Nadabar in Ethiopia, probably by martyrdom.

26.—SAINT CYPRIAN.

He was an African by birth, of a good family, and well educated. He suffered martyrdom under Valerianus and Gallienus, in 258.

29.—SAINT MICHAEL.

Saint Michael, the Archangel is specially commemorated from being recorded in Scripture as of great power and dignity, and as presiding and watching over the Church of God, and triumphing over evil. He is the typical champion of good, his name ("Who is like God?") being significant of his office. It is also said of this Saint that he was an archangel who presided over the Jewish nation, and had an army of angels under his command and conduct; he fought with Satan and his angels; and contending with the Devil, he disputed about the body of Moses. This festival has been kept with great solemnity ever since the 5th century.

About this time of the year, in former days it was the custom to elect the governors of towns and cities. On the election of a baillif or Kiddermminster, the inhabitants assembled in the principal streets to throw cabbage-stalks at each other. The custom of having a 'roast goose' for dinner (seasoned with sage and onions and port wine) on Michaelmas Day, is of very ancient standing, yet the reason remains unexplained, though, as Beckwith remarks in his edition of Blount's "Jocular Tenures," it was now probably for no other reason but that Michaelmas Day was a great festival, and geese at that time most plentiful. Poor Robin, in his Almanack for 1695, has the following lines:—

Geese now in their prime season are,
Which, if well roasted, are good fare;
Yet, however, friends, take heed,
How too much on them you feed,
Lest, when as your tongues run loose,
Your discourse do smell of Goose.

30.—SAINT JEROME.

Jerome translated the Old Testament into Latin; this version, now styled the Vulgate, is the only one used or allowed by the Roman Church. He died in the eightieth year of his age, A. D. 432.

OCTOBER.

This month was called Domitsanks in the time of Domitian; but, after his death by the decree of the Senate, it took the name of October, everyone hating the name and memory of so detestable a tyrant. It was called wyn-mnat, or wine-month, by the Saxons.

1.—SAINT REMIGIUS.

Remigius is styled the French Apostle. After he had held his bishopric seventy-four years, he died at ninety-six years of age, A. D. 535.

6.—SAINT FAITH.

This virgin martyr suffered death under Diocletian, about the year 290, the most cruel torments being inflicted upon her.

9.—SAINT DENYS.

St. Denys, or Dionysius, the Areopagite, was converted to Christianity by Saint Paul. He was Bishop of Paris about the end of the 3rd century. The French say that he was the first that preached the Gospel among them, and, for that reason, consider him their tutelary saint.

13.—TRANSLATION OF KING EDWARD THE CONFESSOR.

He was the youngest son of King Ethelred; but as all his elder brothers were either dead, or had fled away, he succeeded to the crown of England in the year 1042. He collected all the most useful laws made by the Saxon and Danish Kings. The additional title of Confessor was probably given him by the Pop, for settling what was then called Rome-Scot, but now better known by the name of Peter's Pence. His body is still preserved in Westminster Abbey behind the High Altar in its ancient shrine, covered by a splendid canopy. At his feet the Regalia are laid before being used at a coronation.

17.—SAINT ETHELDEDEA.

She was a princess of distinguished piety, daughter of Anna, King of the East-Angles and Herewitha his Queen, and was born about the year 630, at Ixning, a small village in Suffolk. In the year 678 she founded the conventual church of Ely, with the adjoining convent. Of this monastery she was constituted abbess, the monks and nuns living in society and regular order; it flourished for nearly two hundred years, but was destroyed with its inhabitants, by the Danes, in 870.

18TH.—SAINT LUKE THE EVANGELIST.

Luke was born at Antioch, the metropolis of Syria, a place celebrated for the study of the liberal arts. The notion that he was a painter is without foundation, as it is not countenanced by ancient writers. Dr. Lardner thinks that he might have been by profession a physician, as, the expression 'beloved physician,' Col. iv. 14, seems to intimate. Luke lived a single life, and died in the eighty-fourth year of his age, about the year of Christ 70, probably a natural death.

25.—SAINT CRISPIN.

Two brothers, Crispinus and Crispianus, were born at Rome, whence they travelled to Soissons in France, about the year 303, to propagate the Christian religion. Being desirous, however, of rendering themselves independent, they gained a subsistence by shoemaking. It having been discovered that they had privately embraced the Christian faith, and endeavoured to make proselytes of the inhabitants, the Governor of the town immediately ordered them to be beheaded about the year 308. From this time the shoe-makers choose them for their tutelar saints.

28.—SAINT SIMON AND SAINT JUDE, Apostles.

Simon is called the Canaanite, from the Hebrew word Cana, to be zealous; hence his name of Simon Zelotes, or the Zealot. After enduring various troubles and afflictions, he, with great cheerfulness, suffered death on the cross.

Jude was of our Lord's kindred; 'Is not his mother called Mary, and his brethren James and Joseph, and Simon and Judas?' Matt. xiii. 55. After great success in his apostolic ministry, he was, at last, for a free and open reproof of the superstitious rites of the Magi, cruelly put to death. He has left one epistle of universal concern to Christians.

NOVEMBER.

The Saxons called November wint-monat, or wind month, on account of the prevalence of high winds in this month.

1.—ALL SAINTS.

In the early ages of Christianity, the word Saint was applied to all believers as is evident in the use of it by St. Paul and St. Luke; but the term was afterwards restricted to such as excelled in Christian virtues. In the Romish Church, holy persons, canonized by the Pope are called Saints, and are invoked and supplicated by the professors of that religion.

This festival originated in the dedication of the Pantheon in Rome to the honour of all the martyrs, A. D. 607. Sparrow in his Rationale writes: "because we cannot particularly commemorate every one of those saints in whom God's graces have been eminent, for that would be too heavy a burden, therefore holy Church appoints this day in commemoration of the Saints in general." Next to St. Mary the Virgin, this dedication is the most common in England, not less than 1,152 churches being so named.

2.—ALL SOULS.

In Catholic countries, on the eve and day of All Souls, the Churches were hung with black; the tombs were opened; a coffin covered with black, and surrounded with wax lights, was placed in the nave of the Church, and, in one corner, figures in wood, representing the Souls of the deceased, were half way plunged into the flames.

6.—SAINT LEONARD.

Leonard, or Lienard, was a French nobleman of great reputation in the Court of Clovis I. He died about the year 559, and has always been implored by prisoners as their guardian saint.

11.—SAINT MARTIN.

He was a native of Hungary, and, for some time, followed the life of a soldier; but, afterwards, took orders and was made Bishop of Tours, in France, in which See he continued for twenty-six years. Martin died about the year 397, much lamented, and highly esteemed for his virtues. The Bishop was once so popular in France that his feast had an octave, that is, was celebrated a second time in the week following; and it was a rule among his devotees to roast a goose for the family dinner on the day of his anniversary. A medal was struck in France in commemoration of this laudable custom; on one side of which was embossed a goose, and on the reverse occurs the word Martinalia.

The festival of St. Martin occurring when geese are in high season, it is always celebrated with a voracity the more eager, as it happens on the eve of the petit carême, when fowls could no longer be presented on the tables of a religious age. A German monk, Martin Schoock, made it a case of conscience whether, even on the eve of the little Lent, it be allowable to eat goose: 'An liceat Martinilibus anserem comedere?' After having dived into the weedy pool of the casuist's arguments, the delighted devotee emerges with the permission to roast his goose, and thus the goose came to be a standing dish on the Continent at Martinmas, as in England at Michaelmas.

13.—SAINT BRITIIUS.

Britius, or Brice, succeeded St. Martin in the bishopric of Tours in the year 399. He died in 444.

17.—SAINT HUGH.

He was a native of Burgundy, or Gratianopolis, and died on this day, in the year 1200, of an ague. He was Bishop of Lincoln and rebuilder of the glorious Cathedral of that city. In 1220, he was canonized at Rome, and his remains were taken up, 7th October 1282, and deposited in a silver shrine.

20.—EDMUND, KING AND MARTYR.

Edmund, King of the East-Angles, having been attacked by the Danes in 870, and being unable to resist them, heroically offered to surrender himself a prisoner, provided they would spare his subjects. The Danes, however, having seized him, used their utmost endeavours to induce Edmund to renounce his religion; but on his refusing to comply, they first beat him with clubs, then scourged him with whips, and afterwards, binding him to a stake, killed him with their arrows. His body was buried in a town, where Sigebert, one of his predecessors, had built a church; and where afterwards (in honour of his name) a more majestic building was erected, which together with the town, was named St. Edmundsbury; but it is now called Bury. One of the most elegant cemeteries in Europe stands in the centre of two churchyards at Bury St. Edmunds. It is an isolated fragment of the celebrated abbey in which John of Lydgate was a monk and around it are planted shrubs, trees, and a variety of flowers; a profusion of ivy creeps up the sides of the walls on which are placed two or three monuments.

22.—SAINT CECILIA.

Cecilia was a Roman lady, who, refusing to renounce her religion, was thrown into a cauldron of boiling water, and scalded to death. Others say that she was stifled in a bath, a punishment frequently inflicted, at that time, on female criminals of rank. She suffered martyrdom about the year 226. Cecilia is regarded as the patroness of music, and is represented by Raffaele with a regal in her hand.

23.—SAINT CLEMENT.

Clement I. was born at Rome, and was one of the first Bishops of that place. This See he held about sixteen years, from the year 64 or 68 to 81. He was remarkable for having written two Epistles so excellent, and so highly esteemed by the primitive Christians that the first was for some time considered canonical. Clement was sentenced to work in the quarries, and afterwards, having an anchor fastened about his neck, was drowned in the sea.

25.—SAINT CATHERINE.

She was born at Alexandria, and received a liberal education. About the year 305 she was converted to Christianity, which she afterwards professed with the utmost intrepidity, openly reproving the pagans for offering sacrifices to their idols, and upbraiding the Emperor Maximianus, to his face, with the most flagrant acts of tyranny and oppression. She was condemned to suffer death by rolling over her body a wheel stuck round with iron spikes: the wheel is universally her emblem.

30.—SAINT ANDREW.

Andrew was the son of James, a fisherman at Bethsaida and younger brother of Peter. He was condemned to be crucified on a cross of the form of an X, and that his death might be more lingering, he was fastened with cords. He is the patron saint of Scotland.

The Order of the Thistle was instituted by Achaise, King of Scotland, in 787, restored by James V, 1540, revived by King James II in 1687, and re-established by Queen Anne, 1702.

DECEMBER.

December was called winter monath by the Saxons; but, after they were converted to Christianity it received the name of heliġh-monath, or holy month.

6.—SAINT NICHOLAS.

Nicholas was Bishop of Myra, in Lycia, and died about the year 392. He was of so charitable a disposition, that he portioned three young women, who were reduced in circumstances, by secretly conveying a sum of money into their father's house. A curious font is preserved in the Cathedral of Winchester, the carvings on which are applied to the life and miracles of this saint. S. Nicholas is the patron saint of sailors, and so has been very popular in England where nearly 400 churches are dedicated in his honour. The annual ceremony of the boy-bishop was once observed on this day.

8.—CONCEPTION OF THE BLESSED VIRGIN MARY.

This festival was instituted by Anselm, Archbishop of Canterbury, because William the Conqueror's fleet, being in a storm afterwards came safe to shore. The Council of Oxford, however, held in the year 1222, permitted everyone to use his discretion in keeping it.

13.—SAINT LUCY.

This virgin martyr was born at Syracuse. She refused to marry a young man who paid his addresses to her, because she had determined to devote herself to religion, and, to prevent his importunities, gave her whole fortune to the poor. The youth, enraged at this denial, accused her before Paschasius, the heathen judge, of professing Christianity and Lucy, after much cruel treatment, fell a martyr to his revenge, in the year 405.

16.—O SAPIENTIA.

This is the beginning of the first of a set of anthems sung at Magnificat in the Church from this day until Christmas-eve. The hymn 'O Come, O Come, Emmanuel' is a verified form of five or six of these anthems. They are all based on Scripture, and are invocations of our Lord Jesus Christ under different attributes of His.

21.—SAINT THOMAS THE APOSTLE.

Thomas, surnamed Didymus, or the Twin, was a Jew, and, in all probability a Galilean. He suffered martyrdom in this city of Madras, being killed by the lances of some people. There has been a handsome Cathedral erected recently by the Portuguese over the alleged grave of this Saint, at Mylapore, in the Madras Presidency. This is the shortest day, and is, at London, 7h. 44m. 17s. allowing 9m. 5s. for refraction.

25.—CHRISTMAS DAY.

The feast of our Saviour's Nativity is named Christmas-day, from the Latin Christ's Missa, the Mass of Christ; and thence the Roman Catholic Liturgy is termed their Missa, or Mass Book. In the primitive Church this day was always preceded as now by an ev or vigil. When the devotion of the eve was completed, our forefathers used to light up candles of an uncommon size, called Christians' candles, and to lay a log of wood upon the fire, called the yule-log or log.

The turkey is now the appropriate dish at the tables of the opulent on Christmas Day. Gay, in his Fable of the "Turkey and Ant," makes the old turkey say—

But man, curst man, on turkey prays,
And Christmas shortens all our days,
Sometimes with oysters we combine,
Sometimes assist the savoury chine.

Norfolk being the great place for rearing turkeys, the stage coaches from Norwich London, for some days previous to Christmas day, used to take no human passengers but turkeys only

When rosemary and bays, the poet's crown,
Are bawled in frequent cries through all the town,
Then judge the festival of Christmas near,
Christmas, the joyous period of the year!
Now with bright holly all the temples strew,
With laurel green, and sacred MISTLETOE —GAY.

26.—SAINT STEPHEN.

Stephen was the first deacon chosen by the Apostles. He was cited by the Sanhedrin, or Jewish Council, for prophesying the fall of the Jewish Temple and economy; and while vindicating his doctrine by several passages of the Old Testament, he was violently carried out of the city, and stoned to death, in the year 33.

27.—SAINT JOHN THE EVANGELIST.

St. John was the son of Zebedee and Salome, and younger brother of St. James the Great. A fisherman by trade, he was attracted by the teaching of John the Baptist first and by him directed to the Divine Teacher whose beloved disciple he became. Of a deeply spiritual and contemplative nature he produced the fourth Gospel as his great legacy to the Christian Church, and the monument of his rare sympathy and insight into the mind and nature of his Divine Master. The question whether he is the John who wrote the Book of the Revelations has never been settled.

29.—INNOCENTS' DAY.

The slaughter of the Jewish children, by Herod, is commemorated on this day. The festival is very ancient, for Tertullian and Saint Cyprian call these Innocents martyrs, and Pseudo-Augustine has written a hymn upon the subject. Childermas day is another name for this feast. The lower orders think that everything done on this day must go wrong. John Moody in Vambrugh's Play of the 'Provoked Husband', imputes all the evils which befall the wronghead family on their journey to London, to their setting out on Childermas Day.

31.—SAINT SILVESTER.

He was Bishop of Rome, and succeeded Miltiades in the papacy in 314. Silvester is accounted the author of several rites and ceremonies of the Romish Church as asylums, unctions, palls, corporals, mitres, &c. He died in 334.

HINDU.

The Hindu festivals are so numerous, and the observances of them are so intricate that it is often bewildering to endeavour to describe them. Some of the important ones will be noticed below.

PONGAL PONDAGAL. On this day the Sun enters the sign of "MAKARIM"—a monster having the head and four legs of an antelope, and the body and tail of a fish corresponding to Cancer. It occurs on the 1st of the solar month Tui. Great rejoicings are held among the Hindus on the feast of Makara Sankranti. At the time of the Sun's entrance into the sign, people go to the sea to have a bath; certain in antiquations suited to the occasion are repeated there. The next day, known as 'Kannu Pongal,' is observed by women. This day the working classes are given presents by their masters.

RATHASAPTAMI (Ratha, a car, and Saptami, 7th day).—The 7th of Magha Sudha. It is dedicated to the worship of the sun. This day is the beginning of the Manvantara, or period embracing the Reign of Manu, of which fourteen govern in succession during each Kalpa, or grand period of creation and destruction.

MAHA SIVARATHI.—A celebrated festival in honour of Siva, held on the 14th of Magha Bahulam, during which Siva is worshipped. Bahula Chaturdasi, or the 29th of every lunar month, is kept sacred by the Saivites, but Magha Bahula Chaturdasi has obtained the peculiar epithet of Maha Sivarathi, or the great night of Siva. The Hindu legends account for its celebrity among the feast of Sivarathi in the following manner.—In time immemorial an archer of wicked and licentious habits went into a forest on this day for a hunt. He spent the day in pursuit of game and as night came on, he was left at the mercy of the wild beasts. When he found himself in such a condition, he had recourse to a Vilva tree to secure himself from their attack. Having got into the tree, by way of relaxation, or to get a clearer view, he broke off all the branches that hung around and above his head, and flung them down. The twigs fell on a Linga of Siva near the foot of the tree, and Siva was so pleased and satisfied by the accidental worship, that he forthwith sent a heavenly chariot, and took the hunter into Kailas, with acclamations of joy. To commemorate the entrance of this archer into Kailas, the Hindus observe a fast this day and worship Siva in hopes of obtaining a like reward. The Saivites fast and at night repair to Siva temples to perform puja. The Siva Linga is anointed and washed and then decorated with choice flowers. When this is done, the priest repeats Siva's thousand different names, the worshipper flings a ball of the Vilva over the Linga at each name. This kind of puja is performed at four different times and thus no sleep is obtained the whole night. This is styled the puja of the four watches. The Siva temples are thronged by devotees.

NEW YEAR.—The Hindu astronomical year is sidereal. It is called Samvatsaradi the first day of the year—the equinoctial point of Aries, into which the Sun enters at the vernal equinox. This event falls on the 13th April and is considered as Purnyatala—holy occasion. So on New Year's Day the manes and gods are propitiated by offerings of tarpana—oblations—and other allied ceremonies. In other respects, New Year's Day is a gala day.

Though thus the astronomical Hindu year falls on the 13th April, New Year's Day is observed on different days by different sects according as they happen to follow the Lunar, the Lunar-Solar or Solar calendar. The Tamilians follow the Soweramasa and their year is thus the Sidereal or Solar year. The Telugu and Canarese follow the Chandramana reckoning, and their year is Lunar-Solar, which begins earlier than the 13th April. The Malaysians follow the Tamilians, though their Andu—which is more an agricultural year—begins on the first of Simha—Avanti.

On New Year's Day all take sacred bath in rivers or the sea. The males propitiate the manes and the deities. The nearest temple is attended. In some families children and other members receive new cloths. At evening time the Panchanga—the Calendar of the New Year—is read out and expounded. Several people assemble to listen to this exposition. At the end of this ceremony, atta, pan, supari, and dessert are distributed. Sometimes a short entertainment of music is also added to this ceremony. The whole day is spent more in mirth and festivity.

In Malabar, the New Year's Day's festivities are observed on a grander scale. On the eve previous to the New Year's day all the gold coins (more specially, images of god) available in the house, all jewels, all kinds of fruits—such as cucumbers, jackfruits, mangoes,—and Konnai flowers and everything considered to be good to look at, are placed in the room set apart for the worship of the family god. The Kanavan, the head of the family, first opens this room between 4 and 5 on New Year's morn and worships with a lighted lamp in his hand all these articles. Every member of the house then goes out after the other to the front of the room with eyes shut and there opens them to take a sight of the auspicious articles collected. The Kanavan presents each with something,—corn, jewels, flowers, fruits, etc. The present by the Kanavan is called Vishukatu (Vishukainatham).

SRI RAMA NAVAMI.—At about noon on the 9th of Chaitra Suddha, Sri Rama—an incarnation of Vishnu—is said to have been born at Ayodhya or Oudh. The object of his birth was to establish truth in the land by exterminating the wicked. From the first of Chaitra Suddha, the temples are illumined and the image of Sri Rama is adorned with costly ornaments and in the evenings the epic poem, Ramayana, is read accompanied by the preachings of the heroic actions of Rama which are listened to with great solemnity by many. In honour of his birth, the whole day is kept in fasting and the fast is broken by some in the same night and by others the next morning.

NAGA PANCHAMI.—It is sacred to certain demi-gods, called Nagas, or serpents, and is celebrated on the 5th of Sravana Suddha. Ceremonies are performed on this day to ensure protection against snake-bites.

GOKULA ASHTAMI.—Instituted to commemorate the birth of Sri Krishna, son of Vasudeva, which is said to have taken place at midnight in the city of Murtia on the 8th of Sravana Suddha. Sri Krishna is reckoned as the 8th incarnation of Vishnu, in which was manifested a greater portion of divinity than in any of the preceding ones. His uncle, Kamsa, king of Murtia, who, it was predicted by Rishi Narada, would be slain by one of his nephews, endeavoured to ensure the destruction of the infant by placing guards over his pregnant sister, Devaki; but the child was preserved from this and other attempts of his relations, who had been given directions for slaughtering all newly-born infants. There are two sects among the followers of Sri Krishna, and they solemnise the facts on different days. Those belonging to the one adopt Tri as the principal factor and the other, the star. Whichever is adhered to, the whole day is kept in fasting. At night they bathe and after worshipping Sri Krishna, in the manner enjoined in the Shastras, break the fast.

VINAYAKA CHATHURTHI.—It is held on the 4th of Bhadrupada Sudha to commemorate the birth of Ganapati, God of Wisdom and the remover of all obstacles. He is invoked at the commencement of all undertakings. The manner of his birth is differently told. It is said that as Kritikavirya was created by Siva without connubial assistance, so Ganapati was formed by his consort Parvati from the turmeric and oil scraped from her body while bathing. The loss of the natural head and the substitution of that of an elephant with one tusk are variously explained. By some, his head is said to have been cut off by Siva when he endeavoured to prevent him from entering the chamber of Parvati when performing her ablutions. According to others, it was reduced to ashes by a glance from the eyes of Sani, when all the gods went to look at the newly-born child and its place supplied by that of the animal first found, which happened to be an elephant.

AYUDA PUJA.—It is held on the 9th of Aswija Sudha. Early in the morning, people after bathing perform the puja of their household gods in conjunction with that of all their religious books and professional implements, under a conception that to the propitiousness of these they owe ever prosperity. On the next morning, puja is again performed and people resume their respective professions. This day is considered by them most auspicious for sending their children to school.

DIPAVALI.—A festival celebrated in honour of Vishnu's victory over the demon "Narakasura." The 14th of Aswija Bahula is Naraka Chaturdasi on which Vishnu is said to have killed Narakasura, a giant, and entered his city early in the morning, when the people illumined the city and received him with great joy and acclamation. This day is kept to commemorate this great conquest. They get up early in the morning, fill the house with lights, and take an oil bath. New clothes and ornaments are put on. Marwari merchants close their accounts on this day. New ledgers and day-books are brought and worshipped; new entries are made in the account-books; and writers are sent to different shops with money to credit in their names on this auspicious day. The aid of the gods is invoked to render the following year prosperous, and to be with them throughout it.

KRITHIKA DEEPAM.—It is celebrated in the month of Kartikai. Siva is said to have gained his victory at this season over the monster "Tipurasura." The demon is said to have become so powerful that he defeated almost all the gods and drove them out of their habitations, when they went to Kailas, the abode of Siva, and represented to him their grievances. Siva assured them that the evil would soon be removed, and sent them back to their homes. He made a car of the Earth, the wheels of which were the Sun and the Moon; Brahma was chosen charioteer, the Himalayas formed the bow and Vasuki, the king serpent, the bow-string; Vishnu himself became the quiver. Thus equipped, Siva rode out, and, after a struggle, destroyed the mighty giant. To perpetuate this event, all houses are beautifully illuminated and pani supari—sweetmeats, &c., are exchanged in the even ug among the relatives. In some places, bonfires in front of temples are kept up for about three days. Vaishnavites celebrate this on the Full Moon day while Saivites on the Krithika day.

MUHAMMADAN

MIRAJ-I MUHAMMAD.—In commemoration of the alleged ascension of Muhammad when the Angel Gabriel mounted him on Burrak and conveyed him to heaven. The ascent is referred to in the 17th Sura of the Koran. It is held on the 26th of Rajab.

SHARA BAHAIN, or 'Night of Record,' is one of the three lesser Idas, and is held on the 15th Sha'aban, when they say the actions of men for the ensuing year are recorded. It is passed by lower classes in mirth with illuminations and fireworks. The whole night is spent in visiting the graves of relations and friends and in reading the Koran and a fast is observed the next day. It is something like All Souls' Day among Roman Catholics.

RAMAZAN (MAH).—This Muhammadan fasting month commences from the morning after the new moon is first seen, and the fast is observed, each day throughout the month from 1 a.m., or when the first streak of light borders the eastern horizon, till the stars are clearly discerned in the heavens. During the whole period not the slightest particle of food, not even a single drop of water or any other liquid should pass the lips. Every day during the fast is passed in prayers, besides the usual namaz, and in reading the Koran in the lives of the prophet. Every night, all true believers go to Mosque where special prayers called "Taraveeh" are performed under the guidance of the "Imam" up to 10 o'clock, during which the Koran is recited by heart. The fast is first broken by dates or by a cooling draught, such as syrup of rose, pomegranate, pineapple, &c., and after evening prayers, meals are partaken of. From the night of the 19th to that of the 21st, the Muslims celebrate the nights of Al, the cousin and son-in-law of Muhammad, who was assassinated on the night of the 19th and died on the night of the 21st. The night of the 27th is called Lailat al-Kadar, or 'night of power,' because it is said the Koran descended from heaven on that night. It should be observed as a v. gil.

ID UL-FITR.—The festival of breaking fast, called also the 'Id-i-Ramazan' and "the feast of alms" is celebrated on the first Sha'wal. On this day Muhammadans are required to bathe, put on new clothes, apply annamony to the eyes, and perfume themselves. They distribute the mu or sukka, which is 2½ seers of wheat, dates, or any grain used for food, or their value in coin, given to the poor or religious mendicants. All then proceed to the Idgah, repeating "God is great." There is no God but God. The Mulla ascends the minbar or pulpit, and utters a short thanksgiving, reads the Khutbah sermon. He then descends to the lower step (which, with the Sha'ah, is the third, but the fourth with the Sunni) and recounts the virtues of the king, and prays for him. Then a general prayer is made and the congregation rise with a shout of Dua—"Faith"—and fire off muskets. The evening is spent in rejoicing and merriment. In every house the same duties are provided. Amusements are indulged in, friendly visits are exchanged for two days and people embrace each other.

BAKRI-ID, or 'ID-I-KURBAN (Ar. Bakar, 'a bull'; Kurban, 'a sacrifice').—This is a feast held on the 10th Zil Hijjah, in honour, it is said, of Abraham's intention to offer up Ismail, who, they aver, was chosen as the offering to the Almighty, and not Ishak, grounding their assertions on traditions which they deem conclusive evidence on the subject. The offering thus made is annually commemorated by the sacrifice of animals such as camels, cows, sheep, goats according to each person's means, which answer the double purpose of honouring the memory of Abraham and Ismail and as food. The followers of Muhammad believe that the entrance to paradise is guarded by a bridge, Pul-i-Sirat, as narrow as a scythe, affording a precarious and unstable footing. They believe that those Muhammadans who offer these annual sacrifices would have a safe and easy passage over it. This festival called by the Arabs 'Id-ul-Zoha, day of sacrifice,' and the 'Id-ul-Fitr, are the two great festivals of the Muslims. In A. H. Muhammad kept the Ashur or Jewish fast of the Atonement on the 10th day of the 7th month, but next year, he substituted for it the 'Id-ul-Zoha, grounded on the ceremonies then enacted at Mekkah, and on the 12th of Zil Hijjah, he sacrificed two fat sucking kids with badding horns—the one for his followers and the other for himself and his family (see Leviticus xvi).

MUHARRAM (Ar. Muharram, 'most sacred').—A celebrated mourning held annually in remembrance of the martyrdom of the prophet's grandson, Husain, from whom the whole race of Sayads are descended. Abu Muhammad al Hasan and Abu Abdullah Husain were the two sons of Ali Ibn Abi Taleb, the cousin and Fatimah, the daughter of Muhammad; and after the murder of their father, A. H. 40, at Kufah by the contrivances of Yazid, the son of Mu'awiyeh, they, with their families, removed to Shawm, or Kufah, Medina. The elder, Hasan, voluntarily abdicated to avoid embroiling the State any longer in civil wars; but shortly afterwards he was poisoned at the instance of Yazid, the son of Mu'awiyeh at Medina, A. H. 49. Abu Abdullah Mu'awiyah bin Abi Sufyan, the first of the Ommyades, then began to rule, A. D. 661, and was succeeded by his son Yazid (A. D. 679—683); but after several years the people of Kufah, being tired of King Yazid's tyrannical rule, invited Husain to return to the capital and assume his lawful right as Imam (leader of the faithful). Before accepting this invitation, Husain sent Moslem, his cousin, as a messenger, to report the true state of affairs to him. On his arrival, he was well received by the people, and believing in their fidelity, he made a favourable report to Husain. As soon as this was done he was cruelly put to death together with his two young and promising sons. Husain, relying on Moslem's report and unaware of his subsequent fate, started for Kufa with his whole family and a small retinue. When he reached Kerbella, a small town on the Euphrates in Turkish Arabia, he was surrounded by the troops of Yazid and called upon either to take an oath of allegiance to Yazid or to be prepared for a fight. Husain chose the latter course, and after a hard and brave resistance of three days, during which period the whole party of Husain was deprived of water by Yazid's forces, a pitched battle was fought on the 10th Muharram, in which the little band of Husain showed conspicuous gallantry but was eventually overwhelmed by the large opposing forces of the enemy and every one of the brave resistors was slain on the battlefield. A. H. 61 (9th October A. D. 680). Zain-ul-Abidin, the eldest son of Husain, alone escaped, as he was unable to take the field owing to severe illness. This forms the subject of the ten days' waiting during the Muharram. The Muhammadans are divided into two distinct sects, called the Shi'ahs and the Sunnis: the former regard Ali and his descendants, Hasan, Husain, Zain-ul-Abidin, Muhammad Baqir, Jafar Sadik, as the lawful leaders after Muhammad; and the latter the Kaliphas as Abubakar, Omar, Osman Ali—hence quarrels, animosities and dislikes are kindled up by the lower classes among both sects to be avenged during the Muharram. The festival begins when the new moon of the first month (Muharram) becomes visible. Including the Ziyarat, or "visiting the grave," it lasts till the 12th; but the fast is only for 10 days and is hence called Ashura, from the Arabic word signifying ten. The Sunnis offer prayer and distribute alms during the period, but the Shi'ahs organize mourning houses called Ashur Khana, 'ten-day house,'—Taziyah Khana, house of lamentation,—and Astana, threshold or jurat's residence. The mourning assemblies of the rich are held morning and evening to the Imambars during the Muharram, when the head priest or preacher recites a subject for each day's service from the various books descriptive of the life and sufferings of Hasan and Husain. The Marsah, a poetical composition embracing the whole of the subject commemorated, is chanted; the names of their lawful leaders are recounted with blessings. Taziyas (a term signifying grief applied to a representation of the martyrdom erected over the remains of Imam Husain at Karbala made of ivory, ebony, sandalwood cedar, and sometimes wrought in silver filigree,—and indeed of every variety of material, from pure silver to bamboo and paper according to the rank and wealth of the party—are exhibited and conveyed in procession through the streets. The moment the new moon is seen, a spade is struck into the earth, this is called kodak marna, and at this spot a pit is dug two or three days afterwards, in which a bonfire, called altarah, is kindled. At night men dance round the fires, fencing with swords and springing through the flames, crying "Ya Ali! Ya Husain! Ya Husain!"

On the night of the 7th, a representation of Burak, the horse on which Muhammad is said to have ascended to heaven, is brought out. On the 10th the haci, called tabut or taziyah, is carried in procession. Before this incense is burnt and other rites are performed. This is peculiar to the Province of Oudh and Bombay and is not practised in the Madras Presidency. The Tabuts or Cages are common to all places in India, but they are not built by the inhabitants of Persia or Arabia. Many Muhammadans regard them with strong disapprobation, and they are forbidden by religion. These are taken out, and, accompanied with music, carried in procession from midnight of the ninth until three o'clock in the morning of the tenth day, and again from two till six o'clock on the afternoon of the same day, on their way to the beach or bank where the greater number of the tabuts, after being stripped of whatever is of value, are cast into the water. The Indian Shi'ah Muhammadans, who do not unite in building the tabuts, are accustomed to go upon this occasion to the Ashoor Khana for five successive evenings to listen to the account of the death of Husain. On the morning of the 10th of Muharram they resort to the open court of Imambars. A Mulla reads the story of the martyrdom, and as he becomes eloquent, the auditors beat their bare breasts and weep aloud, every now and then giving utterance to cries of lamentation—"Wai! Wai! Husain kushid shud!" A kind of ring is meanwhile cleared among the devotees for the passage of a procession, and then, amid intense excitement, three horses are led in. Little children, representing the children of Husam, with bloodstained clothes, are mounted on these horses, surrounded by large numbers of mourners, wailing and chanting, and as the procession moves forward headed by six banners among which is the green standard of Ali—the riders of the horses throw ashes over their heads. A figure borne on a bier, representing the decapitated body of Husam, covered with blood and wounds, is brought in, from which broken arrows stick out, with a white dove hovering above it. The profoundest grief is now exhibited by the mourners. Walking round and round the ring, they now and again form circular groups of a dozen or twenty; and bending towards the ground, beat their breasts, crying "Wai! Wai! Husam!" Some two or three horsemen bearing eggs, enter the large yard adjoining the Imambara with loud wailings, and are followed by two horses caparisoned, to represent those which were for the use of the fallen Husam. One person on horseback with a long sword, apparently run through his beard and covered with blood, joins in the wailings. A female infant in deep mourning, sitting at the door of a small mausoleum, which is carried on the shoulders of men, constantly casts ashes or cut straw upon her head in token of grief. These pass round in a circle, accompanied or followed by a company on foot, who beat upon their breasts, crying "Hai Hasan! Hai Husam!" These organised demonstrations of mourning are peculiar to Lucknow and are not practised elsewhere as they are strongly resented by the Sunnis who confine themselves to prayer and almsgiving while the lower classes amongst them make it a season of dances and festivities to the great chagrin of the orthodox community. Before the martyrdom of Husam and Husam this last was observed as a feast, and is still reckoned one of the lesser Idas.

AKHIR-UL-HAJAR SHAMBAH—A lesser Ida or festival held on the last fourth week day, viz., Wednesday of Safar, in remembrance of Muhammad having, it is said, recovered a little on this day during his last illness and taken a bath for the last time. It is usual to write out seven benedictions on mango leaves, wash off the writing while the ink is fresh, and drink it.

BARA WAFA (Urd), Bara, 'twelve', Wafat, 'death'—A feast is held on the 12th of Rab-ul-Awal, in memory of the birth and death of Muhammad, A. H. 11. The Kidari or Prphet's foot is the impression of a foot on stone, or the mu-amma or the sacred hair of Muhammad, is brought forth and honoured. On the nights of the 11th and 12th processions take place.

HINDU CEREMONIES

Birth.

Different ceremonies are prescribed by the Shastras to be observed at the period of conception and in the different stages of pregnancy. After the birth of a child, Jathakarmam, Nam Karmam and Annapachanam are the principal ceremonies to be observed at different stages. In the case of male, Chowam and Upnayanam are also to be performed.

MARRIAGE

The male may be married at any time after Chaturmasyam—the twelfth year is the sacred brah which is done amongst Brahmins within the age of eight and among the Kshatriyas and Vaisyas, after the age of sixteen. The female whose age is less than that of the male should be married within puberty. The Shastras mention eight kinds of marriage, but the one that is generally observed now is "Brahma Vivaham" that is, the charges are severally met by the respective parties. The principal marriage ceremonies are betrothal—the agropattita, officiating the day and hour at which the wedding is to take place, the sapadma, or walking round the sacred fire three or four times, taking at each time seven steps, after which the contract is irrevocable. The girl is given away by her father or in his absence, a near relative, in his own house, in which she remains till puberty, at which she resides with her husband. Particular months and junction of the planets are prescribed for the celebration of marriages in different castes; also the same castes in different provinces have their peculiar ceremonies.

Death.

On the death of a man, the performance of his funeral obsequies (Kriyas) and of the monthly and annual purification ceremonies devolves generally on his heir. The principal times for performing "Sradhas" are eleventh day after death, every month, and on the anniversary day. Brahmins are unclean for ten days after the death of a relation, the Kshatriya for twelve, the Vaisya for fifteen, and the Sudra for thirty. The body of the deceased is generally cremated, but that of an infant under ten years of age is buried. The "Sradha" consists in the offering of rice, flowers, water, &c. to the deceased and to his manes, in order to enable his soul to ascend the heaven where the Pitrus are supposed to be.

MUHAMMADAN CEREMONIES.

BIRTH.

During the 7th month of pregnancy, families that have the means celebrate the salwa (seventh month) with great rejoicing, i.e., dress the woman in new clothes, and deck her with flowers. In the 9th month, the Rahya (from rat, night, and yagna, to watch,) is similarly kept. After delivery a kathar (dagger), a lemon, and nim leaves are placed near her head to ward off misfortune. After swaddling, the summons to prayer must be uttered aloud in the infant's right ear and the Muslim creed in the left. Before it is put to the breast some pious man must dip his finger in date or honey and put it in the infant's mouth. Until the Chilla (40th day) the mother is regarded as unclean, and she can neither play, touch the Koran, nor enter the masjid. Certain ceremonies are then performed for her purification, and a sacrifice of two he-goats for a boy or one for a girl is offered. The child is also shaved, the hair is placed on a raft, a prayer repeated over it in the name of Khuzi or Ewas, and then launched into the stream. A lock of hair is sometimes allowed to grow in honour of some saint. Some sect perform the post ceremony on the 7th, 14th or 21st day from the date of birth.

MARRIAGE.

Betrothal takes place at a very early age, and the marriage is celebrated when the bridegroom is 18 and the bride at most 13 or 14. The ceremonies of betrothal are such as the distribution of pan-sapari, the bridegroom going on horseback with music to the house of the bride to offer presents, sending sweet cakes from the house of the bride to that of the bridegroom, bridegroom treading the threshold of the bride's house where the bride's mother gives the bridegroom a gold ring, money and a handkerchief, and tasting salt in the bride's house—previous to which the bridegroom must only eat sweet things there. Then follow ceremonies of anointing and bathing, and the preparation of the wedding garments. Among the marriage ceremonies are the conveying of the bridegroom's gifts to the house of the bride, and of the wedding money to that of the bridegroom. Then the bridegroom, early dressed, rides first to the masjid, and after repeating three prayers there, to the bride's house, where, before he is allowed to enter, he must give presents to her friends. He is carried in by a man, whose advance is resisted till further presents are made. The Kazi or his substitute after taking two veils from the bridegroom's face makes him repeat in Arabic certain suras of the Koran, &c. The bridegroom next repeats the marriage contract, and in the evening the hand of the bride is joined in his, an elderly member of either party repeating a prayer that the couple thus wedded may be as loving as Abraham and Sarah. Then the bridegroom and the bride go in procession to the bridegroom's house where she remains afterwards.

DEATH.

When a Muhammadan is dying a reader of the Koran is brought to read the sura-an-yasin and two creeds. Sweet sherbet is then poured in the throat of the dying person with the belief that it facilitates the exit of the spirit. After death the body is placed in a coffin, and, with parade suited to the rank of the departed, it is carried to the burial-ground, before this the body is bathed and dried, and powdered camphor rubbed on the hands, feet, knees, and forehead, the parts which daily touch the ground in prayer. The body is then wrapped in a white winding sheet, on which certain suras of the Koran have been written. The religious Mussalman generally prepares his own sheet in his lifetime, adding passages of the Koran from time to time. The coffin is carried to the grave by the relations, repeating as they go, "There is no God but God, and Muhammad is the prophet of God." The Kazi reads the funeral service for the poor, and the nearest relation or other friend, for the wealthy. It consists of four confessions of faith and one benediction. The body is then placed in the grave on its back with the head to the north and the face towards Mekkah or the west. Each person takes up a little earth, and repeating the 12th sura or the passage—"We created you of earth and return you to earth, and we shall raise you out of the earth on the resurrection day," then puts the earth gently into the grave. The Fatihah, "I offer this prayer for such a one," is then said, first for the person just buried and then for all in the graveyard. Then the 1st and 11th suras are recited and alms distributed. On the 3rd day the whole Koran is read through, and on the 10th, 20th, and 40th days various ceremonies are gone through, after which only annual ceremonies are held.

GENERAL GARDENING CALENDAR.

By H. E. HOUGHTON, F.L.S., ETC.

General Gardening Calendars are given for the Plains and Hills so that they may be universally useful to the general body of Amateur Gardeners who live in the vast Indian Empire.

The great diversity of climates makes it impossible, in the limited space available, to give full details as to the exact time of sowing, etc., but as the native Mals know the proper time for sowing seeds in their own towns, or districts, the information given in the Calendars and in the Cultural Notes for growing vegetables and flowers, will enable Amateurs to instruct their Mals what gardening operations they ought to undertake from month to month, according to the nature of the weather.

The times mentioned in the Calendar, I think, are generally suitable.

GARDENING CALENDAR FOR THE PLAINS OF INDIA.

KITCHEN GARDEN.

January—This month belongs to the cold season, and little or no rain falls; if it falls, the average is about 2 inches, but dews are abundant.

In places where there is a heavier rainfall, or when the weather is otherwise favourable, a last sowing of European vegetables should be made, of the kinds that mature early, such as Beans, Cress, Lettuces, Mustard, Radishes, Tomatoes, Turnips, Vegetable Marrow and even Peas. Where there is but little rain, or the season is unfavourable, it will be a waste of time and labour to sow Vegetable seeds, (in consequence of the weather becoming too warm before they mature) they will not attain any perfection, or be worth eating.

In most places careful watering will have to be done, but it should not be done while the sun's direct rays are on the plants, the early morning or the evening is the best time for watering.

Squashes should be liberally watered, Celery should be earthed up for blanching.

Weak liquid manure should be applied once, or twice a week to growing crops, and the ground round them kept constantly hoed and weeds eradicated.

Sow any country vegetables that may be required.

Fig trees and Grape Vines should be pruned and Custard Apples, Pomegranates and Plantains looked after.

Collect and transfer all waste vegetable matter to the leaf manure pit.

FLOWER GARDEN.

During January, the flower garden should be gay with flowers grown from the seeds of European annuals, sown after the rains. Final sowings of the most hardy of these annuals should be made, to supply cut flowers late in the season, Browallias, Cosmea, Gaillardias, Sunflowers, Balsams, Tagetes, Torenia, Zinnias (of which there are several improved kinds) and similar annuals, will grow during the hot weather months.

Carnations, Geraniums, Silvias and similar plants will strike readily if cuttings are put in.

The following should be pruned.—Allamandas, Hibiscus, Ixoras, Bignonia, Lagerstromias, Quisqualis, Tecomas, &c. The other garden operations consist in keeping everything clean and in perfect order, using the knife amongst the shrubs, where required. Attend to the young shoots of creepers so that they may be properly trained, cut back all plants that may have grown over the edges of the beds, or walks, this should be done neatly, so that the use of the knife may not be discovered, nothing looks worse than plants abruptly cut round the edge of flower beds. Such cuttings of shrubs and roses, as have rooted, should be planted out in beds and well watered and shaded for a few days. Attend to plants in pots; Roses in flower-bud will be improved by frequent watering with liquid manure, it will increase the size of the flowers. Shade tender plants from the mid-day sun. Attend to clipping hedges, keeping the walks in proper trim and mow and roll the lawns.

KITCHEN GARDEN.

February.—This is the last of the cold weather months, towards the end it gradually warms up. There is no rain, but a fair amount of dew in the mornings, but little can be done with European vegetables. All crops in the ground that are maturing should be freely watered. Sowings of Lettuces, Mustard Cress, Country Radishes, Cucumber and Gourds can be made. Drenchings of liquid manure to growing crops will be of benefit. Destroy insects. Sow Parsley in pots for hot weather supply, it also makes a fine foliage plant. Keep the garden clear of decayed leaves. Vegetables during this month, especially the cabbage tribe, give out a most disagreeable odour if left decaying. See that arrangements are made to keep up a supply of such Country vegetables as may be required. Watering will invariably be requisite throughout the month, commence collecting manure for the next season.

FLOWER GARDEN.

The directions for January are also suitable for this month; little more can be done than attending to watering and cleanliness. Protect tender plants in pots from the mid-day sun. During the course of the month remove and put in pots a good supply of Verbenas and such like, to preserve them during the hot season. Chrysanthemums will have finished flowering, let them rest, or divide them and plant them in a bed, or in small pots.

Several orchids flower in this month; see that the syringe is used with care. Attend to plants in pots, frequently stirring up the soil on the surface. If worms are troublesome, a little clear lime water used occasionally will remove them; keep walks in proper order, mow and roll the lawns.

KITCHEN GARDEN.

March—It is the first of the hot weather months, no rain falls and there is but little dew in the mornings. Watering must be done carefully and freely.

European vegetables can no longer be grown with satisfaction; the cultivation of such native vegetables as may be required should be attended to. Bottle and Snake Gourds, Cucumber, Squashes, Sweet Potatoes (American kinds for preference), Spinach, Tomatoes, Gai, or Double Beans may be grown and Parsley in pots in a shady place.

Herbs will be ready for cutting and drying.

Beets, Carrots, and Onions should be lifted and stored in pots of dry sand.

All vacant spaces in the garden should now be dug and thrown up in ridges, (this is applicable to heavy soils) so as to expose the soil to the influence of the sun during the hot weather. Where the soil is light, let it be dug over level; collect manure without delay, if composed of heating materials, it will require to be watered and turned over frequently; be sure this matter is not overlooked. Encourage Fig trees to go to rest by watering sparingly, attend to watering lately-planted Mango trees, support the stems securely against high winds. Store Yams in sand, or dry oil.

FLOWER GARDEN.

Pay attention to cleanliness, watering shrubs, Roses, &c., freely; such beds as are empty should be neatly dug over; look to the roots of Dahlias, let them be stored in pots of sand, or in the pots they were grown in, if the soil is dry, in any case they must be kept dry. Amaryllis, Lilies, Gloxinia, Achimenes, Caladiums and all bulbs that have flowered require the same treatment, plants growing in pots should be placed, if possible, so that they may receive the morning sun but be shaded during the mid-day.

Prune shrubs that have flowered, do any repotting that may be required. The lawn grass will have stopped growing, in the absence of heavy dew; mow and roll the lawns if necessary.

KITCHEN GARDEN.

April.—In this month a little rain sometimes falls and the dew in the mornings gradually disappears. The crops of European vegetables will have come to an end and only Country vegetables can be grown. Cucumbers, Gourds, Squashes and Melons may be sown and protected from the sun until established, and then watered freely. Yams and Jerusalem Artichokes may be put down to grow. Pines, which will be in fruit, must be carefully attended to.

If any digging work remains unfinished, complete without further delay; attend to general cleaning up.

Collect leaves for the leaf manure pit.

FLOWER GARDEN.

Achimenes and late kinds of Amaryllis also some Orchids flower this month; store away any bulbs that have dried down, examine bulbs already put to rest to see they are not damaged by vermin. Cease to excite Roses to flower. Clean up garden generally.

Water liberally ornamented plants and shrubs in the ground. If you are watering your lawn, use mower and roller, or the grass will grow long and will have to be cut by hand. See that your manure supply for the next season is sufficient.

KITCHEN GARDEN.

May.—Although a few light showers may fall, at stations that get the October to December monsoon, European vegetables cannot be grown, so continue to grow Country vegetables.

Arrowroot, Tapioca and Sweet Potatoes may be planted; continue to attend to Pineapples.

Dig over waste places, re-make water channels and roads, and repair buildings and working implements. Water carefully and liberally. Prepare manure.

At the stations where the rain begins at the end of this month or that get the June to September monsoon; if there are indications of early setting in of rain, get ready to sow Cabbage, Knolkhol, Celery, Beet, French Beans, Carrots, Lettuce, Tomatoes, Maize and Peas.

FLOWER GARDEN.

Where the Monsoon is not expected, hot winds prevail, and nothing can be done by amateurs. Order flower pots and have old empty pots well washed, prepare compost for pot plants.

Repair plant houses, trellis work, and see that the lawn mower, garden pumps, watering cans, etc., are serviceable.

Where the monsoon is expected at the end of this month or beginning of next, annuals such as Hollyhocks, Balsams, Browallias, Gaillardias, Cosmos, Zinnias, &c., may be sown, and if temperature falls, sow other half-hardy annuals. Be prepared to re-pot bulbous plants as they commence growth, prune and manure Roses, watch Orchids and syringe them after they begin to grow, until the monsoon rains fall.

KITCHEN GARDEN.

June.—At non-monsoon places, although rain may fall, this is the midsummer month; except acclimatized Maize and Country vegetables, nothing else can be sown.

Work indicated last month remaining unfinished should be completed. Make sure that the supply of manure is sufficient and in a condition to be used next month if necessary.

At south-west monsoon stations, during the fine weather that succeeds the first part of the monsoon, any kind of European vegetables can be sown, and successional sowings can go on until November 1.

Plant out such seedlings as were raised last month. Plant the crowns of Pineapples.

Look out for noxious insects that attack all kinds of the Cabbage tribe Cauliflower, Knolkhol, Turnips, etc.

FLOWER GARDEN.

At non monsoon stations, pits for planting trees and shrubs may be dug, low places in the lawns levelled up, and any of the unfinished operation commenced last month completed.

At south-west monsoon stations rain having fallen, sowings of half-hardy annuals may be made, except Pansy and the better kinds of Petunias. If seedlings, from seed sown last month are strong enough, transplant them.

Make cuttings of Roses and shrubs and plant them for striking.

Weed your lawns and mow the grass, roll lawns and roadways and keep them clear of weeds.

KITCHEN GARDEN.

July.—In consequence of the June to September monsoon some rain may fall at the non-monsoon places, but no attempt to sow vegetable seeds should be made, everything should be in preparation for sowing in August, if the weather is at all favourable.

If frequent light showers fall towards the end of the month, Celery and Parsley may be sown.

The manure heap should be in fit condition for immediate use.

At south-west monsoon stations, Cabbages, &c., sown last month will now be infested with green-fly which should be destroyed, attend to weeding and hoeing soil round growing crops. Make successional sowings of European vegetables.

FLOWER GARDEN.

At non-monsoon stations, if the weather is still too hot, little can be done during the month further than preparing for the ensuing seed time; let composts be in a perfect state for use before the end of the month. Take care not to be carried into too active operations by good showers of rain, but Hollyhocks, Browallians, Calliopais, Cosmeas, Gaillardias, Sunflowers, Tagetes, Tournias and Zinnias may survive the heat. At south-west monsoon stations make up grass edgings with turf. Do not prune Roses unless they show signs of growth; this can be easily discovered by the swelling and bursting of the buds; if they show signs, prune and manure, though waiting till the following month would be more judicious. Look to the roots of Dahlias, Gloxinias and Achimenes that may have commenced to grow, retard them as much as possible, but bring them to the light; as Dahlias are very impatient, their roots should be divided towards the end of the month into as many divisions as possible with a sharp knife; they should have one shoot upon each division.

Seedlings of annuals transplanted last month will now be ready to go into their flowering pots, or into beds that will not be water-logged. Transplant Chrysanthemums into their flowering pots; continue to sow seeds of such annuals as you require, to keep the beds and the demand for cut flowers going.

Weed the garden thoroughly and attend to cleaning generally. Weed, mow, and roll the lawn; bury all weeds in a pit, they will make good manure for the following season.

KITCHEN GARDEN.

Aug. st.—If the weather has cooled down by the rain that has fallen last month, and what falls during the month, let a first sowing be made in boxes, or pots, of European vegetables. Sow Celery, Parsley, French Beans, Carrots and Radishes and a first sowing of Peas at the end of the month. Of Country vegetables sow Brinjals, Gourds, Cucumbers, Roselles, Greens, Spinach, Beans, Chillies, Snake Gourds, &c.; plant Yams and Jerusalem Artichokes. Attend to top-dressing Asparagus beds, make a fresh bed of Water-cresses in a shady spot near a well or tank, where they can be easily supplied with water twice a day. Put in suckers of Pineapples, prepare stock of Mangoes for grafting. Let the garden soil be levelled, well-manured and dug over, make sure the manure is well-looked after and mixed with lime and ashes before using.

FLOWER GARDEN.

At south-west monsoon stations look after growing crops, hoe and weed daily, continue to sow vegetables, put in seed for main crop.

Now seeds of those flowers that are most suitable for the climate, be careful how small seeds are sown and watered; look to the roots of Dahlias, Gloxinias, &c.; they should be set agrowing in good soil. If no plan has been definitely fixed upon to secure a good supply of flowers, now is the time to look to it; there is no time to spare, propagate Verbenas by layers; sow Hollyhocks, Petunias, Balsams, Celosia, Gomphrena, Marigold, Ipomea, Sunflower, Torenia, and Zinnia, increase your stock of Chrysanthemums and Camas by division or fresh supplies, let the flower garden be well dug and manured, dig and manure round the roots of shrubs on lawns, &c. Let a shaded piece of ground be prepared in which to put cuttings of Roses, shrubs, &c., prepare pits for planting trees and shrubs, make them large and deep. Pits should not be less than 3 feet in diameter and depth. Too much care cannot be taken of seedlings, lest they get drawn during the dull days that may prevail; expose them to the light and air as much as possible. Top-dress all plants in pot, not intended to be re-potted, with fresh soil and manure; re-pot and top dress Roses in pots. Prune and manure garden Roses and put in cuttings, weed and use lawn mower if necessary. Water carefully on dry, clear days.

At south-west monsoon stations, continue to make successional sowings. Give plants that are making rapid growth weak liquid manure, re-plant edgings and clip such edgings as require it. Put in cuttings of Citrons, &c. Attend to cleaning, as directed last month.

KITCHEN GARDEN.

September.—As the north-west monsoon is due next month, this is the proper time to sow a succession of Peas. French beans and Spinach may be put in every week during the month, continue to sow vegetables of all kinds; Onions and Leeks in light rich soil in beds, protected from the rain by mats tied over movable bamboo frame-work. Attend to the seedlings raised last month, some of which will be ready for transplanting in the garden beds, in rows; let them be lifted carefully; disturb the roots as little as possible. Encourage the growth of Celery by slight waterings of liquid manure, look after insects, a slight sprinkling of lime over and under the leaves will arrest their ravages; if this is not used, let them be poked by hand every morning. Lime will in no wise injure the tenderest vegetation, if slaked and cool. Native vegetables sown at the beginning of last month will be fit for planting out. Commence to graft mangoes; make preparations, such as digging trenches, &c., to prevent the garden being flooded during the monsoon, which should commence about 15th October. Manure Pineapples, remove the suckers and put them into root.

At south west monsoon stations continue to sow Cauliflower, Cabbage, Turnip and Knolkhol for main crop, if this was not done last month.

FLOWER GARDEN.

Hollyhocks, &c., sown last month, should during this be fit for planting out, choosing a dull damp day. Continue to sow Balsams, Hollyhocks and all showy annuals. Attend to cleanliness and keep the soil in flower beds open by hoeing. Layer, bud and put in cuttings of Roses and such shrubs, trees and creepers as may be required. Sow seeds of trees and shrubs, put in pipings of Carnations in boxes filled with fines and mixed with a little red earth. Let all creepers be neatly tied to the posts, or trellises upon which they are trained; prune where required; prune and keep in proper form shrubs, &c., attend to cutting hedges and filling up gaps. Casuarina hedges neatly trimmed would look much nicer round flower gardens than unsightly bamboo trellises; it is astonishing they are not more generally planted, as they combine neatness with economy, and are easily raised, if the seed is not too deeply covered with soil. Use the lawn mower and roller over the lawns.

At south-west monsoon stations, transplant Roses and other shrubs that have finished their rainy season growth.

Small sowings of imported annuals should be made. Cleaning up as indicated above should be undertaken.

KITCHEN GARDEN.

October.—Transplant all vegetables, that are large enough, into the beds, or drills where they are to grow. Trenches should be ready to receive Celery plants; shade if the weather is clear; look after Tomatoes, Onions, Leeks, Carrots and Beetroot; let them be thinned out to proper distances from each other, the thinnings may be planted if required. Continue to sow a few varieties of vegetable seeds. Peas may be sown every week; let the drills in which they are sown be raised above the surface level, continue to sow a succession of French beans. Keep up a supply of Salads, such as Lettuce, Endive, Mustard, Water-cress, &c. Finish early in the month preparations for planting out vegetables; do not wait till wanted, as the soil may not be workable from rain. Let everything about the garden be neat and clean; eradicate weeds on their first appearance. If the weather during the month should prove dry, Peas and the Cabbage tribe will suffer much. A supply of water will be requisite to prevent the crops sustaining a check which would prove very detrimental. When water is applied, let it be in the morning, very early if possible, when it is cool; frequent hoeing up the soil amongst the crops will require to be looked to. If activity is not displayed during the early part of this month in forwarding operations, there is but little chance of success for the season. Take particular care that the crops are not planted on the same piece of ground they were grown last year; alternate them yearly if possible. Graft Mangoes, and plant Pineapples.

At south-west monsoon stations, continue sowings similar to last month, also sow Cucumber and Par-ley.

FLOWER GARDEN.

The operations of last month are applicable to this. Look after Dahlias in pots, stake them and water occasionally with liquid manure. Plant out Verbenas, Heliotropes, and all other budding plants. Keep up a supply of Balsams, Cockscombs, &c. Plant trees and shrubs, attending to training and pruning creepers. This is a good time to get Roses, Fuchsias, Violets, &c., from the hulk. Weed, mow and roll the lawn, and take advantage of dry days to grass it; straighten and trim the edges of walks and beds. Give everything a neat and clean appearance. Protect all newly-planted trees from the wind.

At south-west monsoon stations, the budding of Roses and re-potting of plants should be done, continue to sow seeds as directed last month, and keep garden neat and clean. Put in cuttings.

KITCHEN GARDEN

November.—Attend to transplanting seedlings. Peas and French beans may be sown, every week, or ten days; the main crop must be looked for from seeds sown this month, as Peas sown later may not be good. Sow a small quantity of Cabbage, Knolkhol, Cauliflowers, Tomatoes, &c., likewise a few Salads. Cauliflowers sown during the first week of the month, if well attended to, may flower during February. Attend to transplanting Onions and Leeks. Thin out Turnips and Carrots to proper distances from each other.

Plant Celery in trenches; look after all details, such as cleanliness, digging trenches to carry off the heavy rain water; put in cuttings of Cabbage sprouts for use during the hot season. Graft Mangoes; put in cuttings of Figs and Vines. Plant Onion for salad.

At south-west monsoon stations, sowings of imported vegetables may be put in for a late crop. Plant out seedlings of previous months' sowings.

FLOWER GARDEN.

Continue to transplant seedlings into pots or boxes. Plant out annuals, Verbenas, Hollyhocks, Phloxes, and Ipomeas, if strong enough. Sow any flower seeds remaining on hand. Sow seeds of trees and shrubs. Decide early in the month positions for ornamental creepers, and plant without delay. Attend to training creepers, and pruning where required. Prune and manure garden Roses and put in cuttings. In pruning, cut the old branches down to three or four eyes from the bottom. Top-dress all plants in pots not requiring re-potting; protect tender plants from heavy rain; activity is required during this month to obtain a good supply of flowers during the three following months. The finer varieties of Roses in pots should be re-potted if necessary; they require a heavy soil mixed with well-decayed horse manure. Support all plants requiring it from the high winds.

At south-west monsoon stations, all seedlings large enough should be transplanted, and transplanted seedlings should go into the beds, or pots in which they are to bloom; such as are making vigorous growth in beds and pots should be given liquid manure once in a week or 10 days.

KITCHEN GARDEN.

December Continue to plant out all vegetable on hand during the first week. Plant Celery in trenches and earth up such as may require it. Keep the soil amongst the growing crops hoed, and eradicate weeds on their first appearance. Blanch Lettuce and Endive by tying up the leaves. Thin out the branches of Tomatoes. Look after insects amongst Cabbage and Cauliflower. Use slaked lime freely on all crops attacked; it will prove a beneficial check. During the month sow Cucumbers, Vegetable marrow, Country vegetables, &c. Early planted vegetables will be fit for use towards the end of the month. French beans and Salads should be in abundance. Attend to staking of Peas, Beans, &c. Continue to make up a manure heap for the ensuing season, let nothing be lost in the shape of vegetable matter. The main work of this month is attention to growing crops and looking to early grafted Mangoes, make incisions gradually on the branches above the grafts.

At south-west monsoon stations, attention should be given to growing crops, thinning out crops to give them more space to grow in. Earth up Celery plants and give water freely if days are clear.

FLOWER GARDEN.

Plant out the remaining stock of annuals; sow a few Hollyhocks, Gaillardias, Zinnias, Torenia, Amaranthus, &c. A last sowing of Balsams may be put in. Sow Convolvulus of all kinds and Petunias for flowering during the hot months. Attend to Dahlias and encourage them by weekly waterings of liquid manure. Keep the flower beds and walks clean and neat. Water and roll the walks towards the latter part of the month; it will give them a neat appearance, at the same time they will be more comfortable to walk upon, use lawn mower and roller on lawns.

At south-west monsoon stations, attend to growing annuals, and budded Roses, sow last lot of imported annuals and excite flowering plants to make rapid growth, so as to get them in flower during the cold season.

GARDENING CALENDAR FOR HILL STATIONS.KITCHEN GARDEN.

January.—If the weather is favourable, sowings of Cauliflower, Broccoli, Lettuces, Parsley, Peas, Radish, Mustard and Cress may be made but must be well protected; in some stations the verandah is used for the early crops, or a glass frame with bottom heat.

FLOWER GARDEN.

Cuttings raised last month should be now ready to be transplanted, or potted off; they should be protected and the watering done sparingly. If the weather is favourable, hardy bulbs such as Anemones, Crocuses, Hyacinths, Ranunculi, &c., may be planted and successional sowings of annuals may be made; seeds of germinaceous plants, may also be sown. Sow Sweet Peas at the end of the month. The roots of shrubs should be protected with straw, leaves, or any rubbish.

KITCHEN GARDEN

February.—Small sowings, by preference in glass frames, or in the verandah, may be made of Asparagus, Beetroot, Carrots, Cabbage, Cauliflower, Cress, Turnips, Parsnips, Knolhol and Onions, sow Peas if not sown last month.

FLOWER GARDEN.

Sow Asters, Cinerarias, Stocks, Calceolarias, Daisies, Phlox, Petunias, Pansies, Primulas, and Mimulus in pans in a sheltered portion of the verandah. Pot on plants that are fit to transplant, also layers of Carnations. Re-pot Roses, Geraniums, Camellias and Fuchsias, put in cuttings of Chrysanthemums.

KITCHEN GARDEN

March.—All kinds of European vegetable seeds should be sown now, but the beds must be protected; transplant seedlings sown during the past two months.

FLOWER GARDEN.

All kinds of "hardy annuals" can be sown this month, seedlings raised in the past two months may be transplanted. Prune Roses and water all plants freely.

KITCHEN GARDEN.

April.—Continue to sow Vegetable seeds and transplant seedlings raised previously, sow Celery. Plant out in beds any seedlings that are strong enough. Plant main crop of Potatoes, give weak liquid manure to growing crops.

FLOWER GARDEN.

Attend to the watering of growing annuals in pots, transplant seedlings, sow seeds of "half-hardy" annuals and continue to sow seeds of "hardy" and "half hardy" annuals to end of May. Plant out Dahlias, and bud Roses. Pot off Floxinas and Begonias.

KITCHEN GARDEN

May.—Make successional sowings of all seeds of European vegetables including Maize, attend to growing crops and keep soil round vegetables well hoed and free from weeds and insects. Make a new Asparagus bed.

FLOWER GARDEN.

Plant out annuals ready to go into beds, or into the pots in which they are to bloom, sow seeds of annuals for autumn flowers. Stake Hollyhocks and other plants. Plant out Dahlias and put Chrysanthemums into pots in which they are to flower.

KITCHEN GARDEN.

June.—For a late crop, Peas and Beans may be sown. To keep up a supply of Cabbages, Cauliflowers, etc., plant seedlings out once in eight, or ten days, and Cress and Mustard once in four, or five days. Water all growing vegetables freely and hoe and weed the beds. Weed Asparagus bed.

FLOWER GARDEN.

Such annuals as Balsams, Marigolds, Torencias, Zinnias, &c., should be sown in anticipation of the rains, Carnation and Rose cuttings may be put in and shaded on clear days.

KITCHEN GARDEN.

July.—Small sowings of Cabbages, Cauliflower, Carrots, Lettuce, Dwarf Runner Beans, Endive and Turnips should be made. Take out Herbs and dry for use in Winter. Hoe the Asparagus beds, thin out Celery and Beet, stake Beans. Give growing crops drenchings of liquid manure.

FLOWER GARDEN.

Put down cuttings of Roses, Geraniums, Fuchsias, and layer Carnations; a small sowing of annuals for flowers in September may be made. Geraniums and Chrysanthemums will be growing freely and should not be over-watered, or manured, but Dahlias may be given liquid manure. See to weeds, lawn grass and pathways.

KITCHEN GARDEN.

August.—If weather is favourable small sowings of Peas, Dwarf Bean, Cabbage, Cauliflower and Lettuce may be made. Onions should be taken up and Celery earthed up.

FLOWER GARDEN.

Sow seeds of Stocks, Petunias, Mimulus, etc., divide and pot off Lilies. If Chrysanthemums are in bud, feed with liquid manure, re-pot Geraniums that have finished flowering. Eradicate weeds, keep walks in order and mow lawns. If you do not put down cuttings of Geraniums and Fuchsias this month, they may not root early enough and be overtaken by Winter.

KITCHEN GARDEN.

September.—A sowing of some well-known early Peas should be put down. In order to keep up a continuous supply of vegetables, sow all kinds once in eight, or ten days, Cress and Mustard once in four or five days. Broccoli to go through the Winter may be sown now, earth up Celery.

FLOWER GARDEN.

Sow seeds of Dianthus, Petunias, Phlox, Sweet Peas, etc. Re-pot any Lilies that may require dividing, or re-potting, plant the bulbs low in the pots, so that they may make strong roots to support their long stems and flowers. Sow Pinks, Pelargoniums, Primulas, Zonal Geraniums, Cinerarias and Calceolarias, so as to get strong plants before Winter. Chrysanthemum buds should be pinched off, if large flowers are wanted and liquid manure given.

KITCHEN GARDEN.

October.—Sow main crop varieties of Peas towards end of this month, sow Cabbages, Cauliflowers and Brussels Sprouts; if weather permits sow Cress, Mustard and Radish, earth up Celery, take up Potatoes, Parsnips, Turnips and Carrots and store them.

FLOWER GARDEN.

If the Hill station is below 4,000 feet, hardy annual seeds may be sown, sow Pansies and Sweet Peas, most of the imported bulbs and roots can be put down. Pot Hyacinths in 7-inch pots and place in a dark room. When the pots are filled with roots and the crowns show signs of growing remove them into a warm place in the house. Allow Achemines to dry off gradually. Take up Dahlias carefully and store in a dry place, attend to removal of lateral roots of Chrysanthemums. Pot off Geraniums from beds. From this month until Spring, most plants should be sparingly watered.

KITCHEN GARDEN.

November.—Put in a sowing of late variety of Peas, Brussels Sprouts, Cabbage, Cauliflower, etc.

Top dress, with well-rotted manure, Asparagus, Artichoke, Seakale, Rhubarb, etc. All leaves should be put into the leaf mould pit.

FLOWER GARDEN.

All delicate plants and shrubs should be protected. Pansies and rooted Geraniums should be potted off. Dahlias not to be lifted, should be top dressed, and Begonias allowed to go to rest; be careful about watering.

KITCHEN GARDEN.

December.—During this month all plants should be protected with straw, or grass, and water given very sparingly.

FLOWER GARDEN.

Plants that do not flower during this month, should be very sparingly watered. All delicate plants should be kept in a warm place in a glazed verandah, and not put out until after the end of March. Cuttings of Verbenas and Petunias may be rooted and potted.

CULTURAL NOTES ON EASILY CULTIVABLE VEGETABLES.

Artichoke, Globe (Oynara scolymus).

Plains.—August to October. Hills.—March to May.

Green Globe, and Provence Purple, sow broadcast in well drained bed and cover with three-fourths of an inch of fine soil. Water with can having a fine rose once in two, or three days, when weather is dry; when three, or four leaves appear, transplant four feet apart each way, into a deep dug, well-drained and manured bed of loose sandy loam. At Hill stations off-sets should be planted during the Spring months.

Artichoke, Jerusalem (Helianthus tuberosus).Plains.—March to May. Hills.—February to middle of April.

Plant sets, or tubers, three inches deep in any good garden soil in rows, thirteen inches apart, with thirty inches space between them. When the shoots have grown about a foot in height earth up like the Potato, irrigate between the rows once in five, or six days in dry weather.

At Hill stations, the above is applicable. Only plant as soon after beginning of February as possible.

Beans (French, or Kidney) (Phaseolus vulgaris).Plains.—August to October. Hills.—April to June.

On the plains it is somewhat difficult to raise, as a special position is wanted: the soil should be light, rich and well drained and the bed should be on a spot overshadowed by tall, high branched trees. Early sowings before rains on ridges, seeds should be sown 3 inches from each other, one inch deep, in rows 18 inches apart. After rains sow in beds in rows so as to be irrigated.

At Hill stations, sow during the Spring in beds (ridges are not wanted), otherwise the other instructions are the same as for the Plains.

Beans (Scarlet Runner) (Phaseolus coccineus).Plains—August to October Hills.—April to June.

Runner Beans can be grown similar to French Beans, only sow in single, or double lines 4, or 5 feet apart, and support the plants in the same way as Peas. Some growers pinch off the growing point of each shoot when the plant is in full flower, which forces them into podding.

At Hill stations they may be sown as above at any time during the Spring, and early Summer. They grow quite easily.

Beans (Broad) (Faba vulgaris).Plains—September to November. Hills.—March to May

There are many kinds, the best is the long podded, with pods 6 to 8 inches long and 4 to 6 beans. The Windsor Broad Bean is smaller in pod, with from 1 to 3 large flat beans in each pod.

Sow in drills one foot apart, put the seeds in 6 inches from each other and between 2 and 3 inches deep, flood the drills immediately after sowing.

They grow best in a heavy, rich loose loam, or in a light soil heavily manured.

When the plants are about 3 feet high and in full flower, the point of each shoot should be nipped off; it is the omission of this operation that has resulted in the saying "Broad Beans fail to bear in this country."

At Hill stations, the above instructions may be adopted, only sow in the Spring.

Beet (Beta vulgaris).Plains.—August to December. Hills—March to May.

Sow in an open position in deep-dug ground, well manured. Sow the seeds one inch apart and one inch deep in drills 15 inches asunder. If weather is dry at sowing time, water immediately after sowing. When plants are about 3 or 4 inches high, thin them out to 4 inches apart and about two weeks after, then out to 9 or 10 inches asunder, using the thinnings to replace vacancies.

At Hill stations plant as directed above during the Spring.

Brussels Sprouts (Brassica oleracea, var. caulata gemmifera).Plains.—September to October. Hills.—End of February to middle of May.

Sow broadcast in nursery beds free from shade. Transplant into manured beds when 4, or 5 inches high in rows 2 feet apart and 15 inches between plants.

Transplanting should be carefully done with a large ball of earth round the roots. Decaying lateral leaves as they mature should be removed. Earth up the stem slightly after the plant has grown more than half its usual height.

At Hill stations the same treatment should be adopted, sowing in the Spring.

Cabbage (Brassica oleracea var capitata).Plains.—August to November.Hills.—End of February to end of May, and in the Autumn.

Sow broadcast in nursery beds and cover over with one-eighth inch of fine soil, the young plants should be shaded in the middle of the day as they may be destroyed by heat and excess moisture in August and early in September. When young plants are 4, or 5 inches high they should be transplanted into the beds in which they are to mature, in transplanting the whole of the stem should go into the soil.

The ground should be laid out in drills 4 inches wide, 8 inches deep and 18 inches apart; plant one side of drill only 18 inches from plant to plant, but for the large drum heads provide 3 feet from drill and from plant to plant.

At Hill stations the method of cultivation is the same as on the plains, but when Cabbage heads are wanted in early Summer sow in beds in Autumn and plant out in the open in Spring.

Carrot (Daucus carota).

Plains—Middle of August to end of December.

Hills.—End of February to end of May.

The soil should be well worked up with the manure to a depth of 18 inches, surface pulverised and levelled and laid out in beds 6 to 8 feet wide and any length that is most convenient for irrigating; sow in drills one inch deep, 8 inches apart for small kinds and 12 inches for large kinds. Sow seed evenly and cover with an inch of soil; when plants are well above ground thin out to 5 inches apart for small, and 7 inches for long-rooted kinds.

On the Hills follow same procedure, only sow in the Spring months.

Cauliflower (Brassica oleracea, var. Botrytis cauliflora).

Plains.—September to end of December.

Hills.—End of February to end of April, and in Autumn.

Sow Cauliflower seeds in the same way as directed for Cabbage; as soon as the seedlings are large enough to handle, transplant into a bed with light rich soil 4, or 5 inches apart each way from plant to plant; as soon as they have made four perfect leaves, transplant them again to another bed with richer soil than the last, 6 inches apart, then move them finally to the beds in which they are to be grown to perfection.

The frequent transplanting induces the plants to make heart early and more fully, if large firm white leaves are not important, the transplanting can be curtailed.

On the Plains, acclimatised seeds can be sown from middle of June to end of August.

On the Hills, imported seeds should be sown as directed above in Spring, or in Autumn; when the weather is severe, protect with matting, or dry grass.

Celery (Apium graveolens).

Plains—August to end of October.

Hills.—End of February to end of April.

There are two kinds of Celery, red and white; the sowings made before the rains take a long time to germinate—from four to six weeks; the pans in which the seed is sown in August should be stood in water to keep them cool and excite early germination; some gardeners use wet straw and place it on the seed pans during the day to keep out the heat, removing it at night. The pans should be in a well-lighted verandah or shed, sheltered from sun and heavy rain. When the plants are three or four weeks old, place them gradually in the sun, and when hardened plant out in fully exposed beds in lines 3 inches apart and 3 or 4 inches between plants, when the plants are about 5 inches high transplant them into the permanent beds in which they are to mature.

Celery thrives best in rich well cultivated and well drained loam. Prepare ground by digging trenches 18 inches wide, 12 inches deep and about four feet apart from centre to centre. A good supply of well decayed manure should be placed in the trenches and thoroughly worked into the soil. Plant the seedlings 3 inches apart in one line along the centre of the trench, allow them to grow on, keeping the soil round the plants loosened frequently and remove lateral shoots.

When the plants are a foot high, begin to earth them up gradually, care being taken that the final earthing operation does not cover the middle leaves or crown of the plants.

On the Hills proceed as above, only sowing in the Spring instead of the Autumn.

Cress, Water (Nasturtium officinale).

Plains.—During October or in November. Hills.—End of February to end of June.

In cold countries it grows naturally in the beds of small streams. When these conditions are imitated, it can be cultivated in the plains of India. One of the simplest ways of growing it on the plains is to make a bed by the side of the channel which conveys water from the well or stand-pipe to irrigate the garden, the soil should be light and porous, if it is stiff or clayey add river sand and manure with leaf mould. The bed should be slightly below the surface of the channel when the latter is full of water and slope in the same direction, an opening should connect the channel with the bed so that when water is flowing it may pass into the bed and run its whole length and an opening at the bottom of the bed should connect it with the channel so that the water may flow again into the channel and thus make a running stream, as Cress will not thrive in stagnant water.

Sow seed in pans of light soil and when about 2 inches high transplant into beds, or pans, with light porous soil with leaf mould and place the latter in a channel.

The treatment at Hill stations is the same, only a natural stream should be used for growing the Cress.

Cucumber (Cucumis Sativus).Plains.—May to end of July.Hills.—Beginning of May to middle of July.

The seeds are sown in single rows 6 inches apart, and 4, or 5 feet asunder and staked like Peas, when 6 inches high. Cucumbers will grow in any good garden soil, with a little manure; when rain is not falling and weather warm, irrigate once in three, or four days and weed the surrounding ground.

At Hill stations sow and treat as directed above for Plains.

Endive (Cichorium endivia).Plains.—Middle of October to end of November.Hills.—Middle of March to end of May and in Autumn.

Broadcast the seeds in a nursery bed and cover lightly with fine soil; when there is no rain, water from a can with a fine rose and shade from midday sun until the plants are well above the ground, when they may be exposed to the full sun. When the plants have made four leaves they should be taken up and replanted in their permanent beds in fairly rich soil in rows twelve inches apart and same distance from plant to plant, watering immediately after planting and continuing to water weekly, except during the rains. The after-cultivation consists in loosening and stirring the soil round the plants.

As soon as they attain full size, commence blanching the most advanced plants.

At Hill stations the same mode of cultivation should be adopted as on the Plains. Sowings may be made during Spring and early Summer months and also in Autumn. It may be used as a Winter Salad on the Hills.

Knolkhol, or Khol Rabi (Brassica oleracea, var Caulorapa).Plains.—Middle of August to end of October.Hills.—End of February to end of May.

Sow the seeds broadcast in nursery beds, and the seedlings when 3, or 4 inches high should be planted out in rich friable soil, in rows 15 inches apart and 9, or 10 inches from plant to plant.

Sowing should be made once a fortnight.

It is cultivated the same as Cabbage and Cauliflower, and reference should be made to details given under these vegetables.

At Hill stations the treatment is the same as on the Plains, only the seed should be sown in the Spring.

Lettuce (Lactuca sativa).Plains.—Middle of August to end of November.Hills.—Beginning of March to end of June.

Early sowings from August to September should be made in rows, and when seedlings have made a few leaves, transplant them into well raised beds and protect them from the heavy Monsoon rains. For main crop sow after the rains, sow broadcast in nursery beds and transplant seedlings in rich, well-manured beds in rows 15 inches apart and 12 inches between plants, water freely when the weather is dry and keep ground free of weeds. When plants are large enough, assist them to form heart by tying the leaves together.

At Hill stations, sowings may be made during Spring and early Summer months, and plants allowed to grow on where seed was sown after thinning out, or they may be planted in the open ground in rows.

Sowings may also be made in the rains in boxes and placed under shelter in a well-lighted verandah.

Mushrooms (Agaricus campestris).Plains.—September to end of FebruaryHills.—April to October.

Although during the rains Mushrooms appear spontaneously in the garden at the base of trees it is not easy to grow them artificially during the same season. Generally Mushrooms are difficult to grow on the Plains.

The most suitable time for growing them on the Plains is from September to end of February and from April to October on the Hills.

Select a place that is dry, inside a shed, or godown, free from any draught of air and somewhat dark, the object being to get something that resembles an underground cellar.

The bed should be prepared as follows:—Collect fresh horse droppings daily, remove all foreign matter such as grass, straw, etc., and place it in an oblong heap with a ridge in the centre 16 inches high. The quantity of dung should be sufficient for the proposed bed which may be 10 feet long by 4 feet wide, or 3 feet broad by 6 feet long, or any other convenient size.

The horse dung collected should be allowed to stand for a few days, so that some of the heat generated may be given off. To ascertain the degree of heat, make a hole in the centre of the heap and insert a thermometer and cover with a mat, examine daily until the thermometer indicates 95 or 96°, but not less than 85° Fahr.

On the ground in the shed, or so down, where you propose to place the bed, lay crocks 2 inches thick, cover it with river sand by preference, but ashes, or any fibrous matter will do, this is to drain the bed.

On the above bed mix and pile your horse dung 14 inches high providing a ridge in the centre 12 inches wide, from the foot of the ridge slope both sides, beat down the dung, or get a coolie to trample it down, it must be hard. This done, cover all 2 inches deep with leaf mould and press this also down hard and the bed is ready for sowing.

Sow small pieces of the spawn tablet, or brick about 1 inch square, an inch deep, and from 6 to 9 inches apart and cover bed with mats.

Do not sow on the top of the ridge. If the bed is dry, water from a can with a fine rose until thoroughly soaked. Time for growing mushrooms varies from 2 to 4 months.

When the bed begins bearing, the quantity will be large and it will gradually fall off, when it should be stimulated with liquid manure made of fresh cow and goats dung together 20 lbs., fowl or duck's droppings or pig's dung 1 lb., saltpetre 5 ounces. Mix these in 12 gallons of water, stir the whole together, then allow the mixture to settle, so that the particles of the various manures may settle to the bottom, use the clear liquid at the top.

New beds may be spawned from the bed in bearing by taking handful of the material from the bed in bearing and inserting them in the new bed in the same way as instructed for sowing pieces of mushroom tablets or bricks.

Onion (Allium cepa).

Plains.—Middle of October to middle of November.

Hills.—Beginning of March to end of May.

The Onion requires a rich, friable well-manured soil, worked to the depth of about 8 or 10 inches and the ground arranged in beds for irrigation.

Be careful to seed in the bed in rows. As soon as the plants are 6 inches high, thin them out to 5, or 6 inches apart, the thinnings may be planted out in vacant beds. They should be kept free of weeds, watered freely, as Onions are grass feeders, give occasional watering with liquid manure, if when making up the beds cow dung ashes and nightsoil can be worked in, the effect on the crop will be beneficial.

At Hill stations the culture is the same as detailed above, only sow in the Spring instead of in the Autumn.

Peas (Pisum sativum).

Plains.—Beginning of October to middle of November.

Hills.—Beginning of March to end of May and in the Autumn.

Manure the ground with well-decayed manure and if you can add wood, or cow dung ashes so much the better, but this must be done a couple of months before sowing. The dwarf varieties may be sown in rows about 15 inches apart and the seeds with a space of one inch between them.

The larger varieties in rows 3 feet apart and the seeds sown with 2 inches space between them. As soon as they are 6 inches high they should be staked.

At Hill stations the culture is the same as above, only sow during the Spring and early Summer, in Autumn, if the garden is on the south side of the hill. In gardens facing north do not sow during the Autumn.

Radish (Raphanus sativus).

Plains.—Middle of August to end of January.

Hills.—Beginning of March to end of August.

Highly manured soil and plenty of water are required by radish. The seeds may be sown thinly broadcast in beds, or in lines 6 inches apart. Whether sown broadcast, or in lines they must be thinned out to 3, or 4 inches asunder, sowings should be made once in eight, or ten days, as the roots do not remain tender and crisp for any length of time and soon become unfit for table use.

At Hill stations sowings may be made from beginning of March until end of August, but the seedlings should be protected during heavy showers.

Tomato (Lycopersicon esculentum).Plains.—Middle of July to end of October.Hills.—Middle of March to end of May.

Broadcast seeds in beds, when plants are a few inches high, transplant into beds in the open ground in any good soil, in rows 3 feet apart, and 18 inches between plants.

Weed when necessary and water once a week when weather is dry.

At Hill stations, sow during the Spring months and when plants are large enough to handle, plant out in well-drained ground sheltered from wind, but not shaded from sun, at the distances given above for the Plains.

Turnip (Brassica rapa).Plains.—Beginning of September to end of November.Hills.—End of February to middle of June or immediately after the rains.

Turnips will thrive in any good soil, but they do best in loose friable soil containing a quantity of sand. In such a soil the seeds may be broadcast and covered with $\frac{1}{2}$ inch of soil, in beds arranged for irrigation and seedlings thinned out to 6, or 8 inches apart. In clay soil sow in rows on ridges 15 or 18 inches apart, thinning to 6, or 8 inches.

If the ground is dry when sowing, water immediately after sowing, but if moist do not water until seedlings appear. Weed ground round crop and water once in 4 or 5 days in dry weather.

At Hill stations the same procedure as above may be observed, only sow from end of February to the middle of June and again in Autumn after the rains.

CULTURE OF A FEW FLOWERING ANNUALS AND PERENNIALS.

Abronia (Sand Verbena).Plains.—Middle of October to beginning of November.Hills.—During April and May.

Trailing annual with verbena-like flowers. Sow in pans, transplant 3 plants to a 12-inch pot, and plant in beds 7, or 8 inches apart.

Acrocalymum (Eternal-flowering).Plains.—Middle of October to beginning of November.Hills.—Middle of March to end of May.

An everlasting does well in any soil and retains color when dried for a long time, so can be arranged in vases with dried grass for decoration. Sow in pans and transplant 5 plants to a 10-inch pot and 6 inches apart in beds.

Adonis (Pheasant's Eye).Plains.—In September and October. Hills.—In March and April.

Sow in pans and transplant 3 plants to a 12-inch pot, or 6 inches apart in beds, in a moist shady situation.

Alonsoa (Musk Flower).Plains.—In October. Hills.—In March and April.

Plants of open habit densely covered with flowers. Sow in pans and transplant into beds 6 inches apart; they can also be planted in pots as single specimens.

Althaea Rosea (Hollyhock).Plains.—August to October. Hills.—End of March to middle of April.

Sow seeds in small pots and transplant carefully into well-manured beds, or sow seed where they are to grow and thin out to 3, or 4 feet between plants. Occasionally give weak liquid manure and when plants are coming into bud top dress with well-decayed manure.

Alyssum (The Mad-wort).Plains.—In October. Hills.—Middle of March to end of May.

Dwarf growing pretty annual, which once established will grow yearly from self-sown seeds. Sow in pans and transplant 1 plant to a 12-inch pot or in beds 4 inches from plant to plant.

Amarantus Tricolor (Joseph's Coat).Plains.—September to November. Hills.—April to June.

Sow seed in pans and transplant into well-manured beds when seedlings are 2 or 3 inches high. Should be well fed with weak liquid manure once a week.

Antirrhinum (Snap-dragon).Plains.—End of September, or beginning of October. Hills.—March to June.

Excellent for bedding. For flowering the same season, sow in pans of light soil and place under shelter, prick out when an inch high into pans, harden off and plant out in good soil, 12 inches apart.

Aster (Star-wort).Plains.—During September and October. Hills.—March to May.

Sow thinly in shallow pans, shade from strong sun. Prick out when the seedlings have made two leaves, shade and water. Plant out in favourable weather 1 ft. to 1½ ft. apart. Do not bury the crown of the plant.

As Asters damp off easily, pots should be well-drained and watering done carefully.

Balsams (Impatiens Balsamina).Plains.—August to December. Hills.—April to June.

There are two varieties—the Rose flowered, like small roses and the Camellia flowered with petals large and regularly imbricated, like small Camellias. Sow in pans of light soil, scattering the seeds thinly and evenly, and place on sheltered side of verandah. Pot on as soon as the seedlings have made a second pair of leaves. Transplant frequently and at every shift drop the plant lower in the soil.

Bellis Perennis (Double Daisy).Plains.—September or October. Hills.—March to May.

Sow in pans and prick out as soon as they can be handled. Transplant into good rich soil, 3 to a 12-inch pot and 3 inches apart in beds, or borders.

Brachycome (Swan River Daisy).Plains.—In October. Hills.—In March.

A beautiful bedding annual, of very compact habit, and a profuse bloomer. Sow the seed thinly in pans of light soil, covering very lightly, and place on sheltered side of verandah; plant out 6 inches apart when large enough.

Browallia.Plains.—In October. Hills.—In March.

A pretty plant for bedding. Sow in light soil in shallow pans and place on sheltered side of verandah; prick out when strong enough, and plant out in beds. For pot culture shift as necessary, using sandy loam for potting soil. Once established in a bed it will sow itself yearly.

Calandrinia (Rock Purslane).Plains.—In October. Hills.—March and April.

On the plains sow seed where it is wanted to grow, as they do not stand transplanting. Like Portulaca it wants the full sun to open its flowers, will grow best in light rich soil, should be carefully watered.

On the Hills they may be transplanted, 3 or 4 plants in a 12-inch pot and 6 inches apart in beds.

Calliopsis, or Coreopsis.Plains.—September and October. Hills.—March to May.

Very pretty for beds and borders. Sow in beds in any good garden soil, cover the seed lightly, and thin out, or sow in pans and transplant to 3 or 4 inches apart.

Calandula (Cape marigold).Plains.—October. Hills.—April and May.

The seed should be sown, if possible, where they are wanted to grow; as this belongs to the Marigold family, the native girl must know how to grow it successfully; sow in beds only, not suited for pot culture.

Candy Tuft (Iberis).Plains.—In September and October. Hills.—March to May.

Dwarf plants 6 to 12 inches high bearing toothy tufts of white and purplish flowers. Sow in pans and transplant in light rich soil, 3 or 4 plants to a 12-inch pot, beds 6 inches apart.

Canna (Indian Shot).Plains and Hills.—Almost all the year round.

There are forty Orchid flowering kinds and an endless variety of Gladioli and other kinds, some with beautiful red leaves. They are best grown from roots in deeply dug beds.

Carnation (Giant flowered malmaison).Plains.—From September if weather suitable. Hills.—June to August.

Sow in pans and cover very lightly with finely sifted soil; or cover with glass, shade from strong sun, give plenty of air, and keep the soil sufficiently moist. When the seedlings come up, expose freely to the air, and when they have made six leaves, transplant into 5-inch pots, and then into the pots, or beds in which they are to flower.

Celosia Pyramidalis Plumosa

(FEATHERED COCKSCOMB).

Plains.—August to December. Hills.—June.

Sow in pans of sandy loam covering seeds about an eighth of an inch deep with soil, water through a fine rose, and place on sheltered side of verandah. Pot as soon as the seedlings are strong enough to be handled into small pots of loam, leaf mould, and sand. Do not water too freely, but water occasionally with weak liquid manure.

Chrysanthemum Tricolor.Plains.—October. Hills.—February to May.

Pretty annuals of easy culture well deserving to be more generally grown, one plant in each 12-inch pot, and in beds 12 inches apart.

Cineraria.Plains.—In October, as soon as heavy rains have ended.Hills.—August and September and also March and April.

Sow in pans and as soon as seedlings are strong enough to handle, prick out into pans and transplant singly into 8-inch pots with soil composed of leaf mould, loam and well-rotted manure with charcoal dust to cause porosity. Difficult to grow on the Plains except in a long cold season.

Cleome (Spider flower).Plains.—From October to December. Hills.—In April or May.

Sow in shallow pans; prick off when large enough, and finally plant out in beds or borders, in favourable weather. Does not grow well on the Plains.

Cobaea Scandens (Cups and Saucers).Plains.—In October. Hills.—Sow in October, also April and May.

A splendid climber, suitable either for the conservatory, or for planting out of doors; being of rapid growth it quickly covers a large space. Sow in shallow pans, placing the seeds edgewise; prick out singly into small pots in sandy loam, and plant out in favourable weather.

Convolvulus Major (Morning Glory).Plains.—In October. Hills.—March and April.

Beautiful climbers for covering trelliswork, fences, &c. Sow in pans and plant out, as soon as strong enough, in light rich soil. Sow also, in the open ground, in favourable weather and afford support as the plants advance in growth.

Convolvulus MinorPlains.—In October. Hills.—From March to April.

Very showy climbing plant. Sow in pans, when plants are a week old they should be transferred to nursery pots and later into their flowering pots or in beds where the plants are to remain, in any good garden soil. The seedlings should be planted 6 inches apart; suitable for hanging baskets.

Mammoth Cosmea (Cosmos)

(LARGE FLOWERED KIND).

Plains.—October. Hills.—April and May.

Sow in shallow pans; prick off when large enough, and finally plant out in beds, or borders, in rich friable soil.

Cyanus Minor.Plains.—October. Hills.—March to May.

Very showy for borders. Sow in pans, when seedlings can be handled move them into small pots and when these are full of roots shift into their flowering pots, or into well manured beds.

Dahlia.

(ANNUALS WITH PERENNIAL ROOTS.)

Plains.—September or October Hills.—March to May.

Beautiful new large-flowered varieties. Sow in pans of sandy loam and place on sheltered side of verandah. When about 2 inches high prick out into small pots, gradually harden off, and plant out in rich soil two, or three feet apart, or if intended to flower in pots, use large Dahlia pots.

Datura (Thorn Apple).Plains.—September to December. Hills.—April and May.

Sow in shallow pans, pot off in Dahlia pots in favourable weather, giving plenty of sunshine and water, also in large teas.

Delphinium (Larkspur).Plains.—October. Hills.—April.

Splendid plants for large masses and shrubby borders. Sow in pans of sandy loam or in any good soil and transplant into the pots in which they are to flower. Difficult to grow on the Plains.

Dianthus.

For early flowering sow in pans and prick out the seedlings, when strong enough, into the pot in which they are to remain and bloom. All other kinds of Dianthus, or Pinks can be grown similarly.

Gaillardia (Blanket Flower).Plains—From September. Hills.—March to May.

Extremely handsome crimson and yellow flowers for large beds, also as cut flowers for vases, &c. Sow in pans and transplant, when large enough to handle, in light rich soil.

Gomphrena Globosa.

(GLOBE AMARANTH.)

Plains.—July to February. Hills.—June and July.

One of the everlasting of free blooming habit. Sow in pans and transplant as soon as they are large enough to handle, 3 plants to a 9-inch pot. Water freely. If the flowers are wanted for dry flower decoration, gather them for use just before they mature.

Gypsophila Paniculata.

(THE CHALK PLANT.)

Plains.—In October or November. Hills—In March and April.

Elegant perennial forming lush covera with cloud-like white flowers which if cut immediately after opening and dried answer for everlasting flowers. Sow in pans and transplant into containers when old lime or chalk is mixed. It has been grown in the plains successfully as an annual, but does not like transplanting.

Heliotrope (Cherry Pie).Plains.—In October. Hills.—March to May.

Excellent for beds. Sow in pans and as soon as the seedlings can be handled transplant, or pot separately till well established; gradually harden off and plant out. Give plenty of water in dry weather.

Ipomoea

(MORNING GLORY.)

Plains.—From August to October. Hills.—From March to May.

Beautiful plants for training against a wall or over a trellis or arch, with a warm aspect. Sow in light soil, pot off when strong enough to be handled. Plant out in favourable weather in rich soil.

Kochia Trichophila.

(SUMMER CYPRESS.)

Plains.—In October. Hills.—March to May.

An unusually decorative plant about 30 inches high with graceful foliage, the light green colour of which changes to red on maturity.

Sow in pans, prick out as soon as they are strong enough to handle into pots with light rich soil.

Linaria Alba.

(PERENNIAL TRAILER, WHITE.)

Plains.—From October to November. Hills.—From March to May.

A beautiful plant for hanging baskets, bearing on its graceful branches numerous lovely flowers all through the season. Sow in shallow pans, and prick off into 4-inch pots, giving them a light position. The seed being very small, should be very slightly covered.

Lobelia.Plains.—In October. Hills.—From March to May.

In colour this Lobelia is quite different from any other variety, being a very rich shade of violet-purple, without any trace of blue, thus showing off very strikingly its large and clear white eye. The habit is semi-compact, not so dwarf as the Pumila varieties, but not at all straggling. Sow in shallow pans and place on sheltered side of verandah; prick out when strong enough.

Marigold.

(TAGETES.)

Plains.—July to October. Hills.—March to May.

A fine dwarf variety, suitable for small beds. Sow in pans and prick out, when strong enough to be handled, to the spot where they are intended to bloom; will grow best in moderately rich soil.

Marvel of Peru (Four O'Clock Flower).Plains.—In September and October Hills.—In April and May.

Highly ornamental long trumpet-shaped flowers, very fragrant, flowers open at night. Sow in pans, pot off when an inch or two high in light soil. The roots may be taken up before the hot weather sets in, and preserved in sand, and re-planted.

Mignonette.Plains.—October and November. Hills.—March to May.

An attractive and perfectly distinct variety, and one of the best for pot culture. Sow in the open ground in favourable weather, covering the seeds about $\frac{1}{2}$ -inch deep. Thin out before the plants become too crowded. For pot culture sow the seeds thinly and weed out to three plants in a 5-inch pot. They must not be transplanted.

Mina Lobata.Plains.—In October. Hills.—March and April.

This beautiful climbing plant is well suited for covering arbours, trellises, &c., on account of its rapid growth. Sow in shallow pans, and plant out in favourable weather in a sunny situation.

Nasturtium.Plains.—In October and November. Hills.—From March to April.

Dwarf and compact; extremely handsome both for bed and pot culture. Sow in any good garden soil, cover moderately deep, and when well established thin out, or transplant carefully as this plant will not bear transplanting and should be grown in poor soil.

Nicotiana Sanderiana (Flowering Tobacco).Plains.—October to December. Hills.—April or May.

A beautiful and decorative plant for pot culture. The flowers are delicately scented. Sow the seed in pans and prick out the seedlings, when large enough to handle, into pots, or shallow boxes, finally planting them out in a rich deep soil.

Pansy (Heartsease).

(VIOLA TRICOLOR.)

Plains.—Immediately after rains in October.Hills.—March to May, also in Autumn.

A well-known flowering plant, rather difficult to grow on the Plains. For pot culture transplant singly into small annual pots. On the Hills for beds plant 9 inches apart, for borders 6 inches apart.

Papaver (Poppy).Plains.—In October. Hills.—From March to May.

Very handsome for beds. Sow in the spot where the plants are intended to remain for blooming, and cover lightly. Thin out to twelve inches apart in beds as soon as the seedlings are strong enough.

Petunia.Plains.—Middle of September to November.Hills.—From February to April, also in October.

Plants with beautifully coloured trumpet-shaped flowers, splendid for bedding. The seeds being very small, the soil in the pans in which they are to be sown must be made very smooth and level, and watered with a can having a very fine rose. Sow seeds on surface and cover with a glass and keep in a shady situation; if there is too much glare put a piece of thin paper on glass for two, or three days.

Phlox Drummondii.Plains.—September to November. Hills.—March to May.

Sow in pans, when half an inch high prick out two, or three inches apart in pans, or boxes of light rich soil, harden off gradually and plant out in favourable weather in well-prepared ground. Pinch the leading shoot to make the plants bushy. In the ground plant 6 inches apart, in pots, 3 plants to a 9-inch pot.

Portulaca (Purslane).Plains.—From October to December.Hills.—April or May.

Sow in shallow pans, barely covering the seeds. Pot when strong enough to handle and keep in a dry sunny situation. Requires poor soil, only a little manure and water.

Salvia Splendens (Flowering sage).Plains.—In October.Hills.—In March and April.

A handsome and very free-flowering annual. Sow in sandy loam, prick out when strong enough to handle, either into a bed or in small pots and when well rooted remove into the pots in which they are to flower, or into beds.

Sunflower (Helianthus).Plains.—July, also in October.Hills.—From March to June.

Well known, tall and dwarf annuals, with single and double flowers that can be grown in pots as well as beds and borders. Sow a few seeds where the plants are wanted to bloom, or in pans, or drills, transplanting into pots, or beds: this can be done even when the plants are coming into bud.

Sweet Peas (Lathyrus Odoratus).Plains.—October.Hills.—March to April and October.

Acclimatised seed is best for the Plains, although imported seed also germinates and grows well, but sometimes fails to flower. Sow in the pots in which they are to flower as they do not stand transplanting.

The seeds sown on the Hills in October should be protected from severe cold, or frost; the flowers from this sowing will be out in Spring.

Torenia Fournieri.

(FLOWERS BLuish PURPLE WITH WHITE THROAT.)

Plains.—From August to February.Hills.—From March to June.

Sow in pans and transplant as soon as they are large enough to handle, 3 plants to a 9-inch pot and 9 inches apart in beds. Water freely.

Verbena (Vervain).Plains.—Early in October.Hills.—From March to May.

Sow in pans, prick out as soon as the seedlings are strong enough to be handled into small pots; plant out in favourable weather in good rich soil. They grow better in beds than in pots.

Zinnia Elegans.Plains.—July to following February.Hills.—All the year round.

Splendid annuals for bedding, the flowers exhibiting a great diversity of the most brilliant colours. Sow in shallow pans, pot off as soon as the seedlings are strong enough. All first buds should be pinched off as they appear, for a month, and subsequently allowed to flower. Plants should not be allowed to flower until strong.

USES OF THE PRECEDING TABLE.

1.—When Government 4 per cent. Securities sell at 76, what are the equivalent values of the 5 and 5½ per cent. loans?

In the table opposite 76 in the first column are 95, the value of 5 per cent. loan, and 104½, the value of 5½ per cent. loan—the interest in all the three cases being 5.263 or 55.19 per cent

2.—At what price should I purchase 4 per cents. to obtain 5½ per cent. for my money?

In the fourth column opposite 5½ or 5.5 in the column for 4 per cent., stands 72.727 or 728.11, the price required.

3.—What would I gain by selling out Rs 10,000 5 per cent. Government loans at 104 and purchasing 5½ per cent. at 112?

In the third column opposite 104 in the 2nd, is 114.4

Gain on Rs. 100 of Capital 2.4

And in the fourth column opposite 112 in the 3rd, is 4.911 per cent.

" " " " 104 " 2nd, 4.808 "

Difference, or gain per cent per annum on Capital 0.108 " or fully 1.10 per cent. being Rs. 10.50. on every Rs. 1,000 invested.

4.—To find the equivalent values of 4 and 5½ per cent. Securities when 5 per cent. are selling at 103½, or Rs. 103.6a.

Opposite 103 in the 2nd column are 82.4 and 113.3 in the 1st and 3rd, and among the "proportional parts" corresponding to 375 or 6a. in the 5 per cent. column are 0.3 R in the 4 per cent. and .418 in the 5½ per cent. column.

Hence 82.4 + .3 = 82.7, the equivalent price of 4 per cent., and 113.3 + .418 = Rs. 113.713, or Rupees 113, 11a. 5p., the equivalent price of 5½ per cents.

Other uses of this Table will readily occur to brokers and others.

TIME AND WATCH ON BOARD SHIP.

WATCH.—For purposes of discipline, and to divide the work fairly, the crew is mustered in two divisions: the Starboard (right side, looking forward) and the Port (left). The day commences at noon, and is thus divided:—

Afternoon Watch ...	...	...	...	...	noon to 4 p.m.
First Dog " ...	...	...	...	...	4 p.m. to 6 p.m.
Second Dog " ...	...	...	...	...	6 p.m. to 8 p.m.
First " ...	...	...	...	...	8 p.m. to midnight.
Middle " ...	...	...	...	...	Midnight to 4 a.m.
Morning " ...	...	...	...	...	4 a.m. to 8 a.m.
Forenoon " ...	...	...	...	...	8 a.m. to noon.

This makes seven WATCHES, which enables the crew to keep them alternately, as the Watch which is on duty in the forenoon one day has the afternoon next day, and the men who have only four hours' rest one night have eight hours the next. This is the reason for having Dog Watches, which are made by dividing the hours between 4 p.m. and 8 p.m. into two Watches.

TIME.—Time is kept by means of "Bells," although there is often but one bell on the ship, and to strike the clapper properly against the bell requires some skill.

First, two strokes of the clapper at the interval of a second, then an interval of two seconds; then two more strokes with a second's interval apart, then a rest of two seconds, thus:—

BELL, ONE SECOND; B., TWO SECS., B. s.; B. ss. B. s.; B. ss.; B.

- 1 Bell is struck at 12-30, and again at 4-30, 9-30, and 8-30 p.m.; 12-30, 4-30 and 8-30 a.m.
- 2 Bells at 1 (struck with an interval of a second between each—B. s. B.), the same again at 5, 7 and 9 p.m.; 1, 5 and 9 a.m.
- 3 Bells at 1-30 (B. s. B. ss. B.), 5-30, 7-30 and 9-30 p.m.; 1-30, 5-30 and 9-30 a.m.
- 4 Bells at 2 (B. s. B. ss. B. s. B.), 6 and 10 p.m.; 2, 6 and 10 a.m.
- 5 Bells at 2-30 (B. s. B. ss. B. s. B. ss. B.) and 10-30 p.m.; 2-30, 6-30 and 10-30 a.m.
- 6 Bells at 3 (B. s. B. ss. B. s. B. ss. B. s. B.) and 11 p.m.; 3, 7 and 11 a.m.
- 7 Bells at 3-30 (B. s. B. ss. B. s. B. ss. B. s. B. ss. B.) and 11-30 p.m.; 3-30, 7-30 and 11-30 a.m.
- 8 Bells (B. s. B. ss. B. s. B. ss. B. s. B. ss. B. s. B.) every 4 hours, at noon, at 4 p.m., 8 p.m., midnight, 4 a.m. and 8 a.m.

SHIP'S TONNAGE.

Is described as "Gross" and "Register." Gross Tonnage does not include the entire space available on a ship—for from this measurement all spaces above deck, solely appropriated to the ship's machinery, deck house cabins, deck shelters, the galleys, wheel and chart houses, cable tiers, sail, carpenter's and boatswain's stores and a few minor spaces, are excluded. Register Tonnage excludes in addition to the above, crew space, Masters, Officers and Engineers accommodation, etc., and in the case of steamers, 32 per cent. of the whole is also deducted for engine rooms allowance. In steamers, the difference between gross and register tonnage is often very great, the "Oceanic," for example, has a gross tonnage of more than 17,000 tons, while her register tonnage is only a little over 7,000. A "displacement ton" is 35 c. ft.

HORSE POWER.

One Horse Power is the rate of working when you lift 550 lbs. one foot in one second, or 33,000 lbs. one foot in one minute. It is more than a robust horse can do for any length of time. For a short period, however, a horse can do very much more, but the ordinary work of a horse may be stated as 22,500 lbs. raised one foot in a minute for eight hours a day. One Machinery Horse Power is, therefore, the equivalent of $4\frac{1}{2}$ horses.

Standard Gold contains eleven-twelfths of fine metal and one-twelfth of alloy; fineness, 916.66, or 22 carats. Twenty troy pounds of standard gold are coined into 93½ sovereigns and one half-sovereign; one troy ounce is, therefore, intrinsically worth £3 17s. 10½d., and one ounce of pure gold, on the same basis, £4 4s. 11½d.

Standard Silver consists of thirty-seven-fortieths of fine metal and three-fortieths of alloy; fineness, 925. One troy pound of standard silver is coined into 66 shillings.

Bronze is an alloy of copper 95 parts, tin 4 parts, and zinc 1 part.

The "Remedy" is the amount of variation permitted in fineness and in weight of coins when first issued from the Mint.

Bank of England Notes are issued for sums of £5, £10, £20, £50; also for £100, £200, £500, and £1,000.

Legal Tender of Money.—The tender of Bank of England Notes is legal in England and Wales for every purpose, and by anyone (except by the Bank of England) No one can be compelled to give change. Gold, if above the least current weight, is a legal tender to any amount. Silver is not a legal tender for sums over two pounds, nor bronze, including farthings, for sums over one shilling.

† It is interesting to note that the legal weight of a penny is one-third, of the half-penny one-fifth, and of the farthing one-tenth of an ounce avoirdupois. Further, the half-penny is one inch in diameter.

BRITISH INDIAN MONEY.

The Gold Coin was the Mohur = 16 Rupees, but Silver is now the standard metal of India. Current coins of SILVER are : 1-rupee piece, 8-anna piece, 4-anna piece, and 2-anna piece; NICKEL 1-anna piece; and COPPER : 2-pice or $\frac{1}{2}$ -anna piece, 1-pice or $\frac{1}{4}$ -anna piece, and 1-pie piece. A nickel currency is introduced in replacement of, or in addition to, the copper coinage.

The weight of the Gold Mohur and that of the current Rupee is the same, viz., 180 grains Troy.

NOTE.—France, Belgium, Italy, Greece, and Switzerland constitute the "Latin" Union, and their coins are alike in weight and fineness, occasionally differing in name. The same system has been adopted by Spain, Serbia, Bulgaria, Russia, and Roumania, but they have not joined the Union. Francs and centimes of France, Belgium, and Switzerland are respectively designated lire and centesimi in Italy; drachmai and lepta in Greece; dinars and paras in Serbia; pesetas and centimos in Spain; leys and banis in Roumania; leva and stotinkis in Bulgaria.

The Scandinavian countries, Norway, Sweden, and Denmark, all employ coins of the same weight and fineness, their names being also alike. Most of the South American States possess a standard coin, equal in weight and fineness to the silver 5-fr. piece, generally termed a "peso." In Hayti, the corresponding coin is a "gouide."

In most of the British Colonies English money is current. The currency of Ceylon, Mauritius, and the East African Protectorate is, however, based on the rupee of British India; that of the Straits Settlements is on a dollar basis. Canada and British Honduras coinage are on the basis of the United States gold dollar. A British dollar, identical in weight and fineness with the Japanese "yen," is legal tender in the Straits Settlements, Hongkong, Sarawak, British North Borneo, and Labuan.

The exchange value of the monies of many countries is determined by the rate of exchange for the day. The rate given in the exchange notes of the newspapers generally represents the number of standard coins that are equivalent to one sovereign. The Spanish rate is given in terms of pence per dollar (=2 escudos), the Russian in pence per rouble, Portuguese in pence per milreis, and the United States rate in pence per dollar.

The exchange value of the Indian rupee depends on the rate for "India Council Bills," but by an Act of 1898, the British sovereign was made legal tender and equivalent to 15 rupees, the rupee being thus rated at 1s. 4d.

In "bimetallic" countries pure gold is generally taken as being worth 15 $\frac{1}{2}$ times its weight of pure silver. This proportion corresponds to giving standard silver a constant Sine of 60 $\frac{1}{2}$ d. per oz.

BRITISH WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

UNIFORMITY.—An edict of King Edgar decreed that there should be but one Standard Measure, that kept at Winchester; and by the 27th section of Magna Charta, there was to be one weight for all England. Nevertheless, numerous customary weights and measures have continued in use—custom was stronger than law, especially with regard to land, corn and wool. In 1824, however, an Act was passed rendering uniformity compulsory from the 1st of January 1826, since which time, the Imperial Statute System of Weights and Measures has been in general use, although some remains of the older form still linger.

Avoirdupois Weight.

Troy Weight.

Carat..... = 3·17 grains.	Pound.....lb. = 12 oz., 240 dwt., 5,760
Ounce.....oz. = 20 dwt., 480 gr.

Troy is the weight used by goldsmiths and jewellers. The grains Troy, Apothecaries' and Avoirdupois are equal, and the same in England, France, the United States, Holland, and in most other countries; but the carat varies: in France it is 3·18 grains, in Holland 3·0 gr., and in the U. S. 3·2 gr. In the U. K., the jewellery ounce is divided into 161½ carats or 600 pearl grains.

The oz. Troy and Apothecaries' = 1·09714 oz. avoirdupois; but the lb. Troy and lb. Apothecaries' = only 0·82286 lb. avoirdupois; while 175 lb. Troy and Apothecaries' = 144 lb. avoirdupois.

Apothecaries' Weight.

Scruple, ʒ = 20 Grains ... = 20 grs.	Ounce, ʒ = 8 Drachms ... = 48 gr.
Drachm, ʒ = 3 Scruples ... = 60 „	Pound, lb. = 12 Ounces ... = 5,760 „

The avoirdupois oz. of 437½ grains, and the lb. of 7,000 grains, are the weights named in the British Pharmacopœia; drugs are purchased by avoirdupois, but compounded by Apothecaries' weight. The Apothecaries' oz. and lb. may now be considered obsolete.

Apothecaries' Fluid Measure.

1 Drachm = 1 Tea-spoonful.		Prescribing medicine by the spoon, glass or cupful, is unsafe, as all those vessels vary in size. Graduated glass measures may be purchased for a few Annas.
2 Drachms = 1 Dessert-spoonful.
Drachms = 1 Table-spoonful.
2 Ounces = 1 Wineglassful.
3 Ounces = 1 Teacupful.

Hay and Straw.

Truss of Straw, 86 lb. Truss of Old Hay, 56 lb.

Truss of New Hay (to September 1st), 60 lb.

Load, 86 Trusses—Straw, 11 cwt. 2 qr. 8 lb. Old Hay 18 cwt; New Hay, 19 cwt, qr. 4 lb.

Wool.

Olive ... cl. = 7 lb.	Pack ... pk. = 240 lb.
Stone ... st. = 2 Oloves 14 lb.	Sack ... sk. = 2 Ways, 18 qr.
Tod ... td. = 2 Stones 1 qr.	Last ... la. = 12 Sacks, 89 cwt.
Way ... wy. = 6½ Tod 1 cwt. 2 qr. 14 lb.

Since the advent of SHODDY, some of the above weights have become nearly obsolete, although the terms are still in use with different values: thus, 16 lb.=1 st.; 28 lb.=1 Tod; 30 lb.=1 Score; 12 Score or 240 lb.=1 Pack.

Worsted Yarn.

Wrap, 80 yards; Hank=560 yards=7 Wraps; Counts or Numbers are the number of hanks in a lb.

Cotton Wool.

Bale variable in U. K.; U. S. A. average 477 lb.; Egyptian, 719 lb.; East Indian 396 lb.; Brazilian, 220 lb.

Cotton Yarn.

Thread=1½ yards.
 Lea, or Skein, etc. = 120 Yards.
 Hank, hk. = 7 Skeins, or Leas.
 Spindle, spdl. = 18 Hanks.

} Also same for Silk.

Counts=the number of Hanks in 1 lb. Bundle Hanks, either of 5 lb. or 10 lb. Reels of Cotton vary from 80 to 1,760 yards, but by the Act must be marked correctly. Bundles of Cotton are chiefly made up for export.

Liquid Measure.

The Gill contains 8·661 cubic inches.	Kilderkin, Rundlet, or	Gals.	Qts.	Pts.
The Pint contains 4 gills (20 ounces) or 34·660 inches.	Barrel.....	18	72	144

Gallon = 4 quarts = 32 gills.	Hogshead of Ale (1½ barrels)	54	216	432
Pin = 4½ Gallons or ½ Barrel.	Punchoon.....	72	288	576
Firkin or Quarter Barrel.....	Butt of Ale.....	108	432	864
Apker (10 gallons).....		10	40	80

Practically the only measures in use are gallons, quarts, pints, and gills, the others are merely nominal, e.g., the hogshead of 54 gallons, old measure, contains but 52 gallons, 1 quart, 1 pint, and 8·55 gills imperial measure; and of wine, six nominal quart bottles go to the gallon. Of wines imported in casks, the following are the usual measurements:—

Pipe of Port or Maediell ... = 115 gallons.	Pipe of Sherry and Tent ... = 108 gallons.
" Teneriffe ... = 100 "	Butt of Lisbon and Bucellas = 117 "
" Marsala ... = 93 "	Aum of Hock and Rhenish... = 30 "
" Madeira and Cape ... = 92 "

Hogshead of Claret, 46; Port, 57; Sherry, 54; Madeira, 46 gallons.

In the United States, the old British or "Winchester" wine gallon of 231 cubic inches is in use; the names of measures are the same, but the capacity of the gill is only 7·21875 cubic inches.

Dry or Corn Measure.

Quart = 2 Pints.	Bushel = 4 Pecks.	Load = 5 Quarters.
Pottle = 2 Quarts.	Strike = 2 Bushels.	Last = 10 Quarters.
Gallon = 4 Quarts.	Coomb = 4 Bushels.	Boll of Meal = 140 lb
Peck = 2 Gallons.	Quarter = 8 Bushels.	2 Bolls = 1 sack.

Wheat and other cereals are commonly sold by weight, the bushel being thus reckoned:—

Wheat, English, 68 lb. Foreign, 62 lb.

Barley, English, 52 and 56 lb. French, 52½ lb. Mediterranean, 50 lb.

Oats, English, 40 and 42 lb. Foreign, 38 and 40 lb.

Rye and Maize, 60 lb.

Buckwheat, 52 lb. to the bushel.

Grain of all kinds is frequently sold by the stone of 14 lb.

Coke, apples, potatoes, and some other goods are sold by leaped measures and the sack of three bushels; of coke, four bushels are usual.

FRUIT.—The Covent Garden bushel basket is 17½ inches in diameter at top, 10 inches at the bottom, and is 10 inches deep. The smaller market baskets are said to vary in size according to the season and the supply.

Cubic or Solid Measure.

Cubic Foot ... = 1,728 Cubic Inches.
 Cubic Yard = 27 Cubic Feet, 21,033 bushels.
 Stack of Wood = 108 Cubic Feet.
 Shipping Ton = 40 Cubic Feet merchandise.

Shipping Ton = 42 Cubic Feet of Timber.
 Ton of displacement of a Ship = 35 Cubic Feet.

Measures of Length.

Mile Geographical, Admiralty Knot, or Nautical Mile, 6,080 Feet = 1,013½ fathoms = 1.15 Mile Statute.

33 Knots = 88 Statute Miles.

League = 3 Miles.

Although no longer sold by that measure, Calicos, &c., are sometimes said to be "Ell wide"—the English Ell being 1½ yard, the Flemish Ell ¾ yard, and the French Ell 1¼ yard.

The old Scottish Mile was 5,920 feet; ten Scots Miles being about equal to 11½ Statute Miles. The Irish Mile is 6,720 feet; eleven Irish Miles being equal to 14 Statute Miles.

Square, Surface, or Land Measure.

The Square Foot contains 144 Square Inches.

Yard = 9 feet = 1,296 inches.

Rod, Pole, or Perch = 30½ yards = 272½ feet.

Chain = 16 rods = 484 yards = 4,856 feet.

Rood = 40 rods = 1,210 yards = 10,890 feet.

Acre = 4 roods = 160 rods = 4,840 yards.

Yard of Land = 30 acres = 120 roods.

Hide = 100 acres = 400 roods.

Mile = 640 acres = 2,560 roods = 6,400 chains = 102,400 rods, poles, or perches, or 8,097,600 square yards.

An Acre roughly stated has four equal sides of 69½ yards; accurate measurement gives each side 208.71 feet.

The sides of a square half-acre would be 147.581 feet, and of a square quarter-acre, 104.355 feet.

The above Imperial land Measure is now employed as the standard in the United Kingdom, in Canada, Australia, and the Colonies generally, also in the United States; but occasionally some older measurements are referred to. Of these—

The Lancashire and Irish Acre, each of 160 perches, contains 7,840 sq. yards, equal to 1.619835 Statute. 1 Statute = 0.617847 Lancashire or Irish acre.

The Cheshire Acre of 160 perches, each containing 64 square yards = 10,240 square yards.

The Cunningham Acre, equal to 1.201322 Statute; or 1 Statute Acre is equal to 0.7744 Cunningham.

The Scottish Acre = 1.261183 Statute (nearly 6,104 square yards).

Angular Measure.

The Earth rotates at a velocity of 15 degrees an hour (about 1736 miles a minute) at the Equator; 1° is, therefore, equal to 4 minutes.

A Circular Acre is 335.504 feet, a Circular Rod, 117.752 feet in diameter. The Circumference of the Globe is about 24,855 miles, and the Diameter about 7,900 miles.

A Rod of Brickwork $16\frac{1}{2}$ feet $\times$ $16\frac{1}{2}$ feet $\times$ $1\frac{1}{2}$ brick thick = 306 cubic feet, or $11\frac{1}{2}$ cubic yards, and contains about 4,500 bricks with about 75 cubic feet of mortar.

A Square of Flooring is 100 square feet.

A Piece of Wall Paper is 12 yards long, 21 in. wide (English), and 9 yd. $\times$ 18 in. (French).

METRIC WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

The Metric System is based upon the (assumed) length of the direct distance from the Equator to the North Pole. The ten millionth part of this distance, as calculated in 1795, was adopted by the French Government as the unit of length, and called a mètre. All other measurements are derived from this unit; the cube of the tenth part of the mètre is the unit of capacity, called a litre, and the weight of a litre of water, at a certain temperature is the unit of weight, called a kilogramme. The unit of land measurement is 10,000 sq. mètres, called a hectare. The above terms are now used in this country under the English names of meter, liter, kilogram, and hectare.

ROUGH COMPARISONS.

10 centimeters = 4 inches.	8 kilometers = 5 miles.
1 liter = $1\frac{1}{4}$ pints.	1 cubic meter = 220 gallons.
1 kilogram = $2\frac{1}{4}$ lbs.	1,000 kilograms = 1 ton.
1 sq. meter = 10 sq. feet.	1 hectare = $2\frac{1}{4}$ acres.

The Metrical System is used in Belgium, France, Germany, Italy, Portugal, Spain, Sweden and Norway, and some other countries, the unit of which is the Gramme=15.432 grains; the chief multiple of the Gramme is the Kilogramme=2.204 lb.; in practical use this is found inconvenient for small purchases, and nearly all commodities are sold by the demi or half kilo. The Centner of 50 kilos=110 $\frac{1}{4}$ lb., very nearly represents the English cwt.; but heavy goods are sold by the Tonneau of 2204.621 lb., about 19 cwt. 77 lb., the Myriogramme being ignored.

In the United States and in Canada the cwt. is generally reckoned as 100 lb., and the ton of 20 cwt.=2,000 lbs.

TABLE FOR CONVERTING METRIC WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

For the use of this table the following explanation is necessary: The figures in heavier type represent either of the sets of two columns beside them, as the case may be, viz., with Hectares and Acres in the first set of columns, 1 Acre=0.405 Hectares, and vice versa 1 Hectare=2.471 Acres; similarly, with Kilogr. and lb. avoiz. in the 5th set of columns, 100 Kilogr.=220.46 lb. avoiz. and 100 lb. avoiz.=45.359 Kilogr., and so on:—

BRITISH INDIAN WEIGHTS AND MEASURES

The Unit of the British Indian Ponderary System is called the Tola. It weighs 180 grains English Troy Weight, as does the Rupee. From it upwards are derived the heavy weights called Masas, Ruttees and Dhans.

1 Dhan or grain	...	= $\frac{1}{180}$	grain Troy	= $\frac{1}{180}$ dr. Avoiz.
4 Dhans	= 1 Rutte	= $\frac{1}{45}$	"	= $\frac{1}{45}$ "
8 Ruttees	= 1 Masha	= 15	"	= $\frac{1}{15}$ "
12 Masas	= 1 Tola	= 7 dwt. 12	"	= $\frac{1}{7}$ "
5 Tolas	= 1 Chittack	= 1 oz. 17½ dwt. Troy	= $\frac{1}{5}$ oz.	"
16 Chittacks	= 1 Seer	= 2½ lbs. Troy	= $\frac{1}{2}$ lbs.	"
40 Seers	= 1 Mun	= 100 lbs. Troy	= 82½ "	"

TO CONVERT INDIAN WEIGHT INTO AVOIRDUPOIS.

Multiply the weight in Seers by 72, and divide by 35; the result will be the weight in lbs. Avoirdupois; or multiply the weight in maunds by 36, and divide by 49 the result will be the weight in cwt. Avoirdupois.

TO CONVERT AVOIRDUPOIS WEIGHT INTO INDIAN WEIGHT.

Multiply the weight in lbs. Avoirdupois by 35, and divide by 72; or multiply the weight in cwt. by 49, and divide by 36; the result will be the weight; in the former, in Seers in the latter, in Maunds.

A Ton is equal to 27.222 Maunds, or 27½ Maunds nearly.

Bazar Weight.—16 chittacks are one seer, or 2 lb. 0 oz. 13 drs.; and 40 seers, 1 maund, or 82 lbs. 2 ozs. 8 drs. 100 Bazar maunds = 100 Factory; and 1½ Factory maunds = 1 cwt.

Factory Weight.—16 chittacks are 1 seer, or 1 lb. 13 ozs. 14 drs.; and 40 seers, 1 maund or 74 lbs. 10 ozs. 11 drs. The Indian maund = 82½ lb. Avoirdupois Weight.

BENGAL BAZAR WEIGHT.

5 Sicki or Quarter Rupee make	1 Kancha.	To reduce Bazar weight into Factory weight add 1.10th.
4 Kanchas	... " 1 Chittack.
4 Chittacks, or 20 Tolas	... " 1 Powah.	To reduce Bazar weight into Cwt., add 1.10th, and deduct 1.3rd of that sum, the remainder will be Cwt.
4 Powahs	... " 1 Seer.
5 Seers	... " 1 Pusseree.	To reduce Factory Maunds into Tons, divide by 30, and the quotient will be the answer.
Pusserees, or 40 Seers	... " 1 Maund.

INDIAN CLOTH MEASURE.

3 Jobs makes 1 Ungli ... say = $\frac{1}{2}$ Inch. | 8 Girahs make 1 Hath ... say = 18 Inches.
 3 Unglis „ 1 Girah ... „ = $2\frac{1}{2}$ Inches. | 2 Haths „ 1 Guz ... „ = 1 Yard.

N.B.—The Guz varies in different localities from 24 to 36 Inches.

There appears to be no Indian measures of capacity for such Dry and Liquid goods as are sold by weight. Wherever, for the sake of convenience, measures are employed, they are intended to represent some specific weight of a Seer, Chittack, &c.

LINNAL MEASURE.

Notwithstanding that the cubit or human forearm is the basis or unit in Oriental and Western countries, there is no fixed standard established in India.

In Bengal the measure mostly used is the following:—

1 Hath (Cubit) = 18 Inches; 4 Haths = 1 Danda or = 2 Yards; 2,000 Dandas = 1 Coss
 The Coss or Bengal mile is equal to 1 mile, 1 furlong, 3 poles, $3\frac{1}{2}$ yards English.

The Indian Imperial Coss is equal to $2\frac{1}{2}$ miles nearly.

NOTE.—In the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh the average distance is about 2 miles, but it differs in almost every province in the country. In Agra and Muttra, the coss is about $1\frac{1}{2}$ miles; towards the Himalayas, the coss is a little more than a mile, in Bundelkhand, it is three times as long as in other parts and is called a Pucca coss; while in the Doab it is the Gow coss, or as far as the lowing of a cow can be heard at the dead of night.

BENGAL SQUARE OR LAND MEASURE.

 1 chittack 45 sq. ft. or 5
 16 chittacks = 1 cottah = 720 „ or 80
 20 cottahs = 1 beegah = 11,400 „ or 1,600
 $3\frac{1}{2}$ beegahs = 1 acre.

United Provinces of Agra and Oudh.

20 Uswansee = 1 Suswansee; 20 Suswansee = 1 Kuchwansee; 20 Kuchwansee = 1 Biswansee; 20 Biswansee = 1 Biswa, 20 Biswas = 1 Beegah.

There is, however, no fixed standard Beegah; almost every district has its own local measurement.

ASSAM LAND MEASURE.

12 feet = 1 loocer; 20 loocers = 1 cottah; 5 cottahs = 1 hillisah; 4 hillisahs = 1 poorah.

BENGAL LIQUID MEASURE.

5 sicca Rs. weight make 1 chittack; 4 chittacks make 1 powah; 4 powahs make 1 seer; 40 seers make 1 maund.

BOMBAY WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

1 Guz (24 Tussoo) = 27 inches; 1 Beegah (20 Pund) = 8,927 sq. yards; 1 Seer (72 Tank) = 7 lb. av.; 1 Maund = 28 lb. av.; 1 Candy = 560 lb. av.; 1 Sattara Candy = 3,055 lb. av.

HINDU ASTRONOMICAL TABLE.

15 matras or twinkles = 1 kashita; 30 kashitas = 1 kala; 30 kalas = 1 mahurta; 30 mahurtas = 1 day and night of mortals; 80 such days = 1 month of mortals; 12 M. or 360 D. = year.

The Hindu Astronomical Year is 5 days, 6 hours, and 48 minutes shorter than ours

INDIAN TIME TABLE.

60 antipala make 1 vipal = 4 seconds.
 60 vipalas or 6 prans make 1 pul = 24 „
 60 puls make 1 dundo or ghurri = 24 mts.
 60 dundos or ghurries make 1 deen = 24 hours.

The Astronomical works of the Hindus follow the seeragimal, or sub-division of 60 throughout.

BENGAL TIME TABLE.

60 puls make 1 ghurri = 24 mts.
 7½ ghurris „ 1 prohor = 3 hours.
 8 prohors „ 1 deen = 1 day or 24 hours.
 7 days „ 1 hafta or week.
 15 deens „ 1 pukkho.
 2 pukkhos „ 1 maus or month.
 2 maus „ 1 rittoo.
 6 rittoos „ 1 butsar or year.
 12 butsars „ 1 joug.

BURMESE COMMERCIAL MEASURE OF WEIGHT.

WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

MADRAS PRESIDENCY.

The Weights in general use throughout the Presidency are the maund of 40 seers of 24 tolas each and its sub-multiples :—

The measures of capacity in use in the Presidency vary greatly. The "Type Madras Measure" has a capacity in fluid ounces of 62·5 and a diameter of 4·5 inches. In some districts it is used fully heaped, and in others is "struck" off.

In Madras the measure is "struck", while in Anantapur, Bellary, Coimbatore, Cuddapah, Kurnool, parts of Chingleput, Madura, North and South Arcot, Salem, Tanjore, Tinnevely, Trichinopoly, it is fully heaped. The following list shows the varying measures of capacity used in other districts of the Presidency :—

CHINGLEPUT DISTRICT.

Measure.—Capacity from 61 to 61 5 fluid ounces. Diameter 4·5 inches.

GANJAM DISTRICT

Tum.—Capacity from 107½ to 131½ fluid ounces. Diameter from 6 to 6½ inches.

GODAVARI DISTRICT.

Seer.—Capacity 41½ fluid ounces. Diameter 3½ inches.

GUNTUR DISTRICT.

Manska.—Capacity 72½ fluid ounces. Diameter 4½ inches.

KISINA DISTRICT.

Manika.—Capacity from 50½ to 104½ fluid ounces. Diameter from 4½ to 6½ inches.

Merkal.—Capacity 123½ fluid ounces. Diameter 7 inches.

Kuncham.—Capacity 201½ fluid ounces. Diameter 8 inches.

Padi.—Capacity 61½ fluid ounces. Diameter 4½ inches.

MALABAR DISTRICT

Nali.—Capacity 20½ fluid ounces. Diameter 3 inches.

McLeod's Seer.—Capacity from 55½ to 62½ fluid ounces. Diameter from 4½ to 5½ inches.

Half McLeod's Seer.—Capacity from 28½ to 30 fluid ounces. Diameter from 3½ to 4½ inches.

Seer.—Capacity from 33½ to 69½ fluid ounces. Diameter from 3½ to 5½ inches

NELLORE DISTRICT.

Seer.—Capacity from 39½ to 41·7 fluid ounces. Diameter from 3½ to 4 inches

Manika—Capacity 72 fluid ounces. Diameter 4½ inches.

NILGIRIS DISTRICT.

Half Type Madras Measure.—Capacity 31·2 fluid ounces. Diameter 3·5 inches.

Type Seer.—Capacity 41·7 fluid ounces. Diameter 3½ inches.

SOUTH CANARA DISTRICT.

Seer.—Capacity 42 fluid ounces. Diameter from 4 to 5 inches.

Type Seer.—Capacity 41·7 fluid ounces. Diameter 3½ inches.

VIZAGAPATAM DISTRICT.

Tarva.—Capacity from 9 to 18½ fluid ounces. Diameter from 3 to 5 inches.

Seer.—Capacity from 37 to 42½ fluid ounces. Diameter from 3½ to 4½ inches.

Manika—Capacity 31½ fluid ounces. Diameter 3½ inches.

SALT MEASURE.

80 Tolas.....	= 1 Seer
40 Seers.....	= 1 Indian Maund.
35 „	= 72 lbs. Avordupois.

SQUARE MEASURE (MADRAS).

TRADITIONAL KINGS OF IRELAND.

THE line (or rather lines) of native sovereigns is a very long one, some Irish historians have traced the succession to about the period of the Flood, "before which time, there were many princes," but, unfortunately, "the records have not been preserved." According to Keating, the first sovereigns after the Milesian Conquest, of whom there is any "absolute certainty," were Heber and Heremon, Milesian princes from Galicia in Spain, who conquered Ireland, and gave to its throne a race of 171 kings. These two princes reigned jointly from the year 1300 to 1291 B.C., when Heremon alone ruled. Of their successors, who reigned from the year 1285 B.C. to the Christian Era, about 169 in number, only fifteen died comfortably in their beds; four died of the plague or some malignant distemper, the rest being assassinated, killed in battle, or dying other violent deaths. Home Rule was in existence from the earliest times till after the Conquest of Ireland by Henry II. in 1172, the Home Rulers, however, appear to have had anything but a peaceable, quiet time.

The following is an "authentic" list of—

PARLIAMENT.

In a Limited Monarchy like Great Britain, the Parliament, viz., The House of Lords and the Commons, are the most important factors of Legislature. The Secretaries of State who are also the Members of the Cabinet of the United Kingdom have active participation in the Government of the Dominions of His Majesty. The Houses of Parliament exercise a general control over Indian affairs, through its Secretary of State, who is the Chief Ministerial representative.

THE HOUSE OF LORDS.

THE Magnum Concilium of the early chroniclers, consists of the Spiritual Lords of England (the 2 Archbishops and 24 Bishops), the Temporal Peers of England, Great Britain, and the United Kingdom, and of Representative Peers of Scotland and Ireland, together with such Scottish and Irish Peers as have also Imperial titles. No Peer can take his seat if he be under age, of unsound mind, or bankrupt. The full Assembly would consist of 8 Princes of the Blood Royal, 2 Archbishops, 21 Dukes, 29 Marquesses, 127 Earls, 50 Viscounts, 24 Bishops, 379 Barons, 16 Scottish, and 28 Irish Representative Peers; total 640. There are also 19 Ladies who are Peeresses in their own right,

THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

THE constitution of Parliament, as it now exists, dates back to the time of King John and Magna Charta. In this document there is a provision that "no scutage or aid shall be imposed in our realm save by the Commune Concilium of the realm," and to this Council were to be summoned the Prelates and Greater Barons individually, and the Lesser Barons and Tenants-in-chief collectively. From this groundwork the National Assembly has grown up through the reigns of the various Sovereigns until it has assumed its present shape. The principal landmarks of this growth are, the summons of citizens from Boroughs by Simon de Montfort, the assumption of the maxim "Grievances precede supply," under the Tudors and Stuarts; and the appearance of a Prime Minister, with the Sovereign's desuetude of presiding at Cabinet meetings, under the House of Hanover.

The representation in the Commons varied considerably until 1885, since which date it has stood at 670 — 461 members from England, 34 from Wales, 72 from Scotland, and 103 from Ireland. Previous to the Union with Scotland, in 1707, the House consisted of only 513 members, in that year 45 were added to the new Kingdom. In 1801, when Ireland became part of the Kingdom, 100 members were added, and in 1832 the Reform Act raised the representation of Ireland to 105, and that of Scotland to 53. Between this date and 1885 the Irish representation was reduced to 103 by the disfranchisement of the Boroughs of Cashel and Sligo for corruption, and 7 members were added for Scotland in 1867. Many of the old abuses have been swept away by the different Acts of Reform, but much confusion still remains in the nomenclature of the various divisions and sub-divisions of the constituencies, and the proportionate representation of the three kingdoms grows annually less exact by the increase of population and electors in England and Scotland and their decrease in Ireland.

	Counties.	Bor- oughs.	Univer- sities.	Total Members.
England	284	226	5	465
Wales	19	11		30
Scotland	39	31	2	72
Ireland	85	16	2	103
United Kingdom	377	284	9	670

The total number of electors in 1910 is given below, together with the Registrar-General's estimate of the population in the middle of the year 1910:—

	ENGLAND AND WALES.		SCOTLAND		IRELAND.		UNITED KINGDOM.
	Total.	Per Member.	Total.	Per Member.	Total.	Per Member.	Total.	Per Member.
Electors	6,536,062	14,456	820,343	11,983	701,620	6,811	8,058,025	13,028

ADMISSION OF VISITORS TO PARLIAMENT

Both the Houses of Parliament are open to visitors but permission for admission should be obtained beforehand by personal application to the Administration Order Office in Stephen's Hall. Strangers are accommodated in the Strangers' gallery of the House of Commons.

THE ROYAL GRANTS.

The sources for which the royal income is to be applied are defined as follows:—

Their Majesty's Privy Purse	110,000
Salaries of His Majesty's Household and Retired Allowances	125,000
Expenses of His Majesty's Household works	20,000
Royal Bounty, Alms and Special Services	13,200
Unappropriated Moneys	8,000
	470,000

GRANTS TO THE ROYAL FAMILY.

In addition to His Majesty's income from the Crown Lands and the Duchy of Lancaster, the following grants are made by the Parliament for the support of the Royal Family:—

Queen Alexandra	70,000
King Edward VII's daughters	18,000
Duke of Connaught	25,000
Princess Louise (Duchess of Argyll)	6,000
Princess Christian	6,000
Princess Beatrice	6,000
Duchess of Edinburgh	6,000
Duchess of Albany	6,000
	141,000

Note.—The Civil and Royal grants have been modified and revised during the years 1889, 1901, 1910 and 1911.

TAXES ON THE ROYAL INCOME.

The Private Estates of His Majesty are assessed under income tax rules but not the Civil List grants.

The estate of a Member of a Royal Family is subject to the ordinary duties to be paid to Government on that estate.

CORRESPONDENCE DEPARTMENTS, INDIA OFFICE, WHITEHALL, S. W.

The title in this instance is sufficiently informative. The departments form a clearing house, as it may be called, for the whole of the correspondence of the highest branches of the Indian Government; and the public will appreciate that division whereby correspondence which has relation to either of the indicated heads, is under the survey of a chief who is expert in that particular province of public life. In a less well-ordered arrangement, it might easily happen that letters having certain reference to military matters, might stray into the office of one whose speciality was administration of Public Works. Such confusion is avoided. The most interesting perhaps, but naturally enough, the least obtruded department, is, that called Political and Secret, political meaning, political in the Indian sense, that is dealing with the relation of India to other States.

SECRETARIES.

Financial.—W. Robinson, F. H. Lucas, C.B., C.V.O.

Judicial and Public.—M. C. C. Seton, C.B.

Military.—Lt. Gen. Sir H. V. Cox, B.C.M.G., C.B., C.S.I.

Political and Secret.—John E. Shuckburgh.

Public Works.—H. A. Haines.

Revenue and Statistics.—L. J. Kershaw, C.I.E.

ACCOUNTANT-GENERAL'S DEPT., INDIA OFFICE, WHITEHALL, S.W.

This department may be described in a comprehensive word as the Treasury. It is the State's paying department. It is executive purely. It makes no payments, save on express authority received from other departments.

Accountant-General.—Walter Badock, C.S.I.

Deputy Accountant-General.—R. G. Jaquet.

FUNDS DEPARTMENT, INDIA OFFICE, WHITEHALL, S. W.

This is an extremely comprehensive department. In fact, one might call it wholly inclusive, for Lord Clive's Fund is the only fund whose administration is not brought within its cognisance and authority.

Director of Funds.—W. Badock (also Official Agent o Administrators-General of India).

Deputy do. R. G. Jaquet

Also Director of Funds and Official Agent to Administrator-General in India.

INSPECTOR OF MILITARY EQUIPMENT AND CLOTHING.

The head of this department deals with such matters as adjustments between this office and the War Office at home. When a regiment arrives in England from India, it brings with it a good deal which has been paid for by India, and the use of which may be continued in this country for a considerable time, representing an important economy to the Home Government. The chief of this Office, therefore, has it incumbent upon him to see that substantial justice is brought about as between the two administrations.

Inspector of Military Equipment and Clothing.—Major-General Sir John Stevens, K.C.B.

Asst. to do do do do.—W. J. Bowden.

INDIA AUDIT OFFICE, WHITEHALL, S.W.

This department is sometimes humorously spoken of as the "bête noire" of all other departments. Towards them it stands in the relation of the "devil's advocate" of ecclesiastical regulation and practice. Its necessary duty is to find all the fault it possibly can.

Auditor.—H. A. Cooper.

Asst. to Auditor.—W. A. Sturdy.

REGISTRY AND RECORD DEPARTMENT, INDIA OFFICE,
WHITEHALL, S.W.

The duties of this department are manifold. It receives and distributes official correspondence (including that from India), copies and despatches the answers prepared in the various departments. It superintends the receipt and despatch of the Indian mails, the distribution and sale of official publications and maps, and the production of all parliamentary papers relating to India. It also provides books and stationery, and looks after printing and binding. And it is also responsible for the safe custody of official records, which comprise many thousands of volumes, reaching back to the foundation of the East India Company in 1600.

Registrar and Superintendent of Records.—W. Foster, C.I.E.

Asst. Registrar.—H. Mitchell.

Staff Clerks.—M. S. Hall, T. C. Fenton, I.S.O., G. F. Linney and E. W. Jolliffe.

Keeper of Military Records.—W. J. Payne.

INDIA OFFICE LIBRARY, WHITEHALL, S.W.

The Library (founded in 1801) serves for departmental and general reference. The former gives a fairly extensive provision of works, descriptive, historical, political, scientific, etc., originated by European relations with India, and adjacent countries. But a place is found also for large, and in many cases unrivalled, collections of Oriental manuscripts (Sanskrit, Arabic, Persian, Tamil, Hindustani, etc.), and for the whole range of Philological literature relating to their study. There is a reading room, where any member of the public may, upon obtaining a ticket, consult Books and MSS.

Librarian.—F. W. Thomas, Ph.D., M.A. (Munich).

Asst. Librarian.—A. G. Ellis, M.A. (Cantab).

GOVERNMENT DIRECTOR OF INDIAN RAILWAY COMPANIES,
WHITEHALL, S.W.

Director.—Sir H. P. Burt, K.C.I.E. Asst. Director.—G. Deuchars.

MEDICAL BOARD FOR THE EXAMINATION OF OFFICERS,

Member.—Lieut.-Colonel J. Anderson, M.D., I.M.S. (Retired).

LEGAL ADVISER AND SOLICITOR TO SECRETARY OF STATE.

Legal Adviser—Sir S. G. Sale, K.C.I.E.

Asst. Solicitor.—F. R. Marten.

INDIA STORES DEPARTMENT, WHITEHALL, S.W.

This department purchases and ships all stores required for the Government in India. Indenting Officers, when in England, can obtain information as to the best means of filling their requirements by calling on the Director-General of Stores.

Director-General.—George H. Collier.

Deputy Director-General.—Richard R. Howlett.

Surveyor of Shipping.—Commander T. G. Segrave, R. N. R.

Assistant Surveyor of Shipping.—F. W. Harland.

INDIA STORE DEPOT, BELVEDERE ROAD, LAMBETH, S.E.

This is a Branch Establishment of the Stores Department of the India Office, and is responsible for the inspection and packing for shipment of all stores (except those for State Railways) which are indented for by the several Governments and Departments in India.

Superintendent.—Capt. G. T. Wingfield, R.N.

Deputy Superintendent.—W. Edmondson Phelps, I.S.O.

Inspector of Machinery.—J. Hitchcock.

Inspector of Scientific Supplies.—F. E. Benest.

Examiner of Medical Stores.—Lt.-Col. J. L. VanGeysel, M.B., I.M.S. (Retired).

Examiner of Surgical Instruments.—Lt.-Col. D. Elcum, M.D., M.R.C.S.

CONSULTING ENGINEER TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA, 8, GREAT GEORGE STREET, WESTMINSTER, S.W.

All special State Railway stores are inspected and passed by the Consulting Engineers.

Consulting Engineers.—Messrs. Rendel, Palmer and Tritton.

INDIAN TROOPING SERVICE, THE ADMIRALTY, WHITEHALL, LONDON, S.W.

The business of this Service is conducted by Rear-Admiral H. W. Savory, M.V.O., R.N., Director of Transports at the Admiralty.

TRADE.

The current publications of the Government of India, and of the various Provincial Governments, dealing with Indian Trade statistics, tariff charges, railways, industries, manufactures, economic products, &c., are kept in the office, and can be consulted free: the various Indian Directories are also filed for reference, including the Asylum, Press Almanac and Directory.

INDIAN STUDENTS.

This is a department newly opened in the India Office, with the chief idea of giving all possible advice and directions to Indian Students proceeding to England to prosecute their Studies.

Educational Adviser to Indian Students in Reference Library and Reading Rooms containing the principal newspapers and official publications of India and Imperial Dominions. Scientific and Technical Research Department, with extensive laboratories and sample rooms. Technical Information Bureau.

The Indian Section contains an extensive collection of Indian economic products and primary manufactures supplied by the Government of India.

Director.—Professor Wyndham R. Dunstan, C.M.G., M.A., LL.D., F.R.S.

ROYAL BOTANIC GARDENS, KEW.

Open daily from 10 A.M. to sunset. From 15 May to 15 Oct., from 12 noon to sunset. From 16 Oct., to 14 May on Sundays from 1 P.M. on Tuesdays and Fridays 6d. Other days 1d.

(Museums and Houses open from 1 till 5, or till closing time in winter.)

The Glass Houses, covering 8½ acres, contain an extensive series of living specimens of Indian plants. In the open air and under glass, 20,000 distinct species and varieties are cultivated.

Museums I and II contain, in addition to the Economico-Botanical collections removed from the India Museum at South Kensington, a magnificent series of the vegetable products of India and articles manufactured from them.

Museum III contains a fine collection of Indian Timbers formed by the Indian Forest Department.

The Herbarium contains the largest and most authoritative collection of specimens of Indian plants in existence. In 1858, the Honourable East India Company transferred to Kew "the enormous collection of plants made, under the order of the Indian Government, by officers of their service, and which had been accumulating for thirty years in the cellars of the India House."

On these and other collections, Sir Joseph Hooker's "Flora of British India" (3 vols. 1872-97) was based.

The North Gallery, opened to the public in 1882, contains 182 oil pictures by Miss Marianne North, illustrating characteristic features of Indian vegetation.

This Society was founded in the year 1880, by the late Earl of Northbrook, for the use and convenience of Indian gentlemen who may come to the United Kingdom, and of others interested in the welfare and progress of India and of the East.

Candidates for membership are elected by the Committee on the recommendation of two members of the Society.

Since September, 1910, the Society has occupied a commodious set of rooms at 21, Cromwell Road, South Kensington, London, S.W., which are close to the South Kensington Station of the Underground Railways, and are easily and quickly reached from all parts of London. Here members have all the advantages of a Club, including a Billiard Room and the use of a well-chosen Library to which additions are constantly being made from a fund which exists especially for this purpose. The leading English and Indian Newspapers and Reviews are at the disposal of members in the smoking room. Refreshments may be had at a reasonable charge.

The Subscription is one guinea yearly, but students from India pay half a guinea a year only. There is no Entrance Fee.

The Society gives an opportunity for Indian gentlemen and Europeans to meet one another, and affords the conveniences of a Club at an exceedingly small subscription. Students coming from India will find it especially useful as their Headquarters in the United Kingdom.

The Secretary will be happy to send any further particulars, an application form for membership and a copy of the regulations on application to him at the above address.

THE BRITISH COMMITTEE OF THE INDIAN NATIONAL CONGRESS,
No. 14, HENRIETTA STREET, COVENT GARDEN, W. C. 2, LONDON.

In Palace Chambers, as stated above, is carried on the work of co-operation with the Indian National Congress, a movement now over thirty years old.

In India, the Congress is outstanding in the public eye, chiefly through its annual meetings, such as was held in its first session at Bombay in 1885 (when Mr W. C. Bonnerjee presided), and in its 22nd session at Lahore, in December 1907, when Mr. Dadabhai Naoroji was president. And in India, the work of the Joint General Secretaries, The Hon. Nawab Sayid Mahomed and Mr. N. Subba Rao is conspicuous. In London, the work of the Congress figures in the public view by way of its political activities; and also journalistically, through the service of the journal entitled "India," which exists for the discussion of Indian affairs. This is published by the "India" Newspaper Coy., Ltd., at 14, Henrietta Street, Covent Garden, W.C. 2, London, and is the main Congress paper.

DELHI.

The commencement of Delhi as an imperial city commences with the visit of His Majesty King George V. Emperor of India, on 12th December 1911, and the subsequent consecration of it as the Capital of India and the Head-quarters of the Imperial Government. It is situated on the West Bank of the river Jumna, in Lat. 28°39'N. and Long. 77°10'E., almost due North of Cape Comorin. Its early history traces back to the epic Mahabharata from a perusal of which we glean that the town was the scene of many a noted incident recorded and referred to therein. The Muhammadans who were the subsequent occupiers of this city and rulers thereof loved it no less than the Hindu Kings referred to in the epic and we have this day, preserved by the British Government, many buildings of historic interest which are sufficient evidence of Indian art and architecture as existing in those days. The City walls 54 miles in circumference, the ten gates, the Jumna Masjid, the Kutb-Minar, Akaka's pillar, etc., need no mention, inasmuch as every history of Delhi never fails to make mention of them. Like other thriving cities Delhi had its vicissitudes. Its present history commences from 1638 when Emperor Shah Jehan founded the Modern Delhi and called it "Shahjahanabad" after himself. This we can confidently say is the present Delhi which was visited in 1876 by his late Majesty King Edward VII. as "Prince of Wales" whose coronation in 1902 was subsequently proclaimed at a great Durbar in 1903 by Lord Curzon, the Viceroy of India. This, too, is the Imperial city where Lord Lytton proclaimed at a Durbar on 1st Jan. 1877, Her Late Majesty Queen Victoria as Empress of India. But the Durbar of 1911 is considered to have surpassed all these in greatness and eminence owing to the personal attendance of His Majesty the King Emperor George V. who rode the journey to India on account of his deep affection and sympathy to his 360 millions of loving and loyal subjects. Delhi is at present connected with all parts of India by several systems of railway, chief among them being the North-Western, East India, Rajputana and Malwa, Oudh and Rohilkhand and Southern Punjab and G.I.P. lines which converge here and render it an important and commercial junction. It is 906 miles from Calcutta, 482 miles from Bombay and 1,569 miles from Madras. Its population at the last Census was 232,859 against 208,575 in 1901, and consisted of various nationalities. This city is famous for its public gardens and has a flourishing trade. The city is garrisoned by a Military force. The Electric Tramway affords facilities for easy access to most of the interior parts of the city. The construction of New Imperial Delhi is in the hands of expert City Engineers and Town Planners from Home but in the meanwhile temporary accommodation has been made for the location of Public Offices in the Durbar grounds. The formal State entry into the Imperial Capital was made on 28th December 1912 by His Excellency Lord Hardinge, Viceroy and Governor-General of India.

THE IMPERIAL ORDER OF THE CROWN OF INDIA.

THE decoration or BADGE consists of Her late Majesty's Royal and Imperial Cypher "V.R.I." in diamonds, pearls and turquoises, encircled by a border set with pearls surmounted by the Imperial Crown, jewelled and enamelled in proper colours, attached to a light blue watered ribbon edged white, of one inch and-a-half inch width, tied in a bow, and is worn on the left shoulder.

THE IMPERIAL ORDER OF THE CROWN OF INDIA was instituted by Her late Majesty Queen Victoria, Empress of India, on the 1st January 1878, to commemorate the assumption of Her Majesty's Imperial title of Empress of India, and to consist of the Sovereign and of such Princesses of Her late Majesty's Royal and Imperial House, the Wives or other Female Relatives of Princes of the Indian Empire and other Indian Ladies, and of the Wives or other Female Relatives of any of the persons who have held or may hold the offices of Viceroy and Governor-General of India, Governors of Madras or Bombay, or of Principal Secretary of State for India, or of Commander-in-Chief of India, as the Sovereign may think fit.

The first day of January in every year is the Anniversary of the institution of the Order.

The entries in the above table apply exclusively to the persons entered therein, and while regulating their relative precedence with each other, do not apply to the non-official community resident in India, including retired officials, the members of which shall take their place according to usage.

Officers in the above table will take precedence in order of the numbers of the entries. Those included in one number will take precedence inter se according to the date of entry into that number.

When an officer holds more than one position in the table, he will be entitled to the highest position accorded to him.

Officers who are temporarily officiating in any number in the table will rank in that number below permanent incumbents.

All officers not mentioned in the above table, whose rank is regulated by comparison with rank in the Army, will have the same rank with reference to Civil Servants as is enjoyed by Military Officers of equal grades.

All other persons who may not be mentioned in this table will take rank according to general usage, which is to be explained and determined by the Governor-General in Council in case any question shall arise.

Nothing in the foregoing rules to disturb the existing practice relating to precedence at Native Courts, or on occasions of intercourse with Natives, and the Governor-General in Council is empowered to make rules for such occasions in case any dispute shall arise.

All ladies to take place according to the rank herein assigned to their respective husbands, with the exception of wives of Peers, and of ladies having precedence in England independently of their husbands, and who are not in rank below the daughters of Barons: such ladies to take place according to their several ranks, with reference to such precedence in England, immediately after the wives of Members of the Council of the Governor-General.

* Political Agents and Superintendents in Baluchistan, drawing less than Rs. 2,000 when outside their respective charges, rank in Article 78, unless their army rank or standing in the Civil Service gives them a higher place. The same is the case with the Political Agent in Harauti and Tonk.

THE CARNATIC STIPENDS is the designation of a series of Political pensions paid to the descendants of the Nawabs of the Carnatic, and of their servants and dependents. The first series date from 1801, when the Nawab Umdat-ul-Umrâh was brought to Madras and ceased to have any political power as a Ruler. Henceforth, the Nawabs were described as Titular Nawabs of the Carnatic, and resided at the Chexpauk Palace in Madras. In 1855, the last Nawab, Ghulam Mahomed Ghouse, died, and was succeeded by his uncle, Prince Azim Jah, under the designation of Prince of Arcot.

A new series of pensions was then commenced, payable to the Chief Officers of the Nawab's entourage and their descendants, to a limited number of lives. Prince Azim Jah died in 1874, when it was finally arranged that Rs. 1,50,000 per annum should be paid to his direct descendants in perpetuity, of which Rs. 50,000 per annum should always go with the title, the remainder being divided between the other members of the first Prince of Arcot's family and their descendants, failing direct heirs, in any branch, the share of such reverts to the title also. These stipends have always been paid by a special officer formerly known as the Government Agent at Chexpauk, and now as the Paymaster of Carnatic Stipends. The Collector of Madras is now Paymaster, and has been so since 1st April 1911 and he is assisted by a Dy. Collector.

The PRINCIPAL of Arcot receives Rs. 6,092-9-2 per mensem, and resides in a house called the Amir Mahal, which is provided and maintained for him by Government; Rs. 6,510-10-6 is paid monthly, in perpetual stipends, to the Arcot family; Rs. 4,182-15-0 is paid per mensem to other stipendiaries, being descendants of collateral members of the Carnatic Family, and to the descendants of the Old Chief Officers and other dependents and servants of the Carnatic and Arcot families.

FORMS OF ADDRESS.

IN CEREMONIOUS COMMUNICATIONS WITH PERSONS OF TITLE OR OFFICIAL POSITION.

AMBASSADOR.—The title 'Excellency' belongs specially to ambassadors, as well as to governors of colonies, and the Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland. Address letters 'His Excellency' (with name or distinctive title following), His Britannic Majesty's Ambassador and Minister Plenipotentiary to the Court of—. Begin: 'Sir,' 'My Lord,' according as the ambassador possesses title or not. When personal reference is made, say 'Your Excellency.' An envoy extraordinary or chargé d'affaires, though inferior to an ambassador strictly so called, also usually receives the title 'Excellency'; and the wives of ambassadors are generally addressed similarly during their husband's tenure of office and while residing abroad.

ARCHBISHOP.—Address: 'His Grace the Lord Archbishop of—.' Begin: 'My Lord Archbishop.' Refer to as 'Your Grace.' The most formal method of addressing the Archbishop of Canterbury is as follows: 'The Most Reverend Father in God, James (or whatever the Christian name is), by Divine Providence Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, Primate of All England and Metropolitan.' The Archbishop of York is addressed as 'The Most Reverend Father in God,—' by Divine Permission Lord Archbishop of York, Primate of England and Metropolitan. All Metropolitans are styled 'Most Reverend—.' . . . 'The Most Reverend the Lord Bishop of Calcutta, Metropolitan of India.' An Archbishop may be addressed as 'The Right Honourable and Most Reverend the Archbishop of—' if he has a claim to be called 'Right Hon.' apart from his ecclesiastical position. The wife of an Archbishop has no special title in right of her husband's dignity, being only plain 'Mrs.'

ARCHDEACON.—An Archdeacon is styled 'Venerable.' 'The Venerable the Archdeacon of—.' Begin: 'Venerable Sir,' or 'Reverend Sir,' or 'My Archdeacon' (especially in speaking).

BARON.—Address: 'The Right Hon. Lord—,' less formally 'The Lord—.' Begin: 'My Lord.' Refer to as 'Your Lordship.' BARON'S DAUGHTER.—Baron's daughters are all entitled to be called 'Honourable.' Unmarried: they are addressed as 'The Hon. A—B—,' with Christian name and surname. They retain the title 'Hon.' after marriage: the wife of a commoner being 'The Hon. Mrs.' with husband's surname, the wife of a knight or baronet being 'The Hon. Lady,' with husband's surname. Begin: 'Madam;' refer to as 'Your Ladyship,' if so entitled by marriage. If a higher rank is conferred by the husband, the title of course corresponds. BARON'S SON.—All the sons are 'Honourable,' with Christian name and surname. In Scotland, the eldest son is addressed as 'The Hon. the Master of' (peerage title), or 'The Hon. (John), Master of.' Begin: 'Sir.' The wife of a Baron's son is 'The Hon. Mrs.' with husband's surname or both Christian name and surname. Begin: 'Madam.' If the daughter of an earl, marquis, or duke, she must be addressed accordingly. BARONESS.—Address: 'The Right Hon. the Baroness—,' or 'The Right Hon. Lady—,' or 'The Lady—.' Begin: 'Madam,' refer to as 'Your Ladyship.'

BARONET.—Address: 'Sir A—B—' Part, giving Christian name and surname. The Christian name must be given, it is quite wrong to speak, for instance, of 'Sir Vernon Harcourt' where 'Vernon' is merely one of the surnames. Begin: 'Sir.' A baronet's wife is addressed as 'Lady' with husband's surname (her Christian name would also be used if the daughter of a duke, marquis, or earl, and in this case she would also be 'Right Hon.') Begin: 'Madam,' refer to as 'Your Ladyship.'

BISHOP OF THE CHURCHES OF ENGLAND OR IRELAND.—Address: 'The Right Rev. the Lord Bishop of—,' or 'The Right Rev. A—B—, Lord Bishop of—,' or simply 'The Lord Bishop of—.' Begin: 'My Lord Bishop;' refer to as 'Your Lordship.' In formal documents a bishop is styled 'The Right Reverend Father in God John, By Divine Permission, Lord Bishop of—.' The Bishop of Meath and the Primate of the Scottish Episcopal Church are styled 'Most Reverend;' The Bishop of Madras is 'The Right Reverend the Lord Bishop of Madras,' but the Bishop of Calcutta being a Metropolitan is 'The Most Reverend.' A retired Bishop is still addressed as 'Right Reverend' and 'My Lord.' In America, the form of address to a Bishop is generally 'The Right Rev. A. B.' Bishop's wives have no special title in right of their husbands' office.

CANON.—Address: 'The Rev. Canon—.' Begin: 'Reverend Sir.'

CARDINAL.—The special title is 'His Eminence.' Begin: 'Your Eminence.'

CHARGE D'AFFAIRES.—See Ambassador.

CLERGY.—The general form of address is 'The Reverend A—B—.' Begin: 'Rev. Sir,' or simply 'Sir.'

CONSUL.—There is no special form of address to a person as such. 'A—B—, Esq. H. B. M.'s Consul,' 'Consul-General,' or as the case may be. In the U. S. A., a consul is called 'Honourable.'

COUNTESS.—Address: 'The Right Honourable the Countess of—.' Begin: 'Madam;' refer to as 'Your Ladyship.'

DEAN.—Address: 'The Very Reverend the Dean of—.' Begin: 'Very Rev. Sir,' more familiarly 'Mr. Dean' (used in oral communications).

DOCTOR.—The initials denoting the particular degree are placed after the usual form of address, whether D D., LL.D., M.D., D.Sc., &c. 'The Rev. A—B—, D.D.'; 'A—B—, Esq., M.D.' Less formally: 'The Rev. Doctor B—;' 'Doctor A—B—.'

DOWAGER.—When the holder of a title marries the widow of a previous holder of the same title, becomes 'dowager,' this being often inserted in addressing her: 'The Right Hon. the Dowager Countess of—,' 'The Dowager Lady—.' Instead of 'Dowager' to which some ladies object, the Christian name may be used; 'The Right Hon. Mary Countess of—.' Begin: 'Madam,' refer to as 'Your Ladyship.'

DUKE.—Address: 'His Grace the Duke of—.' Begin: 'My Lord Duke;' refer to as 'Your Grace.' Royal dukes are different. DUCHESS.—Address: 'Her Grace the Duchess of—.' Begin: 'Madam,' refer to as 'Your Grace.' The eldest son of a Duke takes his father's second title, all the other children of a Duke are styled 'Lord Edward,' 'Lady Caroline,' etc.—Then wives take corresponding title. Address as 'The Rt. Hon. Lord or Lady.'—Begin: 'Sir,' or 'Madam,' refer to as 'Your Lordship,' or 'Your Ladyship.'

EARL.—Address: 'The Right Honourable the Earl of—,' or 'The Earl of—.' Begin: 'My Lord,' refer to as 'Your Lordship.' The wife of an earl is a countess. EARL'S CHILDREN.—The eldest son takes a courtesy title from his father. The younger sons are all called 'Honourable.' The daughters are all addressed as the daughters of a Duke.

ENVOY.—See Ambassador.

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL, MEMBERS OF (in Indian and Colonial Governments). Generally addressed as 'The Honourable A—B—.'

GOVERNOR.—Indian and Colonial Governors have the title of 'Excellency,' in virtue of their office. Address: 'His Excellency' 'A—B—, Esq. (Sir A—B—). The Right Honourable the Earl of, &c.' 'Governor of—' Begin according to rank; refer to as 'Your Excellency.' A duke holding such a position would, however, be 'His Grace,' 'Your Grace.' A Governor's wife is by courtesy styled 'Her Excellency.' Lieutenant-Governors, as in India and the Dominion of Canada, are styled 'Honourable,' 'His Honour,' 'Your Honour.'

GOVERNOR OF STATE (U. S. A.). Usually addressed as 'His Excellency.' 'His Excellency A—B—, Governor of—,' or 'His Excellency the Governor of—.' A Lieutenant-Governor is called 'Honourable.'

JUDGE.—This, in Britain, has not a very distinctive meaning. In England and Ireland the Judges of the Supreme Courts are called Lords Justices and Justices; in Scotland the Judges are the Lords of Session. (See Justice, Lord Justice, Lords of Session.) In England, the County Court Judges, however, are regularly called 'Judge' 'His Honour Judge—' (surname), on the bench referred to as 'Your Honour.' In the Punjab and Burma and in many British colonies, the members of the higher courts are called Judges and addressed as 'Honourable,' 'Your Honour.' In the U. S. A., the term 'Judge' is regularly applied to all such functionaries; and all are addressed in the same way.

JUSTICE.—Judges of the High Court of Justice in England, in the Chancery and other divisions, and of the High Courts of Calcutta, Madras and Bombay in India, are called 'Justices.' Address: 'The Honourable Mr. Justice—;' or if a knight, 'The Hon. Sir A—B—.' Begin in both cases 'Sir.' On the bench he is addressed as 'My Lord;' and referred to as 'Your Lordship.'

JUSTICE OF PEACE.—(J. P.) In England is formally addressed in documents as 'The Worshipful,' and on the bench is referred to as 'Your Worship.'

KING.—To be addressed as 'The King's Most Excellent Majesty.' Begin: 'Sir,' or 'May it please Your Majesty,' refer to as 'Your Majesty.'

KING'S COUNSEL.—Ordinary address with the addition of 'K. C.'

KNIGHT BACHELOR.—Treated as a baronet, but 'Kt' is not usually appended to the name in addressing a letter. As in the case of a baronet, carefully avoid using a surname instead of a Christian name.

KNIGHT OF THE BATH, ST. MICHAEL AND ST. GEORGE, STAR OF INDIA, INDIAN EMPIRE, VICTORIAN ORDER, &c.—Address: 'Sir A—B—, G.C.B.,' or 'K.C.B., K.O.M.G., G.C.S.I., or as the case may be. Begin: 'Sir.'

KNIGHT OF THE GARTER, THISTLE, ST. PATRICK.—As above, with the initials K.G., K.T., K.P., respectively following the name.

KNIGHT'S WIFE (of any class).—As baronet's wife.

LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL, MEMBERS OF.—Those under the Indian and Colonial Governments are generally addressed as the 'Honourable A—B—.'

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR.—See Governor.

LORD ADVOCATE OF SCOTLAND.—Address: 'The Right Honourable the Lord Advocate.' Begin: 'My Lord;' refer to as 'Your Lordship.'

LORD CHANCELLOR.—Address: 'The Right Hon. the Lord High Chancellor;' or 'The Right Hon. Earl—' (or as the case may be), 'Lord High Chancellor.' Begin: 'My Lord,' etc., refer to as 'Your Lordship.'

LORD CHIEF JUSTICE.—(England). Address: 'The Right Honourable the Lord Chief Justice,' or 'The Right Honourable Sir A—B—, Lord Chief Justice.' Begin: 'My Lord' or 'Sir,' as the case may be. In India, 'The Honourable the Chief Justice,' otherwise, as Justices.

LORD JUSTICE.—(English Supreme Court of Appeal). Address: 'The Right Honourable the Lord Justice—,' or 'The Right Honourable Sir A—B—.' Begin: 'Sir.' When on the bench they are addressed 'My Lord,' 'Your Lordship.'

POSTAGE STAMPS, ENVELOPES, POST-CARDS AND WRAPPERS.

1. Postage stamps, envelopes, post-cards and wrappers for newspapers and packets for the use of the public are sold in any quantity, however small, at all Post Offices and Telegraph Offices at any time at which the office is open to the public. Quarter-anna, half-anna, one-anna and two-anna stamps, half-anna embossed envelopes, and inland post-cards are also sold by village postmen.

Note.—British penny postage stamps are sold by the Indian Post Office, at the rate of one anna each, at stations where there are many Europeans. They cannot be used for the pre-payment of postage on articles posted at an Indian Post Office.

POSTAGE STAMPS.

2. (1) Postage stamps of the following values are issued by the Post Office :—

1 anna *	2 annas *	4 annas *	12 annas.	3 rupees.	15 rupees *
1 " *	2 1/2 " "	6 " *	1 rupee *	5 " *	25 " *
1 " *	3 " "	8 " *	2 rupees *	10 " *

(2) Stamp-booklets, containing half-anna, one-anna and half-anna together with one-anna postage stamps but relieved with waxed paper so as to preserve the stamps in good condition during all seasons of the year, are sold at all head post offices and town sub-offices, and also at other important offices. The half-anna booklets contain eight pages of four stamps each, or 32 stamps in all, the one-anna booklet contains four pages of four stamps each, or 16 stamps in all, and the half-anna together with one-anna booklets contain four pages of half-anna stamps, and two pages of one-anna stamps, each page containing four stamps, or 24 stamps in all. The booklets are sold for the value of the stamps contained in them without any additional charge on account of the cost of manufacture. The sale price of each of the booklets is thus Re 1, and they may be obtained at that price.

EMBOSSSED ENVELOPES.

3. (1) Embossed envelopes bearing a half-anna stamp are of three kinds, viz., oblong ($4\frac{1}{2} \times 2\frac{1}{2}$ inches), thick square ($4\frac{1}{2} \times 4\frac{1}{2}$ inches), and commercial ($6 \times 3\frac{1}{2}$ inches). The oblong envelopes are sold at the value of the stamp embossed on them. The prices of the square and of the commercial envelopes are as follows :—

It will be observed that it is advantageous to buy the thick square and the commercial envelopes in quantities of 5 or of multiples of this number.

(2) Registration envelopes bearing a two and a half-anna embossed stamp, to denote the registration fee and the initial rate of letter postage, are of two sizes, and are sold at the following prices :—

Size $5\frac{1}{2} \times 3\frac{1}{2}$ inches	...	Re. 0 2 8 each, or Re. 2 10 6 per packet of 16.
" $10 \times 4\frac{1}{2}$ "	...	" 0 8 2 " " " 1 9 8 " " " 8.

* Also issued for official correspondence with the letters "On H. M. S." or "Service" impressed in black ink. Stamps issued for official correspondence are called service stamps.

† May be utilised either for postal purposes or for the payment of stamp duty in all cases in which one-anna adhesive stamps are required under the provisions of the Indian Stamp Act 1899 (VI of 1899).

POST-CARDS AND WRAPPERS.

4. (1) Post-cards, single and reply, are of two kinds, viz., Inland and International post-cards. Inland post-cards measure $5\frac{1}{2} \times 3\frac{1}{2}$ inches and bear a quarter-anna impressed stamp, or, in the case of a reply card, a quarter-anna impressed stamp on each half. International single post-cards measure $5\frac{1}{2} \times 3\frac{1}{2}$ inches and bear a one-anna impressed stamp and the reply cards measure $4\frac{1}{2} \times 3\frac{1}{2}$ inches and bear a one-anna impressed stamp on each half. Post-cards, both Inland and International, are sold at the values of the stamps impressed on them.

Inland postcards (single and reply in sheets can also be obtained on application to the Presidency Postmasters of Calcutta and Madras, the Postmaster, Rangoon, and the Superintendents of Stamps, Bombay and Karachi. They are sold only in quarter reams of 120 sheets. Each sheet contains 28 postcards in the case of the single cards and 12 cards in that of the reply card. The face value of the stamp impressed is alone charged for.

Note.—A quarter-anna single post-card is also issued for inland official correspondence with the letters "On H. M. S." or "On Service" printed above the impressed stamp. This card is called a service post-card.

(1) Wrappers for newspapers and packets are sold at the following prices:—

Bearing half-anna stamp.

Bearing one-anna stamp.

3	...	0	1	9	6	...	0	3	6	3	...	0	3	3	6	...	0	6	6

The wrappers can only be used for the transmission of newspapers and packets by either the inland or foreign post, and additional adhesive stamps can be affixed to them when the weight is not covered by the stamp printed upon them.

SERVICE STAMPS, ETC.

5. Service stamps and post-cards are not sold at post offices; they can be obtained by Government officials at Government treasuries. Service stamps are also sold to the public, by the Controller of Printing, Stationery and Stamps, India, Calcutta, provided that the value of the stamps sold to any person at one time shall not be less than Rs 25 and that an extra charge of two annas in the Rupee calculated on the face value, shall be made to cover incidental expenses. These stamps cannot be used for the payment of postage on private correspondence.

SOLDIERS' AND SEAMEN'S ENVELOPES.

6. The envelopes embossed with a nine-pies stamp (surcharged one-anna) for the use of soldiers and seamen are not sold at post offices. They can be obtained for the surcharged value of the stamp, through the Officers Commanding Regiments or His Majesty's Ships or from other officers specially authorised in this behalf.

SPOILT OR DEFACED STAMPS.

7. (1) Postage stamps (whether adhesive, embossed, or impressed) which have been obliterated, defaced, torn, cut, or otherwise rendered imperfect, or which have any word, letter, figure, or design written, printed or impressed upon them otherwise than by the authority of Government before posting, or which have been cut or otherwise separated from embossed envelopes, post-cards or wrappers, cannot be recognised in payment of postage. The special registration envelopes provided by the Post Office, bearing embossed stamps denoting the registration fee, and the initial rate of letter postage, cannot be used for the transmission of unregistered postal articles.

Note.—The perforation of postage stamps with initials, or other identifying marks, traced in minute holes is not prohibited.

(2) The using for the payment of postage or postal fees, with intent to cause loss to the Government, of a stamp that has already been used for that or any other purpose, is an offence punishable with two years' imprisonment, or with fine, or with both.

(3) Any person, residing at a place which is not served daily by the postmen, who sends his own messenger regularly to the post office to take delivery of correspondence received to his address or to the address of members of his family, can have his letters and other unregistered articles delivered to the messenger, who must pay the postage due on the unpaid articles, unless the addressee deposits money in advance to pay the postage, in which case an account will be kept with him and adjusted at regular intervals.

(4) (1) If the addressee specially authorises the postmaster to do so in writing (in the following form), the postmaster will also deliver to the messenger all registered and insured articles and pay him the value of all money orders which may arrive for the addressee or his family; provided that no value-payable articles will be delivered other wise than as prescribed in para. 55.

"I authorise the postmaster of—to deliver registered and insured articles and parcels, and pay money orders to my messenger named—, and on the postmaster delivering such articles and paying such money orders to the messenger, and obtaining the latter's receipt, I free the Post Office from all responsibility in respect of such articles and money orders."

(5) If the addressee does not authorise his messenger to sign, on his behalf, the receipts and acknowledgments in the case of registered and insured articles and notices, with acknowledgments and coupons, in the case of money orders, will be handed under receipt to the messenger for delivery to the addressee. When the receipts and acknowledgments are returned to the post office duly signed, and the notices endorsed with receipts of payment, the articles and the amounts of the money orders will be made over to the messenger.

(6) It is not necessary that the authority granted to the postmaster should apply to all classes of articles: it may be restricted to uninsured registered articles, in which case insured articles will be delivered and money orders paid, only on the return of the receipts, acknowledgments and notices signed by the addressee.

(7) The Post Office will, if desired, provide, at the addressee's expense, a bag furnished with a lock, in which all articles, cash, receipts, acknowledgments, notices and coupons to be conveyed by the messenger will be placed by the post office together with a memo. of the contents. One key of the bag will be kept by the postmaster and the other by the addressee. The same bag may be used for the conveyance by the messenger to the post office of articles to be posted.

Notes for Public Information.

8. (1) When intimating change of address to the Post office, do not omit to mention the old address.

(2) Senders should give addressee's full address on letters, etc., i.e., the number of the house, name of street or road and locality and the Postal District.*

(3) Private letter-boxes (affixed to the doors of, or otherwise provided in, houses, public offices, etc.) for the reception of unregistered paid articles, will facilitate delivery.

(4) Letters on which postage is not fully prepaid are subject to delay in delivery.

(5) Special registered letter envelopes are provided by the Post Office with a two-and-a-half-anna stamp embossed on the flap in payment of the registration fee. They are available in two sizes. The use of these envelopes is recommended.

(6) The address on a postal article ought to be legible and complete. It should include the number of the house, name of the street or road and the name of the Post Office which serves the locality where the addressee resides.

Inland Post.

10. Subject to such exceptions as may be notified by the Government of India, the term "Inland Post" means the post maintained by the Government of India, either by land or by sea:—

(1) between any places in British India;

(2) between any places in British India and places beyond the limits of British India at which there are Indian Post Offices; and

* Articles intended for delivery from suburban offices, viz., Vepery, Mount Road, Egmore, etc., may be subject to delay in delivery if addressed to Madras without addition of the name of the suburban office or that of the Postal District.

(3) between any places beyond the limits of British India at which there are Indian Post Offices.

The term "Postal articles" is used to describe, for the purposes of the Inland Post, the following five classes, for each of which a distinctive rate of postage is prescribed:—

Letters.		Registered Newspapers.
Post-cards.		Parcels.

Book and pattern packets.

Letters and Post-cards.

11. Single and reply post-cards for transmission by the inland post are issued by the Post Office for the use of the public. A single post-card has a stamp of the value of a $\frac{1}{2}$ anna impressed on it; a double, or reply post-card has a stamp of the value of a $\frac{1}{2}$ anna impressed on each portion. The first portion of a double post-card is intended to contain the sender's communication; the second, or reply portion, is intended to contain the addressee's answer, and, when detached and posted by the latter, will be entitled to free transmission to destination. Single and reply cards of private manufacture, may be transmitted by post as post-cards, provided that the postage is prepaid in full by means of adhesive postage stamps affixed to them; that, as regards size, they are not more than $5\frac{1}{2}$ by $3\frac{1}{2}$ inches or less than $4\frac{1}{2}$ by $\frac{1}{2}$ inches, and that, as regards substance, they are neither thinner nor more flexible than the inland post-cards issued by the Post Office.

12. (1) All reply post-cards of private manufacture must display the title "Post-card" on the address-side, but this title is not obligatory for single cards of private manufacture. Reply halves of reply-paid cards must bear the words "Post-card" and "Reply." Whatever is printed on the address-side of the inland or international official post-cards issued by the Post Office is also permissible on the address-side of cards of private manufacture.

A post-card must not be folded, cut, or otherwise altered, except that the impressed postage stamp (if any) may be perforated with initials, nor may a post-card be enclosed in a cover of any kind.

The right-hand half of the address-side of a post-card is in all cases reserved for the address of the recipient, for the postage stamp necessary for prepayment, which should, so far as possible, be affixed in the upper right-hand corner, and for postal directions "Registered," and "Acknowledgment due," but the left-hand half of the address-side, as well as the back, may be used by the sender for the purpose of a written communication or may be otherwise disposed of, subject to the restrictions mentioned in sub-para. (2) of para. 12.

Note.—A small space marked off by fine lines or minute dots to indicate the place where the postage stamp should be affixed is allowed on the upper right-hand corner of the address-side of post-cards.

(2) Nothing may be attached to a post-card except—

- (a) Stamps in payment of postage or stamp duty;
- (b) A gummed label (not to exceed 2 inches in length and $\frac{1}{2}$ inch in width), bearing the name and address of the person to whom the card is sent;
- (c) A similar label, bearing the name and address of the sender of the card; and,
- (d) Engravings, illustrations, drawings, and photographs on very thin paper and completely adherent to the card.

Stamps in payment of stamp duty may be affixed only to the back of post-cards. The articles specified in paragraphs (c) and (d) may be affixed either to the back or to the left-hand back of the address-side.

(3) The reply halves of reply-paid cards cannot be registered by the original senders of such cards.

(4) The sender of a reply post-card is recommended to indicate his name and address on the address-side of the reply-half. The reply post-card should be folded so that the portion bearing the addressee's name shall be outside.

13. Should a post-card be posted without the postage having been prepaid in full, it will be forwarded to the Dead Letter Office to be destroyed forthwith. Should either portion of a reply post-card be posted without the postage having been prepaid, that portion will be forwarded to the Dead Letter Office to be destroyed forthwith.

Should any of the other conditions laid down in the foregoing paragraphs be infringed, the post-card will be treated as a letter and the amount of postage prepaid on a single post-card or on the first half only of a reply post-card will be taken into account in assessing the postage to be charged on delivery. If an inland post-card be addressed to a country served by the foreign post, it will be disposed of under para. 68 (2).

Book Packets.

14. (1) A book packet may contain any of the following articles:—

- (a) Newspapers and publications of all kinds; books, whether blank or printed; engravings; photographs, drawings, plans, maps, printed music, and proof sheets with or without the manuscript relating thereto; blank paper, parchment, or card-board, and, generally, anything on paper, parchment, or card-board, which is printed, engraved, lithographed, or papyrographed, or produced by any other mechanical process easy to recognise, except the copying press and the typewriter;

Provided that no card bearing the heading "Post-card" shall be allowed to be transmitted open by post as a book packet:

- (b) business papers, written or drawn wholly or partly by hand, not being of the nature of a letter or having the character of a personal communication, such as deeds, bills-of-lading, invoices, accounts, proposals and policies of assurance, powers-of-attorney, licenses, statistical returns submitted by or to public officers in their official capacities and manuscript of all kinds, including manuscript music not being of the nature of personal correspondence;
 - (c) written letters of old date which have previously passed through the post and served their original purpose;
 - (d) reproductions of a manuscript or type-written original obtained by a mechanical process of polygraphy (chromography, mimeography, etc.), provided they are handed in at the post office counter and number at least 20 copies precisely identical;
 - (e) circulars, i.e., printed notices and printed letters, provided they contain nothing in writing except (i) corrections of press errors, (ii) the date of despatch and the name and address and description of the sender and the name of the addressee, and (iii) the place, date and hour, when the circular is a notice of meeting, or appointment, and in the case of a notice of meeting the objects of the meeting.
- (2) With any of the abovementioned articles may be sent anything that is necessary for their safe transmission through the post, such as rollers, etc., and with any of the articles mentioned in sub-para. (a) may be sent any legitimate binding, mounting, or covering, loose or attached, and anything that ordinarily appertains to such articles, as pens and pencils in the case of a pocket-book, photographs in the case of a photograph-book, and card-plates in the case of visiting cards.
- (3) Manuscript for the press shall not be reckoned as having the character of personal correspondence within the meaning of sub-para. (b), and may be sent as a book packet.

15. No communication of the nature of a letter, or having the character of a personal communication, may be enclosed with, or written upon, the contents of a book packet: provided that nothing in this para. shall be held to prohibit inscriptions or entries stating who the sender is or to whom the articles are to be given, or to prohibit purely complimentary greetings from being entered, in writing or otherwise, on Christmas, New Year and Birthday cards and similar articles.

16. A book packet may not contain "paper-money," which, for the purposes of this para., includes unobliterated postage or other stamps, currency notes, hundies, cheques, bank-notes, bankpost bills, bills of exchange, and all orders or authorities for the payment of money.

Explanation.—This para. does not apply to a book packet containing a stamped and addressed envelope, post-card, or wrapper, forwarded by the sender of the packet in order that such envelope, card, or wrapper may be returned through the post to the sender or sent to some other person designated by him.

17. The dimensions of a book packet, which may be of any shape, must not exceed two feet in length by one foot in width and one foot in depth. When, however, the packet is in the form of a roll, the length must not exceed thirty inches; provided that if the length exceeds twenty-four inches (two feet), the diameter must not exceed four inches.

18. A book packet must be posted without a cover, or with a cover entirely open at both ends, or in an unfastened envelope, or in a cover which can be easily removed, so as to admit of a ready examination of the contents; the ends of the packet, however, may be tied with string.

Illustration.—A closed envelope notched at the sides or ends does not admit of a ready examination of its contents and does not therefore fulfil the conditions prescribed by this para.

19. If a book packet is found to contain anything not permitted by the rules, or to be in excess of the prescribed size, or to be packed in a manner not in accordance with the rules, it will be charged on delivery with letter or parcel postage, whichever may be less.* Any postage stamps that may be affixed to it will, however, be recognised in assessing the charge.

20. In cases where the transmission or delivery of letters would be delayed, were the whole mail indiscriminately dealt with, book packets (other than newspapers) may be kept back in the office of posting for a period, not exceeding one day, and in the office of delivery till the next delivery.

Pattern Packets.

21. A pattern packet may contain bona fide trade patterns or samples of merchandise not having any saleable value, together with, or without, any matter which may be sent as a book packet. There must be no writing upon or in a pattern packet, except the name and address of the sender, the name and address of the person for whom it is intended, a trade mark, numbers, prices, and indications as to the weight, size, or quantity to be disposed of.

22. Objects of natural history, dried or preserved animals and plants, geological specimens and other similar objects will also be admitted to transmission by post at the rates of postage for pattern packets, provided that they are not sent for a commercial purpose, and that they are packed in the manner prescribed for pattern packets generally.

23. A pattern packet must be posted without a cover or with a cover open at both ends, or in an unfastened envelope, or other cover, which can be easily removed, so as to admit of a ready examination of the contents; and the dimensions must not exceed two feet in length by one foot in width and one foot in depth, and the weight must not exceed 200 tolas.

Registered Newspapers.

The following is the definition given in the Post Office Act of newspapers which may be registered and posted for transmission by the Inland post, as "Registered Newspapers":—

24. Every publication, consisting wholly or in great part of political or other news or of articles relating thereto, or to other current topics, with or without advertisements, shall be deemed a newspaper, subject to the following conditions, namely:—

- (1) that it is published in numbers at intervals of not more than thirty-one days; and
- (2) that it has a bona fide list of subscribers.

An extra or supplement to a newspaper, bearing the same date as the newspaper and transmitted therewith, shall be deemed to be part of the newspaper: provided that no such extra or supplement shall be so deemed, unless it consists wholly or in great part of matter like that of the newspaper and has the title and date of publication of the newspaper printed at the top of each page.

25. The following rates of postage will be charged on registered newspapers when posted for transmission by the Inland post or to Ceylon in accordance with the conditions set forth below:—

For every copy of a newspaper.	{	Not exceeding 8 tolas in weight.....	anna.
		Exceeding 8 tolas but not exceeding 40 tolas in weight {	"
		For every additional 40 tolas or part of that weight	"

Conditions.

26. (a) The newspaper shall be registered in the office of the Postmaster-General, or other officer exercising the powers of the Postmaster-General, of the postal circle in which it is published. Such registration shall cease to have effect at the close of the calendar year following that in which it was effected and must be renewed if a continuance of the privilege conferred by the system beyond that time is desired. The first application for the registration of a newspaper shall be accompanied by a certificate from the District Magistrate of the District in which the newspaper is published, or from the Chief Presidency Magistrate in the case of a Presidency town, to the effect that the security required by Section 8 of the Indian Press Act 1910, (I of 1910), has been deposited or dispensed with, as the case may be.

(b) The postage shall be prepaid by postage stamps.

(c) The newspaper shall bear in print immediately above the address, the word "Registered" followed by the Registration-number, which shall be assigned to it by the Postmaster-General or other officer referred to in condition (a).

(d) The newspaper shall be posted at the place of publication by the proprietor, manager, or publisher.

(e) The newspaper shall be posted without a cover or in a short cover open at the ends.

(f) There shall be no word printed on the newspaper after its publication, or upon the cover (if any) thereof, nor shall any writing or mark be made upon it or upon the cover (if any) thereof, except the name and address of the person to whom it is sent, and, if desired, the name and address of the newspaper, or of the sender.

(g) There shall be no paper or thing enclosed in or with any such newspaper other than an extra or supplement as specified in para 24.

Explanation 1.—A packet containing two or more registered newspapers is in no circumstances chargeable with a higher rate of postage than would be chargeable on a book packet of the same weight; provided always that the conditions relating to book packets are not infringed in any respect.

Explanation 2.—To ensure that condition (d) shall be complied with, registered newspapers must be handed in at the window or door of the post office selected for the purpose by the proprietor, manager, or publisher. Only one post office may be selected for the purpose in the case of each registered newspaper and copies of the paper will not be accepted at any other post office for transmission as registered newspapers, except with the special permission of the Postmaster-General. Newspapers posted in letter-boxes are not admissible to the reduced rates of postage for registered newspapers.

27. The proprietor, manager, or publisher of any newspaper, wishing to adopt the system of registration for such newspaper should address the Postmaster-General of the Postal Circle in which the newspaper is published. He will then be furnished with a printed form of application* showing the information required by the Post Office which he should fill in and return forwarding at the same time a copy of the newspaper. The Postmaster-General, on receiving the application with the copy of the newspaper, will satisfy himself that the newspaper is entitled to be registered in accordance with these rules, and for this purpose will make such enquiry as he may think proper. When the application is accepted, he will assign to the newspaper a registration-number with the initial letter of the postal circle prefixed, and communicate this number to the proprietor, manager, or publisher. The fact that the newspaper has been registered, and the registration-number assigned to it, will be communicated at the same time to the Post Office at the place where the newspaper is to be posted. Written notice of intention to renew the registration of the newspaper should be given to the Postmaster-General three weeks before the expiry of the calendar year following that in which the existing registration was effected.* With this notice should be sent a fresh form of application bearing the same date as the notice. The Postmaster-General will deal with the application for renewal in the same way as the original application, and he may, if he thinks proper, require a fresh copy of the newspaper to be forwarded to him. It will not, however, be necessary to assign a fresh registration number to the newspaper.

Parcels.

A fee of 2 annas, for registration, is charged in the case of registered parcels. Parcels weighing over 440 tolas must be registered.

28. A parcel must not exceed 440 tolas in weight, unless it is registered, in which case the weight must not exceed 10 seers (800 tolas). A parcel must not be of a kind which, owing to size, shape, manner of packing or any other cause, cannot be carried by post without serious inconvenience or risk.

29. The postage on a parcel, and also the registration fee, if the parcel is to be registered, must be fully prepaid by means of postage stamps which must be affixed either to the cover of the parcel or to an official label which can be obtained free at the Post Office. In either case, the sender or his messenger must affix the stamps himself, postal officials being strictly forbidden to affix them. Should an official label be used, it must be pasted to the parcel; and if the sender does not do this himself, he is recommended to see it done in his presence before he leaves the Post Office. It is advisable that the stamp should always be affixed to the label. Every parcel (including service parcels) intended for transmission by post must be presented at the window of the post office. Any parcel found in a letter-box will be treated and charged as a registered parcel.

Prohibited Articles.

30. (1) No explosive, dangerous, filthy, noxious or deleterious substance, nor any sharp instrument not properly protected, or any living creature or other thing which is either noxious or likely to injure postal articles in course of transmission by post or any officer of the Post Office, may be sent by the Inland post.

Explanation—Pins may not be used to fasten together the two halves of a reply post-card or to fasten the cover of packets or other postal articles as they are liable to injure other mail matter.

(2) (a) Nothing of which the import by post or the transmission by post is prohibited by or under any enactment for the time being in force and nothing on which duty is owing to Government may be sent through the inland post. Opium may not be transmitted through the post otherwise than on Government account. Bhang, ganja, siddhee, or other preparations of hemp may not be transmitted through the post to any part of Burma, Port Blair or Nancowry, nor may hypodermic syringes or needles for hypodermic injections be transmitted by post to any place in Burma.

(b) The skins and feathers of any species of bird other than domestic birds except (a) feathers of ostriches, and (b) skins and feathers exported bona fide as specimens illustrative of natural history, may not be sent by post from places in British India to any Native State or foreign possession in India.

(c) The transmission by post within the Province of Burma, of arms, ammunition or military stores, as defined below, is prohibited.

"Arms" includes fire-arms, bayonets, swords, daggers, spears, spear-heads, and bows and arrows, also cannon and parts of arms, and machinery for manufacturing arms.

"Ammunition" includes all articles specially designed for torpedo service and submarine mining, rockets, guncoiton, dynamite, lithofracture and other explosive or fulminating material, gunflints, gunwads, percussion caps, fuses and fiction tubes, all parts of ammunition and all machinery for manufacturing ammunition, but does not include lead, sulphur or saltpetre.

"Military Stores" includes all lead, sulphur and saltpetre and any other material which the Governor-General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India, from time to time include in this term.

Note.—The prohibition referred to in sub-clause (c) does not apply to arms or to articles, other than explosives, included in the term "ammunition," when sent on account of Government.

(3) No indecent or obscene printing, painting, photograph, lithograph, engraving, book, or card, or any other indecent or obscene article may be sent by the inland post, nor may any letter, post-card, newspaper, packet or parcel be sent having on it any words, marks, or designs of an indecent, obscene, seditious, scurrilous, threatening or grossly offensive nature.

* If a newspaper be registered in December 1893, the registration will cease to have effect on the 31st December 1899.

Re-direction.

(4) A Postal article which cannot be delivered by the Post Office to which it is addressed, owing to the addressee being elsewhere, may be re-directed free of charge to another Post Office for delivery to him.

Registration.

31. Registration makes the transmission of an article more secure, as it passes through the hands of special postal officers, under special precautions. But the Post Office is not responsible for the loss of a registered article, or for any injury which its contents may sustain during its transmission through the post. The risk of injury is diminished by the use of registration envelopes (sold at all Post Offices).

32. Letters, post-cards, book and pattern packets and parcels may be registered at any Post Office for transmission by post to any other post office. In addition to the postage, a fee of two annas will be charged for the registration of any postal article. The prepayment of the postage and registration fee is compulsory in the case of all registered articles, and must be made by means of postage stamps affixed to the articles. Articles intended for registration must be presented at the window of the post office. No such article will be accepted for registration if it is so small or so covered with writing or sealing wax on the address-side, or otherwise made up in such a manner, as to render it impracticable to affix to the article the prescribed official label of the Post office.

Note.—The sender of a postal article is recommended to write his name and address on the cover in the lower left-hand corner, so that the postal article, in case of non-delivery, may be returned to him unopened and without delay.

33. A receipt will be given to the person who presents an article for registration at the Post Office window during the hours prescribed for posting registered articles.

34. No registered article will be delivered to the addressee, unless and until he or his agent has signed a receipt for it, in the prescribed form, which will be presented to him, for signature by the postman who delivers the registered article.

35. The sender of a registered article is entitled to obtain an acknowledgment of its delivery, signed by the addressee, by paying a fee of one anna, in addition to the postage and registration fee, at the time of posting the article. The fee for a special acknowledgment must be paid by means of postage stamps affixed to the article.

Exception.—The fee for a special acknowledgment is two annas in the case of a registered letter, post-card or packet addressed to or from Bagdad, Basrah, Bandarabas, Bushire, Jask, Linga, or Mohammerah.

Note.—The sender may himself fill up the form of acknowledgment to be signed by the addressee, and is recommended to do so. Copies of the prescribed form of acknowledgment may be obtained free of charge at the Post office.

36. The sender of a registered article may obtain an attested copy of the original receipt signed by the addressee on payment of a special fee of three annas, provided that he makes his application for it within six months of the date on which the addressee signed the original receipt.

37. Registration is obligatory in the case of—

- (1) any parcel exceeding 440 tolas in weight;
- (2) any insured parcel; and
- (3) any parcel addressed to a place for which a Customs declaration is required.*

38. (1) Registration is compulsory in the case of the following postal articles:—

- (a) An article containing postage or other stamps or labels, or a cheque, hundi, bank-note, bank-post bill, bill-of-exchange, or the like, if the contents are either superscribed upon the cover, or are known or manifest to the officers of the Post Office owing to the transparency, insecurity, or insufficiency of the cover, or to any other cause.
- (b) An article bearing the word "registered" or any other word, phrase or mark to the like effect, written or impressed on the cover.
- (c) A registered article which is re-posted after having been delivered.

Exception.—Nothing in this rule shall be held to render registration of a packet compulsory only by reason that it contains a stamped envelope, post-card, or wrapper as provided by the explanation to para. 16.

(2) Twice the fee for registration will be levied on the delivery of any postal article required under this para. to be registered on which the fee for registration has not been prepaid.

Compensation.

39. (1) The Postmaster-General may grant to the sender, or, at his request, to the addressee, solely as an act of grace and not in consequence of any legal liability, compensation up to a limit of Rs. 25 for the loss of any Inland letter, packet or parcel, or its con-

* Under this rule registration is obligatory in the case of (1) parcels from India for Aden, Pasm, and the Indian offices at Bagdad and Basrah, Bahrein, Bandarabas, Bushire, Guadur, Jask, Linga, Mahommerah and Muscat, and (2) parcels for India from Aden, Pasm and the Indian offices at Bagdad, Basrah, Bahrein, Bandarabas, Bushire, Guadur, Jask, Linga, Mahommerah and Muscat.

tents, or for any damage caused to it in course of transmission by post, subject to the following conditions:—

- (a) That the prescribed registration fee shall have been prepaid in addition to the postage.
 - (b) That the application for compensation shall have been made within three months of the date of posting of the article in the case of loss of the article, and within one month of the date of delivery of the article in the case of loss of contents or damage.
 - (c) That the amount of compensation shall not exceed the actual amount of the loss or damage, and that such amount can be referred directly to some loss or damage.
 - (d) That the decision of the Director-General on all questions of compensation shall be final.
- (2) No compensation will be given in the following cases:—
- (a) For loss or damage,—in cases in which this has been caused by the fault or negligence of the sender, or in which the contents of the registered article were articles which are not allowed to be sent by the Inland post.
 - (b) For damage,—in cases in which the contents of the registered article are liquids or perishable articles, or articles of an exceptionally fragile nature.

Insurance.

40. Insurance is of two kinds, complete and partial. Complete insurance covers all risks in course of transmission by post. Partial insurance covers all risks in course of transmission by post in British territory, and all risks except those arising out of highway robbery, in course of transmission by post in such Native State or territory as is specified in this behalf.

41. Registered letters, value-payable registered letters, registered parcels, and value-payable registered parcels may be insured up to the value of Rs. 600 at such branch Post Offices, and up to the value of Rs. 2,000 at such other Post Offices, as are authorized to accept articles for insurance: provided that in no case shall such value exceed the real value of the contents of the article insured; provided also, that no postal article containing gold coin or gold bullion of a value in excess of Rs. 800 shall be insured. These postal articles may be insured, even though the contents, such as legal documents, do not possess any intrinsic value.

42. In addition to the postage and the fee for registration, the following further fees are charged for insurance.—

When the value insured does not exceed Rs. 50 .. 1 anna.

For every additional Rs. 50 or fraction thereof ... 1 ..

Partially insured articles are charged only half the above rates.

The prepayment of all charges on insured articles is compulsory.

43. (1) Every letter tendered for insurance must be enclosed in a strong cover, which must be securely fastened and sealed with fine wax bearing a private mark, in such a way that it cannot be opened without either breaking the seals or leaving obvious traces of violation. Envelopes with black or coloured borders must not be used. Seals must be placed on each flap or seam of the cover; and if the cover is tied round with string or tape, a seal must be placed on the ends where they are tied. As an additional precaution (if the contents admit of it) a thread should be passed through the cover and its contents and tied, the knot being placed under the central seal.

(2) Every parcel intended for insurance must be packed securely and substantially, with due regard to the nature of the contents and the length of the journey, and must be sealed with wax or lead bearing a private mark, in such a way that it cannot be opened without either breaking the seal or leaving obvious traces of violation. Seals must be placed over each joint or loose flap of the covering of a parcel; and, if string be used in packing, a seal must be placed on the ends of the string where they are tied.

(3) All the seals affixed to an insured article must be of the same kind of wax and must bear distinct impressions of the same private device. The device must not be that of a current coin or merely a series of straight, curved, or crossed lines.

Note.—It is recommended that registration envelopes (sold at all Post Offices) be used for insured letters.

44. The prepayment of all charges on insured articles namely, Postage, Registration, and Insurance fees is compulsory. Payment in all cases must be made by means of postage stamps affixed to the articles.

45. An article intended for insurance must be presented at the window of the Post Office with the amount for which the sender wishes it to be insured, clearly written, in words and figures, on the cover. The name and address of the sender must also be written on the cover in the lower left-hand corner, or on a separate slip of paper, to be presented with the article, should there be no room for his name and address on the cover.

46. The sender of an insured article is entitled to obtain, free of charge, an acknowledgment of its delivery signed by the addressee.

47. There will be payable to the sender of an insured postal article compensation not exceeding the amount for which the article has been insured, for the loss of the postal article or any of its contents or for any damage caused to it in course of transmission by post: provided that the compensation in no case exceeds the value of the article or any of its contents lost, or the amount of the damage caused, and provided that, in the case of loss, the sender furnished full particulars of the contents of the postal article and their value: provided, also, that no compensation will be payable—

- (a) where there has been misdelivery arising out of incorrectness or incompleteness of the address written by the sender;
- (b) where there has been fraud on the part of the sender or addressee;
- (c) where the insured article has been delivered * to the addressee, and he has signed and returned the receipt therefor;
- (d) where the sender has not given intimation of the loss within three months from the date of posting;
- (e) where the loss or damage was due to improper or insecure packing;
- (f) where there is no visible damage to the cover or seals, it being understood that the sender must so pack the letter or parcel that its contents cannot be touched without visible damage, as aforesaid, being caused;
- (g) in the case of partially insured articles, where the loss or damage was caused by highway robbery during the transit in respect of which the insurance is partial only;
- (h) in the case of the loss of halves of currency notes, where the halves which are safe have not been made over to the Post Office;
- (i) in the case of damage arising from the nature of the article insured; or
- (j) when the contents of the insured postal article were gold coins or gold bullion of a value exceeding Rs. 300.

48. Compensation will be payable one month after the date on which intimation of loss is given by the sender to the Post Office, except in cases in which the Postmaster-General may consider that the circumstances demand the withholding of payment pending inquiry. If, after compensation has been paid for the loss of a postal article or of any portion of its contents, the contents or any portion thereof are subsequently recovered, the recovered contents will be dealt with as follows, namely:—(a) if the value of the recovered contents added to the amount of compensation paid is not in excess of the amount of the loss, the recovered contents will be restored to the sender; (b) if the value of the recovered contents added to the amount of compensation paid is in excess of the amount of the loss, the Post Office will be entitled either to restore the recovered contents to the sender on his re-paying the amount of such excess, or to retain and dispose of so much of the recovered contents as may be held by the Postmaster-General to represent such excess and restore the rest of the recovered contents, if any, to the sender.

49. Coin, bullion, precious stones, jewellery, currency notes or any portion thereof, and articles of gold or silver may be sent by post only in insured registered letters or insured parcels. If a letter or parcel presented at the Post Office window is found to contain any such object of value, it will not be accepted for transmission by post, unless the sender insures it; and, if an uninsured article manifestly containing any such object of value is found in course of transmission by post, it will be either intercepted and returned to the sender or forwarded to destination and delivered to the addressee subject to the payment of a fee of one rupee. The payment of this fee will not impose any liability on Government.

Explanation.—In this rule, the expression “articles of gold or silver” includes articles made wholly or partly of gold or silver, but not electro or other plated goods. The expression “currency notes” does not include defaced notes, i.e., notes from which the signature has been cut off after cancellation, remitted on behalf of the Currency Department.

Note.—A letter, packet or parcel for or from Aden shall not contain coin or bullion exceeding £5 in value (except coin clearly intended for purposes of ornament). If such an article, in course of transmission by post, is actually found to infringe these conditions, it will be sent to the Dead Letter Office for return to the sender.

Value-payable Articles.

50. (1) The value-payable system is designed to meet the requirements of persons who wish to pay for articles sent to them at the time of receipt of the articles or of the bills or railway receipts relating to them, and also to meet the requirements of traders and others who wish to recover, through the agency of the Post Office, the value of articles supplied by them.

51. Registered and unregistered parcels, registered letters, registered book-packets, newspapers prepaid at newspaper rates of postage, and fully prepaid unregistered book-packets may be transmitted by the inland post as value-payable postal articles, provided that the amount specified for remittance to the sender in the case of any such postal article does not exceed 1,000 rupees, and does not contain a fraction of an anna except in the case of postal articles sent by, or addressed to, any department of the Government or a District, Local, or Municipal Board, provided that such parcels, letters and packets do not contain coupons, tickets, certificates, or introductions designed for the sale of goods on what is known as the “Snowball system.”

* Meaning of the term delivery.—The delivery of a postal article at the house or office of the addressee, or to the addressee or his servant or agent or other person considered to be authorised to receive the article according to the usual manner of delivering postal articles to the addressee, is deemed to be delivery to the addressee under the Post Office Act.

Explanation.—The words “any department of the Government” include any official department of the Government of a Native State, the Posts of which have been amalgamated with the Imperial Post.

52. (1) Postal articles as aforesaid, with the exceptions noted below, may be transmitted by post to Ceylon, Portuguese India, the Somaliland Protectorate, and the Straits Settlements as value-payable postal articles, provided that the amount specified for remittance to the sender in respect of any such postal articles does not exceed Rs. 600 and does not contain a fraction of an anna and provided that such parcels, letters and packets do not contain coupons, tickets, certificates or introductions designed for the sale of goods on what is known as the “Snowball system.”

Exceptions—

Ceylon—Unregistered parcels and open railway receipt-notes.
Portuguese India—Unregistered parcels, open railway receipt-notes, unregistered book packets, and newspapers prepaid at the newspaper rates of postage.

Somaliland Protectorate—Unregistered parcels, open railway receipt-notes, newspapers prepaid at the newspaper rates of postage, and unregistered book packets.

Straits Settlements—Bills of lading, unregistered parcels, open railway receipt-notes, newspapers prepaid at the newspaper rates of postage, and unregistered book packets.

Note.—Value-payable parcels for Ceylon, Portuguese India, the Somaliland Protectorate and the Straits Settlements are subject to the general rules of the foreign parcel post and the special conditions which apply to parcels for those countries. Value-payable articles for the Straits Settlements are also subject to a delivery fee, to be recovered from the addressee, calculated at the following rates:—

When the amount to be remitted to the sender does not exceed Rs. 75	15 cents.
When the amount exceeds Rs. 75 but does not exceed	150 ... 25 cents.
For each additional Rs. 75 or fraction thereof	10 cents.

(2) No such postal article as aforesaid will be accepted at any Post Office for transmission by post as a value-payable postal article, unless the sender declares that it is sent in execution of a bona fide order received by him. At any Post Office notified from time to time in this behalf by the Director-General of the Post Office, the sender will in addition, be required to declare that the article is one the transmission of which by post as a value-payable postal article is permitted. No postal article as aforesaid will be accepted at these offices without such further declaration.

Explanation.—An article may be sent by the value-payable post even though it possesses no intrinsic value. Thus, legal documents, bonds, policies of insurance, promissory notes, railway goods and parcel receipts, bills of lading, or ordinary bills for collection may be sent as value-payable postal articles. In the case of a railway receipt or bill of lading sent as a value-payable postal article, it will be sufficient for the purposes of this rule if the article to which the railway receipt or bill of lading relates, has been sent in execution of a bona fide order. In the case of the other documents specified, the document must be sent in execution of a bona fide order to send the document itself.

53. Value-payable postal articles may be posted at any Post Office that is a Money Order Office (with a few exceptions) for transmission to any other Post Office that is a Money Order Office.

54. (1) Every postal article intended to be transmitted by post as a value-payable postal article must be presented at the Post Office with the prescribed printed form in which the sender must specify the sum to be remitted to him-self, fill in the required entries and sign the declaration required by para. 52 (2). If the article is an unregistered parcel, unregistered book packet, or newspaper prepaid at newspaper rates of postage, a fee calculated according to the schedule below on the amount specified for remittance to the sender must be prepaid by the sender by affixing postage stamps of the value of the fee to the article itself. The sender must also write clearly on the face of the article itself—

- (a) in the upper left-hand corner—the letters “V. P.” followed by an entry, in figures and words, of the amount for remittance to himself,
- (b) and in the lower left-hand corner—his own name and full address.

Note 1.—The sender's name and address may be indicated by the clear impression of a stamp on the value-payable article.

2.—No receipt will be given to the sender of a value-payable unregistered parcel or book-packet, or value-payable newspaper prepaid at newspaper rates of postage, though a certificate of posting can be obtained.

Schedule of Fees.

(2) Amount specified for remittance to sender not exceeding Rs. 5	...	1 anna.
“ exceeding Rs. 5 but not exceeding Rs. 10	“	2 annas.
“ “ Rs. 10 “ “ Rs. 15	“	3 “
“ “ Rs. 15 “ “ Rs. 25	“	4 “
“ “ Rs. 25 “ “	“	4 “
for each complete sum of Rs. 25 and 4 annas for the remainder, provided that, if the remainder does not exceed Rs. 5, the charge for it shall be only 1 anna; if it does not exceed Rs. 10, the charge for it shall be only 2 annas; and if it does not exceed Rs. 15, the charge for it shall be only 3 annas.

(8) The form, prescribed to be filled up by the senders of value-payable articles, can be obtained gratis at the Post Office. Books containing 50 forms, with counterfoils, can also be obtained at a cost of one anna per book.

Note.—Firms which post value-payable articles in large numbers can also avail themselves of the advantages of a special procedure under which they will assign, in special journals which will be supplied to them, their own numbers to the value-payable articles posted by them and will thus have no difficulty in tracing each article in payment of which a money order is received. Firms desirous of adopting this arrangement should apply to the local Post Office for detailed instructions regarding the procedure to be followed.

55 If the amount to be recovered on a value-payable registered article exceeds Rs. 25, an intimation of its arrival will be sent by the office of destination to the addressee. Such articles will be delivered at the Post Office on payment of the amount entered in the form of receipt on the reverse of the intimation, and on presentation at the Post Office of the intimation with the receipt on the reverse duly signed. If the amount to be recovered on a value-payable registered article does not exceed Rs. 25, the article will be delivered by the postman at the addressee's residence on payment of the amount recoverable, and on the addressee signing the receipt on the reverse of the intimation presented with the article. If the article is an unregistered parcel, book-packet, or a value-payable newspaper prepaid at newspaper rates of postage, it will be delivered by the postman at the addressee's residence on payment of the amount recoverable; no receipt will be taken from the addressee.

56 (1) The amount to be recovered from the addressee will be the sum specified by the sender for remittance to himself plus, in the case of registered parcels, registered letters, and registered book-packets, a fee calculated as in para. 54 (2). When this amount is recovered from the addressee, the sum for payment to the sender will be remitted to him by means of a money order.

(2) If the addressee of a value-payable article refuses it, or if, after a notice of its arrival has been delivered to him, he omits to take delivery of the article within the time specified in the notice, it will be returned to the sender, who will be required to pay any charges that may be due on it and to acknowledge receipt of the article by signing the form presented by the postman. In no circumstances will the fee prepaid in stamps in the case of a value-payable unregistered parcel, unregistered book-packet, or newspaper be refunded.

Note (1).—A Postmaster is authorized to comply with a written request from the sender of a value-payable article to deliver such article to the addressee free, or to alter the sum originally specified for remittance to himself, provided that such requests are communicated through the office of posting and that the value-payable article has not been returned to the office of posting when the request of the sender reaches the office of delivery.

(2) A postal article which cannot be delivered by the Post office to which it is addressed owing to the addressee being elsewhere, may be re-directed, free of charge, to another Post Office for delivery to him.

(3) If a postal article or a notice of its arrival has once been tendered to the addressee by the Post Office, it will not be re-directed to his address elsewhere.

57. After the expiration of six months from the date of despatch of a value-payable article, no claims in respect thereof will be entertained by the Post Office.

58. The sender of a value-payable registered parcel or registered letter can also insure it under the rules relating to Insurance (see para. 40, et seq.). The value declared for insurance need not correspond with the amount specified by the sender for remittance to himself. Thus, in the case of a watch returned after repairs per value-payable post to its owner, the amount to be remitted to the sender of the watch would be only the cost of repairs, while the sum insured would represent the value of the watch itself.

Railway Receipt Notes sent Value-payable.

59. A Railway receipt-note for goods may be transmitted by post open as a value payable postal article: provided that—

- (1) the goods to which the Railway receipt-note relates do not exceed Rs. 1,000 in value;
- (2) the Railway receipt-note shows, on its face, that the goods to which it relates have been consigned to the sender himself, is endorsed to the person to whom the goods are to be delivered, and is signed by the sender;
- (3) the entries required to be made by the sender of a value-payable article on the article itself are made either on the back of the railway receipt-note or on a separate piece of paper securely affixed by the sender to the back of the railway receipt-note.

Note (1).—It is recommended that the endorsement should contain the following advice:—“As the consignment is addressed to ourselves, you will not receive an arrival notice from the Railway. Please, therefore, enquire for the consignment at the station.”

Note (2).—Open Railway receipt-notes cannot be sent by the value-payable post to Ceylon, Portuguese-India, the Somaliland Protectorate or the Straits Settlements.

60. The open railway receipt-note should be presented at the Post Office with the printed form prescribed for registered value-payable postal articles, in which the sender must specify the sum to be remitted to himself, fill in the required entries and sign the declaration that the article is sent in execution of a bona fide order received by him.

61. A fee of two annas must be paid on each railway receipt-note presented for transmission by post open. The fee must be paid in postage stamps, which must be affixed by the sender to the receipt-note.

62. The Post Office will transmit the open railway receipt-note to the Post office of destination, and will deliver it to the person to whom it has been endorsed by the sender, in the manner prescribed for the delivery of registered value-payable postal articles, on his paying the amount recoverable.

63. When the amount is recovered, the sum for payment to the sender will be remitted to him in accordance with the ordinary rules relating to registered value-payable postal article.

Example.—Messrs. Brown & Co., Lucknow, wish to despatch certain articles to J. Smith, Calcutta, under these rules; Messrs. Brown & Co. should address the consignment thus:—

“M^{RS}S. BROWN & Co, Calcutta.”

and sign the railway receipt-note, which should then be endorsed to “J. Smith,” and presented open at the post office (accompanied by the prescribed form in which the amount to be remitted to themselves should be stated) for transmission to J. Smith. The Post Office will not deliver up the railway receipt-note without payment by J. Smith of the amount recoverable on it, and the Railway Administration will not grant him delivery of the goods without production of the railway receipt-note as evidence of his right to the consignment addressed to Messrs. Brown & Co.

64. The Post Office will not be responsible for any delay or demurrage that may arise or for the delivery of the goods or parcels to which the receipt-note relates; the responsibility of the Post Office is confined solely to the collection of the value of the consignment, and it will rest with the consignee, after receiving delivery of the railway receipt-note, to obtain the article from the Railway Administration.

65. These rules apply also to receipt-notes for goods conveyed by steamer within the limits of British India

Foreign Post.

FOREIGN POSTAGE RATES.

66. The postage on letters for the United Kingdom, the British Possessions specified in the list, para. 73, and Egypt, including the Soudan, is one anna for each ounce or part of that weight. The postage on letters for all other countries, colonies or places served by the foreign post, with the exception of Ceylon and Portuguese India is two-and-a-half annas for the first ounce, and one-and-a-half annas for every additional ounce or part of that weight. The postage on letters for Ceylon and Portuguese India is the same as the postage on inland letters.

Note. The postage on letters for officers and men of His Majesty's ships of war is one anna for each ounce or part of that weight. Such letters will be forwarded in accordance with the addresses which they bear.

67. (1) International post-cards, single and reply, are issued for the use of the public, they may be sent to any Union country, and also to any non-Union country with the exception of those into which they are shown as specially prohibited in the Foreign Post Directory, see Post Office Guide, page 135. International post-cards addressed to other non-Union countries will not be forwarded.

(2) The schedule under this para. gives complete information relating to the rates of postage, limits of size and weight and other conditions applicable to articles of the letter mail for all foreign countries.

(3) Post-cards—Single, 1 anna each; Reply paid, 2 annas each.

Printed papers—To Ceylon and Portuguese India, Indian inland rates; to all other destinations, $\frac{1}{2}$ anna per 2 ounce.

Business papers—To Ceylon and Portuguese India, Indian inland rates; to all other destinations, $\frac{3}{4}$ annas for first 10 ounce, and $\frac{1}{2}$ anna per 2 ounce thereafter.

Samples—To Ceylon and Portuguese India, Indian inland rates; to all other destinations, 1 anna for first 4 ounce, and $\frac{1}{2}$ anna per 2 ounce thereafter.

Registration fee—2 annas for each letter, post-card, or packet.

Acknowledgment fee—(For Registered Articles only)—1 anna in the case of Ceylon or Portuguese India; 2 annas for all other countries.

Insurance fees (for registered letters and parcels only)—To Ceylon or Portuguese India, 2 annas for Rs. 100 and 2 annas for every additional Rs. 100.

To Mauritius and the British East Africa, Uganda or the Somaliland Protectorates, 4 annas for Rs. 100; and 4 annas for every additional Rs. 100.

To all other countries or places to which insurance is available (see Post Office Guide, page 135), 3 annas for £5; and 3 annas for every additional £5.

To Seychelles and Zanzibar (for parcels only)—4 annas for Rs. 100, and 4 annas for every additional Rs. 100.

LIMITS OF WEIGHT.

(4) Printed papers and business papers—To the United Kingdom, British Australasian Colonies, Hong Kong, the Straits Settlements, the Union of South Africa, Southern Rhodesia and the Bechuanaland Protectorate—5 lbs.

To Ceylon—No limit.

To all other destinations—4 lbs., 6 ounce.

Samples—To the United Kingdom, Hong Kong, the Straits Settlements, the Union of South Africa, Southern Rhodesia and the Bechuanaland Protectorate—5 lbs.

To Ceylon—80 tolas.

To all other destinations—12 ounce.

Parcels—11 lbs.

LIMITS OF SIZE

(5) Printed papers and business papers—To Ceylon—2 ft. in length by 1 ft. in width or depth; and to all other destinations, 1½ ft. in length by 1½ ft. in width or depth.

If packed in the form of a roll, 30 inches in length and 4 inches in diameter.

Samples—To the United Kingdom, Ceylon, Hong Kong, the Union of South Africa, Southern Rhodesia and the Bechuanaland Protectorate, 2 ft. in length by 1 ft. in width or depth.

To all other destinations, 1 ft. in length by 8 inches in width and 4 inches in depth, or if packed in form of a roll, 1 ft. in length and 6 inches in diameter.

68. (1) A single post-card has a stamp of the value of one anna impressed on it; a double, or reply post-card has a stamp of the value of one anna impressed on each portion.

(2) Inland post-cards (with the quarter anna impressed stamp) posted to any Union country, or to any non-Union country to which post-cards can be sent, will be forwarded to destination as post-cards, whether additional adhesive postage stamps have or have not been affixed to them. Should the postage prepaid be less than one anna in the case of a single post-card, or two annas in the case of a reply post-card, double the deficiency, at the rate of post-cards, will be charged on delivery.

69. The registration fee is two annas in all cases, and must be prepaid in stamps. In the case of post-cards, the stamps representing the fee must be affixed to the post-card by the side of the stamp or stamps representing the postage.

70. (1) The sender of a registered article addressed to any Union country can obtain an acknowledgment of its delivery by paying a fee, in addition to the postage and registration fee, of one anna in the case of a registered article addressed to Ceylon or Portuguese India, and of two annas in the case of a registered article addressed to any other Union country.

Note—The fee for an acknowledgment of delivery, if asked for at the time of posting of the article, must be paid by means of postage stamps affixed to the article.

(2) When the sender of a registered article addressed to a Union country has not paid the fee for an acknowledgment of its delivery, and desires to have an enquiry made by the Post Office regarding the disposal of the article, he will be entitled to this service on payment of the same fee as that chargeable for an acknowledgment of delivery.

71. The postage on a packet of printed papers for the United Kingdom and for all other countries and places served by the Foreign Post, with the exception of Ceylon and Portuguese India, is half-an-anna for every two ounces or part of that weight. The postage on packets of printed papers for Ceylon and Portuguese India is the same as the postage on inland book-packets.

72. (1) In size, a packet of printed papers must not measure more than 18 inches in any one direction, and in weight it must not exceed five pounds in the case of the United Kingdom, the British Colonies in Australasia, the British Colonies of Hong Kong, the Straits Settlements, the Union of South Africa, the Bechuanaland Protectorate and Rhodesia, or four pounds six ounces in the case of other countries served by the Foreign Post, with the exception of Ceylon. Packets of printed papers in the form of a roll not exceeding 4 inches in diameter and 30 inches in length may, however, also be posted for transmission by the Foreign Post.

In the case of Ceylon, there is no limit of weight for a packet of printed papers; and in size such a packet must not exceed the maximum dimensions prescribed for an inland book-packet.

(2) Postage on printed papers must be prepaid at least partly (in cases where full prepayment is not compulsory). Printed papers for any Union country, if not fully prepaid, will be charged on delivery with double the amount of the deficiency. The public, however, are advised to prepay postage in full as insufficiently paid articles are subject to delay in delivery, and are, moreover, liable to be refused by the addressees.

(3) The postage on a packet of business papers for the United Kingdom and for all other countries and places served by the Foreign Post, with the exception of Ceylon and Portuguese India, is half-an-anna for every two ounces or part of that weight, subject to a minimum charge of two-and-a-half annas for each packet, however small the weight. The postage on packets of business papers for Ceylon and Portuguese India is the same as the postage on inland book-packets.

(4) In size, a packet of business papers must not measure more than 18 inches in any one direction, and in weight it must not exceed five pounds in the case of the United Kingdom, the British Colonies in Australasia, the British Colonies of Hong Kong, the Straits Settlements, the Union of South Africa, the Bechuanaland Protectorate and Rhodesia, or four pounds six ounces in the case of other countries served by the Foreign Post, with the exception of Ceylon. Packets of business papers in the form of a roll not exceeding four inches in diameter and 30 inches in length may, however, also be posted for transmission by the Foreign Post.

(5) In the case of Ceylon, there is no limit of weight for a packet of business papers; and in size such a packet must not exceed the maximum dimensions prescribed for an inland book-packet.

(6) Postage on business papers must be prepaid at least partly (in cases where full prepayment is not compulsory). Business papers for any Union country, if not fully prepaid, will be charged on delivery with double the amount of the deficiency.

(7) The postage on a packet of samples for the United Kingdom and for all other countries and places served by the Foreign Post, with the exception of Ceylon and Portuguese-India, is half-an annua for every two ounces or part of that weight, subject to a minimum charge of one anna for each packet, however small the weight. The postage on packets of samples for Ceylon and Portuguese India is the same as the postage on inland pattern packets.

(8) In size, a sample packet must not exceed 12 inches in length by 8 inches in width and 4 inches in depth, or if it is in the form of a roll, 12 inches in length and 6 inches in diameter; and in weight, it must not exceed twelve ounces.

In the case of the United Kingdom, the British Colonies of Hong Kong, the Straits Settlements, the Union of South Africa, the Bechuanaland Protectorate and Rhodesia, a sample packet must not exceed two feet in length by one foot in width and one foot in depth, and in weight, it must not exceed five pounds. The conditions as to size and weight in the case of a sample packet addressed to Ceylon are the same as the conditions which apply to an inland pattern packet (see para. 23).

Note.—As regards the limits of weight for sample packets of spirits, tea, and un-manufactured tobacco, addressed to the United Kingdom, see Post Office Guide, page 206.

(9) Postage on samples must be prepaid at least partly (in cases where full prepayment is not compulsory). Samples for any Union country, if not fully prepaid, will be charged on delivery with double the amount of the deficiency.

74. (1) If letters for transmission by the foreign post are posted unpaid or insufficiently paid, they are charged on delivery with double postage, or double the amount of the deficiency. Prepayment of postage is compulsory in certain cases (see Post Office Guide page 182).

* The postage rate on letters from these possessions to India is a penny per $\frac{1}{4}$ ounce.

Insurance.

(2) Insurance is available for foreign registered letters only, and then only provided that (1) they contain papers representing a money value, such as bank-notes, bonds, coupons, securities, and other documents of the kind; (2) they are addressed to one of the countries and places under which a limit of insured value is entered in the Foreign Post Directory, (page 135), Post Office Guide, subject to the limitations mentioned therein (in no case can a foreign registered letter be insured at a branch office for more than £25 when the value to be insured is expressed in sterling, or Rs. 500 when the value is expressed in Indian currency); and (3) the value insured shall in no case exceed the real value of the contents of the letter.

(3) In addition to the postage and the registration fee, the following further fees are charged for insurance:—

		Annas.
(a) To Ceylon and Portuguese India	When the value insured does not exceed Rs. 100 ...	2
	For every additional Rs. 100 or fraction thereof ...	2
(b) To the British East Africa and Uganda Protectorates, Mauritius and the Somaliland Protectorate.	When the value insured does not exceed Rs. 100 ...	4
	For every additional Rs. 100 or fraction thereof ...	4
(c) To the United Kingdom or any of the British possessions or foreign countries (other than those mentioned above), to which insurance is available.	When the value insured does not exceed £5 ...	3
	For every additional £5 or fraction thereof ...	3

(4) The prepayment of all charges on insured foreign registered letters, namely, the postage and the registration and insurance fees, is compulsory. Payment in all cases must be made by means of postage stamps affixed to the letters. As few postage stamps as possible must be used. The stamps must not be folded over the edge of the cover of the letter, and when more stamps than one are used, they must be affixed apart from one another so that they may not serve to conceal injuries to the cover. No label of any kind may be affixed by the sender to the cover of an insured foreign registered letter.

Foreign Letters of Soldiers and Seamen.

75. Letters can be prepaid, at the rate of 1 anna each, by the persons belonging to the classes mentioned in para. 76 and subject to the conditions mentioned in that para. for transmission to any British possession not belonging to the Imperial Penny Postage Union.

Letters prepaid at this privileged rate are forwarded only by routes over which they can be conveyed by sea wholly by British services.

Note.—The special rates and conditions prescribed in this section do not apply to letters posted by soldiers and seamen for transmission to the United Kingdom or any of the British possessions named in para. 73 as they can be prepaid as ordinary letters at the rate of 1 anna per ounce.

76. (1) The persons entitled to the privilege of sending letters at these special rates are Non-Commissioned Officers, Band Masters, Army School Masters, Army School Mistresses, Military Hospital Apprentices, Private Soldiers and School Masters, Writers and Seamen belonging to His Majesty's Ships, provided that the person claiming the privilege shall be at the time actually employed in the service of His Majesty, and shall not be either a Commissioned Officer or Warrant Officer in the Army, or an Assistant Engineer, Gunner, Boatswain or Carpenter in the Navy. The privilege, however, has been specially extended to Non-Commissioned Officers, not being Warrant Officers and Soldiers serving in India on the "Unattached List" (see Section II, Division III, Part I, of the Pay Code for British Troops in India).

(2) The conditions to be observed with respect to letters sent at special rates are as follows:—

(a) They must not exceed an ounce in weight.

(b) They must be on the private concerns of the Soldiers or Seamen.

(c) The cover must show on its face the name of the writer and his class or description in the Vessel, Regiment, Corps, or Detachment to which he belongs, and must also bear the signature of the Officer Commanding the Vessel, Regiment, Corps, or Detachment, together with the name in full of such Vessel, Regiment, Corps, or Detachment, as in the specimen below.

In case of a letter despatched by a Soldier on the "Unattached List," the cover must show on its face the name of the writer, his regimental rank and the designation of the office held by him, together with the signature, army rank (when necessary), and official designation of the Head of the Department † in which he is serving, as in the specimen below:—

(2) The privileged classes described above are also entitled to receive letters at special rates, which can be ascertained on application at the Post Office of the countries from which such letters may be sent. As a general rule, the special rate for privileged letters forwarded by British Packet from British Possessions is one penny for a letter not exceeding an ounce in weight.

The conditions to be observed with respect to letters received by privileged classes are as follows:—

- (a)—They must not exceed an ounce in weight.
- (b)—They must be on the private concerns of the Soldiers or Seamen to whom they are addressed.
- (c)—The postage must be prepaid if they are posted in the United Kingdom.
- (d)—They must be addressed directly to the Soldier or Seamen for whom they are intended, and not to the care of an agent or other person.

FOREIGN PARCEL POST.

- (e)—The address must show the name of the Soldier or Seaman, his class, description or rank, and the name in full of the Vessel, Regiment, Corps, or Detachment to which he belongs, as in the specimen below:—

If the letter be addressed to a Soldier on the "Unattached List," the address must show his regimental rank and his official designation, as in the specimen below:—

PARCELS FOR THE UNITED KINGDOM.

77. Parcels addressed to the United Kingdom are divided into two classes, viz., (i) those not exceeding 11 lbs. in weight, and (ii) those exceeding 11 lbs. but not exceeding 50 lbs. in weight:—

- (i)—Parcels not exceeding 11 lbs. in weight are forwarded as mails to the British Post Office. They may, at the option of the sender, be posted for despatch either by the sea route via Gibraltar or by the overland route across the Continent of Europe, the following being the rates of postage applicable, respectively, to the two routes:—

For a parcel—	Via
	Gibraltar.	Overland.
	RS. A.	RS. A.
Not over 8 lbs. ...	0 12	1 8
Over 8 lbs., but not over 7 lbs. ...	1 8	2 4
Over 7 lbs., but not over 11 lbs. ...	2 4	3 0

The sender must specify clearly on the cover of the parcel or on the official label pasted to it the route by which it is to be forwarded. Parcels may be sent to the United Kingdom and to countries served through the United Kingdom either by the sea route via Gibraltar or by the overland route across the Continent of Europe, the postage being higher by the latter than by the former route. The sender must specify clearly by which route the parcel is to be forwarded, by writing on the cover of the parcel or on the official label pasted to it either the words "via Gibraltar" or the word "Overland." These parcels are delivered by the Post Office, and the postage paid carries them to destination. As regards the insurance of these parcels, see clauses 232 to 239, Post Office Guide.

Notes.—Uninsured parcels for transmission overland across the Continent of Europe are forwarded either via Brindisi or via Marseilles, according to the route which is considered to be the more suitable one for each despatch. Insured parcels for transmission by the overland route are always forwarded via Brindisi.

All insured parcels for the United Kingdom and countries served through the United Kingdom intended for transmission by the overland route will be forwarded via Brindisi, as insured parcels cannot be sent to the United Kingdom via Marseilles.

- (ii)—Parcels which exceed 11 lbs. but which do not exceed 50 lbs. (the maximum allowed) in weight are forwarded from India through the medium of the P. & O. S. N. Co., and are delivered at destination under arrangements made by that Company. The postage charge applicable to such parcels is eight annas for each pound, or fraction of a pound. The parcels are delivered free of charge within a radius of one mile from the Company's Head Office in London; if addressed to any place beyond that radius, carrier's charges are levied from the addressees on delivery. Parcels thus forwarded through the P. & O. S. N. Co. cannot be insured during transit beyond India, but must, if they contain coin, etc., be insured during transit in India under the rule laid down in clause 242, Post Office Guide.

Note.—39 tolas are reckoned as the equivalent of 1 lb.

78. (1) At all Head and Sub-Post Offices, all charges, including customs duty, may, if desired by the senders, be prepaid in full, at the time of posting, on parcels for the United Kingdom, whether insured or uninsured, which do not exceed 11 lbs. in weight, subject to the following special conditions:—

- (a) A parcel in respect of which the sender wishes to prepay all charges should be presented at the Post Office plainly superscribed with the words "To be delivered free of all charge."

- (b) The customs declaration presented with the parcel should state clearly the weight of the contents.
- (c) The sender will be required to deposit in advance the equivalent in Indian currency, at the rate of Rupees fifteen for one pound sterling, of the charges leviable on the parcel in the United Kingdom, according to the British Customs Tariff. He will also be required to pay a fixed fee of 4 annas for the service to be rendered by the Post Office, and to sign a form of agreement declaring his willingness to pay any sum over and above the amount of his deposit that may be found to be due when the charges actually levied on the parcel in the United Kingdom have been ascertained.
- (d) The Post Office, on the other hand, will refund to the sender any portion of his deposit found to be in excess of the charges actually levied on the parcel in the United Kingdom, and in the event of the parcel being returned to India as undeliverable, will refund the whole amount of the deposit. In no case will the postal fee of 4 annas be refunded.
- (2) Parcels with all charges prepaid are subject to the same rates of postage and to the same general rules and conditions as other parcels sent from India to the United Kingdom through the agency of the British Post Office.

PARCELS FROM THE UNITED KINGDOM.

79. (1) The British Post Office receives parcels for India if they do not exceed 11 lbs. in weight, and arrangements exist under which the senders of such parcels may, if they so desire, prepay at the time of posting all charges including Customs duty, leviable on them in India. Parcels above that weight are received by the Peninsular and Oriental Steam Navigation Company at its offices in London. The rules governing the despatch of parcels from the United Kingdom are published in the British Post Office Guide, and exhibited at every British Post Office; but enquiries in the United Kingdom should, in the case of parcels not exceeding 11 lbs. in weight, be addressed to the Secretary, G. P. O., London, and enquiries regarding parcels above that weight should be addressed to the Peninsular and Oriental Steam Navigation Company, 122, Leadenhall Street, London, E.C.

- (2) The rates of postage for parcels forwarded to India are as follows, viz.—

80. (1) A foreign parcel may not contain any enclosure intended for delivery to a person other than the addressee of the parcel itself. If the parcel is addressed to any part of Australia, or to the United Kingdom, Canada, British Central Africa, the Union of South Africa, or other parts of South Africa, the Falkland Islands, Fiji, Jamaica, Bahamas, Barbados, Malta, Mauritius, New Zealand, the New Hebrides, Banks Islands, Santa Cruz Islands, Seychelles, Sarawak, Straits Settlements, Hong Kong, or Trinidad (including Tobago), or to any foreign (as distinguished from a British) country or possession, it may not contain a letter or communication of the nature of a letter even if addressed in the same way as the parcel; but it is permissible to enclose in any parcel an open invoice confined to the particulars which constitute an invoice and also a sample copy of the address of the parcel with the addition of the address of the sender.

(2) A foreign parcel may not contain coin or bullion exceeding £5 in value (except coin clearly intended for purposes of ornament), liquids (unless securely packed in proper cases as described in clause 221, Post Office Guide), the skins and feathers of all birds other than domestic birds, except (a) feathers of ostriches, and (b) skins and feathers exported bona fide as specimens illustrative of natural history, human or other viscera, cultures or bacteriological specimens or any article which is not allowed to be sent by the inland parcel post by the prohibitions in para. 30 (1 to 4).

(3) Furthermore, a foreign parcel may not contain any article or substance specially prohibited from importation into the particular country or colony to which it is addressed: for particulars regarding articles thus specially prohibited, reference should be made to the Foreign Post Directory, page 182, of the Post Office Guide.

Inland Money Orders.

80 (a). A "Money Order" is an order granted by the Post Office for the payment of a sum of money through the agency of the Post Office. A "Remitter" is the person who sends money by means of a money order. A "Payee" is the person named in a money order as the person to whom the money is to be paid.

81. All Post Offices are Money Order Offices except those that are distinguished in the list of Post Offices by the letter D against their names—for which see Post Office Guide, pages 214 to 449.

82. The amount for which a single money order may be issued must not exceed Rs. 600 and must not include a fraction of an anna, except in the case of money orders issued by, or in favour of, any Department of the Government, or by, or in favour of, a District, Local or Municipal Board.

Explanation.—The words "any Department of the Government" include any official Department of the Government of a Native State, the posts of which have been amalgamated with the Imperial Post.

83. Money orders may be issued on the following Native States with which special arrangements have been made for the exchange of money orders, but the amount for which a single money order may be issued on these States must not exceed Rs. 600:—

Chamba.
Gwalior.

Jhind.
Nabha.

Patiala.

Explanation.—The exception in the preceding para applies also to money orders issued by, or in favour of, any official Department of any of these States.

84. A commission on the issue of Inland Money Orders will be charged at the following rates, namely:—

On any sum—		On any sum—		On any sum—		On any sum—		On any sum—		On any sum—

Panjour ...	Branch... ..	Do. ...	Turbat ..	22
Bahrain ...	Sub ...	Bushire ...		23
Linga ...	Do. ...	Do. ...		22

These special rates are not charged in the case of money orders issued in payment of sums recovered from addressees of value-payable articles.

85. The remitter of a money order must fill in, in ink, on a money order form (which will be supplied to him gratis by the Post Office) the necessary entries, adding his signature at foot. He must also enter on the "acknowledgment" portion of the form his own name and address, the amount of the order, and the payee's name. All the entries made in the form must be legible, and may be written in English or in the current vernacular of the district, either by the remitter himself or by any one on his behalf. The remitter may write on the "coupon" any communication he desires to make to the payee. The money order form duly filled in, together with the amount of the money order and commission, must be presented at the Post Office window during the prescribed hours.

86. The name and address of the payee must be entered with such completeness as shall secure identification and prevent risk of wrong payment. In the case of money orders payable in presidency and other large towns, the name of the street and the number of the house in which the payee resides should invariably be given. The occupation, rank, trade, or profession of the payee, and any other particulars calculated to help in identifying him, should be added. The name of only one person may be entered as payee, except in the case of firms or corporations, whose usual designation must be given. A money order payable to a Government official, bank manager, or an editor of a newspaper, etc., in his public capacity, should contain the designation, not the name, of the person for whom the order is intended.

87. The Post Office will not be responsible for the wrong payment of a money order caused by incorrect or incomplete information given by the remitter as to the name and address of the payee, or for the payment of a money order being refused or delayed by or on account of any accidental neglect, omission or mistake by, or on the part of, an officer of the Post Office, or for any wrong payment of a money order after the expiration of one year from the date of the issue of the order.

88. A receipt will be given to the remitter for the amount paid by him on account of the money order and commission. Any error or omission in the receipt should be pointed out at once by the remitter, otherwise the Post Office will not be responsible.

89. Any person residing at a place which is not served daily by the postmen, who sends his own messenger at regular intervals to the Post Office to take delivery of correspondence received to his address see para. 7 (3 and 4), may authorize the Postmaster, in writing, to pay money orders to the messenger, and the Postmaster will accept the signature on the money orders of the messenger, named in the written authority so given, and pay him the amount. In cases where this authority is not given to the Postmaster, notice of the arrival of the money order will be sent to the payee under Clause 270 of the Post Office Guide.

90. The remitter of a money order is entitled to obtain, free of charge, an acknowledgment of the payment of the amount of the order signed by the payee. Should the remitter fail to receive an acknowledgment in due course, he should represent the matter to the Post Office, and he will obtain a certificate of payment, free of charge, signed by the Postmaster of the office of payment.

91. If the payee of a money order has removed from the place at which the order was originally payable, and has left written instructions with the Post Office for the re-direction of articles to his address, the money order will be re-directed to him and will be payable at the revised address without any extra charge.

Note.—This rule applies also to the re-direction of inland money orders to any Native State or to any of the foreign countries or places, with which money orders are exchanged.

If the payee of a money order is illiterate, it will be necessary for him to make his mark on the money order in the presence of a witness whose signature must be obtained in the order.

92. The remitter of a money order which has not been paid may require that the address of the payee shall be altered or that the name of the Post Office, at which the order was originally made payable, shall be changed. The required change will be made, without additional charge, on the remitter's applying in writing to the Post Office at which the order was issued. The remitter of a money order which has not been paid may require that the amount be paid to some person other than the payee named in the order. The required change will be made, on payment of a second commission equal to the first, on the remitter's applying in writing to the Post Office at which the order was issued, and producing the receipt granted to him for the order.

93. The remitter of a money order which has not been paid, may stop payment and require that the money be re-paid to himself. This will be done without additional charge on the remitter's applying in writing to the Post Office at which the money order was issued and producing the receipt and giving full particulars of the payee's address as entered in the money order. Payment can be stopped by telegram if the remitter pays for it. In no case, however, will the Post Office be responsible for inability or failure to stop payment of a money order in compliance with the remitter's request.

94. If the payee of a money order cannot be found, or if the payee refuses to take payment, the amount of the order will be returned at once to the remitter free of charge. The commission will in no case be refunded.

95. If payment of a money order to the payee cannot be effected and the amount cannot be re-paid to the remitter owing to the latter not being found, the order will become void and its value will be credited to Government. But if the payee or remitter subsequently applies for payment, the amount of the order will be paid to him on the authority of the Audit Officer, provided that application is made before the expiration of one year from the date of issue of the original order.

Note.—When payment of a void order is to be made in a foreign settlement in India, or in a country, or at a place outside of India with which money orders can be exchanged, a fresh commission is deducted from the amount of the order at the rates applicable to inland money orders or money orders expressed in sterling, according as the settlement, country, or place where payment is to be made is one on which money orders are drawn in rupee currency or in sterling currency.

96. The Director-General may, at any time, suspend the issue of money orders upon or by any particular Post Office, or group of Post Offices, or direct that money orders should not be so issued except on payment of special rates of commission higher than the ordinary rates.

Telegraphic Inland Money Orders.

97. Every Post Office which is a Money Order Office may issue and pay Telegraphic money orders, with the exception of the offices specially excepted in the list at the end of the Post Office Guide. If there be no Government Telegraph Office at the station of issue, the order will be sent by post to the nearest Post Office at which there is a Government Telegraph Office. If there be no Government Telegraph Office at the station of payment, the Telegraphic money order will be sent by post from the nearest Post Office at which there is a Government Telegraph Office.

The amount for which a single Telegraphic money order may be issued must not exceed Rs. 600 and must not include any sum less than a rupee.

98. A fee for the issue of a telegraphic money order will be charged at the rate of commission on an ordinary inland money order for the same amount, added to a telegraph charge calculated at the rates for inland telegrams for the actual number of words used in the telegram advising the remittance, according as the telegram is to be sent as an "Express" or as an "Ordinary" message.

99. (1) The remitter of a telegraphic money order must fill in, in ink, on an ordinary inland money order form, the entries for the remitter, and write across the form the words "By telegraph express" or "By telegraph ordinary" according as to whether he wishes the telegram advising the remittance to be signalled as an express, or as an ordinary message. If he desires to have a private communication to the payee added to the telegram advising the remittance, he should write it on the coupon of the money order and pay for the additional words at the rate of 2 As. or half-an-anna a word, according as the telegram is to be sent "Express" or "Ordinary." Abbreviated addresses, or Code words to represent the name of the remitter or the name and address of the payee, must not be used. The money order form duly filled in, together with the amount to be remitted and the fees for the T. M. O. and private communication (if any), must be presented at the Post Office window during the hours notified for telegraphic money order business (see next sub-para. 2 and 3, and also para. 104).

(2) Telegraphic money orders are issued and paid on all days, including Sundays and other Post Office holidays, at any time at which work is going on in the Post Office between the hours of 6 A.M. and 6 P.M. (or such longer hours as may be notified locally) and telegrams are received from the public at any time during either postal or telegraph business hours subject to the following conditions:—A.—At post offices situated at places where there are no telegraph offices. Inland telegraph money orders and telegrams are received for transmission by post to the nearest telegraph office during the hours fixed for registration work. At post offices situated at telegraph stations. (1) Ordinary telegraphic money orders and telegrams are not transmitted on Sundays or other Post Office holidays, or during hours when the despatching or terminal telegraph office is closed on any other day. (ii) Express telegraphic money orders and telegrams presented for issue during hours when the despatching or terminal telegraph office is closed will be accepted on payment of an extra fee of Rs. 2 if both the telegraphic office of origin and the terminal telegraph office are closed, or of Re. 1 if only one of these offices is closed, on the understanding that the transmission of the telegraphic money order or telegram will depend on whether the attention of the terminal office can be secured. If this is not secured, the transmission of the telegraphic money order or telegram will be delayed, but the extra fee of Re. 1 paid in respect of the terminal office will be refunded.

(3) New Year's Day, Good Friday, the King's Birthday, Christmas Day, certain Indian festival days as notified in the Post Office Guide and all Sundays are Post Office holidays. Telegraphic money orders are issued and paid on every day of the year on the conditions described in sub-para. 1 of this para. and postage stamps, post-cards, and embossed envelopes are always sold on the day on which the mail for Europe is closed; but otherwise no business is done with the public on Post Office holidays.

100. A receipt will be given to the remitter, showing the total amount paid by him, the payee's name and the hour at which the telegraphic money order was presented.

101. The remitter of a telegraphic money order is entitled to obtain free of charge, by post, an acknowledgment of the payment of the amount of the order signed by the payee.

102. Telegrams advising remittances are sent "express" or "ordinary" as noted by the remitter on the money order form, and Postmasters are prohibited from giving any assurance to the remitter as to the time within which the remittance will reach its destination or be paid to the payee. If the order is issued at a station where there is a Government Telegraph Office and the Telegraph Office is closed at the time, the order is presented at the Post Office for despatch, and if there is any likelihood of the message being delayed in transmission, the remitter will be informed accordingly.

Note.—An "express" telegraphic money order is signalled sooner than one that is sent "ordinary," but in the Post Office of payment both "express" and "ordinary" telegraphic money orders are paid as soon as practicable after receipt of the telegraphic advice without any distinction being made between the two classes of orders.

103. The payment of a telegraphic money order will ordinarily be made as soon as practicable after receipt of the telegraphic advice by the office of payment, at the residence of the payee, on his signing a receipt for the amount and the acknowledgment and returning these documents to the postman.

104. (1) The sender of an inland telegraphic money order payable at a village where there is no Post Office, and which is served by a village postman, may require that if the village postman cannot proceed at once to the payee at his residence, an intimation of the arrival of the order shall be sent by the office of payment to the payee by a special messenger. The remitter must pay in advance for the hire of the special messenger and write across the money order form, in addition to the words "By Telegraph" and in continuation of them, "A. P. . . annas." Any amount may be paid in advance for the purpose.

(2) If the amount advanced is found by the office of payment to be insufficient for the hire of a special messenger, a special messenger will not be employed and the telegraphic money order will be paid in the ordinary way.

(3) If the amount or any part of the amount paid for a special messenger is not used by the office of payment, the amount left undrawn will be repaid to the remitter if he applies to the Accountant-General, Post Office and Telegraphs, Calcutta, within one year from the date of issue of the telegraphic money order.

(4) In every case in which an intimation of the arrival of a telegraphic money order is sent to the payee by a special messenger at the remitter's request, the money order will not be sent out for payment by the village postman and it will be necessary for the payee to call or send an agent or messenger to receive payment at the post office.

105. If the payee of a telegraphic money order has removed from the place at which the order was originally payable, and has left written instructions with the Post Office for the re-direction of articles to his address, the telegraphic money order will be re-directed to him by post and will be payable at the revised address without any extra charge.

106. The remitter of a telegraphic money order which has not been paid, may require that the address of the payee shall be altered, or that the name of the office at which the order was originally made payable, shall be changed. The required alteration will be made in the ordinary course of post, without additional charge, on the remitter's applying in writing to the Post Office at which the money order was issued.

The remitter of a telegraphic money order which has not been paid, may require that the amount be paid to some person other than the payee named in the order. The required change will be made in the ordinary course of post, on payment of the commission chargeable on an ordinary money order for the same amount, on the remitter's applying in writing to the post office at which the order was issued, and presenting the receipt granted for the original order.

107. The remitter of a telegraphic money order which has not been paid, may stop payment and require that the money be re-paid to himself. This will be done on the remitter's applying in writing to the Post Office at which the money order was issued, producing the receipt and giving full particulars of the payee's address as entered in the money order. Payment may be stopped by telegram, the remitter paying the necessary charges at the ordinary rates for it. In no case, however, will the Post Office be responsible for inability or failure to stop payment of a money order in compliance with the remitter's request.

108. If the payee of a telegraphic money order cannot be found, or should the payee refuse to take payment, a reference will be made to the office of issue by telegraph, in order to obtain instructions from the remitter regarding the disposal of the telegraphic money order. These instructions will be communicated to the office of payment, by telegraph if the remitter pays the cost of the telegram, otherwise by post. The telegraphic money order, if still undeliverable, but not any private communication that may have been added to it, will then be re-issued by telegraph, free of any further charge, for payment to the remitter. The fees will, in no case, be refunded.

109. If payment of a telegraphic money order to the payee cannot be effected and the amount cannot be re-paid to the remitter owing to the latter not being found, the order will be void and its value credited to the Government. But, if the payee or remitter subsequently applies for payment, the amount of the void order will be paid to him on the authority of the Audit officer, provided that application is made before the expiration of one year from the date of issue of the original order.

Note.—See the Note under para. 95.

(2) Money orders may also be drawn on the following Native States, viz. —

Chamba, Gwalior, Jhind, Nabha, and Patiala.

(3) The amount of a money order issued under this para. must not exceed Rs. 600 nor include a fraction of an anna.

Note.—All money order offices (see para. 81) are authorised to issue and pay money orders payable in, or received from, the countries named above.

111. Subject to the exceptions in the notes below this para., the foregoing rules, applicable to inland money orders, apply generally to money orders exchanged with the countries named in para. 110. The rates of commission for such money orders are the same, as in the case of inland money orders. The names of remitters and payees of money orders for the British East Africa Protectorate, German East Africa,† the Seychelles, the

* An extra charge of $\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. will be deducted from the amount of each order at Hong Kong for its onward transmission.

Straits Settlements and Zanzibar must, in the case of Europeans, include the surname and at least the initial of one Christian name, and in the case of Natives of India, the name, tribe or caste, and father's name.

Note 1.—In the case of money order drawn on the German Protectorate of Kiautschou,* Macao, Japan, Corea, Formosa, or any of the Japanese postal agencies in China, the names of the payees, when the latter are Natives of Japan, should be given in full, without abbreviations of any kind. When both the remitter and the payee of such a money order are Natives of Japan or China, the remitter should present along with the money order a separate slip of paper containing the full name and address of the payee written in Japanese or Chinese characters, as the case may be.

Note 2.—The re-direction to any of the countries or places referred to in paras. 110 and 118 with the exception of the Native States named in para. 110 (2), of money orders originally received from any of those countries or places for payment in India is subject to a fresh charge on account or commission at half the rates of commission applicable to inland money orders or money orders expressed in sterling, according as the country or place to which the order is re-directed is one on which money orders are drawn in rupee currency or in sterling currency. Should the amount of this fresh charge, however, calculated at the rates mentioned, include a fraction of an anna, the amount will be raised to the next complete anna.

112. Coupons attached to money orders payable in Ceylon or Portuguese India should not be filled up by the remitters, as the coupons will not be delivered to the payees.

* Service temporarily suspended.

* In the case of money orders drawn on these countries, a deduction will be made by the London Post Office from the amounts payable to the payees at the following rates:—

For any sum not exceeding £5 3d.
 „ every additional £5 or fraction thereof 3d.

Example.—It is desired to remit £8 14s. 10d. to one of the countries marked with an asterisk. To ensure the payment of this sum in full, the amount (6d.) of the deduction to be made by the London Post Office should be added to it and the money order should be for £8 15s. 4d.

A. P.—Advice of Payment is available (see para 122).

† An extra charge at the rate of 1 per cent. on the sum advised will be deducted from the amount of each order at Munich for its onward transmission to Belgium, Sweden or Holland.

† Money orders can be issued on the following places only, viz., Bahia (or São Salvador), Belem (or Pará), Ceara (Fortaleza), Curitiba, Desterro (or Florianópolis or Santa Catharina), Florianópolis (or Desterro or Santa Catharina), Fortaleza (Ceara), Manaus, Pará (or Belem), Pernambuco (or Recife), Port Alegre, Recife (or Pernambuco), Rio De Janeiro, Santa Catharina (or Desterro or Florianópolis), São Paulo de Salvador.

114. All money order offices (see para. 81) are authorised to deal with money orders exchanged with the countries referred to in para. 113.

complete sum of £ 5 and 12 annas for the remainder, provided that if the remainder does not exceed £1, the charge for it shall be 3 annas; if it does not exceed £2, the charge for it shall be 5 annas; if it does not exceed £3, the charge for it shall be 8 annas; and if it does not exceed £4, the charge for it shall be 10 annas.

Note.—In the case of money orders issued from certain Indian Post Offices, special rates of money order commission may be charged. When special rates are in force the offices concerned are indicated, and the rate of commission in each case is stated in the list of Post Offices, pages 216 to 451 of the Post Office Guide.

116. A table of conversion, calculated at the rate of fifteen rupees for one pound sterling, is given at para. 140 (1) from which the cost in Indian money of a foreign sterling money order can be at once ascertained. The amount to be paid in Indian money will be the equivalent, as shown by the Table, of the sterling value of the order, plus the commission calculated at the rates given in para. 115.

117. The remitter must apply for a Foreign money order form (which will be supplied to him gratis by the Post Office), and fill in the necessary entries, adding his signature at foot. The amount of the money order (whatever be the country of destination) must be stated by the remitter in British (sterling) money, and the equivalent of this amount in Indian currency will be entered in the form by the Post Office. If the country of destination has a different currency, the sterling amount will be converted by it into the local currency for the purpose of payment. The remitter must write his own name and address on the "intimation" portion of the form. All the entries made by the remitter should be legibly written in ink. The money order form must be presented, with the money and commission, at the Post Office window during the prescribed hours.

Note.—A money order payable in the United Kingdom may be crossed for payment only through a bank. When a remitter desires to make use of this privilege, he should write across the money order form the name of a particular bank or merely the words "& Co." between parallel lines.

† Money orders can be issued on Georgetown (Grand Cayman) only.

§ Money orders can be issued on the following places only, viz., Albina, Coronie, Nieuw-Nickerie and Paramaribo. An extra charge of 1d. in respect of every 10 shillings or fraction thereof will be deducted from the amount of each order at Georgetown for its onward transmission to Dutch Guiana.

†† An extra charge at the rate of 3d. for each £5 or fraction thereof will be deducted from the amount of each order at Sydney for its onward transmission to Fiji, Hawaii or Tonga.

|||| An extra charge at the rate of $\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. on the sum advised will be deducted from the amount of each order at Munich and a further charge at the rate of $\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. on the remainder will be deducted at Malmo for its onward transmission to Finland.

 An extra charge at the rate of 1 per cent. on the sum advised will be deducted from the amount of each order at Paris for its onward transmission to destination.

§§ Money orders can be issued on Madagascar only.

 An extra charge at the rate of $\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. on the sum advised will be deducted from the amount of each order at Munich for its onward transmission to Luxemburg.

††† Money orders can be issued on the following places only, viz., Lokojo, Zaria and Zanguru.

||||| An extra charge at the rate of 3d. for each £5 or fraction thereof will be deducted from the amount of each order at Brisbane for its onward transmission to Papua (British New Guinea.)

§§§ Money orders can be issued on the following places only, viz., Angoche, Bella Vista, Chitrio, Chinde, Inhambane, Lorenzo Marques, Magude, Menh ca, Mozambique, Quilimane, Sabie, Tete, and Villa Luiza.

118. The name of the payee should include the surname and at least the initial letter of one Christian name. If the payee be a firm or company, the usual designation of the firm or company will suffice. The address of the payee should be full and precise, as on it depends the determination of the particular Money Order Office in the Foreign country at which the money order will be made payable. The surname, and at least one initial of the Christian name, of the remitter should be given; if the remitter be a native of India, his tribe or caste and his father's name should be stated in addition to his own name. The name and address of the payee should be given with such completeness as shall secure identification and prevent risk of wrong delivery.

119. It will be necessary for the remitter of a Foreign money order to write to the payee informing him of his (the remitter's) name as entered in the order. The payee will receive the money order direct from the Head Money Order Office of the country of payment.

120. If the Post Office at which application is made for a Foreign money order expressed in sterling be a Branch Post Office, it will be necessary for it to forward the money order form, filled up by the remitter, to its Account Office for examination, and in order to ensure the correct calculation of the amount payable for the order. On return from the Account Office, the money order form will be delivered to the applicant, who may then present it accompanied by the required amount.

121. The remitter will be furnished by the Post Office with a receipt for the amount paid by him on account of the money order and commission. The remitter should examine the receipt to ascertain that the particulars have been correctly entered. Any error or omission should be pointed out at once by the remitter to the Post Office; if he omits to do so, the responsibility of any mistake will rest with him.

122. (1) The remitter of a foreign money order to the United Kingdom or any of the other countries or places against the names of which the letters A. P. appear in the list at para. 113 can obtain an advice of it—payment by paying a fee of two annas in addition to the commission chargeable on the money order.

(2) The remitter of a foreign money order expressed in sterling from any Post Office (except that at Aden) will, unless the money order is one for which an advice of payment, as provided for in sub-para. (1) preceding, can be had, receive, free of charge, an intimation from the Indian Post Office of exchange (at Bombay or Madras, as the case may be) that the money order has been communicated to the country of payment.

(3) When the remitter of a foreign money order expressed in sterling has not paid the fee for an advice of payment and desires to have an enquiry made by the Post Office regarding the disposal of the money order, he will be entitled to this service on payment of the same fee as that chargeable for an advice of payment.

Note.—The fee for an advice of payment, if asked for at the time of issue of the money order, must be paid by means of postage stamps which should be affixed in the space provided for the purpose in the sterling money order form.

123. If the remitter of a Foreign money order, expressed in sterling, desires to alter the name or address of the payee or to cancel the money order and have the money refunded to him, he should address the Deputy Postmaster, Bombay,* enclosing the receipt granted to him by the office of issue, or the intimation received by him under para. 122.

(2) The Bombay Post Office* will communicate with the Foreign country concerned and intimate the result. In the case of the cancellation of an order after reference to the Foreign country of payment, the amount to be refunded will be the value of the order, but not the commission. No second commission will be charged for the services mentioned in this para.

124. If a money order is returned by the Foreign country of payment as undeliverable, the value of the money order, but not the commission, will be refunded to the remitter.

125. Money orders issued in the Foreign countries referred to in para. 113, and payable in India, will be prepared by the Bombay Post Office,* the amount of the Foreign orders being converted into Indian currency at the rates shown in the Table of conversion at para. 140 (1). Subject to the exceptions in the notes below this para., the rules governing the delivery and payment, etc., of inland money orders are applicable also to these Foreign orders payable in India, but an order cannot be paid after it has been treated as void or returned to the country of issue.

Note 1.—The re-direction to any of the countries or places referred to in paras. 110 and 113, with the exception of the Native States, named in para. 110 (2), of money orders originally received from any of those countries or places for payment in India is subject to a fresh charge on account of commission at half the rates of commission applicable to inland money orders or money orders expressed in sterling, according as the country or place to which the order is re-directed is one on which money orders are drawn in rupees currency or in sterling currency. Should the amount of this fresh charge, however, calculated at the rates mentioned, include a fraction of an anna, the amount will be raised to the next complete anna.

Note 2.—The provisions of Note 1 above apply also to the exceptional case of re-direction to a foreign settlement in India, or to a country or place outside of India, of a foreign money order originally issued in India, but which is re-issued by the country of payment to India for repayment to the remitter, or for the repayment of which the remitter himself has applied.

126. The names of the Indian offices of exchange for the various Foreign countries, and Foreign settlements in India, are mentioned in the Foreign Post Directory and those of Native States are shown below:—

Indo-Ceylon Telegraphic Money Orders.

127. Telegraphic money orders expressed in rupees may be exchanged with Ceylon. Every Post Office that is authorized to issue and pay inland Telegraphic money orders may issue and pay Indo-Ceylon Telegraphic money orders. (See para. 97).

128. The amount of a single Indo-Ceylon Telegraphic money order may not exceed Rs. 600 or include any fraction of a rupee.

129. The fee for a telegraphic money order issued in India for payment in Ceylon will be charged at the rate of commission applicable to an ordinary money order drawn on Ceylon for the same amount, plus a telegraph charge calculated, on the actual number of words used in the telegram advising the remittance, at the rate of one rupee for the first twelve words and two annas for each additional word.

130. The application for a Telegraphic money order for payment in Ceylon must be made out by the remitter on an ordinary inland money order form, as in the case of an inland telegraphic money order, with the words "By telegraph" written across the particulars. The word "Ceylon" must always be added after the post-town in the address of the payee.

If the remitter desires to have a private communication to the payee added to the telegram advising the remittance, he should write it on the coupon of the Money Order and pay for the additional words in excess of twelve at the rate of two annas a word.

131. If the post-town at which payment is to be made is not at a telegraph station, the Post Office of issue will not undertake to determine the Telegraph Office through which the Post Office of payment is served; but in every case the remitter will be required to specify in the application the name of the Telegraph Office to which the order is to be signalled, as is required in the case of an ordinary telegram. The name of this office must always be entered on the money order form after the address of the payee as follows:—

"Telegraph Office — — — — —."

132. A Telegraphic money order received from Ceylon for payment in India will be paid to the payee according to the rules for the payment of inland telegraphic money orders, but payment will be made only at the Post Office on which the order was originally drawn. If payment cannot be made at that Post Office owing to the payee having changed his address, or from any other cause, the order will be re-issued, free of any further charge, by telegraph on Ceylon for repayment to the remitter.

Exception.—The above prohibition against re-direction does not apply to telegraphic money orders payable in the Madras and Burma circles which may be re-directed by post within the limits of those circles (1) when the payee has left written instructions for the re-direction of articles received to his address or when, in the absence of such instructions, it is known beyond doubt that the payee has changed his address to a place served by another Post Office; and (2) when a telegraphic money order is drawn on a wrong office owing to ignorance on the part of the remitter of the latest postal arrangements made for serving the locality in which the payee resides.

Foreign Orders telegraphed to Offices of Exchange.

133. The Telegraphic money order system does not apply to any Foreign money order exchange except those with Ceylon and the Seychelles, but the remitter of a Foreign money order drawn on any other country referred to in paras. 110 or 111, can have the particulars telegraphed to the Indian office of exchange concerned (see para. 126), and that office will, on receipt of the telegraphic advice, issue a money order on the Foreign country of payment under the Foreign money order rules. It should be understood that the money order will be telegraphed to the Indian office of exchange only, and not to the Foreign country of payment. Applications made at Branch Offices will be subject to the conditions laid down in para. 120.

134. Except that the remitter will not be entitled to have a private communication added to the telegram advising the remittance, the fees, the limit of value, and the other conditions laid down in the rules relating to inland telegraphic money orders apply, subject to the above para., to money orders payable in the countries and places referred to in para. 110.

135. The following conditions apply to money orders payable in the United Kingdom or any other countries and places referred to in para. 113.—

- (a) The maximum amount for which a single Foreign sterling money order can be telegraphed under these rules to the Indian Office of exchange concerned is £40, and no such order may include a broken sum less than £1.
- (b) A fee for the issue of a foreign sterling money order telegraphed to the office of exchange will be charged at the rate of commission on a foreign sterling money order for the same amount, added to a telegraph charge calculated at the rates for inland telegrams for the actual number of words used in the telegram advising the remittance, according as the telegram is to be sent as an "Express" or as an "Ordinary" message.
- (c) The remitter must fill up the necessary entries in a sterling money order form, and write across the form the words, "By Telegraph Express" or "By Telegraph Ordinary" according as to whether he wishes the telegram advising the remittance to be sent as an express or as an ordinary message. He should then present the form at the window of the Post Office, together with the amounts of the order and commission.
- (d) Foreign money orders intended for payment in any country to which mails are sent from Bombay by the Peninsular and Oriental Steam Navigation Company's weekly mail steamers will not be accepted for the purpose of being telegraphed to Bombay if presented at any Post Office on Saturday, i.e., the day of departure of those mail steamers.

British Postal Orders.

136. British postal orders, for fixed sums, from 5s. to £ 1-1-0, are available for sale to the public at all head and sub-post offices in places where a large European community exists or where there is a demand for the orders. Other post offices to which application may be made for British postal orders, will obtain them and deliver them to the purchasers. Until further notice, the issue of British postal orders to any single individual in one day is limited to £ 20.

137. (1) British postal orders sold in India are payable at any money order office in the United Kingdom (including the Channel Islands and the Isle of Man), and the under-mentioned Colonies, Possessions and British Post Office Agencies in Foreign Countries:—

Anguilla.	British Bechuanaland	† Canada.	* Falkland Islands.
* Antigua.	* British East Africa and Uganda.	* Cayman Islands.	* Fanning Island.

(2) British postal orders sold in India, the United Kingdom, and the above Colonies, Possessions, and Agencies are also payable at any Indian Post office, but orders presented for payment at a branch Post Office in India will be paid after an order of payment has been obtained by the branch office from its account office.

(3) Postage stamps of the United Kingdom and of the countries and colonies marked * in the list given under paragraph (1) are paid up to the value of 5d. or 5 annas (excluding fractions of a penny or an anna) when affixed to British postal orders. In calculating the amounts to be paid in Indian money in respect of postage stamps, the face values of which are expressed in British currency, one anna is taken as the equivalent of one penny, while in respect of certain colonial postage stamps the face values of which are not expressed in British or Indian currency, the following table of equivalents is used:—

139. Broken amounts up to five pence (but not including fractions of a penny) may be made up by affixing to the face of any British postal order unused Indian postage stamps, not exceeding three in number of equivalent value—one anna being equal to a penny. The only Indian postage stamps which may be used for the purpose are those of the values of

1, 2, 3 and 4 annas. British penny postage stamps may also be used for the purpose of making up broken amounts, but in this case the broken amount may not exceed three pence as not more than three stamps may be affixed to a British postal order. Defaced stamps are not accepted for this purpose and perforated stamps are recognised only on orders presented by banks (see Note to para. 1).

Note.—A postage stamp or stamps affixed to a British postal order presented for payment will not be regarded as defaced, when it is clear that the defacement has taken place after the stamp or stamps were affixed to the order, and when such defacement consists merely in the stamp or stamps being encroached upon by a portion of the issuing officer's signature, or of the date stamp of the issuing office, or of the entries made by the payee in filling in or receipting the order or of the crossing of the Bank stamp.

140 A table of conversion, calculated at the rate of fifteen rupees for one pound sterling, is given below from which the cost in Indian money of a British postal order can be at once ascertained. The amount to be paid for a British postal order will be the equivalent of its value in Indian money, as shown by the Table, plus the British poundage at the rates given in para. 138.

* Serræ temporarily suspended.

141. (1) The purchaser of a British postal order must, before parting with it, fill in the name of the person to whom the order is to be paid, and may fill in the name of the Money Order Office at which the amount is to be paid. If the name of a Money Order Office is not entered by the purchaser, the order will be payable at any Money Order Office named by the payee.

(2) The purchaser should keep a record of the Serial No. and date and name of the office of issue of the order, to facilitate enquiry if the order should be lost. In case of the miscarriage or loss of a British postal order, unless proof can be given to the satisfaction of the British Post Office that the name of the payee was inserted in the order before the holder parted with it, and unless the number of the order can be furnished, the British Post Office cannot undertake to trace the order with a view to accounting for the miscarriage or loss thereof.

142. After a British postal order has once been paid, to whomsoever it is paid, the Post Office will not be liable for any further claim.

143. If any erasure or alteration be made, or if the order is not stamped or signed by the Postmaster of the issuing office, or if the order is cut, defaced, or mutilated, payment may be refused and when payment is refused on any of these grounds, no refund of the value of the order can be granted in India.

144. The purchaser of a British postal order is recommended not to delay its transmission to the payee. Similarly no time should be lost by the payee of a British postal order in presenting the order for payment. If a British postal order be not paid within three months from the last day of the month of issue, a commission equal to the original poundage will be charged, which must be paid in Indian postage stamps affixed to the back of the order. British postal orders presented for payment more than six months after the last day of the month of issue cannot be paid until a reference has been made to the chief office in London.

Post Office Savings Bank.

OBJECT OF GOVERNMENT IN ESTABLISHING POST OFFICE SAVINGS BANKS.

145. The object of Government in establishing Post Office Savings Banks is to provide a ready means for the deposit of savings, and so to encourage thrift. Savings Banks are not to be used for the purpose of keeping a current account, and the Accountant-General is empowered to close accounts, or in the case of accounts opened on behalf of minors, to stop the receipt of further deposits, should he have reason to believe that the accounts are being used for a purpose for which the Savings Bank was not intended.

BUSINESS HOURS.

146. Post Office Savings Banks will be open for the transaction of business between the hours of noon and 4 p.m. every day, with the exception of Sundays, Christmas Day, New Year's Day, Good Friday and the King's Birthday. These hours may, under the authority of the Postmaster-General, be altered to suit local circumstances.

POSTAL OFFICIALS BOUND TO SECRET.

147. The officers of the Post Office engaged in the receipt or payment of deposits are not allowed to disclose the name of any depositor, or the amount deposited or withdrawn by him, except to the Postmaster-General or other officers of the Department engaged in carrying out the provisions of these rules.

PERSONS WHO MAY DEPOSIT MONEY.

148. Any person may deposit money in a Post Office Savings Bank (a) on his own behalf, or (b) on behalf of any minor relative, or (c) on behalf of any minor of whom he is the guardian.

Exception.—A Government official may not open an account on behalf of a minor of whom he is the official guardian.

Minors are allowed to deposit money in their own names, and women, whether married or single, are allowed to deposit money in their own names, but subject, in the case of married women, to the limitation laid down in para. 149 (3).

LIMITATIONS AS TO OPENING ACCOUNTS AND DEPOSITS.

149. (1) Any person may open an account in his own name, but may not have more than one such account open.

(2) In addition to the account which a person may open in his own name, he may open any number of separate accounts on behalf of any minors who are related to him or of whom he is the guardian, provided that he shall not open more than one account on behalf of each such minor.

(3) The fact that an account has been opened on behalf of a minor shall not prevent such minor from opening an account in his own name; nor shall the fact that a married man has an account in his own name prevent his wife from opening a separate account in her own name, provided the money to be deposited by her is her own property or earnings.

Notes.—If, through any cause, an account has been opened in contravention of the provisions of this rule, the depositor shall not be entitled to claim interest on the account and the Accountant-General may require him to close it at once.

Deposits in trust are not allowed and cannot be recognised.

150. Money cannot be deposited in the name of two or more persons jointly, provided that nothing in this rule shall prevent the deposit of money in the name of a known firm.

151. The smallest sum of money that can be deposited at any time is four annas; and no sum can be deposited that includes a fraction of an anna.

152. The total amount which may be deposited in any one official year—from the 1st April to the 31st of March inclusive—may not exceed Rs. 1,500, of which not more than

Rs. 500 may remain at call. The excess above Rs. 500, together with any further sum at the depositor's credit, which he may wish to invest (being a sum in whole rupees and not less than Rs. 10 in all), will be invested for him in Government Securities (under para. 174).

Example.—A depositor has deposited Rs. 500 from April 1st to November 10th, and on November 20th brings Rs. 5 As. 3 to the Post Office to be deposited. The Rs. 5 As. 3 will be accepted as a deposit provided that the depositor at the same time signs a form of application requesting that out of the Rs. 505 As. 3 any specified sum in whole rupees, not being less than Rs. 10 (e.g., Rs. 10 or Rs. 11) may be invested for him. In this way the depositor may continue to make deposits up to Rs. 1,500 in all during the year.

Note 1.—The annual limit of Rs. 500 for deposits remaining at call will be reckoned irrespective of withdrawals, that is, withdrawals will not be deducted in applying the limit. But amounts (1) deposited for purposes of immediate investment will be deducted in applying the limit.

The proceeds of the sale of Government securities credited to a depositor's account [under para. 175 (3)], will also be deducted in applying the limit in all cases in which such proceeds are withdrawn before interest becomes due on them (under para. 161).

Note 2.—When an account is transferred from one Post Office Savings Bank to another, only such portion of it as was deposited in the current official year shall be included in calculating the limit for Rs. 500.

153. The total amount which a depositor may have at any time, whether at call, or invested, exclusive of interest for the current year, is Rs. 5,000 in the case of an adult and Rs. 4,000 in the case of an account opened on behalf of a minor by his relative or guardian, provided that, out of these total amounts of Rs. 5,000 and Rs. 4,000, not more than Rs. 2,000, in the case of an adult and Rs. 1,000 in the case of a minor may remain at call and that the balance in excess of these sums (i.e., in excess of Rs. 2,000 or Rs. 1,000 as the case may be) is invested on behalf of the depositor under para. 174. Provided also that only sums in whole rupees and not less than Rs. 10 can be invested at any time.

Example.—A depositor has Rs. 1,950 at his credit in the Savings Bank and brings Rs. 58 As. 5 to be deposited. The Rs. 58 As. 5 will be accepted as a deposit provided that the depositor at the same time signs a form of application requesting that out of the Rs. 2,008 As. 5 any specified sum in whole rupees not being less than Rs. 10 may be invested for him. In this way the depositor may continue to make deposits up to Rs. 1,500 each year until his deposit at call and his investments amount together to Rs. 5,000.

Note.—The maximum balance of Rs. 2,000 (or Rs. 1,000 if the account was opened on behalf of a minor) which may remain at call, may be increased by the addition from year to year of interest calculated on the maximum limit of Rs. 2,000, or Rs. 1,000, as the case may be, and also by interest on investments credited under para. 177.

POWERS TO WITHDRAW MONEY AND LIMITATIONS AS TO WITHDRAWALS.

154. A depositor may withdraw money from his account only once a week. By the term "week" is meant the period from Monday to Saturday, both days inclusive. A depositor may, therefore, withdraw money from his account on Saturday and again on the following Monday.

155. A minor may only withdraw money deposited by him in his own name. Money deposited on behalf of a minor may only be withdrawn during his minority by his guardian.

156. Women, whether married or single, may withdraw money deposited by them in their own names; and married women may also withdraw money deposited by them as single women, in their own names, their marriage notwithstanding. The fact that a female minor, on whose behalf money has been deposited, is married, or becomes married after the account has been opened on her own behalf, shall not prevent her from withdrawing the money so deposited on attaining majority.

157. A depositor may not withdraw a smaller sum than four annas, and he may not withdraw any sum which includes a fraction of an anna unless it be to close his account, in which case he may withdraw the whole balance at his credit.

HOW TO OPEN AN ACCOUNT.

158. Any person wishing to open an account should apply to the nearest Post Office that is a Savings Bank. Application need not necessarily be made in person; but the applicant must state his name, his occupation or profession, and his place of residence. If he be a Native he must also state his father's name and caste.

159. The intending depositor must sign a declaration that he has read and accepted the Post Office Savings Bank's rules.

160. Women may open accounts in their own names through their agents, or, if they are married, through their husbands or agents. The agent or husband will be required to produce a letter of authority in the prescribed form from the depositor and to sign the declaration that the depositor understands and accepts the rules. No postal official may under this rule be the agent of any woman, except his own wife, in respect of an account held in the post office in which he is employed.

161. When the declaration is presented, duly signed, with the amount of the first deposit, or when it has been signed by a depositor attending in person to make a deposit, the amount of the deposit will be entered in a Pass-book which will be supplied to the depositor and the entry will be initialled by the Postmaster and stamped with the office stamp. The depositor will be required to sign a receipt for the Pass-book.

PASS-BOOK AND ITS IMPORTANCE.

162. The Pass-book will show, in the vernacular of the district or in English, as the depositor may wish, the number of his account, with the name of the office from which the book is issued, his own name, occupation or profession, and address. No deposit can be made and no money can be withdrawn from an account without its production, and the Post Office will not be responsible for any sum not acknowledged in the pass-book. Depositors should carefully examine their books before leaving the office, and ascertain that the entries are correct. They should also be careful to keep their pass-books in their own possession, as the Post Office does not accept responsibility for any loss caused to a depositor, if, through his negligence, any person shall obtain possession of the book and fraudulently obtain the payment of any sum belonging to the depositor.

Note.—In the case of an account opened at a sub or branch Post Office, the pass-book will be sent to the head office as soon as possible after the 15th June, when the pass-book is presented for entry of interest. The depositor will obtain a receipt in exchange for his pass-book, and he must give up this receipt when his pass-book is returned to him.

LOSS OF PASS-BOOK.

163. No charge will be made for the pass-book at first supplied to a depositor, or for any book issued to him in continuation of the original book which will be retained by the Post Office. But if a pass-book be lost or spoiled (except under circumstances over which the depositor has no control), or if an account be re-opened with the permission of the Accountant-General (under para. 169), before the expiration of three months from the date of closure, the depositor will have to pay one rupee for a fresh book.

MODE OF DEPOSITING MONEY AFTER AN ACCOUNT HAS BEEN OPENED.

164. (1) A depositor may deposit money at the Post Office at which his account stands as often as he wishes, so long as the prescribed yearly and maximum limits are not exceeded. All that he is required to do is to take or send the amount to be deposited with his pass-book. The amount of his deposit will be entered in the pass-book and the balance struck. The entry will then be initialled by the postmaster and stamped with the date-stamp of the office, and the pass-book returned to the depositor or his messenger.

A depositor whose account stands at a head office may deposit money at any of the sub-offices under that head office which are Savings Banks, and a depositor whose account stands at a sub-office may deposit money at the head office of the sub-office or at any of the sub-offices of that head office which are Savings Banks. Similarly, a depositor at a branch office may deposit money at the office to which it is subordinate and if such office is a sub-office, he may also deposit money at the head office of such sub-office. With these exceptions a depositor may deposit money only at the Post Office at which his account stands.

Note 1.—No deposit may be made to an account which has been ordered to be closed.

2.—No deposit may be made to an account opened on behalf of a minor after he has attained the age of 18 years.

MODE OF WITHDRAWING MONEY.

165. When a depositor wishes to withdraw money, he must present his pass-book personally or by agent at the Post Office at which his account stands, with a printed form of application for withdrawal, which can be obtained at the Post Office, signed by himself, and showing the balance at his credit and the amount which he wishes to withdraw. If the pass-book and application for withdrawal are presented by an agent, the name and signature of the agent should be entered in the application for withdrawal before it leaves the depositor's custody, and in any case, the entries must be made before the application is presented at the Post Office. If the depositor is unable to write, he must attend personally and affix his mark or seal to the application. Should he be absolutely unable to attend personally, he must have his mark or seal affixed to the application and attested by some respectable witness, and the postmaster will make payment to the person presenting this application with the pass-book, after satisfying himself, by such enquiry as he may think proper, of the inability of the depositor to attend and of the genuine character of the application. The mark or seal of the depositor or messenger who cannot write must, at the time he receives payment of a withdrawal, be attested by the signature of a respectable witness (other than the paying officer) who is personally acquainted with the depositor or messenger (as the case may be) and also known to the postmaster or some member of the Post Office establishment.

Note.—If a depositor desires to withdraw the whole of the balance shown to his credit in his pass-book, he will be required to close his account.

In the case of withdrawals from the accounts of female depositors by their authorised agents, the agent must sign the following certificate on the application for withdrawal:—
“Certified that the depositor is on this day alive and sane.”

INTEREST.

166. Interest will be allowed, until further orders, at the rate of 3 per cent. per annum on all deposits, subject to the condition stated in this Rule. This interest will be allowed for each calendar month on the lowest balance at credit of an account between the close of the fourth day and the end of the month: provided that interest shall be allowed only on sums of complete rupees, and that it shall be calculated to the nearest pie: provided also that interest shall not be allowed on any sum in excess of Rs. 2,000 (or of Rs. 1,000 if the account was opened on behalf of a minor).

Note 1.—When an order has been issued to close an account, interest ceases to accrue from the first day of the month in which the order is issued.

2.—Interest on the account of a deceased depositor ceases to accrue from the first day of the month in which notice is issued to the person or persons recognised by the Postmaster-General as entitled to receive the balance of the account. No interest will be allowed on money deposited after his death in the account of a deceased depositor.

TRANSFER OF ACCOUNTS.

167. A depositor may have his account transferred, free of charge, to any Post Office that is a Savings Bank, provided that the account shall have been in existence for three months previous to the transfer. If he should wish to transfer his account, he must present his pass-book personally, or send it to the post office, and must in either case make a written application for transfer. The pass-book will be returned to the depositor, who should present it as soon as possible at the Post Office to which his account has been transferred, with a specimen of his signature.

Note 1.—Accounts cannot be transferred from one head Post Office to another between the 16th and 31st March, both days inclusive.

2.—Accounts ordered to be closed cannot be transferred; nor can an account be transferred after the death of the depositor.

3.—The pass-book of a depositor in a sub or branch Post Office who wishes to transfer his account will first be sent to the head office to have the orders authorising the transfer entered in it.

CLOSING AN ACCOUNT.

168. When a depositor wishes to close his account, he must present his pass-book with a form of application for withdrawal of the amount shown at his credit in the pass-book. The amount of interest due on his account up to the end of the calendar month preceding the date of presentation will be entered in the pass-book and a final balance struck. The amount will then be paid to the depositor and his receipt taken on the warrant of payment. The pass-book will be retained in the Post Office. If the application to close an account be presented at a sub or branch office, the same procedure will be followed as in the case of an ordinary withdrawal, except that the pass-book will be retained and that the application and pass-book will, when interest is due, be in all cases sent to the head office for the warrant of payment.

Note.—The rule (see para. 154) which prevents a depositor from withdrawing money from his account more than once a week does not apply to the closing of an account, that is to say, an account may be closed within the week in which a withdrawal has been made.

RE-OPENING AN ACCOUNT.

169. A depositor who has once closed an account cannot open another account until after the expiration of three months from the date of closure without the permission of the Accountant-General, and a depositor whose account has been closed by order cannot open a fresh account in any case without the permission of the authority which ordered it to be closed.

DEAD ACCOUNTS.

170. Accounts in respect of which no transactions have taken place for the period specified below will be treated as "dead" and no subsequent deposit or withdrawal will be allowed in the case of such accounts without the previous orders of the Accountant-General.

When the balance of the account	And when no sum has been deposited or withdrawn and no interest added for does not exceed Rs. 10	3 complete years.
" " " 100	6 " "
" exceeds " " 100	12 " "

Note 1.—By "transaction" in this rule is meant not only a deposit or withdrawal but also the presentation of the pass-book for the entry of interest.

2.—A dead account does not lapse to Government, but may be re-opened at any time on the application of the depositor, and the interest that has accumulated will be added to the principal when the account is revived.

PROCEDURE TO BE FOLLOWED IN CASES OF SUCCESSION AND GUARDIANSHIP.

171. If a depositor should die, leaving in a Post Office Savings Bank a balance, whether in cash or in Government securities, or both, not exceeding one thousand rupees, and if probate of his will or letters of administration of his estate or a certificate granted under Act VII of 1889, be not produced to the Postmaster-General within three months of the death of the said depositor, the Postmaster-General may pay the said sum of money to any person appearing to him to be entitled to receive it, or to administer the estate of the deceased.

Note.—If the deceased depositor was a minor in whose name more accounts than one stand open, the balances at credit of those accounts will be added together for the purpose of applying this rule.

172. Balances, whether in cash or Government securities, or both, in excess of Rs. 1,000 may only be paid on production of probate, letters of administration, or a certificate under Act VII of 1889, unless otherwise ordered by the Director-General, who has discretionary power to dispense with such evidence in cases where he is of opinion that to require it would cause hardship, and that to dispense with it would involve no appreciable risk. If the balance in excess of Rs. 1,000 be that of a cash deposit account opened on behalf of a deceased minor—the balance of which, excluding interest, cannot under these rules exceed Rs. 1,000—the discretionary power may be exercised even if the condition of hardship be not established.

173. If any depositor becomes insane or otherwise incapable of managing his affairs, and if such insanity or incapacity be proved to the satisfaction of the Postmaster-General, then the Postmaster-General may, from time to time, make payment out of the deposits to any proper person. Where a Committee or Manager has been duly appointed to administer the depositor's estate, nothing in this rule authorises payments to any person other than such Committee or Manager.

PURCHASE OF GOVERNMENT SECURITIES.

174. (1) Any person whether previously a depositor in the Post Office Savings Bank or not may invest through the Post Office in Government securities, in one of the 3½ per cent. loans, specifying in his application either the sum to be invested or the nominal value of the security to be purchased: provided that the sum to be invested or the nominal value of securities to be purchased shall be in whole rupees, and not less than Rs. 10: provided also that the total amount invested in any one financial year from the 1st of April to the 31st of March shall not exceed Rs. 1,000 and that the total amount invested through the Post Office, after deducting any sum sold through the Post Office, shall not exceed Rs. 5,000 in the case of an adult or Rs. 4,000 in the case of a minor.

(2) If the nominal value of securities purchased is less than Rs. 100, an Investment Certificate will be issued. If the nominal value of the securities is Rs. 100, the investor may have either an Investment Certificate or a whole piece of Government paper for the amount, and if the nominal value of the securities is above Rs. 100, he may have either (i) an Investment Certificate for the entire amount, or (ii) whole pieces of Government paper of Rs. 100, or any multiple of Rs. 100, and an Investment Certificate for the remainder, provided that the remainder is not less than Rs. 10.

Note.—In the case of all applications for the purchase of Government securities, either the whole or a portion of the balance standing at the credit of the depositor's Savings Bank account may be made available, or a special deposit made, for the purpose of providing the amount required.

(3) When whole pieces of Government paper are required, the investor has the option of requesting, in his application, that the paper should remain in the custody of the Accountant-General or be delivered to him. In the former case, a receipt from the Accountant-General for the paper will be delivered to the investor. When paper is to be delivered to the investor, it will be encased for payment of interest at the district treasury and be forwarded to the Post Office for delivery to the investor. In the case of Government securities represented by an Investment Certificate, the securities will remain in the custody of the Accountant-General, and no paper can be delivered to the investor or encased for payment of interest at the treasury.

(4) Applications for Investment Certificates and Government Promissory Notes must be made on separate forms of application prescribed by the Director-General. If the applicant is already a depositor in the Post Office Savings Bank, he should present his pass-book with his application, if he is not already a depositor, a pass-book will be prepared and delivered to him.

(5) When an application for an Investment Certificate is presented at a head or a sub-post office, an Investment Certificate, signed by the head or sub-postmaster as the case may be, will be handed to the investor across the counter of the Post Office. When the application is presented at a branch Post Office, an Investment Certificate will be obtained for the investor from the head office or the sub-office to which the branch office is subordinate. The Accountant-General will fix the rate at which Government securities represented by Investment Certificates can be purchased. This rate will be communicated to head and sub-postmasters and will remain in force until it is changed by the Accountant-General.

(6) Two or more Investment Certificates may, at any time, be exchanged for a single certificate of their aggregate value, also one or more Investment certificates of the nominal value of not less than Rs. 100 may at any time be exchanged for a whole piece of Government paper of Rs. 100 or any multiple of Rs. 100. The certificates to be exchanged must be presented at the local post office, entered in the appropriate form of application prescribed for the purpose by the Director-General.

Separate forms are provided for exchanging—

(a) two or more certificates for a single one, and

(b) one or more certificates for a whole piece of Government paper.

(7) Applications for Government Promissory Notes presented at any Post Office will be forwarded to the Accountant-General at Calcutta, who will take the necessary steps for the purchase. The investor will be charged with the actual price paid for the Government Promissory Notes. The entries in connection with the investment will be noted in the pass-book by the head office.

Notes.—The annual limit of Rs. 1,000 and the maximum limit of Rs. 5,000 for investments through the Post Office do not apply to investments in connection with public accounts, with regimental, police, and other conjoint accounts, or with security deposit accounts.

SALE OF GOVERNMENT SECURITIES.

175. (1) Any depositor may apply for sale through the Post Office of the whole, or of any portion, of any Government securities which may have been purchased for him through the Post Office, whether held by himself or held for him by the Accountant-General: provided that, if only a portion of the Government securities is specified for sale, the nominal value of this portion must not be (1) less than Rs. 10, or (2) such a sum as would leave a balance of securities of the nominal value of less than Rs. 10.

(2) Applications for the sale of (i) Investment Certificates, and (ii) Government Promissory Notes, must be made on separate forms of application prescribed by the Director-General of the Post Office. In the former case, the application must be accompanied by the Investment Certificates, and the securities will be sold at the same rate as that fixed by the Accountant-General for the purchase of securities represented by Investment Certificates. In the latter case, such of the Government Promissory Notes to be sold as are not held by the Accountant-General must be presented with the application endorsed in favour of the Accountant-General and these, together with any Government Promissory Notes in the custody of that officer which are specified for sale, will be sold at the current market rate.

(3) The results of sale will be intimated to the depositor by the Accountant-General through the postmaster concerned with the least possible delay after the receipt of the application. The proceeds of sale, together with any interest that may be due, will be credited to the depositor's Savings Bank account in the first instance and, if the annual or total cash limit of his account is thereby exceeded, the excess will not bear interest and must be withdrawn by the depositor. When, however, such sale proceeds are withdrawn by the depositor before interest becomes due on them, they will not be taken into account in calculating the annual and total cash limits of the account.

Notes.—Securities purchased in the name and on behalf of a minor cannot be sold during the minority except by the minor's legally constituted guardian, and the definition of guardian given below does not apply to the sale of such securities.

Guardian includes a father, or, if the father be dead, a mother, or, if both parents be dead, and no guardian of the minor has been appointed, by will or deed or under any enactment for the time being in force in British India, any adult relation of the minor with or by whom the minor is residing or being maintained.

SALE CUSTODY OF GOVERNMENT PROMISSORY NOTES.

176. (1) A depositor may tender at a Post Office Savings Bank for safe custody by the Accountant-General, Government Promissory Notes which have been purchased for him through the Post Office. The tender must be made on the form prescribed by the Director-General, and the notes tendered must be endorsed to the Accountant-General. A receipt for the notes from the Accountant-General will be delivered to the depositor.

(2) A depositor may also, at any time, apply through the local Post Office for the delivery to him of any Government Promissory Notes which have been purchased for him through the Post Office. The application must be made in the form prescribed by the Director-General. The notes will be delivered to the depositor on his surrendering the receipt originally granted to him by the Accountant-General, duly endorsed in acknowledgment of his having received back the notes.

INTEREST ON GOVERNMENT SECURITIES.

177. So long as Government securities purchased through the Post Office remain in the custody of the Accountant-General, under paras 174 (3) and 176 (1), interest when due* will be drawn and advised to the local Post Office Savings Bank by the Accountant-General, for credit to the depositor's account. If the annual or total cash limit of the account is exceeded, the excess will not bear interest.

178. No fee, commission, or brokerage of any kind is charged for the purchase, sale, safe custody or delivery out of custody of Government securities bought through the Post Office or for the realisation and remittance of interest on such securities. So long as Government securities purchased through the Post Office remain in the custody of the Accountant-General, under paras 174 (3) and 176 (1), the interest thereon is exempt from income tax.

POWER OF GOVERNMENT TO ALTER RULES.

179. The Governor-General in Council reserves the right to alter or add to these rules at any time.

* NOTE.—In the case of Government securities represented by Investment Certificates, interest will, for the present, be due on the 1st May and 1st November of each year.

GENERAL RULES FOR DEFERRED FOREIGN TELEGRAMS.

The sender of a private telegram may obtain the benefit of a reduction of 50 per cent. in the charge on condition that the telegram is written in plain language, as defined hereafter, and that it is not transmitted until after telegrams charged for at full rates or at Press rates. Such telegrams are termed "Deferred Foreign telegrams."

FORM OF HANDING IN.

Declaration by sender.—The sender of a Deferred Foreign telegram must sign, when handing in the telegram, a declaration giving a formal assurance that the text is entirely in plain language and that it does not bear any meaning other than that which appears on the face of it. The declaration must specify the language in which the telegram is written.

Supplementary instructions.—The sender of a Deferred Foreign telegram at half rates must insert before the address the supplementary instruction L C completed as is laid down in Rule 363. This instruction is counted in the number of words charged for.

Form.—The text of Deferred Foreign telegrams must be written entirely in plain language and must not contain any figures, commercial marks, groups of letters, or groups of signs of punctuation, or abbreviated expressions (Rule 163). Any telegram containing a succession of isolated letters, groups of signs of punctuation, numbers, names or words without connected meaning and, generally, any telegram which does not in the opinion of the Telegraph service bear any intelligible meaning on the face of it, is not admitted to the benefit of half rates. Registered addresses are accepted if accompanied by a text which makes their nature clear. Numbers must be written in words.* Telegrams without text are not admitted.

Deferred Foreign telegrams at half rates must be written in French, or in one of the languages† of the country of origin or destination specified by the Administrations concerned and authorised for International telegraphic correspondence in plain language. According as the language employed is (1) French, (2) a language of the country of origin, or (3) a language of the country of destination, the supplementary instruction L C is to be completed and becomes L C F, L C O or L C D. The use of two or more languages in the same telegram is not allowed.

The wording of the address and the signature of these telegrams are governed by the rules in force for full rate telegrams.

Counting of words.—The words in the address, in the text and in the signature are counted according to the rules in force for full rate telegrams.

Places between which Deferred telegrams are admitted.—The countries to which Deferred Foreign telegrams may be sent at half rates are indicated in the tariff tables published in the Telegraph Guide.

Application of full rates to irregular telegrams.—The Telegraph Administrations reserve the right to refuse to receive at half rates any telegram which, in their opinion, is not in accordance with the foregoing conditions.

When the delivery office observes that a telegram bearing one of the supplementary instructions L C F or L C D does not comply with these conditions, the telegram is treated in the same way as one containing irregular combinations (Rules 231 and 232).

Order of transmission.—Deferred Foreign telegrams ‡ are only transmitted after Private telegrams at full rates and Press telegrams. Those which have not reached their destination within a period of 24 hours from the time of handing in are transmitted in turn with telegrams charged for at the full rate.

Delivery.—Deferred Foreign telegrams at half rates are delivered in turn with telegrams at full rates.

* Figures when they occur in the address of a Deferred Foreign telegram, should be permitted in ordinary numerical form and charged for accordingly.

† The languages of the country of origin are English, French or Portuguese in the case of India (Portuguese suspended.) The additional languages permissible as the languages of the country of destination are indicated in Section IV of Indian Telegraph Guide.

‡ Deferred foreign telegrams are accepted during the working hours of offices on Sundays and Holidays.

Special services.—Deferred Foreign telegrams at half rates may bear any of the supplementary instructions referred to in Rule 174(d). The rates applicable to the various special services desired by the sender of a Deferred Foreign telegram (paid service telegrams, conditions of delivery, RP, *TC, &c.) are the same as in the case of full rate telegrams. The corresponding supplementary instructions are charged for at half rates. Telegraph money orders and maritime telegrams † are not admitted at the deferred rate.

Refunds.—The period during which a refund can be claimed on account of delay in the case of a Deferred Foreign telegram is fixed at 72 hours [Rule 348(c)].

General Conditions.—Deferred Foreign telegrams at half rates are subject to all the conditions of the International Telegraph regulations which do not conflict with the foregoing conditions.

* If the sender of a deferred foreign telegram wishes to prepay a reply of a certain number of words at the deferred rate, the number to be announced in the telegram must invariably be that at the full rate, e. g., if he wishes to prepay a reply of six words at the deferred rate, the indication in the telegram must be RP6 and the addressee will be able to send a reply of either three words by the full rate service or six words by the half rate service. Replies at the deferred rate can only be prepaid on an even number of words, such as 6, 8, 10, 12, etc.

† Maritime telegrams are telegrams exchanged with ships at sea through the intermediary of semaphores or radio-telegraph stations established on land or on board ships permanently moored (coast stations).

Telegrams exchanged by means of semaphores are called semaphore telegrams; telegrams exchanged through coast radio-telegraph stations are designated radio-telegrams.

RULES FOR INLAND TELEGRAMS.

7. Inland telegrams are those which are sent to, or received from, places within Indian limits. Such telegrams are subject to the regulations laid down from time to time by the Government of India.

8. The accuracy of telegrams is not guaranteed, and the Sender and Receiver must accept all risks arising from non-delivery, errors, or delays.

9. Legibility and Forms.—To secure accuracy and rapidity of transmission, Senders of telegrams are advised to write them in a clear and unmistakable hand, and on the proper forms, which can be obtained free of charge at all Telegraph and Post Offices. (Rule 4). Telegrams written on plain paper are, however, accepted at all Offices.

NOTE.—Books containing 100 forms for Inland telegrams can be purchased at the principal Government Telegraph Offices; price with counterfoils, two annas and without counterfoils, one anna each.

10. Offices where Inland telegrams are accepted.—Inland telegrams are accepted at all Telegraph Offices and Post Offices in India, except at some Branch Post Offices. They are also accepted under certain conditions at Military Field Telegraph Offices.

11. Postal Combined Offices are Postal Telegraph Offices in telegraph connection with other Telegraph Offices or Post Offices which receive Inland telegrams, and despatch them by telegraph messenger without additional charge to the nearest Telegraph Office for onward transmission.

12. Postal Receiving Offices are Post Offices which are not in telegraph connection with Telegraph Offices, but which receive Inland telegrams and despatch them by post to a Telegraph Office. Such telegrams are sent registered and postage free by first post.

13. Inland telegrams may be also posted by the Sender to the nearest Telegraph Office, together with Postage stamps sufficient for their payment, and in this case a receipt for the amount will be returned post free to the Sender. In the case of a telegram sent by post to a Telegraph Office, under the preceding or this rule, with stamps of insufficient value, the deficiency will be recovered from the addressee (Rule 72).

14. Licensed Offices.—All paid telegrams, except Press (Rule 135), can be sent from any Government Telegraph Office to any Licensed Telegraph Office which is open for paid traffic (Section VI), or vice versa, without additional charge.

15. Objectionable telegrams.—Telegraph Offices are required to refuse to accept any telegram which may be of a decidedly objectionable or alarming character. Should the character of a telegram be open to doubt, the matter shall be referred to a Secretary to Government if the telegram be tendered at a seat of Government, or to the Chief Civil or Military Officer if tendered at another place.

* For British Indian and Colonial Government Telegrams.

16. General Division.—Inland telegrams are divided into four classes :—

- (a) State (or Government) telegrams (Rules 36 to 42).
- (b) Service telegrams (Rules 43 to 46).
- (c) Private telegrams.
- (d) Press telegrams (Rules 129 to 136).

All these telegrams are transmitted according to their classification, Express or Ordinary (see Rules 61, 62 and 129) and in the order in which tendered.

MODE OF WRITING, ETC.

17. Characters.—Inland telegrams must be legibly written in characters which have their equivalents in telegraphic signals. These characters or signals are the following :—

(a) Letters.

A, B, C, D, E, F, G, H, I, J, K, L, M, N, O, P, Q, R, S, T, U, V, W, X, Y, Z.

The combination "ch" counts as one character of the Morse Alphabet, except in Code and Letter cipher (Rules 18d and 37) when it counts as two.

(b) Figures.

1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 0.

There are no telegraphic signals for numerals, such as I, II, etc.

(c) Stops and other signs.

Full-stop (.), Comma (,), Semicolon (;), Colon (:), Note of interrogation (?), Note of exclamation (!), Apostrophe ('), Hyphen or dash (-), Brackets or sign of a parenthesis (), Inverted commas (" "), Bars of division (/), or (—), Underline.

(d) Special Instructions and Conventional Signs.

(See Rules 21 to 23.)

18. Language, etc.—The text of Private telegrams may be in Plain language, in Code language, or in Figure Cipher, or partly in one and partly in the other. Letter Cipher is not admitted in Private telegrams.

- (a) Plain language is that which offers an intelligible sense in English, or in any foreign language, or in any of the Vernacular languages subject to the conditions of Rule 17.
- (b) By "Telegram in Plain language" is understood those of which the text is written entirely in Plain language. Nevertheless, the presence of Code addresses, Exchange quotations, Commercial marks, letters representing the signals of the International Code of Signals employed in maritime telegrams, of abbreviated expressions currently used in ordinary or commercial correspondence, such as exp., job., ch., cif., cas., sup., c/o., b/l., mo., vpp., am., pm., &c., or any other analogous expression, the meaning of which is understood at the office of origin, does not alter the character of a telegram in Plain language.
- (c) If in telegrams in which the text is written entirely in Plain language, any single word, or authorised compound contains more than 15 characters according to the Morse alphabet, the excess is counted separately as one word.
- (d) Code language is that which is composed of words which do not form intelligible phrases in one or more of the languages authorised for telegraphic correspondence in Plain language. The words, whether genuine or artificial, must be formed of syllables, capable of pronunciation according to the current usage of one of the following languages:—English, French, German, Italian, Dutch, Spanish, Portuguese, or Latin. Artificial words must not contain the accented letters ä, å, Æ, Æ, ö, ü. Genuine vernacular words are also admissible.

- (e) Words in Code language must not contain more than ten characters according to the Morse alphabet (Rule 17), the combinations ae, aa, ao, oe, ue, being counted as two letters each. The combination "oh" is also counted as two letters in artificial words.
- (f) Combinations which do not fulfil the conditions of clauses (d) and (e) are not admitted, neither are compounds composed of two or more words in Plain language contrary to the usage of the language. (See also Rule 51, et seq.)
- (g) Figure Cipher language is that which is composed either of Arabic figures or of groups or series of Arabic figures having a secret meaning.
- (h) Mixed Telegrams—Words in Plain language inserted in the text of a mixed telegram, i.e., a telegram composed of words in Plain language and words in Code language must not contain more than ten characters according to the Morse alphabet, and any excess is counted separately as one word in each case.
- (i) If the mixed telegram contains, in addition, Cipher language, the passages in Cipher are counted according to the stipulations of Rule 55.
- (j) If the mixed telegram is composed only of passages in Plain language and of passages in Cipher language, the passages in Plain language are counted according to the stipulations of clause (c), and the passages in Cipher language according to those of Rule 55.
- (k) The Address or Sender's name in telegrams of which the text is written wholly or partly in Code language is charged according to the stipulations of Rule 53 and clause (c).
- (l) Registered Abbreviated Addresses are treated as Plain language [clause (c)] when occurring in the Address or as the Sender's name in both Plain and Code language telegrams, and also in the text of Plain language telegrams. When in the text of a Code language telegram, they are treated according to clause (h).

19. Erasure, etc.—Every interlineation or insertion, reference, erasure, or re-written word, must be authenticated by the Sender or by his representative.

20. Parts of a telegram.—The different parts forming an Inland telegram should be written in the following order:—

(a) The Address (Rules 24 to 33). (b) The Text. (c) The Sender's name (Rule 33)

21. Special Instructions—The Sender should write upon the form in the space provided, his instructions regarding prepayment of reply, if any. Other instructions regarding delivery at destination, acknowledgment of receipt, collation (or repetition), open-delivery, or delivery only to the Addressee himself, etc., may be written in any blank space at the end of the text of the telegram (But see Rules 116, 119 and 120).

22. In the case of a Multiple telegram, the Special Instructions which concern each Addressee should be written immediately before his name; but in the case of a Collated Multiple telegram, it is sufficient if the Special Instruction for Collation precedes the first Address.

23. Special Instructions may be written in the abbreviated forms given in Rule 17 (d). In this case the counter clerk should place each of them between double dashes, thus = T.C. = The Special Instructions are not charged for.

24. Address.—Every address must contain at least two words, the first designating the addressee, the second indicating the name of the Telegraph office of destination, (or the office to which the telegram is to be transmitted). The name of the office of destination is counted as one word, irrespective of the actual number of words and initials which it may contain [Rule 53 (a)]. For instance, "Basin Bridge Junction M. S. M." will count as one word. Care should be taken that the office to which the telegram is to be transmitted is written as given in the list of Telegraph Offices published in the Telegraph Guide (Section VI), but the letters, names of districts and provinces, printed in italics after the names of offices, need not be given.

25. The Address must contain all the particulars necessary to ensure the delivery of the telegram without search or enquiry.

26. For large towns the name of the street and the number of the house must be given, or in the absence of these particulars, the profession of the Addressee or any other relevant information.

27. Even for small towns, the name of the Addressee must, if possible, be accompanied by additional particulars to guide the office of destination in effecting delivery.

28. When a telegram is addressed to one person, care of another, the Address must contain immediately after the name of the real addressee, the words "care of," "C/o," or any other equivalent.

29. Insufficient Address—Telegrams, the addressees of which do not satisfy the conditions laid down in the preceding rules, are nevertheless accepted and transmitted at the Sender's risk.

30. In all cases, the Sender has to bear the consequence of an insufficient Address which, after the telegram has been despatched, can neither be completed nor altered, except by a paid Service Advice (Rule 44).

31. Abbreviated Addressee.—The Addressee's name and Address may be written in an abbreviated form. But the right of an Addressee to have a telegram thus addressed, delivered to him, is subject to an arrangement made between such Addressee and the Telegraph Office which has to deliver the telegram.

32. Abbreviated Addresses * may be registered under the following conditions :—

(1) Application for the registration of such addresses† should be made to the officer in charge of the Telegraph Office at which it is proposed to register an address. The Telegraph Department cannot arrange for the registration of an address at any place in a foreign country.

(2) No address may consist of more than one word in addition to the name of the town where registration is effected.

(3) The word should contain not more than ten letters, and should be easy to read and easy to telegraph. Proper names can only in rare cases be accepted, and in no case can a proper name be registered for a person of a different name.

(4) The names of professions, trades, countries, states, towns, telegraph stations, well-known streets, and registered newspapers may not be used as registered addresses.

(5) Numbers may not be registered.

(6) To prevent inconvenience to the public, the Telegraph Department has to reject words which, either in writing or in telegraph symbols, so closely resemble other registered words as to be liable to be mistaken for them. It is desirable, therefore, that any application should not merely offer one word for acceptance, but should give several words from which a selection may be made.

(7) No address may be registered in one town for the delivery of telegrams in another town.

(8) A registered address is available for telegrams from other countries, as well as for inland telegrams.

(9) The Telegraph Department reserves to itself the right to cancel an address. In such a case a part of the registration fee, proportionate to the unexpired period, is returned, or a new address may be substituted free of charge for the one cancelled.

(10) In the event of a change in the title of a firm for which an address is recorded, the consent, in writing, of all the partners of the firm must be produced before the records can be altered.

(11) The fee for the registration of an abbreviated address, which should be paid to the officer in charge of the Telegraph Office at which registration is effected, is Rs. 10 yearly, or Rs. 5 half-yearly, payable in advance. When, however, a number of abbreviated addresses are registered by a single firm either at the same Telegraph Office or at different Telegraph Offices, ‡ the fee for registration is :—

For the first ten abbreviated addresses	..	...	Rs. 10 each.
For the second ten abbreviated addresses	...	...	" 5 "
For each subsequent abbreviated address	...	...	" 3 "

(12) An additional fee, equal to half the registration fee, is charged for every change of the word selected, or for every transfer to another Telegraph Office, within the period of registration, but not for change of residence within the delivery limits of the registering office, or for change of name or title of firm or person, so long as the identity is the same (see Condition 10), and it is not a case of transfer from one firm to another; if it is a case of such transfer, the full fees are charged.*

* The List of Public Abbreviated Address of Firms and Individuals, price two annas per copy, can be obtained from the principal Telegraph Offices or from the Office of the Director-General of Posts and Telegraphs, Publication Branch, Calcutta.

† Abbreviated addresses may be registered at all Licensed Telegraph offices opened for paid telegraph traffic.

‡ When more than ten addresses are required to be registered at the same Telegraph Office or at different Telegraph Offices, application should be made to the Deputy Accountant-General, Telegraph Check Office.

* An Abbreviated Address, registered by a firm for "all time" under the rules in force prior to 1st July 1904, cannot be transferred to any other firm as an "all time" address. If it is transferred, it will have to be registered yearly and paid for as laid down in Condition 11. The fee of five rupees is charged for every change of the word or words selected for an Abbreviated Address registered for "all time" or for transfer of such address to another Telegraph Office.

Managers of Courts of Wards come under this class.

(13) The Telegraph Department accepts no responsibility in respect of the delivery of any telegram having an Abbreviated Address if such address has not been registered, or for delay in delivering such telegram. Registration is essential in all cases of persons who frequently receive telegrams addressed to them by an abbreviated name, and Telegraph Officials can decline to deliver such telegrams if, after notice has been given, the address has not been registered.

33. Sender's name or designation.—The Sender's name or designation may be in an abbreviated form in customary use, or may be replaced by a registered address, or may be omitted altogether.

34. Text.—No Private telegram or series of telegrams, containing more than five hundred words, can be sent at any one time by any individual or firm, and no subsequent telegram by the same individual or firm till after the lapse of three hours, unless the telegraph lines be free of all other traffic. Regarding the length of Press telegrams, see Rule 131 (8).

35. Signature.—The true signature and address of the Sender (which are not charged for or transmitted) must always be written at the foot of the telegram. The Sender of a Private telegram can always be called upon to prove that the signature attached to it is genuine. In the case of telegrams from a mercantile firm, if the name of the firm is written, it will be accepted, but if stamped, it must be attested by the signature, or initials of a responsible member of the firm.

STATE TELEGRAMS.

36. Definition.—A State telegram is a telegram sent by an official of the British Government on British Government business.

Municipal Commissioners and the officials and servants of a Municipality or of a Guaranteed or Private Railway are not entitled to send State telegrams, nor are the officials and servants of Native States.†

37. Language.—The text of State telegrams may in all cases be composed of secret language (i.e., Code and Cipher). Cipher language may be formed either of groups or series of figures, or of groups or series of letters having a secret meaning; but a combination in the same telegram of figures and of letters having a secret meaning is not admitted.

38. Collation.—State telegrams, when they are written in Figure or Letter cipher, are always repeated in their entirety (Rule 105) by the Receiving Office in the same manner as is done with "collated" telegrams (Rule 102). When partially written in cipher, the cipher portions only are repeated.

39. Payment, etc.—State telegrams must be marked State by the Sender, and, as a rule, paid for in service stamps or in cash prior to despatch. The charges are the same for State as for Private telegrams. The rule regarding prepayment (Rule 61) will be relaxed in case of great emergency; but whenever Express State telegram is tendered for transmission under this permission, the Sender must take the necessary steps to ascertain the charges on it, and pay them into the Telegraph Office within 24 hours. The rule cannot be relaxed in case of Ordinary State telegrams.

40. At Railway Offices.—State telegrams are not accepted at Railway offices at places where there is also a Government office, except in cases of emergency, or when the Sender's office or residence is much closer to a Railway office than to a Government office.

41. Abbreviated Addresses.—The conditions for the registration of abbreviated addresses laid down in Rule 32 do not apply to the abbreviated addresses of Government officials. These are registered free of charge, and without any restriction as to the number of words used. Applications for the registration of abbreviated addresses of Government officials should be made to the Director-General of Posts and Telegraphs.

42. Clear-the-Line Telegrams.—On emergent occasions of great importance, the officers named below may "clear the line" within India limits, i.e., may suspend the receipt and despatch of all telegrams until the one for which the line is cleared is passed on:—

Such clear-the-line telegrams shall be accepted only if signed by one of the said officers.

The power to clear the line shall not be delegated and "clear-the line" telegrams signed "by order" shall not be accepted.

Any of the said officers may, in sending a "clear-the-line" telegram, authorise "a clear the line" reply, but no "clear the line" reply shall be accepted in the absence of such authority.

"Clear-the-line" telegrams shall be paid for as State (Express) telegrams. The word 'Clear-line' should be written before the address and will be transmitted free.

Officers authorised to clear the line :—*

- (1) Military Secretary to the Viceroy, by special order of the Viceroy.
- (2) Private Secretary to the Viceroy, by special order of the Viceroy.
- (3) Private Secretary to the Governor of Madras, by special order of the Governor.
- (4) Private Secretary to the Governor of Bombay, by special order of the Governor.
- (4) (a) Private Secretary to the Governor of Bengal, by special order of the Governor.
- (5) (a) Military Secretary to the Commander-in-Chief, by special order of the Commander-in-Chief.
- (b) The Chief of the General Staff, Army Head-Quarters.
- (c) The Senior Staff Officer at Head-Quarters in the absence of the Commander-in-Chief from the Head-Quarter Station.
- (6) The General Officers Commanding the Northern and Southern Armies.
- (7) Private Secretaries to the Lieutenant-Governors, Bihar and Orissa, the United Provinces, the Punjab and Burma, by special order of such Lieutenant-Governors.
- (8) Ordinary Members of the Governor-General's Council.
- (9) Secretaries to the Government of India.
- Note.*—Also the Deputy Secretary to the Government of India in the Foreign Department in the absence of the Foreign Secretary on tour with the Viceroy.
- (10) Chief Secretaries to the Governments of Madras, Bombay, Bengal, Bihar and Orissa, the United Provinces, the Punjab and Burma.
- Note.*—The Secretary to the Government of Bombay in the Political, Judicial and Special Departments is authorised to clear the line instead of the Chief Secretary whose authority has been cancelled.
- (11) Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces, Assam and the North-West Frontier Provinces.
- Note.*—Also the Chief Secretary to the Chief Commissioner of Assam during the absence of the Chief Commissioner from Head-Quarters.
- (12) Secretary to the Agent to the Governor-General and Chief Commissioner, North-West Frontier Province.
- (13) Agents to the Governor-General in Rajputana, Central India and Baluchistan.
- (14) The General Officers Commanding the Peshawar, Rawalpindi, Lahore, Quetta, Mhow, Poona, Meerut, Lucknow, Secunderabad and Burma Divisions, and the Kohat, Derajat, Bannu and Aden Brigades.
- Note.*—The power of clearing the line is limited in the case of these officials to messages addressed to the Army Department, to Army Head-Quarters and to the General Officers Commanding the Northern and Southern Armies.
- (15) Officer Commanding a Force in the Field.
- (16) Director-General of Posts and Telegraphs.
- (17) Maharaja of Patiala (from Patiala office only).
- (18) Residents in Hyderabad and Mysore.
- (19) Comptroller and Auditor-General.
- (20) President of the Railway Board.
- (21) Members of the Railway Board.

SERVICE TELEGRAMS.

43. Service telegrams are divided into Service telegrams properly so called, and Service Advice. The former classification includes—

- (a) those on the service of the Government Telegraph and Postal Departments, which are sent free to and from any Telegraph office;
 - (b) those sent free on the service of certain Foreign Governments, regarding which the Government of India prescribes special instructions in each case.
- Paid Service Advice* are Service Telegrams exchanged between Telegraph offices under Rules 44 and 45.

PAID SERVICE ADVICE.

44. The Sender and Addressee (or the authorized representative of either of them) of any telegram already transmitted or in course of transmission, may, during the period of preservation of records (Rule 137), and after they have proved, if necessary, their right and identity, cause enquiry to be made, or instructions to be given respecting it by telegraph. They must deposit the following amounts :—

- (a) The cost of the telegram making the request, which may be classed Express or Ordinary at the sender's option.
- (b) The cost of a telegram for the reply, if a reply by telegraph is necessary which may also be classed as in (a) above.

They may also, with the object of rectification, have a telegram which they have sent or received, repeated entirely or in part, either by the office of destination or origin or by a transit office.

In case of a repetition asked for by the addressee, he must pay the charge for the transmission of a telegram (Express or Ordinary according to his wishes) to cover the cost of the number of words to be repeated, viz., if the part to be repeated contains 12 words or less one rupee if classed Express or six annas if classed Ordinary with two annas or half an anna per word, respectively, if the number of words is greater than 12. This charge includes the cost of the call and the reply.

* The following officers have also been authorised to "clear-the-line":—(1) Adjutant-General in India, (2) Quarter Master General in India, (3) Director, Royal Indian Marine, both in his capacity as Director, Royal Indian Marine, and as Naval Intelligence Officer, (4) Deputy Chief Censor in India, (5) Wheat Commissioner, Bombay or Karachi, and (6) Controller of Currency.

A telegram sent at the request of the addressee, in order to obtain the repetition of a passage suspected to be erroneous implies always a telegraphic reply, which will be of the same class as the telegram making the request, and the insertion of the indication—Reply paid—is not necessary. In other cases in which a telegraphic reply is requested, this indication must be employed.

45. Rectifying, completing, or cancelling telegrams, and all other communications relating to a telegram already transmitted or in course of transmission, when they are addressed to a telegraph office, must be exchanged exclusively between the offices under the form of paid service Advises at the cost of the Sender or the Addressee making the demand.

46. The charges for service Advises necessitated through errors of the Telegraph Service are refunded under Rules 145 (h) and 148.

47. When the words to be repeated are written in a doubtful manner, the office of origin consults, in the first instance, the Sender. If he cannot be found, the office of origin adds to the repetition a note "Writing doubtful."

COUNTING OF WORDS.

48. What is counted.—All that the Sender writes upon the form to be transmitted to his correspondent is included in calculating the charge, with the exception of the Special Instructions referred to in Rule 21 and the name of the Telegraph office of origin, which are transmitted free. No other words may be transmitted unless paid for.

49. Stops, etc.—Dashes which only serve to separate upon the form the different words or groups of a telegram, are neither charged for nor transmitted. Signs of punctuation, apostrophes, and hyphens are only transmitted and, consequently, charged for, on the formal request of the Sender.

50. Preamble.—Words, numbers and signs added by Telegraph officials for official purposes are not charged for. The hour and minute (Standard time) at which a telegram is handed in are added by the Telegraph Office and transmitted free.

51. Combinations or alterations of words contrary to the usage of the language are not admitted (except in the case of registered abbreviated addresses under Rule 32, condition 8). The same applies to combinations or alterations sought to be concealed by reversing the order of letters or syllables. Nevertheless the names of towns and countries; patronymics * (family names) of one and the same person, the names of places, squares, boulevards, streets, and any other kinds of public places, the names of vessels, whole numbers, fractions, decimal or fractional numbers written entirely in words, and all expressions which, by the usage of the English language, are written as single words shall be accepted as single words in inland telegrams, whether they appear in a dictionary or not, and be charged for accordingly. The benefit of any reasonable doubt is to be given to the sender of the telegram, but such manifestly improper combinations as "verywell," "allright" (or alright), or "goodbusiness" must be charged for as two words each.

The words halfpenny, twopence, threepence, etc., up to elevenpence may be written as single words.

52. The following are examples of combinations of words admissible and inadmissible as single words—

(a) Examples of combinations admissible as single words:—

Cowhide.	Rapeseed.
Gingellyseed.	Sheepskin.

(b) Examples of combinations inadmissible as single words:—

Tapestry patterns.	Sail insurance.	Steamer cargo.
Counteroffer.	Steamcoals.	Consailing.
Bankaction.	Tuesday morning.	Hull steamer.
Wire answer.	Wheat cargo.	Alright.
Inner harbour.	Beerbox.	Allright.
Bourse credit.	Discharging day.

53. The following are each counted as one word only:—

(a) The name of the Telegraph Office of destination when written as given in Section VI (Rule 24).

(b) Every Code word which fulfils the requirements of Rule 18, clauses (d) and (e).

(c) Every isolated character, letter or figure, as well as every sign of punctuation, apostrophe, or hyphen, transmitted at the request of the Sender.

(d) Underline.

* Honorary titles in Burma—The word "Maung," "Maung-Maung," "Ko," "Ko-Ko," "Koyin," "Pa," "Pe," and "U" (Masculine); "Ma," "Ma-Ma," "Mi," "Mi-Mi," "Me," "Me-Me," "Ame," "Daw," "Daw-Daw," "Pwa," "Pwa-Pwa," "Ayi," "Tin-Tin," "Teiktin," "Kin," "Kin-Kin," "Su-Su," "Nu-Nu," "Pu-Pu," and "Feik-Su" (Feminine) are honorary prefixes to names of persons and should be counted and charged for separately in the same way as Mr., Capt., etc. They cannot be joined up with the names of persons. When "Maung-Maung" is the name of a person, it may be combined and charged as one word.

(e) Parenthesis (the two signs which serve to form).

(f) Inverted commas, i.e., the two signs placed at the commencement and end of one and the same passage.

(g) In Telegraphic Money Orders, the name of the postal issuing office, the name of the postal paying office, and that of the locality where the payee resides.

54. Use of Apostrophes and Hyphens—Words separated by an apostrophe (except in the case of certain names—see Rule 57-A) and words joined by a hyphen are counted as so many separate words.

55. Figures, Letter-Cipher Commercial Marks, etc.—Groups of figures or of letters, commercial marks * composed of figures and letters are counted as one word for each five figures or letters which they contain, plus one word for any excess. Each of the combinations ae, aa, ao, oe, ue, and ch, is counted as two letters. When Commercial marks form part of the text of a telegram, the Sender should certify them to be such at the foot of the form.

56. Signs, etc., used with figures or letters.—Decimal points or full stops, commas, colons, dashes, and bars of division are each counted as a figure or a letter in the group in which they occur. This also applies to each letter added to groups of figures to form ordinal numbers, as well as to letters or figures added to the number of a house in an address, even in the case of an address in the text or in the signature (i.e., "Person From") of a telegram.

57. Abbreviations.—Common titles, which in their full form are expressed by a single word, such as Captain, Reverend and Esquire, may be written in their usual abbreviated forms, such as Capt., Rev., and Esq., each of which counts as one word. Similarly, common abbreviations of single words, such as Rs. (for Rupees), lbs. (for pounds), are admissible and count each as one word.

57A. Surnames.—Names, such as Macdonald (or McDonald), FitzGerald, O'Neil, DeMorgan, D'Oruz, De la Rue, St. John, Van de Brande, Du Bois, will be counted as one word each, even though written with capital medial letters. They will be signalled as written.

CHARGES.

59. Classes.—There are two classes of telegrams—Express and Ordinary. These classes* apply equally to State and Private telegrams. The corresponding charges between any two offices in India or Burma are as follows:—

Class.	Unit No. of words.	Unit rate.		Each additional word.		Address.
		RS.	A.	RS.	A.
Express ..	12	1	0	0	2	Charged for.
Ordinary ..	12	0	6	0	½	Do.

60.—Cancelled

PRECEDENCE.

61. Express telegrams have precedence over Ordinary telegrams in transmission and are delivered by messengers at any time during the day or night.

62. Ordinary telegrams are transmitted in their turn after Express telegrams, and delivery is effected by messengers between 6 hours and the time of closing of a telegraph office, but not later than 23 hours.

63. Ordinary telegrams are not accepted on Sundays and the four principal holidays, Christmas Day, New Year's Day, Good Friday and the King's Birthday.

PAYMENT OF CHARGES.

64. Charges how paid—With the exceptions provided for in Rules 39, 70, 71 and 128, all charges on telegrams must be prepaid in Cash or Postage Stamps. If the class of the telegram is not stated by the Sender, it will be classed and charged for as Ordinary (Rule 59).

65. At Departmental Telegraph Offices, telegrams can be accepted on the Deposit Account System on the following conditions:—

- (i) A minimum deposit of a sum of money equivalent, approximately, to the cost of ten days' telegrams, may be made to the Departmental Telegraph Office from which telegrams are required to be sent. At the end of each week, the Telegraph Office concerned will submit a detailed account to the depositor showing the amount expended on his telegrams, in order that he may renew his deposit, if necessary, by paying into the Telegraph Office the amount shown in the account. If the deposit is exhausted and the depositor does not renew it, no further telegrams will be accepted from him except on payment.
- (ii) If the account is to be rendered at intervals greater than a week, the deposit required will be increased accordingly.
- (iii) A fee for the upkeep of accounts will be levied at the rate of twelve annas for every 25 telegrams, or fraction thereof, despatched by the depositor during each quarter, subject to a minimum of Rs. 10 per annum.

* In Inland State telegrams, all references composed of figures and letters will be counted in the same way as commercial marks, i.e., at the rate of five characters (figures or letters) to a word.

66. Postage Stamps.—Postage stamps are of the following values:—

$\frac{1}{2}$ anna	2 annas.	4 annas.	12 annas.	3 rupees.	15 rupees.
$\frac{1}{4}$ "	2 $\frac{1}{2}$ "	6 "	1 rupee.	6 "	25 "
1 "	3 "	8 "	2 rupees.	10 "

Service Postage Stamps, i.e., Postage Stamps overprinted with "On H. M. S." should be used in payment of State telegrams.

67. Affixing Stamps.—The Stamps must be affixed by the Sender to the telegram form in the space allotted for the purpose, and he should see that the Stamps are defaced by the Counter Clerk with the Name and Date stamp of the office.

68. Spoilt or defaced Stamps.—Postage Stamps which have been obliterated, defaced, torn, cut or otherwise rendered imperfect, or which have any word, letter, figure, or design written, printed, or impressed upon them, otherwise than by the authority of Government before being affixed, or which have been cut or otherwise separated from embossed envelopes, post-cards or wrappers, cannot be recognized in payment of telegrams.

Note.—The perforation of Postage Stamps with initials, or other identifying marks, traced in minute holes is not prohibited.

69. Receipt.—A receipt containing particulars of the number of the telegram and the charges paid can be obtained for each telegram rendered for transmission at a Telegraph or Postal Receiving Office. Duplicate copies of receipts for telegrams are never given.

70. Telegrams from ships.—Telegrams arriving by mail steamers and other vessels for onward transmission by telegraph may be transmitted without payment; but no such telegram, whether prepaid or not, will be transmitted until the name of the vessel from which it is received is known at the Telegraph Office.

71. Telegrams from Field Telegraph Offices.—When at a Field Telegraph Office prepayment is impracticable, Private telegrams, addressed to any office other than a Field Telegraph Office, will be accepted "bearing," but such telegrams will not be delivered to the Addressee until they have paid the charges due on them (Rule 72).

72. Recovery of bearing and other charges from Addressee.—In every case where charges have to be collected on delivery (Rules 13, 70, 71, 84, 86, and 128) the telegram is only handed to the Addressee on payment of the amount due.

73. An undercharge made in error, and charges and expenses not recovered from the Addressee in consequence of his refusal to pay them, or the impossibility of finding him, must be made good by the Sender.

74. An overcharge made in error or the value of stamps in excess affixed by the refunded to the person entitled to it. (Rules 135j and 148.)

INTERRUPTION OF TELEGRAPHIC COMMUNICATION TRANSMISSION IN DUPLICATE.

75. When an interruption to the regular means of telegraphic communication occurs during the transmission of a telegram, the office beyond which the interruption exists, or an office situated further back and having at its disposal an alternative telegraph route, immediately sends the telegram by such a route, or failing that, by special messenger or by post (regis erred, if possible).

76. If a telegram is retransmitted by means other than telegraphic, it will be addressed by the retransmitting office either to the nearest telegraph office able to retransmit it or to the office of destination, or to the addressee himself. As soon as communication is re-established, the telegram is transmitted afresh by telegraph, unless its receipt has been previously acknowledged, or unless, on account of an exceptional accumulation of traffic, this retransmission would be manifestly prejudicial to the general service.

CANCELLATION.

77. If the Sender of an Inland telegram or his authorized representative wishes to cancel the telegram before transmission has begun, he can do so, and the charges, less a fee of two annas, will be returned. If the telegram is in course of transmission, or has already been despatched it can be cancelled only by a paid Service Advice addressed under Rule 44 to the office of destination. If, in addition, the Sender wishes to be informed by telegraph in what manner his request has been acted upon, he must deposit the cost of the return telegram, otherwise he is informed by post. If the telegram has been delivered to the Addressee, the latter is informed of its cancellation unless the Service Advice contains instructions to the contrary.

DELIVERY AT DESTINATION.

78. According to Address and Order.—Telegrams are, according to their Addressee either delivered at the residences of the Addressees, or kept at the Telegraph Office or Post Office till called for.* They are, in all cases, delivered at, or sent to, their destinations in order of receipt.

79. Free Delivery Limits.—Telegrams are delivered free of charge within five miles of a Telegraph office. Beyond this free delivery limit, telegrams are sent by post without charge, or by such other means as the Sender may arrange and pay for (Rules 115 to 120). For telegrams to be delivered by boat, † see Rule 84.

* They can also be delivered at the window of the Despatching office to the persons or servants of firms or individuals who have purchased a window delivery ticket, price Rs. 1 per annum.

† If a place cannot be reached except by boat owing to floods or to any other cause, the directions in Rule 84 as to delivery by boat, apply.

80. Persons to whom telegrams may be delivered.—A telegram taken to the Addressee's place of residence may be delivered either to the Addressee, the adult members of his family, any person in his service, to his lodgers or guests, or to the porter of the hotel or house, unless the Addressee has named in writing a special person, or the Sender has requested by writing on the form, the Special Instruction Addressee only or (M.P.)—see Rule 17 (d),—that the telegram may be delivered only into the hands of the addressee himself. In this case the office of destination writes the instruction "Addressee only" in full on the envelope and gives the necessary instructions to the messenger.

81. Open delivery.—The Sender may also request that the telegram may be delivered open, by writing on the form the Special Instruction "Open"—see Rule 17 (d). This request is reproduced on the copy handed to the Addressee, which is delivered without an envelope, simply folded, with the Address written on the back.

82. Telegrams to be kept till called for.—When the telegram bears the Special Instruction to be kept at the Telegraph Office till called for or (T.R.), it is delivered to the Addressee or his duly authorised representative over the telegraph counter. Telegrams bearing the Special Instruction to be kept at the Post Office till called for or (G.P.) are handed to the Post Office by the Telegraph Office of destination. The latter are, as regards delivery and period of preservation, subject to the same rules as postal correspondence.

83. Delivery on ships.—Telegrams addressed to passengers on board a vessel arriving at a port are delivered, if possible, before disembarkation.

84. Delivery by boat.—When an Inland telegram has to be delivered on board a ship which cannot be reached without a boat (i.e., when the ship is not alongside a wharf, pier or jetty) or at a place which cannot be reached without a boat, the boat hire must be paid by the Addressee if the Sender omits to prepay it. The indication Boat-hire paid or (B.P.D.), or Boat-hire paid night or (B.P.D.N.)—if the Sender has paid the boat hire and wishes the telegram sent on board at night—should be entered on the form. Boat hire prepaid, but not expended, will be refunded. Rules 145 (g) and 148. Information regarding fixed express charges for boat-hire for certain places in India can be obtained from the Telegraph Office.

85. Reply given to messenger.—Save in the case of delivery by the ordinary post beyond the free delivery limit, the messenger who delivers a telegram may be entrusted with the Reply, provided he be not detained for this purpose more than five minutes. The fact of the reply having been given to the messenger, and the amount paid to him should be mentioned on the receipt signed for the original telegram.

86. Re-direction.—Telegrams can be re-directed to a second address, either by an official of the Telegraph Office or by an agent of the Addressee. When Official re-direction of telegrams is required, a notice to that effect must be given to the Telegraph Office concerned, printed form for the purpose can be obtained from the local Telegraph Office. The person who gives notice is responsible for any charges that may be incurred. No additional charge will be levied for re-direction, if the two addresses are within the same town, but if in different towns, the full Inland rate, according to the class of the telegram, will be charged for the re-direction. If the sum due has not been paid at the Office where the telegram has been re-directed, the amount will be recovered from the Addressee before delivery. All State telegrams to whomsoever addressed and all Private telegrams addressed to officers of Government by official designation only, will be re-directed free. Instructions left at the Telegraph Office regarding the re-addressing or re-direction of telegrams will be considered to be in force for a month only, after that period, they will be liable to the fees prescribed by Rule 92. When a telegram has been re-directed to a second address without an order to transmit it by telegraph, the telegram will, subject to the provisions of this rule, if re-directed to any place to which the Indian Inland Postal rates apply, be posted as an un-registered letter free of charge, to its new destination and a remark to this effect added to the notice of non-delivery prescribed by Rule 88.

87. Inland telegrams may also be retransmitted to Ceylon at the request of the Addressee or some responsible resident acting on the Addressee's behalf. In that case the full charge for the telegram from India to Ceylon will, when possible, be recovered from the Addressee.* Requests for retransmission must be made in writing, and any one making such request must undertake to pay the charges which may not be collected by the Delivery Office. When no such undertaking accompanies a request to retransmit, the telegram will be posted and the Sender advised. Telegrams returned unopened with a new address in Ceylon will be similarly dealt with.

88. Undelivered telegrams.†—When a telegram cannot be delivered, the Office of destination, after a brief delay, sends a Service telegram to that effect to the office of origin and the Sender is informed, except in the case of—

(a) telegrams addressed To await arrival, Telegraphie restanté, Poste restante, or Care of Telegraph or Post Office, and

* A mail boat leaves Tuticorin daily for Colombo and a responsible person acting on the addressee's behalf may require the telegram to be re-directed to Tuticorin to be posted thence to its destination in Ceylon. In this case, he must prepay the re-direction charges up to Tuticorin at Indian Inland rates Express or Ordinary according to the class of the telegram. There will be no charge for postage between Tuticorin and Ceylon (under Rules 118 and 119).

† Under this Rule non-delivery is not reported on telegrams addressed C/o Station Master, except when a charge has to be collected when the Service Advice is sent by post under para. (b) of this Rule.

- (b) telegrams to places beyond the free-delivery radius which have been duly posted and are subsequently returned as undelivered by the Post Office to the Telegraph Office which posted them. In cases (a) and (b) when a charge has to be collected, the Service Advice of non-delivery is sent by post at the expiration of the period for retaining such correspondence.

89. When in consequence of an inexact or insufficient Address or of the Addressee's absence or refusal, bearing charges have not been paid at destination, the amount of these charges is mentioned in the Service telegram and the Sender is bound to make them good.

90. If the messenger finds no one at the address given, who will consent to receive a telegram for the Addressee, a notice is left at the residence indicated, and the telegram is brought back to the Telegraph Office to be delivered to the Addressee, or to any person authorised by him to take delivery of it upon application from either. When the addressee, duly advised as above of the arrival of a telegram, does not take delivery within 24 hours, non-delivery is reported in accordance with Rule 88.

91. Unclaimed telegrams.—Telegrams unclaimed, or not delivered, are not kept after two weeks by the Office of destination.

92. Directions about delivery.—For the registration of standing instructions regarding the delivery of telegrams during fixed hours, the same fee as for the registration of an abbreviated address is levied (vide Rule 82). If the fee for a registered abbreviated address has already been paid, that fee will cover the registration of special delivery instructions. In the case of Government Officials no charge is made for the registration of abbreviated addresses, but they will be required to pay the prescribed fee for the registration of standing instructions regarding the delivery of telegrams during fixed hours.

SPECIAL TELEGRAMS.

(A) Prepaid Replies.

93. The sender of a private telegram, or of a State telegram, addressed to a person other than a British Government official, may prepay a reply, but the amount so prepaid shall be not less than six annas. The Sender of a Reply-paid telegram should write the words "Reply-paid" in the space provided on the form (Rules 17 (d) and 21).

94. At destination, the Telegraph Office delivers to the Addressee a Reply telegram form, which entitles him to send free of charge from any Telegraph or Receiving Office in India, and within the value of the amount prepaid, a telegram to any destination in India. Two or more Reply telegram forms may be used in payment of one Inland telegram, but one Reply telegram form cannot be used in payment of two or more telegrams. A Reply telegram form can prepay the cost of a telegram and its reply if necessary.

95. If the reply exceeds the amount notified in the Reply telegram form, the difference must be paid in cash or stamps by the Sender of the reply (Rule 67). If, on the other hand, the amount notified on the Reply telegram form exceeds that of the Reply, the difference, if it be not less than eight annas, will be refunded to the Sender of the original telegram on application to the Deputy Accountant-General, Telegraph Check Office, Calcutta. No refund will be given on a Reply telegram form which has been prepaid by another Reply telegram form and not by cash or stamps.

96. The Reply telegram form is available for only two months (date of issue included) after which it lapses.

97. When the addressee has not made use of the Reply telegram form or has refused it, the money deposited for the reply can be refunded to the Sender under the conditions of Rules 145 (d) and 148.

98. Should it be impossible to effect delivery of a Reply-paid telegram, the Office of destination sends a Service telegram to that effect and the Sender is informed (Rule 88). The Reply telegram form remains attached to the telegram during the period of retention fixed by Rule 91, after which it is sent to the Check Office to await any application for refund of the amount prepaid that may be preferred by the Sender according to Rule 148.

99. When a telegram to which a Reply is prepaid is addressed to a place where there is no Telegraph Office, the telegram and Reply telegram forms are forwarded to destination from the nearest Telegraph Office by ordinary post free of charge.

100. It is not compulsory on the Addressee to send a reply. The duty of the office of destination consists simply in the delivery of the Reply telegram form for the amount prepaid, and the Addressee is at liberty to do what he pleases with it.

101. The sender of a State telegram addressed to a Government official cannot prepay a reply. In the case of a State telegram addressed to other than a Government Official, any sum deposited by the Sender under Rule 93 must be intended for no other purpose than to cover the cost of a return telegram.

(B) Collated (or Repeated) Telegrams.

102. Collation consists in the entire telegram (including the Preamble) being repeated back immediately on its receipt by each Office concerned in its transmission.

103. The Sender of any telegram can require it to be collated, or repeated, to insure correctness. In this case he must write the Instruction T. C. [Rules 17 (d) and 23].

104. The charge for collation is equal to one-fourth the charge for the telegram; in calculating this charge, fractions of half an anna will be reckoned as half an anna.

105. State and Service telegrams written in Cipher are invariably collated free of charge (Rule 88).

(C) Acknowledgments of Receipt.

106. The Sender of a telegram can require that a notice of the date and time at which his telegram is delivered to the Addressee shall be notified to him as soon as possible after its delivery. He should write on the form the abbreviation (P C)—see Rule 17 (d). When the telegram is forwarded to its final destination by post, deposited poste restante, or delivered to any intermediate agency, this notice mentions the date and time of such forwarding, deposit, or delivery. This acknowledgment of Receipt may be addressed to him at any place he may name.

107. The charge for an Acknowledgment of Receipt by telegraph is six annas.*

108. Cancelled.

109. In the case of non-delivery provided for in rule 88, the Acknowledgment of Receipt is preceded by the Service Advice required by that rule. The Acknowledgment of Receipt is detained during the period prescribed in Rule 91, or is transmitted after the delivery of the telegram, if that becomes possible. At the expiration of this period, if the telegram has not been delivered, the charge for the Acknowledgment of Receipt is refunded to the Sender of the telegram under the conditions of Rule 115 (g), if he has not already applied for such refund.

110. An Acknowledgment of Receipt when it reaches the office of origin, or the office indicated in the telegram (Rule 106), is notified to the Sender. When the Acknowledgment of Receipt has reference to a telegram which has been re-addressed (Rule 86), the office of origin recovers from the Sender any charges that may be due.

(D) Multiple Telegrams.

111. Addressed to one Telegraph Office.—Except as provided for in Rule 120, a telegram addressed to several persons in the same locality, or in different localities served by the same Telegraph Office, or to the same person at several addresses in the same locality, or in different localities served by the same Telegraph Office, is charged for as a single telegram; but a copying fee of four annas per 100 chargeable words, plus four annas for the excess, is charged for each destination after the first.*

Copies of a multiple telegram will only be delivered by post from the Terminal Telegraph Office when addressed to places beyond the telegraph lines. Such copies cannot be posted to places where there are Telegraph Offices.

112. Addressed to more than one Telegraph Office.—A telegram addressed to several persons, or to the same person, in localities where delivery is to be effected by different offices, is charged for as so many separate telegrams, and shall be written on separate telegram forms. Telegrams addressed to stations which are local telegraph offices within the free delivery radius of the Central Office are, however, treated as laid down in Rule 111. Press telegrams addressed to more than one Telegraph Office are invariably treated as in Rule 111 (see Rule 129).

113. In the case provided for in Rule 111, each copy of the telegram delivered will bear its own particular Address only, unless the Sender has requested the contrary. In the latter case, the Sender should write the words Communicate all Addresses, or =C. T. A. [Rule 17 (d)], which are not charged for.

114. Replies cannot be prepaid on multiple telegrams.

(E) Telegrams to be delivered by Post or Special Messenger.

115. Post or Special Messenger.—Telegrams addressed to places where there are no Telegraph Offices may be delivered at destination, according to the request of the Sender, either by Post or by special messenger.

116. The address of telegrams to be conveyed beyond the telegraph lines should be written as follows:—

(a) If the message is to be posted from the nearest Telegraph Office—

To—John Doe, Esq.,

Sherghotty, Post Gya.

(b) If the message is to be sent by special messenger—

Office of Origin and Service Instructions. Calcutta=X. P., Rs. two.

To—John Doe, Esq.,

Nyan Express Hooghly Point.

The instructions (Post) or (X. P. Rs. two) are not charged for (Rules 23 and 48).

117. Express or portage charges must be prepaid by the Sender. If the charges are fixed the telegram bears the Sender's Special Instruction Express paid or (X P) only. If not the Sender must pay such sum as he thinks sufficient and the telegram must bear the special instruction Express R——— or (XP—R). If the sum deposited is found to be insufficient at the Office of destination, the difference is recovered from the Addressee. Information regarding fixed Express or portage charges for certain places in India can be obtained from the Telegraph Office.

* An Inland telegram intended for two or more persons at the same address will not be treated as a multiple telegram unless the Sender expresses a wish that a copy should be delivered to each Addressee.

118. Postage.—No charge is made for postage on a telegram addressed to a place in India where there is no Telegraph Office, or to a place out of India to which Indian Inland Postal rates apply, i. g., Aden and Ceylon, but on telegrams* to be posted to a place beyond the limits of the Indian Inland Postal Tariff, the following additional charges must be paid to cover postage and registration:—

- (i) On a telegram to be posted to the United Kingdom, or any British Possession which has joined the Penny Postal Union †— one anna, if the message is to be posted unregistered, and three annas, if it is to be posted registered.
- (ii) On a telegram to be posted to a country which has not joined the Penny Postal Union—

2½ annas, if the message is to be posted unregistered, and 4½ annas, if it is to be posted registered.

119. Inland telegrams posted from India to Ceylon.—Inland telegrams to be posted to Ceylon may be addressed ‡ to Tuticorin, from which place a daily mail boat leaves for Colombo.

EXAMPLE.

To—Young,
Oriental Hotel,
Colombo, Post Tuticorin.

Text.

Start by first Steamer.

From—W. Collins.

The charge for such a telegram is the usual Inland rate according to class, and, as stated in Rule 118, there is no charge for postage. The word Post is also not charged for. (Rules 23 and 48).

120. Inland telegrams posted from Indian ports. §—An Inland telegram telegraphed to an Indian port to be posted under Rule 18 to a place beyond Indian limits must have the name of the port entered in the Address † and the Instructions Post, or Post Registered [Rules 17 (d), 21 and 23] before the name of the Telegraph Office from which to be posted.

EXAMPLE.

To—Mrs. Johnson,
20, Cambridge Terrace,
Hyde Park,
London, ‡ Post Bombay.

Text.—Afraid my letter missed mail. Am quite well.

From—Johnson.

The charge for such a telegram would be the usual Inland rate according to the class (Express or Ordinary at Sender's choice) plus one anna for postage under Rule 118. If the Sender desires the message to be registered before being posted, he should insert the Special Instruction Post Registered (or P. R.) before the name of the Telegraph Office from which to be posted. The charge for postage and registration would then be three annas under Rule 118.

Telegrams as in this rule may also be multiple (Rule 111), but in such case the Sender must pay the copying fee for each additional Address, and also an additional fee for each for postage, or for postage and registration, as the case may be, according to the charges laid down in Rule 118. But such telegrams cannot be addressed partly to persons beyond the sea, and partly to persons at the port itself. If the Sender wants the telegram also delivered to a person at the port itself, he must send it as a separate telegram.

121. Mixed Postal and Telegraph Service between India and the United Kingdom.—Communications intended for places in the United Kingdom may be telegraphed to Bombay for despatch by registered post to London and telegraphed thence to destination. The charges for such communications will be:—

- (1) The charge for the telegram in India at Express or Ordinary rates, according to the wishes of the Sender,
- (2) one anna for Postage, and
- (3) the British Inland telegram rate of ¼d. or half an anna per word with a minimum of six pence or six annas.

* On Inland State telegrams which are to be posted to places in Persia from Bombay (Baluchistan), i.e., addressed "Post Kabul" no charge for postage should be levied.

† These British Possessions are named in the Schedule of Foreign Postage Rules in Section III of the Indian Post Office Guide.

‡ Registered abbreviated telegraphic addresses should not be used in telegrams which are to be posted to Ceylon or other places beyond Indian limits.

§ For the purposes of calculating the postage rate according to Rule 120, Aden is considered an "Indian Port." The Telegraph rates to Aden are given in Section IV.

¶ At present the English mail leaves every Saturday, and the latest hours for posting at the General Post Office, Bombay, on that day are:—

- (i) If to be posted registered, 12 noon, Indian Standard time.
- (ii) If to be posted unregistered, 1 P.M., Indian Standard time.

The communications should be addressed as shown below :—

To—Mrs. Wilcox,
18, Goldspink Lane,
Newcastle, c/o Telegraphs Bombay.

Text—Afraid my letter missed mail, Am quite well.
From—Wilcox.

The words "c/o Telegraphs Bombay" will be charged for on the Indian section. On arrival at Bombay, the Central Telegraph Office will score out the words "c/o Telegraphs Bombay" and arrange to forward the telegram by post in a registered packet to the Central Telegraph Office, London, from whence it will be telegraphed to its destination.

The charges for the above telegram will be :—

	Express.		If sent as—
	RS.	A.	RS.	A.
(1) On Indian Section—18 words (including the instruction " c/o Telegraphs Bombay")	1	12	0	9
(2) Postage (including registration) from Bombay to London	0	1	0	1
(3) On British section—10 words excluding the instruction " c/o Telegraphs Bombay") ...	0	7½	0	7½
Total ..	2	4½	1	1½

The following are not admitted in the mixed postal and telegraph service :—

- (a) Telegrams with Reply paid (Rule 93).
- (b) Collated telegrams (Rule 102).
- (c) Telegrams with Acknowledgment of Receipt (Rule 106).
- (d) Multiple telegrams (Rule 111).
- (e) Telegrams for delivery by Special Messenger (Rule 115).
- (f) Semaphore telegrams (Rule 123).

122. Employment of Post.—In case of telegrams for places five miles distant from the Telegraph Office of destination, that office is entitled to post such telegrams.—

- (a) in the absence of directions in the telegram as to the means of delivery to be employed, or
- (b) when there is an unpaid claim against the Addressee for delivery charges on a previous telegram, which he has refused to pay.

Telegrams for places over five miles distant from the Telegraph Office of destination must be posted by that Office—

- (a) when such has been the request expressly made by the Sender (Rule 115) or the Addressee (Rule 86). The Office of destination may, however, effect delivery by special messenger, even for telegrams bearing the instruction Post, if the Addressee has expressed a desire to receive his telegrams by special messenger;
- (b) when the Office of destination has no more rapid means of delivery at its disposal.

(F) Semaphore Telegrams.

123. Semaphoric telegrams are telegrams exchanged with ships by means of semaphore established on shore.

124. Semaphore Stations.—The following are the Government Telegraph Offices which are Semaphore Stations :—

Achipur.	Diamond Island.	Saugor Island.
Amherst.	Elephant Point.	Table Island.
Budge-Budge.	Houghly Point.
Diamond Harbour.	Mud Point.

125. Language.—Semaphore telegrams must be written in English or by means of groups of letters of the International Code of Signals.

126. Address.—When a Semaphore telegram is for a ship at sea, the Address must contain, in addition to the ordinary directions, the name or official number of the vessel for which it is intended, and its nationality.

127. Preamble.—The word Semaphoric should be written and signalled after the Office of Origin, i.e., in the space marked "Service Instructions" on every telegram received from a ship at sea. When it is addressed to a ship at sea, this instruction is not inserted.

128. Charges, etc.—The charge for Semaphore telegrams is the usual charge, plus a fixed fee of eight annas. In case of Semaphore telegrams addressed to ships, the charges must be paid by the Sender; in case of such telegrams received from ships, the charges must be paid by the Addressee * before delivery.

* Except in cases where the Agent of any steamship Company has undertaken, in writing, to pay for any messages that may be transmitted by Semaphore from their ships to any of the Semaphore stations in India or China, when the charges due should be debited to that Company, and the messages transmitted as fully paid and without the word 'semaphoric' in Official Instructions as mentioned in Rule 127.

PRESS TELEGRAMS.

129. Rates.—The following are the rates charged for Press telegrams:—

Class.	Unit No. of words.	Unit rate.		Each additional six words.		Address.
		RS.	A.	A.	P.
Express	48	1	0	2	0	Free.
Ordinary	48	0	8	1	0	..

Multiple Press messages will be charged for as in Rule 111, whether all the addresses are in the same town or not. The Address in a Press telegram includes the name of the office to which the telegram is to be transmitted, the name of the correspondent, and the name and address (if necessary) of the newspaper or news agency.

130. Press telegrams at Ordinary rates are not accepted on Sundays and the four principal holidays—Christmas Day, New Year's Day, Good Friday and the King's Birthday.

131. Conditions.—A Press telegram to be accepted at Press rates must fulfil the following conditions:—

(1) It must be addressed to a newspaper or news agency, the names of which has been registered by the Director-General of Posts and Telegraphs*. The official Gazette, published by the Government of India, by Provincial Governments and by Native States will not be registered under this rule. A list of such registered newspapers and news agencies is published in the Telegraph Guide.† A news agency must on registration, and annually thereafter, submit to the Director-General of Posts and Telegraphs a list of its bona fide subscribers to whom it issues news. Applications for the registration of newspapers or news agencies should be made on forms to be obtained at Government Telegraph Offices.

(2) It must be addressed to the newspaper or news agency in accordance with its registered title, and to the town at which the newspaper or news agency is registered.

(3) It must, except as provided hereafter in Condition (5), contain only intelligence which is clearly intended for publication in registered newspapers. The news which a news agency receives and disseminates at Press rates may only be given to duly registered newspapers or other registered news agencies.

(4) It must be written in plain English so as to be intelligible to the Transmitting Offices, and must contain nothing of concealed meaning either in Code language or Cipher. In Press telegrams, ordinary English words may be abbreviated.

(5) It may also be a telegram sent from or to the newspaper or news agency by its registered title (but not in the name of the editor, publisher, manager, or any other person), to or from its correspondents or employes on the subject of a telegram published or to be published, or to an Official‡ of the Telegraph Department on matters of Press business.

(6) If a Press telegram be addressed to the editor, publisher, manager, or any other person connected with the newspaper or news agency by name or designation, it is chargeable at the full inland rates.

(7) Whenever demanded, a copy of every newspaper in which a Press telegram is published must be furnished to the Telegraph Office from which that Press telegram was delivered.

(8) Long news messages should be broken up into pages of about 75 words each. All the pages must be numbered consecutively and each of them, except the last, should conclude with the words "More to follow" or (M. T. F.) The last page should conclude with the words "End of message." These words and the numbers are not charged for. The name of the Sender should be written at the top of each page, and the last word of each page should be repeated at the top of the next page. The interval between the handing in of the different pages should not exceed an hour. When this interval is exceeded, the pages handed in late will be treated as a fresh message and charged accordingly. In telegrams addressed to more than one newspaper, or news agency, the full list of addresses need only be furnished with the first page, and each of the consecutively numbered pages will be considered to be addressed to all the newspapers and news agencies.

Note.—Attention is specially directed to the necessity of writing as legibly as possible, and it is recommended that, whenever practicable, the copy should be written in ink, and not in pencil.

(9) When a Press message is addressed to more than one office, a sufficient number of copies of the text should, when practicable, be supplied to allow of its being telegraphed simultaneously to each office. Information as to the number of copies required can always be obtained beforehand from the Telegraph Office from which the news is to be sent.

(10) At least 8 hours' previous notice should, when possible, be given of the intention to send long news messages of a greater length than 1,000 words. The notice should be given to the Telegraph Office at which the news will be handed in, together with the following particulars :—

* Applications for such registration should be addressed to the Postmaster-General, Telegraph Traffic Branch of the Circle in which the newspapers is published or the news agency exists.

† See Section VIII.

‡ Such telegrams should invariably be addressed to the Postmaster-General, Telegraph Traffic Branch of the Circle in which the newspaper is published or the news agency exists.

(i) Time at which messages will be handed in; (ii) length; and (iii) addresses.

132. Stops.—In Press telegrams, where the sense so often depends upon the punctuation, especially in the case of long messages, full-stops will be signalled free of charge, but this privilege will not be extended to other signs of punctuation.

133. The Press telegram rates apply only to telegrams which satisfy all the conditions of Rule 131, and any subsequent claim made by the Telegraph Department for the difference between Press and full Inland rates must be satisfied immediately on demand.

134. Press telegrams accepted without prepayment.—Press telegrams may be accepted without prepayment provided that any newspaper or news agency which may desire the facility obtains previous sanction from the Director-General of Posts and Telegraphs* and deposits a sum of money in Cash, or Government Promissory Notes, as detailed below :—

(i) If the accounts are to be rendered monthly, the equivalent of eight weeks' transactions subject to a minimum of Rs 50.

(ii) If the accounts are to be rendered fortnightly, the equivalent of six weeks' transactions subject to a minimum of Rs. 50.

The accounts for the messages sent without prepayment will be rendered by the Deputy Accountant-General, Telegraph Check Office, Calcutta, and must be paid within one week of the date on which they are received.

135. Railway Offices.—Except in the case of such Railway Administrations as may be willing to accept Press messages for transmission within the limits of their respective Railways, when the wires are not occupied by telegrams on the business of the Railways, the Press Telegram Rules do not apply to Licensed Telegraph Offices. Press messages cannot be transferred from one telegraph system to another† (Rule 14).

136. Delivery.—Press telegrams of either class are sent out for delivery as soon as received, by day or by night.

RECORDS.

137. Period of preservation.—The originals of telegrams and documents relating to them are kept for seven days only in Government Telegraph Offices, after which time they are sent to the Telegraph Check Office, Calcutta, where they are preserved for three months (except in the case of offices situated on the Frontier beyond Kashmir and on the extreme limits of Burma, the records of which are preserved for four months) from the month following that in which the telegram was handed in, and then destroyed.

138. Secrecy.—The originals or copies of telegrams can only be communicated to the Sender or to the Addressee after proof of identity, or to the authorized representative of either of them.

139. Copies.—The Sender or the Addressee of a telegram, or the authorized representative of either, has a right to be furnished with a certified copy of the original telegram or of the copy delivered at destination,‡ on application to the Telegraph Office within seven days, or to the Deputy Accountant-General, Telegraph Check Office, Calcutta, within the period of preservation (Rule 137). This right lapses after the expiration of the time fixed for preserving the records.

140. A fixed charge of four annas is made for every copy furnished in conformity with Rule 139, if the telegram does not exceed 100 words. Over 100 words, this charge is increased by four annas for each 100, or fraction of 100 words.

141. Copies cannot be supplied unless the Senders, the Addressees, or their authorized representatives furnish the necessary information to enable the telegrams to which their requests refer to be found.

142. Extended preservation.—On the ground of pending or contemplated judicial proceedings, application may be made by an interested party to the Deputy Accountant-General, Telegraph Check Office, Calcutta, for the preservation of specified telegrams exchanged between other persons. Such application must be made within the period of preservation, and such telegrams will then be preserved for a period of three months beyond the ordinary date for destruction under Rule 137; at the expira-

* Postmasters-General are authorised to sanction the acceptance without prepayment of press telegrams except in the case of telegrams intended for the Indian News Agency, the Associated Press or Reuter's Telegram Company, and applications for such sanction should be addressed to the Postmaster-General (Traffic Branch) of the Circle in which the newspaper is published or the news agency exists.

† Inland Press telegrams are, however, transferred between the Portuguese Government Telegraph Offices referred to on page 114 and all the Indian Government Telegraph Offices.

‡ In messages received by the Baudot system and by typists, no copies are retained by the office of destination. Certified copies can only be supplied by the Office of Origin and the Check Office. In the former case, the applicant would be required to pay the cost of a Telegram to the Office of Origin making the request and the cost of the telegram in reply, instead of the copying fee referred to in Rule 140.

§ In the case of telegrams accepted or delivered by Railway or Canal Telegraph Offices, applications for copies of telegrams should be made to the Examiner or Auditor of the Railway or Canal Telegraph System. The correct address of the official concerned can be obtained from the Railway or Canal Telegraph Office which accepted or delivered the telegram.

tion of this further period they will, in default of a renewed application, be destroyed. It must be understood that the duty of the Telegraph Department in the matter is confined to making the search and preserving the telegrams, if found. No information as to the result of the search will be furnished, and any telegrams answering the description given, which may be found, will be produced only on the order of a competent Court of Law or other competent authority.

148. Fees for searching for telegrams.—Should the particulars furnished be insufficient to enable the Check Office at once to trace the telegrams applied for under either Rule 139 or Rule 142, the cost of searching for them must be deposited by the applicant. A fee of one rupee is charged for searching through the telegrams of any Telegraph Office for one day: thus, if it be required to examine the telegrams of two Telegraph Offices over a period of five days, the searching fee will be ten rupees.

REFUNDS.

144. State telegrams.—No refunds will, under any circumstances, be made for a State telegram of any class, except in the case of overcharge provided for in Rule 149.

145. Private telegrams.—Refunds of the following charges on Private telegrams are made to those who originally paid them on receipt of an application for such refund, or of a complaint against the service:—

(a) The full charge paid for every telegram which, through the fault of the Telegraph service, has failed to reach its destination.

(b) The full charge paid for every Express telegram which has been subjected to serious delay through the fault of the Telegraph service.

(c) The full charge paid for every Collated telegram (Rule 108) which, owing to errors made in transmission, has manifestly failed to accomplish its object, unless the errors have been rectified by paid Service Advices under Rule 44. No refund is granted for errors made in the transmission of uncollated telegrams.

In the cases provided for in clauses (a), (b) and (c), the refund applies only to the charge of the actual telegrams not delivered, delayed or mutilated, including the supplementary charges not utilised, but not to telegrams necessitated or rendered useless by such non-delivery, delay or mutilation.

(d) The full amount of every sum prepaid for a reply (Rule 93) when the Addressee has not made use of the Reply telegram form or has refused it (Rule 97), or, when the Reply telegram form has been used, the difference, if it be not less than eight annas, between the value of the Reply telegram form and the cost of the reply (Rule 95).

(e) The full amount of every sum prepaid for a reply to a telegram which has not been delivered (Rule 98). The Sender should forward with his application for refund—see Rule 148—the receipt granted for the original telegram, and the report of non-delivery received by him.

(f) The full charge for every telegram with prepaid reply which has manifestly been unable to fulfil its object owing to a service irregularity which warrants the return of the charges for the reply; also the full charges for every prepaid reply which has manifestly been unable to fulfil its object owing to a service irregularity which warrants the return of the charges for the original telegram.

(g) The supplementary charges pertaining to any special service which has not been rendered, as well as the charge for the corresponding supplementary instructions.

(h) The full charge paid for every paid Service Advice sent under Rules 44 and 45, if the repetition shows that the word or words repeated were transmitted incorrectly at first.

(i) The full charge for every other paid Service Advice sent under Rules 44 and 45, necessitated by an error of the Telegraph Service.

(j) The value of excess stamps affixed by the Sender (Rule 74).

(k) The value of the stamps affixed to a telegram cancelled before transmission less a fee of two annas (Rule 77).

146. No refund is made for the telegram which has given occasion to a request for correction, nor are any refunds made for rectifying or completing telegrams exchanged direct between the Sender and Addressee (Rule 45).

147. In case of a partial refund on account of a Multiple telegram, the total charge collected is divided by the number of copies, and the quotient represents the charge appertaining to each copy, the telegram itself counting, in this respect, as one copy.

148. (1) Every claim for refund respecting telegrams should be addressed to the Deputy Accountant-General, Telegraph Check Office, Calcutta, and every complaint respecting telegrams to the Director-General of Posts and Telegraphs, Traffic Branch, Calcutta, within two months from the date of the telegram. Provided that the claims for refunds on account of (1) Paid Service Advices (Rule 46), (2) overcharges or of telegrams stamped in excess by the sender (Rule 74), and (3) telegrams stamped and cancelled before transmission has begun (Rule 77) may, if made within seven days from the date of the telegram, be presented at the Telegraph Departmental Offices and combined Post and Telegraph Offices at which such advices or telegrams were handed in.

(2) Every such claim and complaint shall be accompanied by documentary evidence, namely:—

(a) in case of non-delivery or of delay, by a written statement from the office of destination, or from the Addressee;

- (l) in case of alteration or omission, by the copy of the telegram delivered to the Addressee ;
 (c) in case of an unused Reply telegram form (Rule 97), by the Reply telegram form delivered to the Addressee ;
 (d) in case of Paid Service Advices (Rule 4-), by the receipt for the repetition message and the correction memorandum granted in connection therewith by the Telegraph Office of delivery ; and
 (e) in case of telegrams stamped in excess by the Sender (Rule 74), or stamped and cancelled before transmission has begun (Rule 77), by the receipt (Rule 69) granted for the telegram.*

149. State and Private.—When no doubt exists as to an overcharge having been made on an Inland State or Private telegram by the mistake of an official at any Telegraph Office, the overcharge is to be at once refunded by such Office (Rule 74).

THE MADRAS PRESIDENCY.

THE territory included within the Presidency of Fort St. George, or the Madras Presidency, is the southernmost of the Indian provinces. The coast line extends on the east of the peninsula from Orissa in Bengal to Cape Comorin. On the west the narrow strip of country formed by the Native States of Travancore and Cochin gives the coast line from Cape Comorin as far as the town of Cochin. After that Madras territory again forms the coast line until the Bombay Presidency is reached at the northern extremity of the South Canara district. In the centre of the peninsula thus enclosed are the Nagpore country and Berar, the territories of the Nizam, known generally as the Deccan, and the province of Mysore; but all the country south and east of Mysore belongs to the Madras Presidency.

The Presidency occupies an area of 139,698 square miles; but within this is included 1,383 square miles belonging to the Pudukota territory, which is situated in the middle of one of the revenue districts.

The Presidency has a coast line of about 1,700 miles, and consequently there is a large area of country but little elevated above the level of the sea. Mountain ranges run northward from Cape Comorin along the Western Coast, attaining an elevation in some parts of from 1,000 to nearly 9,000 feet. Ranges of hills follow also the general line of the East Coast; but these, as a rule, are of lower elevation than the Western Ghats. The drainage of the peninsula is for the most part from west to east into the Bay of Bengal, the area of country drained by rivers running westward being only the narrow strip of territory between the Western Ghats and the sea. As a rule the country slopes gradually from the eastern base of the western mountain chain down to the Coromandel Coast, while the fall is sudden and precipitous on the western side of the mountains. The centre of the peninsula consists generally of undulating tablelands from 1,000 to 3,000 feet above the level of the sea.

The peculiar physical geography of the peninsula of India, with a huge mountain chain running from north to south along its western boundary, is of importance in regard to climate and the productions of the various districts. These hills have the effect of arresting the lower strata of rain clouds brought up from the Indian Ocean by the periodical winds of the south-west monsoon, and of causing excessive rain precipitation on the narrow strip of coast line on the western side of the peninsula. Where the mountain range is of great height, as between Malabar and Coimbatore, the rain clouds are almost entirely diverted from the districts immediately below the mountains on the eastern side, and while the annual rainfall on the western side may be 150 inches, not more than 20 inches will be registered on the eastern side, immediately within the influence of the mountain ranges. Where the mountain chain is of lower elevation, the rain clouds pass over the hills, and rain is precipitated in uncertain and varying amount over the peninsula to the east of the Western Ghats; but, except in the northern districts, where the rainy season approximates to that of Bengal, the heaviest rainfall of the southern portion of the eastern division of the peninsula occurs during the period of the north-east monsoon. During the continuance of this monsoon, the western ranges of mountains have a similar effect in arresting the rain clouds, so that at the season of the year when the Carnatic is deluged by heavy rain, the Western Coast districts enjoy fine clear weather.

To the physical barrier of the Western Ghats must be attributed, not only the vast differences of climate, but also those in the nature of the productions, in the eastern and western divisions of the peninsula. In the former the uncertainty and capricious character of the rainfall has taught the cultivators of the soil the necessity of making provision for the storage of water for irrigation purposes, and the existence of innumerable tanks or reservoirs, scattered all over the country, testify to the fact that, from periods of the remotest antiquity, the inhabitants of the tracts of country, which receive an irregular rainfall have exercised great ingenuity and readiness of resource in the construction of public works for the artificial irrigation of the soil. On the western side of the mountains, however, the necessity for such works has never arisen. There the periodical rains fall with great regularity as to time and quantity, and the earth yields her fruits so abundantly that, although in certain exceptional years there may be partial failures of crops, absolute famine, as a result of bad seasons, is unknown. Only three of the 26 districts of which the Madras Presidency is composed lie within the influence of the never-failing rains of the south-west monsoon. In the remaining 23 districts nature demands the assistance of art in the collection, storage, and distribution of the condensed moisture of the heavens. In some of these 23 districts, however, as in the northern coast area, the periodic rains fall more regularly than in others, while in several of them the rivers running eastward, swelled by the south-west monsoon rains, are utilized in the fertilization of districts in which the natural moisture is defective.

The chief staples of the Presidency are rice, cholam (a kind of maize), cumboo (a kind of millet), ragi, and varagu amongst food-grains; gingelly amongst oil-seeds; and chillies, tobacco, sugar-cane, plantains, and betel leaf amongst garden crops. Cotton, as a special crop, is cultivated to an extent almost equalling that of ragi. The trees most grown for their fruits are cocoanuts, areca-nut, jack, tamarind, and mango. Rice, as might be expected, is produced in largest quantities in the alluvial and highly-irrigated districts of Tanjore, Godavari, Kistna and Guntur on the East Coast, and in Malabar and Canara on the West Coast, where the rainfall is so abundant as to render irrigation by artificial means almost unnecessary. Cholam is most abundant in the tableland districts of Bellary and Kurnool, while cumboo and ragi are most extensively grown in the other inland, but less elevated, districts, such as Salem and Coimbatore. Coconut palms flourish most luxuriantly on the banks of the estuaries and backwaters or salt-water lagoons of the western districts of Malabar and Canara and areca-nut palms in the valleys intersecting the lower slopes of the Western Ghats.

Within the Madras Presidency there are six well-defined linguistic boundaries. In the northernmost district of Ganjam is included a portion of the Ooriya-speaking population. The Telugu language is commonly spoken by the people of the Northern Circars, and in a portion of the Nizam's country, Kurnool, Cuddapah, part of North Arcot, Nellore and some parts of Bellary. Tamil is the common language of the districts from a few miles north of Madras to the extreme south of the eastern division of the peninsula. Malayalam is the language of the Native States of Travancore, Cochin, and the Malabar district. Tulu is spoken in a limited portion of the South Canara district; and Canarese in certain portions of the Bellary, Coimbatore, Salem, and South Canara districts. Besides these six Dravidian languages, the hill tribes of certain districts have dialects of their own, also of a Dravidian type. From time to time colonies of Telugu and Canarese-speaking people have found their way down to the southern or Tamil country. In some cases they have been invited to settle as cultivators in localities where waste lands were available. In others they followed probably in the train of invading armies. In the same way people from the Mahratta country have settled in the south, and in all the large towns there are colonies of silk-weavers from Gujerat, who still speak a language of their own amongst themselves. Along the border lines of the prevailing languages two or more languages are indifferently spoken by the people. There is no instance of the Tamil people pushing their colonies up towards the north. The migrations appear to have been always from north to south. In the large military cantonments of Secunderabad and Bangalore there are Tamil-speaking populations, but these people have settled as camp-followers.

The earliest inhabitants of Southern India of whom any traces now remain were the prehistoric builders of the cairns, barrows, kistvans, and dolmens found in many districts; the makers of the rude stone weapons discovered in considerable quantities on the tops of the rocky hills of the Deccan; and the authors of the more finished utensils and implements now in course of excavation at the wonderful burial-grounds which have recently been discovered in Adichanallur and other places in Tinnevely. Except that they may be declared to have passed from a Paleolithic, through a Neolithic, to an Iron age, little is known or can be conjectured regarding these ancient peoples. Presumably they were of the stock named Dravidian, which is distinguished from more northern ethnic families by its comparatively low stature, its dark skin, its high nasal index, and its use of the languages, so prominent in the Presidency, known as the Dravidian family.

The great gulf which yawns between them and the earliest historical data is vaguely bridged by legends and traditions, such as the story of Rama's expedition through the Deccan and across Adam's Bridge to Ceylon in quest of his wife Sita (whom Ravana, the ten-headed king of that island, had carried off), or the many local puranas which remain in the keeping of the temple priests. Some of these legends have been held to refer to the great immigration of conquerors and settlers from Northern India which undoubtedly took place at an early period; but they are scarcely serious history, and not until the Muhammadans appear upon the scene is the literature of the country of any real value to the annalist.

The gap is filled to some extent by the many inscriptions on stone which record gifts to temples, by coins, and by grants of by-gone dynasties engraved on copper. The transcription and examination of these is now proceeding under expert supervision and in a systematic fashion, but the work has not yet proceeded far enough to enable any final account to be written of the early fortunes of the South of India.

The earliest historical evidence is that furnished by the edicts of the Buddhist Emperor Asoka which have been discovered at Jangade in Ganjam and at a village in Mysore close to the border of Bellary. These perhaps go to show that about 250 B. C. at least the northern half of the Presidency formed part of the Mauryan dominions.

The south of it was divided between the Pandiyas of Madura, who governed the extreme south; the Cholas, who held the country north and east of them; and the Cheras (Keralas), who ruled the West Coast. At some period subsequent to Asoka, the dynasty of the Pallavas of Conjeevaram rose into prominence and extended its sway along the east coast as far north as Orissa.

In the north, Mauryans were succeeded by the Andhras. They were Buddhists, and by them were erected the splendid marble stupas at Amaravati and the other Buddhist buildings of which the ruins occur in Kistna and Guntur Districts. Their curious leaden coins are still found in some numbers in these parts. About the fifth century after Christ the Chalukyas, who were immigrants from more northern parts, began to grow in importance in the Western Deccan. In the seventh century they divided into two branches, a Western and an Eastern. The latter conquered the Pallava kings of the Vengi country—the tract between the Kistna and Godavari rivers and south of Kalinga—and settled in that locality, while the former remained in its original home.

Alongside it, in the south-west of the Deccan and the north of Mysore, the Kadambas, whose capital was at Bhuvanasi in North Canara, now rose to power. They defeated the Pallavas of Conjeevaram and continually harassed the Western Chalukyas.

The latter were also vigorously opposed by the Rastrakutas of Malkhed in the present Nizam's Dominions, who eventually overthrew them and were supreme in the Western Deccan from about A. D. 750 to 950.

At the end of this period the Western Chalukyas once more rose to prominence and maintained their position until A. D. 1189, when they were finally overthrown by two of their own feudatories, the Yadavas of Deogiri and the Hoysalas of Dorasamudra, the modern Halebid in Mysore.

Meanwhile, in the south and the east, the Cholas of Tanjore were rapidly extending their boundaries. By 999 they acquired by conquest the whole of the coast possessions of the Eastern Chalukyas. They had already subverted both the Pallavas and the Pandyas, annexing the dominions of the former and controlling the destinies of the latter. These events form the first great landmark in the history of Southern India. But the Chola expansion westwards was checked by the Hoysalas, and towards the end of the twelfth century their territory in the north was taken from them by the Ganapathis of Warrangal (Orangal).

Thus at the end of the thirteenth century the three greatest dynasties of Southern India were the Hoysalas, the Cholas, and the Pandyas. At the beginning of the 14th century, however, a new power—the Mussalmans of Delhi—appeared suddenly upon the scene. In 1308 the ruling king of the Khilji dynasty of Delhi sent his first expedition into the Deccan; and seven years later, a date which makes the second landmark in the history of Southern India, the armies of his general, Malik Kafur, swept like a torrent down the peninsula. The Yadavas, Hoysalas, Ganapathis, Cholas, and Pandyas were in turn defeated and suppressed. Anarchy followed over the whole south—Mussalman Governors, representatives of the old ruling families, and local chiefs struggling for supremacy, until out of the confusion rose the kingdom of Vijayanagar, which from its capital at Hampi in the Bellary District for the next two centuries and a half checked the southward expansion of Muhammadan power.

The rise of this dynasty was dramatically rapid. The several Hindu chieftains everywhere admitted its sovereignty, the more willingly in that the only alternative was a despotism of Mussalmans; and from chiefs its rulers quickly grew into kings, and from kings into emperors. Within a century and a half from the foundation of the capital at Vijayanagar they governed the whole of the peninsula from the Kistna to Cape Comorin. The empire reached the height of its power under Krishna Deva (1509-1530), the greatest of monarchs, contemporary with Henry VIII of England.

The chief opponents of Vijayanagar had been the Sultans of the Bhamini dynasty, founded in 1447 by a rebellious subordinate of Delhi, whose capital was at Gulbarga in what is now the Nizam's Dominions. This line crumbled to pieces at the end of the fifteenth century and was followed by five separate Mussalman kingdoms. For many years the mutual jealousies and animosities of these rendered it easy for the Vijayanagar kings to play off one of them against the other; but at length they combined, and in 1565 at the great battle of Talikota, the third historical landmark, they utterly defeated the Hindu forces and followed up their victory by razing the city of Vijayanagar to the ground and forcing its king to flee. The empire never recovered from the blow. One by one its local governors threw off their allegiance, and established themselves as independent rulers; and Southern India passed through a second period of anarchy, during which all local power fell in many places into the hands of small chieftains called Naiks or Poligars, who usually harassed their subjects mercilessly.

The only governors of the fallen empire who established themselves in any permanency were the Naiks of Madura, and the suzerainty of the rest of the country fell gradually into the hands of the Sultans of Bijapur and Golconda. The former marched upon the country directly south of the Tungabhadra river and the latter took a line farther to the eastward. By the middle of the seventeenth century the Bijapur Sultans had possessed themselves of most of the Carnatic which lay above the Ghats and of much territory below.

It was under this dynasty that the Marathas first came into prominence. Serving first as military vassals, they eventually, in 1646, revolted openly against them and under the famous Sivaji established their independence.

In 1686 Aurangzeb, the Mughal emperor of Delhi, marched south to reduce Bijapur and Golconda, and to crush the growing power of the Marathas. He took Bijapur in that year and Golconda in the next, and the territories which had been won by these two kingdoms from the Hindus thus became a portion of the Mughal empire. But with the Marathas he was less successful. He seized Sivaji's son, Sambhaji, and put him to death in 1689; but the power of the race increased rather than declined, and they levied tribute throughout the Deccan and in other parts of the South as well, and do not disappear from Madras history until the beginning of the nineteenth century.

In 1724 Asaf Jah, the viceroy whom the Mughal emperor had appointed to govern his conquests in the South and who bore the title of Nizam-ul-mulk, threw off all real allegiance to his sovereign and made himself virtually independent. He and his successors are known in history as the Nizams or Subahdars of the Deccan; and their chief subordinate in the South was the Nawab of the Carnatic, otherwise called the Nawab of Arcot.

Meanwhile the Hindu kingdom of Mysore, which had arisen from small beginnings on the ruins of the Vijayanagar empire, had become more and more powerful, owing largely to the exploits of a soldier of fortune in its army named Haidar Ali. By methods which were none too scrupulous, he rapidly gained supreme authority in the kingdom, and in 1761 he usurped its throne and began with more energy than ever to extend its possessions.

In the middle of the eighteenth century, therefore, the native powers in the South which had to be reckoned with were the Mussalmans under the Nizam, Mysore under Haidar Ali, and the Marathas. Meanwhile, however, various European powers had begun to establish a footing within its limits.

The Portuguese were the first nation to form a settlement there. By the beginning of the sixteenth century they had occupied Calicut and Goa on the West Coast. Vasco de Gama, the pioneer of maritime adventure, had visited that part of the country as early as 1498. For a century they prospered; but they were feebly supported at home after the union of Portugal with Spain, and eventually fell before the progress of the Dutch.

From the beginning of the seventeenth century the Dutch, who had long been powerful in the Eastern Archipelago, settled at Pulicat, Sadras, and other places along the East and West Coasts. They rapidly ousted the Portuguese; but their ideas were commercial rather than imperial, the remoteness of their headquarters at Batavia hampered them, and they soon dropped out of the race.

Another European nation attracted by the wealth of the East was the French. Their original settlement had been in Madagascar. This they abandoned in 1672 in favour of Mauritius and Bourbon. Later they came on to India; and in 1674 Francois Martin founded and fortified the town of Pondicherry, which has since been the French headquarters in the peninsula. In 1742 the famous Duplex succeeded to the governorship of the place, and rendered it the one European settlement in the South which was capable of offering any real resistance to the English East India Company.

The earliest settlements of the English within the Presidency were at Nizampatam and Masulipatam, at which places Captain Hippon of the ship Globe landed in 1611 and founded factories. Five years later, settlements were planted on the West Coast at Oranganur and Calicut by the permission of the Zamorin. In 1619 another settlement was effected at Pulicat, but the jealousies of the Dutch compelled its abandonment. In 1625, two years after the massacre of the English by the Dutch at Amboyna, the Company's agents at Bantam in Java despatched a vessel to Armagon in the present Nellore District and set up a small trading establishment there.

In 1639, owing partly to the annoyances caused to the Company's officers at Masulipatam by the subordinates of the Sultan of Golconda, within whose territories that place lay, and partly to the desire to possess a factory nearer to the real centres of the weaving and dyeing industries of the country, Francis Day, the chief official of Armagon, sought for and obtained through a subordinate of the last representative of the old Vijayanagar dynasty, who was then living at Chandragiri in North Arcot, the grant of the land on which Fort St. George now stands. A small fort was at once erected, and two years later the place became the Company's headquarters on the Coromandel Coast. In 1668 Fort St. George was raised to the rank of a Presidency, independent of Bantam, and in 1668 the factories in Bengal were placed under its orders. In 1690 the Company purchased from the Marathas the land on which Fort St. David, near Cuddalore, now stands; and at the end of the century there were also English factories within the present limits of the Madras Presidency at Porto Novo, Madapollam, Vizagapatam, Aijengo, Tellicherry and Calicut.

Up to 1740 the Company's agents had managed to keep themselves clear of the wars between the various native governments which were going on around them, and free from serious trouble with the other Europeans who had stations in the South. But in 1741 the War of the Austrian Succession lit the first flame of a conflict between them and the French, which lasted until the capture of Pondicherry in 1761, followed by the Peace of Paris in 1763.

The first notable event in this contest was the capture of Madras by La Bourdonnais in 1746. Under the orders of Dupleix, who was then in command of the French possessions, the Governor and the chief merchants were taken prisoners to Pondicherry. Fort St. David became for the time the Company's headquarters in the South. Madras was, however, restored to the English under the treaty of Aix-la-Chapelle in 1749, and the Company set themselves vigorously to work to render it more defensible than it had been at the time of the French attack.

Peace being declared between the two nations, the forces which each of them had collected in the South engaged on opposite sides in the struggles between the native powers. Each espoused the cause of a different claimant for the Nawabship of the Carnatic, and each supported its own candidate for the office of Nizam of the Deccan. The stirring details of the severe conflicts which ensued fill many pages in the histories of the period, and concern themselves with the exploits of many Englishmen—Clive and Eyre Coote among the number—whose names will ever be famous.

In 1757 news reached India that war had again broken out in Europe between England and France and the forces of the two nations in the South were once more at each other's throats. The advantage at first lay with the French. They captured successively the English Ports of Vizagapatam, Fort St. David and Devanota (which last had been granted to the Company by the Marathas of Tanjore) and in 1758 they besieged Madras. Here, however, they were unsuccessful and eventually withdrew, and meanwhile Col. Ford, who had been despatched by Clive from Bengal to the Northern Circars, had signally defeated them at Condore and captured Masulipatam. This victory resulted in the cession to the Company of a considerable tract round about the latter town which led eventually, after many vicissitudes, to the whole of the Northern Circars being granted to the British by the Mughal emperor in 1765. Farther south the struggle culminated in the battle of Wandiwash, in which Eyre Coote utterly routed the French under Lally. Gingee, Arcot, and other minor French settlements fell in quick succession; and in May, 1760, the English were in a position to attack Pondicherry itself. Lally called in the help of Haidar Ali of Mysore, but events in his own territory prevented the latter from taking any important part in the contest. Pondicherry surrendered in January, 1761. With the other French possessions, it was restored by the Peace of Paris in 1763, but the power of the French in Southern India was never again formidable, and it was thus in the Madras Presidency that the question was decided which of the European nations should be supreme in India.

We have now reached the middle of the 18th century, when, as has been said, the native powers which had to be reckoned with were the Mussalmans under the Nizam of the Deccan and the Nawab of the Carnatic, Mysore under Haidar Ali, and the Marathas. The only European force of any consequence was that of the English, and between these four the struggle for the possession of the peninsula now lay. The Nizam and the Marathas invited the English to assist them in clipping the wings of Haidar who was encroaching upon their territories. Haidar, however, bought off both Mussalmans and Marathas, and then made a descent upon the English possessions in the Carnatic. Fighting followed on both coasts of the Peninsula; but the operations were indecisive and peace was eventually concluded in 1769 by a treaty based on a mutual restitution of conquests.

In 1780 broke out the next war with Haidar, who was again befriended by both the Mussalmans and the Marathas. He descended upon the plains of the Carnatic in July of that year, burning crops and devastating villages, so that a cordon of blackened desert was formed all round the town of Madras, from Pulicat on the north to Pondicherry on the south and extending 50 miles inland.

Warren Hastings, then Governor-General of Bengal, despatched Sir Eyre Coote to Madras with reinforcements. His ability soon caused the tide of fortune to return; but age had sapped his old energy and it was not until after three years of severe fighting in every part of the peninsula that peace was at length made in 1784. As before, the basis of the treaty was a mutual restoration of conquests. Haidar Ali had died during the operations in 1782, and was succeeded by his son, Tipu Sultan, a man in every way his inferior,

Six years later war once more ensued with Mysore, Tippu having provoked hostilities by raiding the native state of Travancore, which was in alliance with the British. Lord Cornwallis, the Governor-General, commanded the forces in the field in person, and this time the British were assisted by the Nizam and the Marathas. After two years' fighting, Seringapatam, the Mysore capital, was besieged; and thereupon Tippu, in 1792, agreed to cede to the allies one-half of his territories, and to pay an indemnity of three crores and fifty lakhs of rupees. The British share of the territory thus ceded included the country round Dindigul and the districts of Salem and Malabar.

Tippu then began to intrigue to draw to his own side the allies of the British, and even sent an embassy to Mauritius to invoke the aid of the French. Lord Mornington, now Governor-General, realised the danger to British supremacy in India which such action involved, and came south to deal with the situation. The Nizam and the Marathas again joined the British. Tippu, after a feeble resistance in the field, retired to Seringapatam. The fortress was stormed on May 4th, 1799, and Tippu's body was found among the slain. A representative of the Hindu dynasty, whose rights had been usurped by Haider in 1761, was placed upon the throne of Mysore proper, and the rest of Tippu's territories were divided between the allies. The share of the British included Canara, Coimbatore, and Wynnad.

In the same year, 1799, the Maratha Raja of the principality at Tanjore, in return for aid received in gaining the throne, executed a treaty resigning the administration of his kingdom to the Company in consideration of an annual payment. In 1800 the Nizam ceded to the Company, in return for a subsidiary force to be established in his dominions, all the territories he had acquired from Mysore at the partitions of 1792 and 1799. These tracts included the present districts of Bellary, Anantapur, Cuddapah, and part of Kurnool, which are still known as the "Ceded Districts." When Seringapatam fell in 1799 a treasonable correspondence had been discovered between Tippu and the Nawab of the Carnatic, who was nominally the ally of the Company. In consequence, after many negotiations, a treaty was concluded with the Nawab in 1801, under which he resigned the government of his country to the Company, but retained the titular dignity and received a considerable stipend. The existing representative of the family bears the title of Prince of Arcot and has the position of the first native nobleman of Madras.

The Company had thus obtained possession of the whole of the present Madras Presidency from Cape Comorin to the Northern Circars, except a part of the Kurnool District, the Dutch station of Pondicherry, the existing French settlements at Pondicherry and other places, and the territories of the five native states still in subordination to the Madras Government, the history of which will be found in the separate articles regarding them.

In 1839 internal mismanagement and treasonable intrigue on the part of the Nawab of Kurnool led to the annexation of his country. Tranquebar was purchased from the Danes in 1845. In 1852 the district of North Arcot was transferred to Bombay. Since then no alterations of importance in the limits of the Presidency have occurred.

The territories thus rapidly acquired at the end of the 18th and beginning of the 19th century were in most cases reduced to order with little trouble. The poligars in the Ceded Districts had to be suppressed by an armed force, and the turbulence of those in the extreme south necessitated more than one regular campaign. In the Northern Circars the hill chieftains gave trouble as late as 1836. The last occasion on which the employment of regular troops was necessary was the rebellion in the Rampa hill tracts of the Godavari Agency in 1879.

After the paleolithic and neolithic implements which have been discovered in scattered sites, the oldest objects of archaeological interest in the Presidency are the pre-historic burrows, earthenware, and dolmens found in almost all districts, the first three of which frequently contain pottery, ashes, arms, implements, personal ornaments, etc. The chief remains of historic times consist (beside coins) of inscriptions, temples, and forts. During the last twenty years much has been done to survey, describe, and preserve these links with the past. In 1842 the first list of antiquities in the Presidency was published and about the same time Archaeological Survey in charge of a specialist was set on foot, while a few years later a Government Epigraphist was appointed. These two officers make annual reports of the results of their work and also publish the more important of their discoveries in the Imperial Series of Reports of the Archaeological Survey of India and in South Indian Inscriptions, the Epigraphia Indica and elsewhere. The Epigraphist is systematically translating and publishing the countless inscriptions on the thousands of temples in the Presidency, and his work is doing much to eliminate the existing darkness of its early history. The Archaeological Survey embraces both pre-historic and historic remains. Such pre-historic antiquities as the Madras Museum contains including the well-known collection made in the Nilgiris by Mr. Brooks, have been catalogued and described by Mr. Bruce Foote and lately some extensive burial places had been discovered at Adichanallur in Tinnavelly, the extraordinary variety and richness of the finds made in which are referred to in the notice of that place.

The Madras Presidency, according to existing boundary divisions, is made up of 23 districts, namely,—Northern, including Ganjam, Vizagapatam, Godavari, Kistna and Guntur;

East Central, including Nellore, Madras, Chingleput, Chittoor, North Arcot and South Arcot; Ceded Districts, including Kurnool, Bellary, Cuddapah and Anantapur; West Central, including Salem, Coimbatore and Nilgiris; Southern, including Tanjore, Trichinopoly, Madurai, Ramnad and Tinnevely; West Coast, including South Canara, Malabar and Anjengo.

The first four districts and the fifth which was recently carved out of the 3rd and 4th with a small portion of Nellore are known as the "Northern Circars." Prior to 1859 and 1810 these Circars consisted of five districts, but in that year the three districts of Rajahmundry, Masulipatam and Guntur were divided to form the Godavari and Kistna Districts, with effect from 1st October 1931; the latter have been again split up into three districts, known as Godavari, Kistna and Guntur. To the first have been added the Nagar, Alibekatcharla Taluks of the Sironchi Tahsil of the Chandu District in the Central Provinces and to the last, the Ongole Taluk which belonged to the Nellore District. The northern districts were formerly under the Nizam's Government, and in that time the divisions were as follows. Guntur, Condapilly, Ellore, Rajahmundry and Chicacole. They came finally into British possession in the year 1823, by the payment to the Nizam's Government of Rs. 11,66,696 in lieu of an annual tribute. When these districts fell into the hands of the East India Company they consisted chiefly of large estates, held by rautors or zemindars, of lands called "Havelly," which were the old demesnes, or private estates, of former rulers; and of tracts near the principal towns which had been resumed by the Muhammadan Governors of the districts, and appropriated for the support of their numerous bands of soldiers and public establishments. For some years prior to 1855-56 these Northern Circars were under the charge of a separate Commissioner, but each district had then also its own revenue and judicial establishments. The appointment of Commissioner of the Northern Circars was abolished in June 1856.

The part of the Presidency, usually known as the Carnatic, appears to have been originally formed of three divisions, namely, Northern, extending from the river Pennar to the river Gundegama, and consisting of a portion of the Nellore District; Central, extending from the Coleroon to the Pennar river, and containing a portion of Trichinopoly, Chingleput, North Arcot, South Arcot, Madras and Nellore districts; and Southern, consisting of a portion of the Trichinopoly and the whole of Tanjore, Tinnevely and Madurai districts. These districts came into the possession of the British between the years 1799 and 1801.

In the year 1859-60 the two districts of Madras Town and Chingleput were amalgamated into a single district, the collection of Sea Customs revenue being separately provided for. In the year 1870 the Chingleput district was again divided as before, leaving the administration of the Madras Town district in the hands of the Sea Customs Collector. The Chingleput District was obtained from the Nawab of Arcot in 1763 in return for services rendered to him and his father by the Company. The grant was confirmed by the Great Moghul in 1765, and for a long time the district was known as the "Jaghire" of the East India Company. The site of the Town of Madras was obtained in the year 1640, by a grant from the descendants of the Vijayanagar rulers, subsequently confirmed by the Moghul Government.

The districts of Bellary and Cuddapah were ceded to the English by the Nizam in the year 1800 for the maintenance, in perpetuity, of a body of troops known as the Hyderabad Subsidiary Force, and as payment for troops furnished during the Mysore wars. The territories so made over are still known as the Ceded Districts.

In 1800 the rights of sovereignty exercised by the Nizam over the Kurnool country as Subadar of the Deccan became vested in the East India Company. The Nizam, in the treaty of partition, gave over to the British all his possessions south of the Tungabhadra and Kistna rivers below their junction. At this time the ruler of the Kurnool country paid a yearly tribute of one lakh of rupees to the Nizam. In 1839 the Kurnool district, through the rebellion of the then ruler of the country, was placed under British administration.

The districts of Salem and Coimbatore came into British possession, the former in 1792 by the treaty of Seringapatam, and the latter in 1799 after the final defeat of Tipu and the partition of his territory between the British, the Nizam, and the legitimate successor to the Mysore Government—the Maharajah of Mysore.

The Nilgiri Hills, formerly a taluk of the Coimbatore District, was constituted a separate district under Act I of 1868.

The two districts of Malabar and Canara, on the western side of the Ghats, fell into the possession of the British in 1792 and 1799, respectively. Canara was in 1859 divided into North and South Canara for administrative purposes, and in 1860 North Canara was transferred, for convenience of administration, from the Madras to the Bombay Presidency. The taluk of Coondapoor which formerly belonged to North Canara, is now attached to South Canara.

EDUCATIONAL QUALIFICATIONS FOR ADMISSION TO THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

(Revised up to 31st March 1915.)

NOTE (1).—The rules contained in this notification shall in no wise affect the promotion of persons who, on the 30th June 1894, held permanent appointments in the Government service, provided that their promotion to posts carrying a salary of more than Rs. 20 was not already barred by any rules previously in force, or that they have passed the Middle School Examination in the first class and are otherwise deemed fit for such further promotion.

Persons who have passed the Matriculation Examination of the Bombay University and who held permanent appointments in the Government service on the 31st July 1913 are eligible for promotion to posts carrying a salary of more than Rs. 20 per mensem, provided that they are otherwise qualified.

NOTE (2).—Expressions such as “ministerial officer,” “pay,” “salary,” “superior service” and “inferior service” which occur in the Civil Service Regulations are used in this notification in the sense in which they are used in the Civil Service Regulations.

NOTE (3).—For the purposes of this notification progressive salaries shall be calculated at the maximum pay of the appointment.

NOTE (4).—These rules apply, unless otherwise expressly provided, to all appointments, whether pensionable or non-pensionable, temporary or acting.

GENERAL EDUCATIONAL QUALIFICATIONS.

1. Subject to the provisions of articles 2 and 4, no person shall be eligible, on or after the 1st April 1911, for appointment to any post in the superior service, the sanctioned pay of which exceeds Rs. 20 per mensem (the maximum pay being taken as the standard in the case of appointments on progressive scale as required by note 3, supra), unless—

(1) he is a graduate, or

(2) he has obtained a completed Secondary School-leaving certificate issued under the authority of Government showing that the candidate possesses sufficient knowledge in the ordinary subjects and in two optional subjects, or

NOTE.—For the purposes of this article the Secondary School-Leaving certificates issued by the States of Travancore, Cochin, Mysore and Hyderabad, will be treated as equivalent to the Secondary School-Leaving certificate of the Government of Madras;

(3) he has passed the Matriculation Examination of the University of Madras prior to 1910 or the Madras Upper Secondary Examination with English as his first language, or

NOTE.—Persons who produce satisfactory evidence that they were pupils in the sixth form of a recognized school in 1909 and passed the Matriculation Examination of the University of Madras in 1911, 1912 or 1913 will also be considered to be eligible under clause (3);

(4) he produces evidence that he has attended for three years a High School situated outside the jurisdiction of the Department of Public Instruction in Madras but recognized by the University of Madras and has passed the Matriculation Examination of the University of Madras, or

(5) he has passed any of the examinations accepted by Government for the purpose of this notification, namely,—

(1) The late Higher Examination for Women.

(2) The Oxford or Cambridge Senior Local Examinations (in the case of students who pass those examinations outside the limits of India and Ceylon).

(3) The Matriculation Examination of the London University.

(4) The School Final Examination of the Allahabad University.

(5) The Entrance or the Matriculation Examination of the Calcutta University.

(8) The High School Examination for Europeans under the Code of Regulations for European Schools.

(9) The Matriculation Examination of the Allahabad University.

(10) The Matriculation Examination of the Punjab University.

(11) The School Final Examination of Burma.

The cases of persons who have passed other examinations of a similar character may be referred for the special orders of Government.

Persons not being natives of India who have passed no public examination and natives of India who have not attended any secondary school will be eligible if they satisfy Government that they have received an education at least up to the standard of the late Upper Secondary Examination or the Matriculation Examination.

In the case of candidates presenting school-leaving certificates, heads of departments and others making appointments are expected to see that preference is given to those who hold the best certificates.

RULES FOR ADMISSION TO MADRAS PROVINCIAL CIVIL SERVICE

PART I.

General Rules issued by the Government of India.

(Home Department Resolution Nos. 1046-1068, dated 19th August 1910.)

The Governor-General in Council has had, under consideration, the recommendation made by the Royal Commission on Decentralization at the end of paragraph 128 of their Report on the subject of framing rules for the recruitment of Provincial services. The majority of the Commission consider it unnecessary that rules for the recruitment of those services should, as is now the case, require the sanction of the Government of India, and they express the opinion that the functions of that Government should be limited to laying down a few general principles as to eligibility for appointment, etc., on which detailed provincial rules would be based.

2. In the present Resolution, the Governor-General in Council proposes to deal only with the Provincial Civil Services (executive and judicial). The case of other provincial services will be separately considered.

3. The present system under which the previous sanction of the Government of India is required to making or altering the rules for the recruitment of the Provincial Civil Services was introduced in 1892 as the result of the Report of the Public Service Commission. The Governor-General in Council has now decided to accept in substance the recommendation of the Decentralisation Commission and is pleased accordingly to invest local Governments with the power to make rules for the recruitment of the Provincial Civil Services without the previous sanction of the Government of India, but subject to their general control. The general conditions which should govern such recruitment have been already fully considered in connection with the inquiries made by the Public Service Commission, and the Governor-General in Council, upon a further consideration of the subject, sees no reason to modify the conclusions then arrived at. It will, however, be convenient to re-state them in the present connection as follows:—

I.—The rules must be adapted on the one hand to obtain thoroughly efficient candidates, and, on the other, to secure the due representation in the public service of the different classes of the community.

II.—Every candidate for appointment by recruitment must furnish satisfactory evidence—

- (a) that he is not over 35 years of age, except in the case of Barristers, Advocates, or Pleaders appointed to the Judicial Branch: these excepted cases will be governed by article 51 of the Civil Service Regulations;
- (b) that he has attained a prescribed preliminary standard of general education to be fixed by local Governments with reference to local conditions, the object being to secure men qualified by as high a standard of general education as the conditions and requirements of the local administration permit. In particular, qualification in one or more of the vernacular languages of the province in which he is to be employed is to be insisted on. The vernacular standard should be a high one, involving a thorough knowledge of the language and ability to write and read the written character with facility;
- (c) that he is of sound health, good physique, and active habits; and
- (2) that he is of good character.

III.—Every person appointed to the Provincial Civil Service by direct recruitment shall be subject to a period of probation of training during which time his appointment will be probationary only, unless in special cases, the local Government declared such probation or training to be unnecessary.

IV.—The subjects of Native Princes in alliance with His Majesty shall be eligible for appointment, provided they are qualified in other respects.

V.—Admission to the Provincial Civil Service should usually be confined to persons who are natives of the province or have definitely settled in it; in the case of candidates who are not natives of the province, recent residence of at least three years in the province should, as a general rule, be an essential condition of admission. No Barrister, Advocate or Pleader should be appointed as such, unless he has been at least three years actually practising his profession in India, and can speak the provincial vernacular.

VI.—Europeans who are not statutory natives of India shall be eligible for appointment, if qualified according to the above conditions, with the sanction of the Government of India.

VII.—The local Government should reserve to itself the right to make promotion to the superior grades of the Provincial Civil Service without regard to seniority, and seniority alone should not give a claim to appointment to the grade of Rs. 500 a month and higher grades.

VIII.—The Government of India retain power in very special cases to make direct appointments to offices in the higher grades of the Provincial Civil Services, and whenever the Government of India exercise this power in the case of judicial officers, it will be confined to Barristers, Advocates, or Pleaders of the High Courts who have shown distinguished ability in the exercise of their profession for not less than ten years and have a thorough knowledge of the vernacular.

IX.—No member of the Provincial Civil Service shall be dismissed otherwise than on the result of a judicial or formal departmental inquiry.

4. The Governor-General in Council directs that any change made in the rules from time to time should be forthwith communicated to the Government of India in the Home Department, in order that they may be in a position to exercise effective general control. His Excellency in Council considers it desirable, moreover, that this Resolution should be published by the local Governments and Administrations as part of the respective provincial rules.

PART II.

A.—Deputy Magistrates and Collectors (21) ...	500	B.—District Munsifs (30) ...	200
B.—Subordinate Judges (8) ...	500

II. Vacancies in the list of Deputy Collectors shall be filled, as heretofore, mainly by selection from the subordinate service of persons who have passed the examinations prescribed for those posts and from persons, whether in the service of Government or not, of proved merit and ability.

III. The appointments of Sub-Judges shall be made entirely by selection, but only Barristers, Advocates, High Court Vakils, Attorneys of the High Court and District Munsifs shall be eligible for these posts.

IV. The appointment of District Munsifs lies, under Act III of 1873, in the hands of the High Court, the qualifications required being regulated by rules made by the Honourable the Judges, subject to the approval of Government.

With effect from the 1st January 1911, the following persons only shall be eligible for appointment as District Munsifs outside the Scheduled districts and except when the appointment of District Munsif is held with an appointment in the Revenue department, viz:—

(1) Advocates and Attorneys of the High Court and persons duly qualified for admission as Advocates or Attorneys of the High Court;

(2) Persons who have obtained the degree of Bachelor of Laws at the University of Madras, Calcutta, Bombay or Allahabad, provided that no Bachelor of Laws of the University of Madras who passed the examination qualifying for that degree after the year 1899 shall be eligible under this paragraph unless he has also passed the examination in the Law of Practice and Procedure, Civil and Criminal, provided for in the rules for the qualification and admission of Vakils of the High Court;

* Note.—These appointments are subject to the claims of officers in the Indian Civil Service appointed before 1880. If no fit and competent member of the Provincial Civil Service is available, or if the preponderant administrative needs of the Province require it, an Indian Civil Servant may be appointed to any of these appointments or to any of the 14 appointments of Deputy Magistrates and Deputy Collectors in Grade VIII.

- (3) Persons who have passed the Pleaders Examination in the first grade;
 (4) Persons already in the service of the Government in the Judicial Department who passed at any of the Special Test Examinations held before or in the year 1889, the tests imposed by the rules, dated 29th July 1869, for appointment as a District Munsiff;
 (5) Persons who, before the 1st January 1911, have acted as District Munsiff of any Munsiff outside of the Scheduled districts other than Anjengo, Gudalur, Kollegal and Tangasseri.

V. Every candidate for appointment who is not already in Government service must furnish satisfactory evidence—

(a) that he is not over 25 years, except in the case of persons appointed to the Judicial Branch. In these excepted cases, article 51 of the Civil Service Regulations fixes the maximum age;

(b) that he fulfils the conditions prescribed in the rules for admission to the Public Service;

(c) that he is of sound health, good physique, and active habits;

(d) that he is of good character; and

(e) that he has passed the third-class vernacular test prescribed for European and Eurasian civil officers other than members of the Indian Civil Service or has graduated in a vernacular.

VI. Every person appointed to the Provincial Civil Service who is not already in Government service shall be subject to probation for a period of two years, unless in special cases the Government declares such probation to be unnecessary. During this period he must complete the vernacular and other tests prescribed for the appointment which he may hold and his appointment shall be probationary only until he has done so. His confirmation shall be conditional on his passing the prescribed examinations and giving satisfaction in the performance of his duties during the term of probation.

VII. The subjects of Native Princes in alliance with His Majesty shall be eligible for appointment to the Provincial Civil Service, provided they are qualified in other respects.

VIII. Admission to the Provincial Civil Service shall usually be confined to persons who are natives of the Madras Presidency or have definitely settled in it: in the case of the candidates who are not natives of the Presidency, recent residence of at least three years therein shall, as a general rule, be an essential condition of admission. No Barrister, Advocate, Vakil, Attorney or Pleader shall be appointed as such, unless he has been at least three years actually practising his profession in India.

IX. Europeans who are not Statutory Natives of India, shall, if qualified by the above conditions, be eligible with the sanction of the Government of India for appointment to posts in the Provincial Civil Service other than the listed appointments declared open to that service by notification, in regard to which the sanction of the Secretary of State will be required.

X. No member of the Provincial Civil Service shall be dismissed otherwise than on the result of a judicial or formal departmental inquiry.

XI. Government reserve to themselves the right to make promotions to the superior grades of the Provincial Civil Service carrying a salary of Rs. 500 a month, and above, without regard to seniority and seniority alone shall not give a claim to appointments to the grade of Rs. 600 a month or to higher grades. Every such promotion will be based wholly upon fitness and merit, seniority being regarded only when the claims of two or more officers who are equally fit, come into competition.

XII. Candidates for the post of Deputy Collector are required to pass the following tests before appointment:—

- (1) Revenue, Higher.
- (2) Criminal, Higher.
- (3) Account Test, Higher.
- (4) Pencil-writing Test.

Full particulars regarding tests (1), (2), (3) and (4) will be found on pages 359—360 of the Port St. George Gazette, Part I-B, dated 26th July 1910.

- (5) (a) For Europeans and Eurasians—A language test corresponding to the examination of the Covenanted Civil Servants by the Higher Standard.
- (b) For others—The Compulsory Vernacular Test in two languages.

The following is the Compulsory Vernacular Test referred to under sub-head (b):—

(1) Reading aloud fluently and construing with readiness and accuracy not less than an octave page of the under-mentioned works:—

In Tamil	...	...	{ 1. Pratapa Mudaliar Charitram, by S. Vedanayagam Pillai. 2. Nanrianiya Magan, by C. R. Srinivasa Aiyangar.
In Telugu	...	...	{ 1. The neglected Karnataka Kingdom (Krishnadevaraya Charitram) by Chitlukuri Virabhadra Rao, or Satyavati Charitram by Rao Bahadur K. Virasalingam Pantulu. 2. 100 selected Vemana verses.
In Canarese	...	...	{ 1. Panchatantram. 2. Seemantant, by G. Venkat Rao.
In Malayalam	...	...	{ 1. Indulekha or Sarada, by O. Chandu Menon. 2. Kanakamalika, by P. T. Kannan.
In Uriya	...	...	{ 1. Chomono Attogonto, by Pandit Fakir Mohan Sanapati. 2. Utakala Kahani, by Gopal Chandra Probaraj.

The candidate shall also be required to read aloud and construe passages from any current vernacular newspaper.

(ii) Translating in writing into English, with accuracy, a passage of modern vernacular prose from a book (not being a text-book) or a newspaper written in the ordinary colloquial language.

(iii) Translating in writing, with fair accuracy of idiom and grammar, an easy piece of English relating to Indian subjects and containing no words that have not familiar vernacular equivalents and bearing, as far as possible, upon questions connected with the department to which the candidate belongs.

(iv) Reading aloud fluently, and translating correctly and readily, two or three manuscripts written in the language in which the examination is held, in a plain running office-hand.

(v) Conversing with the Examiners, or with natives of India, on such subjects proposed by them as are calculated to test colloquial facility, both as regards scholarlike expression and knowledge of terms and phrases as commonly used by the poorer and uneducated classes.

Note.—Graduates and Under Graduates of the Madras University who have taken up one of the vernaculars specified as their Optional language in the University examination have to pass in only one vernacular other than the Optional Language of their examination; but they will not be declared to have passed the test in the second vernacular unless they satisfy the Examiner that they can read fluently and with facility manuscripts written in the vernacular in which they are exempted from passing.

The Compulsory Vernacular Test Examination is conducted by the Board of Examiners half-yearly at Madras in the months of January and July, or at such other time as the Board of Examiners may direct.

(6) Equitation Test.—The test prescribed is ability to ride 8 miles in the hour along an ordinary country cart-track without unduly distressing the rider himself or his horse. The test is conducted by the Equitation Board at Madras, half-yearly, in the months of January and July.

Note 1.—No officer may appear either for the compulsory vernacular test or for the equitation test unless (a) he has passed the Revenue Higher, Criminal Higher, Account Test and Precise writing Tests, and (b) he holds a post, whether acting or substantive, carrying a salary of Rs. 150 per mensem or upwards.

Note 2.—Candidates of the class referred to in Rule V need not necessarily have passed the tests above mentioned before appointment. They will, however, be expected to complete all the tests specified in this Rule within the probationary period of two years alluded to in Rule VI.

After Appointment.

(6) Equitation Test.—Officers will be required to obtain from the Equitation Board appointed in G. O., No. 575, dated 8th August 1905, within 4 months from a date to be fixed in each case by the Secretary to Government, Revenue Department, a certificate of ability to ride eight miles in the hour along an ordinary country handy-track without unduly distressing themselves or their horses. The Government will be prepared to sanction exemptions from this test in special cases. If any officer not specially exempted from the test fails to obtain a certificate within a year from the date of his appointment, he will be required to undergo a course of training at the Body Guard Riding School, Madras, taking leave for the purpose. Such training will not, however, exempt him from the necessity of subsequently obtaining a certificate from the Equitation Board.

Note.—(1) Applications for postponement of the Riding test are dealt with by the President of the Equitation Board.

(2) The period of one year prescribed in the above rule will be reckoned from the date of first substantive appointment as Deputy Collector whether substantive pro tem. or permanent.

XIII. A reward of Rs. 500 will be granted to Deputy Collectors serving in the district of Ganjam and Vizagapatnam, who, having already passed the compulsory vernacular test in two languages other than Uriya, succeed in passing the second-class test in Uriya within two years from the date of their appointment to one of those districts.

XIV. Subordinate Judges and District Munsifs are required to pass the following tests before appointment:—

(1) Third-class Vernacular test.

Note.—Persons who have graduated in one of the vernaculars of the Presidency or who have passed the Language branch of the B. A. Degree Examination of the Madras University with a vernacular as their optional language are exempt from this test.

(2) Precise-writing test.

Native Subordinate Judges permanently appointed after the issue of this rule are required to pass in two languages the vernacular test laid down in Rule XII (5) (b). The examination is conducted by the Board of Examiners and is held half-yearly at Madras in January and July, or at such time as the Board of Examiners may direct. Subordinate Judges are required to pass this test at or before the third (or, in the case of officers who have to pass in two languages, the fifth) half-yearly examination after their appointment. An officer failing to pass the examination within the prescribed time will be required to vacate his appointment in the grade unless the period is specially extended by Government. Native Subordinate Judges and Native District Munsifs will be permitted to appear for the compulsory vernacular test before confirmation.

European and Eurasian Subordinate Judges and District Munsifs are also required to pass, in the language of the district in which they are employed, either before entering on their duties after appointment, or within one year thereafter on pain of loss of promotion, or within two years thereafter on pain of loss of appointment, the second-class test prescribed for European and Eurasian Civil officers other than members of the Indian Civil Service. It is not, however, incumbent on an officer to pass in a second vernacular either on transfer from one district to another, or when two vernaculars are recognized as the language of a district. This test is the same as that laid down in Rule XII (5) (b). The examination is conducted by the Board of Examiners and is held twice a year in January and July.

RULES FOR THE CONSTITUTION OF THE NEW PROVINCIAL SERVICE OF THE SURVEY OF INDIA.

The Provincial Service of the Survey of India is open only to persons who are natives of India as defined in the Statute 33 Vict., Cap. 3, Section 6.

2. There will be four methods of admission to the Service:—

- (1) by competitive examination of candidates nominated by the Surveyor-General (Rules 3—6);
- (2) by direct appointment of persons possessing certain educational qualifications (Rules 7—8);
- (3) by promotion from the Upper Subordinate Service (Rule 10);
- (4) by transfer from the existing service (Rules 12—13).

3. The Surveyor-General will, about the beginning of April in each year, publish a notice specifying the number of vacancies offered for competition.

4. Only candidates who have been nominated by the Surveyor-General will be permitted to appear at a competitive examination for admission to the Service. For the present no candidate will be nominated for the competitive examination, who does not possess the qualifications required for admission to the entrance examination of the Thomson Civil Engineering College or equivalent qualifications in Provinces other than the United Provinces or the Punjab. Persons desirous of appearing at the competitive examination must apply to the Surveyor-General, Calcutta, when a form of application will be supplied. On receipt of the form duly filled in and after such further enquiries and examination as he may consider necessary, the Surveyor-General will, if he thinks the applicant suitable for service in the Survey of India, give him a nomination which will entitle him to appear at a competitive examination to be held under the following rule.

5. The Surveyor-General may arrange to have the competitive examination conducted by the authorities of such College or Colleges as he may select, or a special examination of nominated candidates may be held by the Survey Department. If only one examination is held in a year those candidates who obtain the greatest number of marks will be appointed in order of passing up to the number of probationary appointments offered for competition. If more than one examination is held in the same year, the Surveyor-General will allot the number of appointments to be given at each examination, and the candidates who stand highest on the list of passed candidates at each examination will be selected up to the number of vacancies allotted to the examination for which they appear.

6. Candidates selected after examination under the foregoing rules will be on probation for three years, and will receive salary at the rate of Rs. 100 per mensem for the first year, Rs. 125 per mensem for the second year, and Rs. 150 per mensem for the third year.

7. The Surveyor-General may, subject to the approval of the Government of India, appoint on probation a candidate who has graduated, taking mathematics as a subject for his degree, or who has passed as a Bachelor of Engineering or possesses the Roorkee Engineering College certificate or other equivalent qualification. Such a candidate must be under 24 years of age.

8. Candidates appointed under Rule 7 will be on probation for two years and will receive a salary of Rs. 100 per mensem for the first year, and Rs. 150 per mensem for the second year.

498 RULES FOR THE UPPER SUBORDINATE SERVICE, SURVEY OF INDIA.

9. A candidate appointed on probation may be discharged by the Surveyor-General at any time during the period of probation, and no probationer will be permanently appointed to the Provincial Service until he has completed his period of probation and has satisfied the Surveyor-General that he is duly qualified and that his health is good. The term of probation may be prolonged by the Surveyor-General to the extent of any period or periods of leave passed on medical certificate. Probationary service, if followed by a permanent appointment, will count for leave and pension.

10. The Surveyor-General may, subject to the approval of the Government of India, promote specially deserving officers from the Upper Subordinate Service to the Provincial Service; ordinarily no such promotion will be given to any officer after he has attained the age of 40 years.

11. On being permanently appointed to the new Provincial Service after completion of the periods of probation prescribed in Rules 6 and 8, or on promotion from the Upper Subordinate Service under Rule 10, an officer will be designated Extra Assistant Superintendent and will receive pay at the rate of Rs. 250 per mensem rising by triennial increments of Rs. 50 to Rs. 400, subject to the condition that the Surveyor-General shall have power to stop any increment for unsatisfactory work or conduct. The service will also include a number of posts of Extra Deputy Superintendents, promotion to which will ordinarily be made by selection from among the Extra Assistant Superintendents on Rs. 600. The Government of India, however, reserve the right to select any Extra Assistant Superintendent for promotion to the rank of Extra Deputy Superintendent.

At present the following posts of Extra Deputy Superintendents have been sanctioned:—

4 posts on Rs.	650	per mensem.
2 " on Rs.	700	" "
2 " on Rs.	800	" "
2 " on Rs.	1,000	" "

12. Members of the existing Provincial Service appointed after 1st May 1905 may, at the discretion of the Surveyor-General, be transferred, subject to such tests (if any) as the Surveyor-General may prescribe, to the new Provincial Service and on such transfer will receive their present rates of pay (including such increments as they may earn under the existing scheme) until they have completed three years from the date of their present appointment to the existing service, and thereafter will receive pay at the rate of Rs. 250, subject to the increase provided by Rule 11 above.

13. The Government of India may at any time transfer any member of the old Provincial Service to the new Provincial Service under such conditions as they think fit.

Note.—The Surveyor-General of India in his communication No. 5—250, dated 15th November 1913, informs us that recruitment to the above service has been stopped for the present.

RULES FOR THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UPPER SUBORDINATE SERVICE, SURVEY OF INDIA.

1. On being permanently appointed to the Upper Subordinate Service, an officer will be designated Sub-Assistant Superintendent and will receive pay at the rate of Rs. 80 per mensem, and his pay will rise by triennial increments of Rs. 15 to Rs. 200; but the Surveyor-General may at any time stop an increment in the case of an officer whose work or conduct is unsatisfactory. The service will also include eventually nine posts on Rs. 250.

2. All appointments to the Upper Subordinate Service are made by direct nomination by the Surveyor-General, there being no competitive examination.

3. The Surveyor-General may make appointments to this service—

(a) by promotion from the Lower Subordinate Service of Surveyors who have rendered specially good service and are qualified for the practical duties they will be called upon to perform;

(b) by selection from among candidates who possess the qualifications required for admission to the Entrance Examination of the Thomason Civil Engineering College or other equivalent qualification.

4. Lower subordinates selected for promotion under Rule 3 (a) will start on the nearest time-scale rate in the Upper Subordinate Service, provided that they shall in no case lose pay by promotion. Thus a lower subordinate drawing not more than Rs. 80 will start on Rs. 80 on promotion to the Upper Subordinate Service. A lower subordinate drawing more than Rs. 80 and not more than Rs. 95 will start on Rs. 95 on promotion to the Upper Subordinate Service. A lower subordinate drawing more than Rs. 95 will start on Rs. 110 on promotion to the Upper Subordinate Service.

5. Candidates selected under Rules 3 (b) will be appointed on probation for two years with a salary of Rs. 50 per mensem, and will not be permanently appointed to the Upper Subordinate Service until they have completed their period of probation and satisfied the Surveyor-General that they are duly qualified. The term of probation may be prolonged by the Surveyor-General to the extent of any period or periods of leave passed by the probationer on medical certificate. Probationary service under this rule if followed by a permanent appointment will count for leave and pension.

RULES FOR THE ADMISSION OF STATUTORY NATIVES OF INDIA TO THE ENROLLED LIST OF THE FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT OF THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Rules for the examination of the candidates in India for admission to the General List of the Indian Finance Department

I.—A register of candidates will be kept, from which not less than three candidates for each vacancy will be nominated by the Government of India from time to time as vacancies are expected. Only candidates so nominated will be entitled to compete.

II.—Names will ordinarily be entered in the register only on the recommendation of a Local Government.

III.—On or before the first of May in each year, Local Governments will send to the Government of India the names of any persons whom they desire to recommend for entry in the register. The list should be accompanied in the case of each person by copies of certificates of character and education, by a statement of age and by information regarding any services that may have been rendered to the State by his parents or family. Before being recommended by a Local Government, each applicant must give satisfactory proof that he is a native of India within the meaning of the Statute 33 Vict., cap. 3, section 6.*

IV.—The Government of India will also be prepared occasionally to receive direct applications for registration from suitable candidates. Such applications should be submitted in the applicant's own handwriting to the Secretary to the Government of India in the Finance Department and should contain the information required by rule III.

V.—The names of persons not possessed of high educational qualifications will not be registered. Clear and distinct handwriting and a business familiarity with the English language are indispensable.

VI.—The Government of India reserve an absolute discretion not only in regard to the selection of persons to be entered on the register of candidates, but also as to the nomination of candidates to compete at the examination. It must be clearly understood that registration of a candidate's name does not in any way imply that he will be nominated for admission to examination.

VII.—The name of a registered candidate will be struck off the register when he has reached the age of 25, or has failed in two examinations.

VIII.—A candidate nominated for admission to one examination will not be admitted to a later examination unless again nominated.

IX.—The age of a candidate, on the first day of the month in which the examination is held must not be less than twenty-two and not more than twenty-five years. A candidate who has been continuously in Government employ since before the age of 25 may, however, at the discretion of the Government of India, be allowed to compete at the examination up to the age of 30, provided that he is satisfactorily recommended by the Head of his Department.

X.—A nominated candidate before appearing at the examination must produce a certificate in the annexed form by a Commissioned Medical Officer or by a Medical Officer in charge of a Civil station.

* The words "Native of India" shall include any person born and domiciled within the dominions of His Majesty in India of parents habitually resident in India and not established there for temporary purposes only.

500 ADMISSION OF STATUTORY NATIVES TO THE FINANCIAL DEPT.

CERTIFICATE.

I do hereby certify that I have examined A. B., a candidate for employment in the Indian Finance Department, and that I cannot discover that he has any disease, constitutional affection or bodily infirmity unfitting him, or likely to unfit him, for the public service in any part of India.

XI.—Such candidate must also, before appearing for examination, produce a certificate of age from the Officer in charge of the District in which his family reside, or if they reside in a Presidency Town or a Native State, from the Presidency Magistrate or Political Agent, respectively. To obtain this certificate the date and place of the candidate's birth must be proved before the District Officer, Presidency Magistrate, or Political Agent, as the case may be, by documentary evidence, supplemented, where this is not conclusive proof, by statements of relatives and others on oath or solemn affirmation.

XII.—Nominated candidates will be examined in the subjects described in the Schedule attached to this Resolution. No candidate will be admitted to the Department who fails to show a competent knowledge of the compulsory subjects, and the Government reserves the right of declining to make any appointment when no candidate reaches a high standard of proficiency.

XIII.—The examination will be mainly by written questions and answers. The questions will be prepared and the examination conducted in such manner as the Governor-General in Council from time to time directs.

XIV.—Some months before an examination is to be held, its date and place, and the conditions of examination, will be notified in the Gazette of India, and the number of vacancies open to competition will at the same time be stated.

XV.—Subject to the above conditions, candidates will be appointed to the posts thrown open to competition according to their order of merit at the examination.

SCHEDULE.

SUBJECTS FOR EXAMINATION.

Compulsory.					Marks.
Writing and Composition	.	...	...	...	300
Optional.
Any two of—
(a) Political Economy and Economic History.					} each, 40
(b) Mathematics (pure and mixed).
(c) Physics.
(d) Chemistry.
(e) History (Indian and English).
(f) One classical language with its literature, viz., Latin, Greek, Hebrew, Sanskrit, Arabic or Persian.
Total					1,100

In the optional subjects the standard required will be that of the B.A. Honours degree in any Indian University where these subjects are prescribed.

The successful candidates will be required, before appointment to the Department, to pass a qualifying examination in—

- (i) Elementary Mathematics (viz., Geometry, Algebra, Plane Trigonometry and the use of logarithms)
- (ii) Book-keeping by single entry.
- (iii) Political Economy.

Candidates who have taken Mathematics or Political Economy for the competitive examination will be exempted from (i) and (iii), respectively. These qualifying examinations will be held twice a year if necessary: one being always arranged for about three months after the declaration of the results of the competitive examination. If a candidate who has succeeded in the competitive examination fails, on two occasions, to pass the qualifying examination, he will not receive an appointment in the Department.

RULES REGARDING THE COURSE OF INSTRUCTION, SELECTION AND APPOINTMENT OF CANDIDATES FOR DIRECT APPOINTMENT TO THE PROVINCIAL FOREST SERVICE.

The course of instruction, which will be of two years' duration, and the selection and appointment of candidates will be conducted under the following arrangements:—

The Secretary of State has drawn attention to the principle now accepted as the basis of the recruitment of the Imperial Forest Service, that all candidates in addition to a good general education must have passed with honours in a public examination for a degree in some branch of natural science held by a university in England. It has been found that, without a preliminary training in science, probationers are not able to complete an advanced forest course within a limited time, and his Lordship considers it will be found essential, if English experience is at all applicable, that every probationer should have a good general education and a substantial knowledge of one or more branches of natural science. The Government of India desire that this point should be borne in mind in connection with the selection of candidates.

Considering the class of officials required for forest work and the various degrees of education prevailing in the different provinces, the Government of India do not think it necessary or advisable to prescribe for candidates any of the established educational qualifications, and they accordingly leave to Local Governments full authority to select candidates in such a manner as they think best, subject to the condition that only candidates who are in all respects qualified by previous education, more especially in English and Mathematics, thoroughly to follow and profit by the course of instruction, should be nominated. Information regarding the degree of qualifications required in English and Mathematics will be found in the new rules for the course prescribed for the Provincial Forest Service, which are being circulated separately to Local Governments. The President of the Forest Research Institute and College will be empowered to subject any candidate about whom he has a doubt to a special examination in these subjects. He will also have authority, either as a result of such an examination or at any time during the course, to remove from the College any candidate whom he considers unable to follow the course prescribed. A physical test will be undergone by candidates on their arrival at Delhi, followed by an examination conducted by a Medical Board. Local Governments will decide the extent of practical training probationers should go through prior to joining the College and the allowance to be given to them during this training. It is left to Local Governments to award stipends or scholarships to probationary students at the College in such manner as they consider suitable, subject to the condition that the amount granted shall not exceed Rs. 2,400 for the two years' course. The age of the candidates is also left to the discretion of Local Governments, subject to the proviso that without the special orders of the Local Government no candidates of less than 18 or more than 25 years of age should be sent for instruction. Similarly, it is left to each Local Government to decide as to the length of the period of probation to be required from candidates after the completion of the course and before appointment to the Provincial Service, provided that no such officer may be appointed substantively to the Provincial Service until there is an actual vacancy in that service for him, but candidates who have completed the course should, while on probationary service, be classed not (as has hitherto been sometimes the case) as Rangers but as Probationary Extra Assistant Conservators, on the scale of pay sanctioned in Circular Resolution No. 31-F-16-4, dated 9th October 1910. Any candidate who is not appointed permanently to Government service before attaining the age of 25 may be allowed to count, as service towards pension, any period of training or probation served after attaining that age. The number of candidates to be sent for instruction will be fixed in each year for each Local Government and, so long as the number of candidates prescribed is not exceeded, Local Governments will be at liberty to send either candidates for direct appointment or Rangers. Full discretion is left to Local Governments as regards the age at which Rangers may be sent, but they should be educationally qualified to follow and profit by the course of instruction and, as in the case of direct candidates, the President will have power to examine and remove any Rangers whom he considers unfitted to follow the course.

GOVERNMENT OF MADRAS.

LOCAL AND MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT.

G. O. No. 1457 M., 30th July 1913.

ACTS AND RULES.

Confirming, with remarks, the rules for regulating the schemes for the extension of towns and the provision of house accommodation undertaken by municipal councils and ordering the publication of the necessary notification in the Fort St. George Gazette and in all the District Gazettes.

The following notification will be published in the Fort St. George Gazette in English and in all the district gazettes in English and the vernacular language of the district:—

NOTIFICATION.

Under clause (n) of sub-section (1) of section 250 of the Madras District Municipalities Act, 1894, the Governor in Council is pleased to issue the following rules for regulating the schemes for the extension of towns and the provision of house accommodation undertaken by municipal councils:—

Rules.

No scheme for the extension of a town or for the acquisition of land for the provision of house accommodation shall be undertaken by a municipal council unless the site selected by it for such extension or acquisition has been previously approved by the District Medical and Sanitary Officer or the Sanitary Commissioner with special reference to the suitability of the soil for building construction, facilities for drainage and water-supply and other matters.

2. The site for an extension should be open to the prevailing winds. It should be elevated above surrounding lands wherever possible and should have a gravel or sandy sub-soil and when such a site is not available an open site possessing a sufficient slope either from one end to the other or from the centre outwards should be selected and the site should not be liable to be flooded. The sub-soil should be of as porous a character as possible, clay being the worst and gravel the best and the sub-soil water level should not rise during the rains to a height less than 6 feet from the ground level.

3. Streets shall be marked out on the site and shall as far as possible run in straight lines crossing one another at right angles. The main exclusive of lateral drains shall be not less than 40' in width and the secondary streets not less than 30'. In the case of long streets, cross streets shall be provided at intervals of from 1,000 to 1,500 feet so as to secure perfusion of air and easy exit.

4. All streets shall, unless the Government otherwise direct, be metalled throughout their entire width from side to side and not merely the centre of the roadway.

5. Conservancy lanes 10' in width exclusive of lateral drains shall be formed along the backs of houses to enable conservancy carts and scavengers to enter for the purpose of cleansing backyards and for the laying of drainage pipes in the event of the town being provided with underground drainage.

6. Streets shall be provided on both sides with open and impervious U-shaped drains without joints to carry off storm water. No such drain shall on any account be rectangular or shall be less than $2\frac{1}{2}' \times 2'$ in main streets, $2' \times 1\frac{1}{2}'$ in secondary streets and $1\frac{1}{2}' \times 1'$ in conservancy lanes, or shall be constructed so close to the outer limits of houses facing the street as to allow water from the eaves to fall on to the road surface between the side drains. If the drains are constructed of Cuddapah slabs, their joints shall be well cemented: in other cases their sides shall be plastered with cement sloping to the bottom.

7. The formation of streets and drains must form part of the scheme for laying out the site and should ordinarily be put in hand simultaneously with the execution of the scheme instead of being deferred to a future date.

8. In all cases where the width of the main streets exceeds 50' municipal councils shall, as far as possible, plant and maintain suitable avenue trees on both sides of the street.

9. Suitable places for the construction of public latrines shall be selected and set apart for the purpose.

10. Where there is no pipe water-supply, suitable sites shall be selected for the sinking of public wells.

11. The land acquired for the extension of a town shall be plotted into house-sites, the size of which shall ordinarily be not less than $45' \times 60'$. Ordinarily also the sites so laid out shall, unless the Government otherwise direct, be sold in public auction subject to such conditions and penalties for failure to comply with them as may be stated in the sale-deed.

12. Every sale-deed in respect of a building-site by a municipal council shall contain a condition (which shall also be embodied in the notice of sale published by the council) requiring the purchaser to complete the construction of the house within a period of one year from the date of purchase and providing that unless the time is extended by the municipal council for good cause shown to the satisfaction of the council, the purchaser's title to the site shall come and determine at that time and the site shall revert in the municipal council and that the purchaser shall be entitled only to a refund of 90 per cent. of the price originally paid by him to the municipal council.

13. No house-sites shall be built upon unless and until the purchaser submits a plan of the building to the municipal council and furnishes the particulars required by section 180 of the Madras District Municipalities Act, 1884, including—

(a) a statement showing the dimensions of the building and the levels at which it is intended to lay the foundation and lowest floor; and

(b) a statement showing the means of ventilation and drainage and the privies which it is intended to provide.

14. No sub-division of house-sites or construction of more than one house on each site shall be permitted.

15. Houses shall be constructed with frontage facing the streets and shall have an open space of five feet all round.

16. The construction of houses lying back to back shall be strictly prohibited.

17. No house or out-house shall under any circumstances be allowed to be constructed with thatch.

18. The main walls of the house shall not be less than 10' high. The eaves must not be less than 8' above the plinth.

19. The provision for ventilation shall comprise suitable windows in the rooms.

20. No house shall be built on a basement of less than 2' from the ground and such basement shall be of masonry or some rat-proof material.

21. All backyards of houses shall be provided with a gateway so as to give access to municipal officers for the purpose of inspection and to the private scavenging staff.

22. All backyards of houses shall be provided with a suitable impervious lathing platform for the inmates of the house. Each house shall be provided with a latrine to be made to a standard pattern supplied by the municipal office or any other pattern approved by the municipal chairman.

23. All sullage water from a house and its backyard shall be drained into the municipal drain in the conservancy lane and not into the drain in front of the house which is provided to carry off storm water.

24. All cattle yards shall be flagged and properly drained.

25. All houses shall be enclosed by durable compound walls or fences of such description as the council may prescribe.

26. Except in so far as may be necessary for the excavation of foundations or wells or the levelling or sloping of the ground, no purchaser of a house-site shall remove earth from the site for building or any other purpose so as to leave a hollow in it.

27. Rules 13 to 26 supra should also be embodied as conditions of sale in the notice of sale published by the council and in the sale-deed before possession of a site is given. In case of breach of any of these conditions the council shall call upon the owner of the plot to make the necessary alterations or provision within a period of three months, in default of which the municipal council shall be authorized to make them itself and recover the cost from the owner.

28. No relaxation of rules 14 to 26 shall be permitted without the prior approval of the Sanitary Commissioner which will be given only on special grounds.

HIGH COURT PLEADERSHIP EXAMINATIONS.

The following consolidated and amended rules made by the High Court of Judicature at Madras by virtue of the powers conferred by sections 6, 7, 8 and 27 of the Legal Practitioners' Act XVIII of 1879, and all other powers therunto enabling are hereby notified, for general information, in supersession of the notification and circulars specified in paragraph 55 hereof. They shall come into force on the 1st day of September 1910.

Preliminary.

1. Unless the High Court for special reasons directs otherwise, Pleaders' certificates will not be granted to persons other than those duly qualified under these rules, except in the case of those persons qualified under the old rules whose names have been already registered for the issue of such certificates.

2. The right to practise in the Presidency Court of Small Causes is confined to the Pleaders at present duly enrolled therein and to Advocates, Vakils and Attorneys of the High Court.

Classes of Pleaders.

3. Pleaders in the Courts subordinate to the High Court shall be classed as—

- (a) Pleaders of the First Grade.
- (b) Pleaders of the Second Grade.

4. Pleaders of the first grade shall be entitled to appear, plead and act in all the Civil and the Criminal Courts of the districts in which their certificates authorize them to practise.

5. Pleaders of the second grade shall be entitled to appear, plead and act in any District Munsif's Court in which they are enrolled and in the Court of any District or Subordinate Judge exercising the powers of a Court of Small Causes under section 28 of the Madras Civil Courts Act 1873, in which they are enrolled.

Pleaders of the second grade shall also be entitled to appear, plead and act in any Court of Criminal Jurisdiction in the district in which they are enrolled, other than the Sessions Court of the Division.

Note — In these rules and in the forms appended thereto the word "District" denotes the territorial jurisdiction of a District Judge.

(Qualifications of Pleaders.)

6. The following persons may be admitted as Pleaders of the first grade :—

(a) Any person who has obtained the Degree of Bachelor of Laws of one of the Universities of Madras, Calcutta, Bombay or Allahabad.

(b) Any person who has passed the examination qualifying for the degree of Bachelor of Laws of the University of Madras and whose name has appeared in the list of successful candidates published by the University in the Fort St. George Gazette.

(c) Any person who produces a certificate from the Examination Board that he has passed the examination prescribed from time to time by the High Court for the First Grade Pleadership Examination.

In cases coming under clause (a), application for admission must be made within one year from the date of obtaining the said Degree of Bachelor of Laws, or, if the applicant has become an apprentice with a view to enrolment as a High Court Vakil, within two years from the date of obtaining the said degree.

In cases coming under clause (b) application for admission must be made within one year from the date of the publication of the results of the examination in the Fort St. George Gazette, or if the applicant has become an apprentice with a view to enrolment as a High Court Vakil and has not taken the Degree of Bachelor of Laws, within two years from that date.

In cases coming under clause (c), the application for admission must be made within one year from the date of the certificate of passing the Pleadership Examination issued by the Pleadership Examination Board.

Provided that it shall be competent to the High Court to grant further time for any special reason.

7. Candidates for a Pleadership of the first grade shall until further orders of the Court, be examined in the following branches of the Law in force in British India :—

- (1) Law of Landlord and Tenant and Transfer of Property.
- (2) Civil Procedure Code and Law of Evidence.
- (3) Criminal Procedure Code and Law of Evidence.
- (4) Indian Penal Code.
- (5) Hindu Law.
- (6) Law of Contracts and Specific Relief.
- (7) Law of Torts and Easements.

8. To qualify for a Pleadership of the first grade, a candidate is required to obtain not less than 40 per cent. of the marks assigned by the Examination Board to each of the subjects Nos. 2, 3 and 4, not less than 33 per cent. of the marks assigned by the Board to subject No. 5 and not less than 40 per cent. of the aggregate of the marks assigned to all the subjects of examination.

9. The examination of the candidates in all subjects shall be conducted in the English language only.

10. No person will be entitled to appear for the First Grade Pleadership Examination unless he produces a certificate showing that he has obtained the Degree of Bachelor of Arts of one of the British Indian Universities, or has passed such examination at one of the English, Irish or Scotch Universities, as may hereafter be declared to entitle him to appear for the said examination, and also a certificate signed by the Principal of the Madras or Trivandrum Law College showing that he has undergone the prescribed course of instruction at the College, or a certificate signed by the head of his office showing that he has rendered approved active service for at least five years in some one or more of the appointments mentioned below :—

- (1) the appointment of Interpreter, or Bench Clerk, in the High Court, Presidency Small Cause Court, or City Civil Court;
- (2) the appointment of Sarishtadar, Head Clerk, or Translator, in a District Court;
- (3) the appointment of Sarishtadar, or Head Clerk, in a Subordinate Judge's Court.

Provided that—

- (a) articleed clerks applying for examination under rule 18 of the rules for the qualification and admission of persons as Attorneys of the High Court of Judicature at Madras, dated the 14th day of May 1906, may be admitted to the First Grade Pleaders' Examination on production of certificates showing that they have the permission of the High Court to appear; and
- (b) it shall be competent to the High Court to exempt any person from the operation of this rule on sufficient cause being shown.

11. Applicants for the examination for the First Grade of Pleaders' must be above 20 years of age.

12. Nothing in these rules shall affect the right of any candidate to qualify for the Second Grade Pleaders' in 1915 under the rules heretofore in force.

Examinations.

13. Every candidate for the Pleaders' Examination shall, unless the High Court or a Judge otherwise orders on or before the 15th day of February, apply to the Examination Board for leave to present himself at the ensuing examination, and he shall establish to their satisfaction that he possesses the qualifications prescribed for such candidates.

Candidates for the examination will be allowed time up to the 10th day of April preceding to produce the certificate of attendance at the Law College. Such certificate, if not filed with the application, must be sent direct to the Deputy Registrar, High Court, Appellate Side.

14. Such application is not to be transmitted to the Board direct, but it is to be filed on or before the 15th day of February in the Court of the District Judge within whose jurisdiction the candidate resides or is employed, and, in the case of candidates residing or employed within the limits of the Original Jurisdiction of the High Court, in the office of the Deputy Registrar of the High Court, Appellate Side, or of the Principal of the Madras Law College. In the case of candidates residing in foreign territory, the application must be forwarded direct to the Deputy Registrar of the High Court, Appellate Side, so as to reach the Deputy Registrar on or before the 15th day of February, accompanied by a treasury receipt for the payment of the admission fee into any treasury authorized to receive fees from candidates for the University or Special Test Examinations in the Madras Presidency. The application must be accompanied by the necessary documents and papers in original with the receipt of the Officer in charge of a Government Treasury for the full fee for the examination, required by rule 23 of the Rules.

The Judges or Deputy Registrar or Principal, as the case may be, shall thereupon satisfy himself as to the identity of the candidate; and he shall, on or before the 1st day of March, transmit to the Examination Board all such applications with the documents accompanying, together with the list of the applications and annexures, and any other information which he may think it needful in any case to communicate.

Candidates applying under proviso (a) to rule 10 shall present their applications on or before the 15th February to the Deputy Registrar of the High Court, Original Side, who will forward them to the Examination Board before the 1st March, with the certificates showing that the applicants have the permission of the High Court to appear for the examination.

15. The Board shall thereupon take the case of each candidate, with the report of the District Judge or Deputy Registrar or Principal into their consideration, and shall determine whether or not the candidate is possessed of the necessary qualifications. If the candidate is found qualified, the Examination Board shall cause his name, the name of his father, his age, place of residence and other needful particulars to be entered in a register of persons permitted to appear at the examination.

16. An extract from the register shall be forwarded to the District Judge or Deputy Registrar or Principal, with a declaration that the candidate is permitted to appear at the next ensuing examination, for delivery to him. The Judge or Deputy Registrar or Principal shall cause a notice of his having received such extracts to be posted on a Notice Board in the Court-house or Law College, and shall deliver them to the candidate on application; and it shall be the duty of the candidate on the day fixed for the examination to produce such extract, when called upon, to the officer appointed by Government to preside and superintend at the examination.

The District Judge, in carrying out these rules, shall conform to such instructions as he may receive from the Examination Board through their President or Secretary.

Admission.

17. Any persons who shall have qualified under these rules and who shall desire to be admitted to practise, shall pay into the Government treasury of the district in which he shall intend ordinarily to practise, the admission fee prescribed, and shall, on presentation of the certificate of the Examination Board or of his diploma, or in the case of a

18. The application, together with the certificate or diploma or declaration, the receipt and the stamp paper required by rule 17, shall be presented to the Judge of the district in which the applicant intends ordinarily to practise, and shall be forwarded by the Judge to the Registrar of the High Court, with such remarks as he may think fit to make thereon. The name of the applicant and his place of abode, together with his father's name and place of abode, shall be affixed in some conspicuous place in the Court-house of the Judge to whom the application is sent, and also in the High Court at least six weeks before the applicant is admitted to practise.

19. The High Court may call for evidence of the respectability of the applicant, in any case in which it may be deemed necessary.

Certificate.

20. Upon the applicant being admitted by the High Court, the Registrar of the High Court shall cause his name to be entered in the proper register and shall issue to him a certificate as required by section 7 of Act XVIII of 1879, authorizing him to practise, up to the end of the calendar year, in the Courts specified therein.

Provided that—

- (a) in no certificate issued to a Pleader of the First Grade shall Courts in more than three adjacent districts be specified: and
- (b) in no certificate issued to a Pleader of the Second Grade shall Courts in more than one district be specified.

On the renewal of certificates, except with the special sanction of the High Court, those districts and Courts only shall be entered which were entered in the certificate in the preceding year subject to the foregoing provisions.

21. The certificate shall bear the number assigned to it in the register and shall be signed by the Registrar and forwarded to the District Judge to be delivered to the applicant.

The certificate shall be taken to authorize enrolment in the Courts specified therein. The holder can take it to any Court therein mentioned, and may, with the approval of the presiding Judge, be enrolled in such Court. The approval should not be withheld unless the Judge is aware of circumstances which, in his judgment, affect the professional character of the applicant; and in any case in which enrolment is refused, the fact and the reasons for it should be communicated forthwith to the High Court.

Renewals.

22. Every application for the renewal of a certificate must be made through the Judge presiding in the Court in which the Pleader ordinarily practises, and unless the High Court or a Judge thereof otherwise orders, shall be made not later than November 16th and shall be forwarded by the District Judge to the Registrar of the High Court not later than the 30th idem. The renewed certificates shall be issued as soon as possible, and unless the High Court or a Judge thereof otherwise orders, shall be dated January 1st of the year to which they relate.

Printing of Renewed Certificates.

Renewed certificates will be issued from the High Court in printed forms, similar to those used for the original certificates. District Judges are accordingly requested to submit the blank stamp papers produced by all applicants for renewed certificates to the High Court as early as possible. The prescribed forms will thereupon be printed in the High Court on the stamp papers and these will be returned to the District Courts for issue to the applicants. In case an applicant submits more than a single stamp paper for his renewed certificate, the paper of the highest value alone must be sent to the High Court with the words first or second grade Pleader, as the case may be, written on the back.

Pending the receipt of the renewed certificate, practitioners may continue to practise, subject to such precautions as to identification as the District Judge may think fit to prescribe.

Note.—Change of district is not allowed in the middle of the year—H.C. Cur. No. 355 of 1896.

23. The fees payable previous to examination and on application for enrolment shall be as follows.—

	First Grade Pledership.	Second Grade Pledership.
	RS.	RS.
For examination	35	...
For admission	7	5

Refund of Fees.

No refund either of Pledership admission (enrolment) fees or of Pledership Examination fees shall be made without the sanction and authority of the High Court.

No refund of examination fees will be granted except in cases in which the candidate shall have been declared disqualified to appear at the examination.

Refund of admission (enrolment) fees may be granted at any time by the High Court of its own motion or on reference from a District Judge. Refunds of Examination fees may be granted at any time after the candidate is declared by the Pledership Examination Board to be eligible for the examination.

Penalties.

24. If any person, having passed the examination entitling him to be admitted and enrolled as a Pleader, shall fail to apply for such admission and enrolment for a period of one year from the time of passing the examination, he shall not be admitted and enrolled, except by special order of the High Court.

25. If any person, having obtained a certificate, shall fail to renew it for a period of two years, it shall not be renewed, without the orders of the High Court, and he shall be required to produce satisfactory testimonials to his character during the interval.

26. If any person shall hold any appointment under Government, or be a student at any school or college, or shall carry on any trade or other business at the time of his application for admission as a Pleader, he shall state the fact in his application for admission, and the High Court may refuse to admit such person or pass such orders thereon as it thinks proper. Save on the condition mentioned hereunder, the High Court will not grant Pledership certificates to persons holding judicial or other office under Government:—

(1) The applicant must be prepared to resign his appointment on receipt of his Pledership certificate.

(2) The applicant must obtain leave of absence from his official superior with the object of practising as a Pleader. In this case the certificate is granted only on condition of its being returned for cancellation should the applicant revert to his appointment under Government.

27. If any person, having been admitted as Pleader, accepts any appointment under Government, becomes a student of any school or college for purposes of pursuing his studies or enters into any trade or other business, or accepts employment as a Law Agent other than a Pleader, Mukhtiar or Agent certified under Act XVIII of 1879 and these rules, he shall give immediate notice thereof to the High Court who may thereupon suspend such Pleader from practice or pass such orders as the said Court may think fit.

27. If any person, having been admitted as Pleader, accepts any appointment under Government, becomes a student of any school or college for purposes of pursuing his

Provided that when a Pleader is appointed by or under the authority of the High Court to the office of District Munsif, whether temporarily or permanently, it shall not be necessary to give the notice prescribed in the first part of this rule; but no Pleader while employed as District Munsif shall be permitted to practice or do any business as a Pleader before any Court.

Suspensions and Dismissals.

28. Subordinate Judges and District Munsifs are required to bring to the notice of the District Judge every case in which a Pleader is guilty of misconduct for which he is liable to be suspended or dismissed under the provisions of the Legal Practitioners' Act

In every case in which a report is received under section 14 of the Legal Practitioners' Act or the High Court, after perusal of the records, considers the proceedings of a Subordinate Court should be revised under section 15 of the Act, the Registrar shall set the case down for hearing by a Bench of three Judges, and shall give reasonable notice to the Pleader, and to the person (if any) on whose complaint proceedings were instituted, of the day on which the report or order will be considered, and such Pleader and complainant may appear in person or by counsel or vakil to show cause against or support the report or order.

29. Any wilful violation of any of the above rules shall subject a Pleader to suspension or dismissal.

SANITARY INSPECTORS' DEPARTMENT.

TRAINING OF SANITARY INSPECTORS

1. The class for the training of Sanitary Inspectors in the College will be held for six months from July to December.

1 Proceedings of the Director of Public Instruction, Dis. No. 6693/03, dated 21st October 1907.

2. Candidates who have passed the Matriculation prior to 1910 or any higher Examination are eligible for admission. Those who have obtained the best Secondary School Leaving Certificate issued under the authority of Government showing that the candidate possesses sufficient knowledge in the ordinary subjects and two optional subjects other than Shorthand and Typewriting are also eligible. In the selection of candidates preference will be given to those who belong to this Presidency and have passed the higher educational tests.

3. The fee prescribed for the course is Rs. 30 (thirty rupees).

4. Applications from candidates must be made to the Principal on printed forms which can be had from the Senior Assistant, Medical College, on sending a half-anna postage stamp. Such applications will not be registered unless accompanied by a registration fee of Rs. 5; the sum will be allowed to count towards the tuition fee in the case of candidates who are selected and who will be required to pay the balance of Rs. 25 only to complete the payment. No refund of the registration fee will be allowed under circumstances to selected candidates.

The registration fee as well as the balance must be paid into a Government Treasury to the credit of the "Madras Medical College," and the treasury receipt sent to the Principal.

5. The course of training under the revised scheme comprises physiology, hygiene and bacteriological demonstrations, and the standard corresponds to the intermediate technical examination in physiology and hygiene under the Government Technical Examinations scheme.

6. The applications will be received by the Principal from the 1st April to 15th May. Selected candidates should remit the balance of the fee and send the treasury receipt to the Principal after intimation of selection.

7. The following documents (in original) should be submitted with the application:—
Qualification certificate.
Conduct certificate.
Transfer (or leaving) certificate.
Vaccination certificate.
Permission from superior officer (if in Public service).

Applications defective in any way or which have not been received on the 15th May will be rejected.

8. Any selected candidate who may fail to join the class within three days after work commences, will be refused admission and no claim for refund of the fee will be entertained.

9. Students will not be granted leave to get married during working days of the session, unless under most exceptional circumstances, when permission must be obtained, before arrangements for the marriage are definitely made.

10. Before obtaining their certificates as Sanitary Inspectors, candidates are required to satisfy the Sanitary Commissioner of their ability to ride and cycle. No one will be promoted to the post of a Deputy Inspector of Vaccination, unless he has a speaking and reading knowledge of both Tamil and Telugu.

MINOR SANITARY ENGINEERING CLASS.

This class is held for the purpose of imparting a course of instruction in Sanitary Engineering (1) to Civil Assistant Surgeons nominated by the Surgeon-General and (2) to candidates for the post of Civil Assistant Surgeon. In selection of candidates for the latter appointments, preference is given to those who have undergone this course. The course extends over a period of two months, usually May and June of each year. For private students the fee fixed for the course is Rs. 15, a treasury receipt for which should be submitted along with the application for admission. Only qualified medical men can be admitted to this class. Applications should be made to the Principal not later than the date of publication of the University results (Degree examination).

ENTRANCE EXAMINATION FOR THE SUBORDINATE ESTABLISHMENT OF THE ACCOUNTS BRANCH, PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (ACCOUNTANTS, 5th GRADE).

REVISED RULES.

Based on Government of India, Public Works Department Code, Appendix C, and Madras Government Order, No. 2502 W., dated 7th September 1892.

1. Admission to the Subordinate Establishment of the Accounts Branch, Public Works Department, will, as a rule, be obtained in the English Grade of Accountants.

2. G. O. No. 491, Educational, dated 9th August 1898.

Appointments may be made direct or from the Establishment of Accounts clerks in the offices of Examiners and Executive Engineers. All candidates for admission to the Accounts Branch must pass the examination described in paragraph 6 below, and must, unless they are in Government employ, be in a service jurisdiction by Government, be under 25 years of age at the time of appointment. Five appointments, as accounts clerks in Executive Engineers' Office, will be reserved for persons who have passed the Entrance Examination, and who are willing to accept general service.

2. The qualifications of a candidate for appointment as Accountant, English Grade, will be attested by a certificate from the Principal, College of Engineering.

3. Candidates will be examined annually on the first Monday in September. The examination will be pro facto invalidated, if it be not begun and completed on that date; but the officer superintending the examination may make his own arrangements regarding place and hour of examination, with the candidates.

4. The examination for candidates from the Madras Presidency will be held at the College of Engineering, Madras, and provincially at the office of any Superior Officer of the Public Works Department. Candidates for examination at the College will forward their applications direct to the Principal on or before the last Monday in August. Provincial candidates should apply to a Superior Officer of the Public Works Department, not later than thirty days previous to the date fixed for the examination, and should obtain his consent to conduct the examination. Each application must be forwarded by the candidate, not direct to the Principal but through the Officer. Every application must be accompanied by a fee of ten rupees (Rs. 10), paid in cash, or currency notes, or by money order, and the following certificates—

- (a) Certificate of good character, covering a period of not less than two years immediately preceding the application, from a superior under whom the candidate has served, or to whom he is well known, or by whom he has been educated.
- (b) Certificate that the candidate is under 25 years of age (not required if candidate is in permanent Government employ or in a service which is pensionable by Government).
- (c) Certificate that the application is in the candidate's handwriting.

These certificates may be submitted in original, or by authenticated copies, but none will be returned.

5. The Principal will decide from the certificates whether an application should be registered or rejected.

6. Examination papers for registered candidates will be sent from the College to Superintending Officers in time for the examination. The following are the subjects of examination and the marks for each. In order to pass, a candidate must obtain the minimum marks in each subject and, independently, two-thirds (40) of the total marks:—

	Maximum Marks.	Minimum Marks to pass.
Writing (neatness, clearness, and rapidity) ..	100	50
Dictation (spelling, punctuation, etc.) ..	100	50
Arithmetic (the whole) ..	240	160
Mensuration (the whole) ..	60	30
Book-keeping (mercantile) ...	100	50
	600	340

TEXT-BOOKS.—Book-keeping by Inglis (Chambers Course); Mensuration for Beginners by Todhunter.

7. Each examination is complete in itself. A candidate who fails at an examination and wishes to appear at a subsequent one, must furnish a fresh fee and certificates and undergo the full examination.

8. The College of Engineering acts solely as an examining agency. Passed candidates should apply (1) to the Examiner of Public Works Accounts, Madras, for direct appointment as Accountant, or for appointment as Accounts clerk in the Examiner's Office, (2) to Superintending Engineers for appointment as Accounts clerk in Executive Engineers' Offices. The passing of the examination does not give any claim to appointment, and in the selection of candidates for appointment care will be taken that different races and castes are fairly represented.

9. After each examination, lists of successful candidates are forwarded to the Accountant-General to the Government of India, Public Works Department, to the Examiner at Madras, and to the Superintending Engineers of Circles in the Madras Presidency.

With a view to encourage thrift, self-help and co-operation, the Government of India was pleased to enact Act V of 1904 (now the amended Act 11 of 1912) chiefly to benefit agriculturists and persons of limited means. The Indian Companies Act, VI of 1882, prescribes a very cumbersome procedure resorted to for small co-operative societies. The societies are of several types, many of them are cash banks and attracting money by loans and deposits, lend it on favourable terms to their own members, some of them are distributive stores. The societies are financed in several ways, some, chiefly Urban Societies, get enough share capital and work on their own deposits, some borrow from the Central Urban Bank, Madras, or other District Banks similarly constituted. The indirect advantages, especially in rural villages, are manifold as the Societies teach co-operation to the people and reduce faction. An officer styled 'The Registrar' assisted by seven Assistant Registrars has been appointed to publish to the people the wishes of Government, to consider applications for the starting of societies, to supervise in a general way their work and to audit the accounts. Government help in money is limited to small loans originally advanced at the inception of the movement to some of the societies on favourable terms, but the chief help is the provision of competent officers to mature the growth of societies, and to audit their accounts annually. On the 30th June 1917, the number of societies working was 2,216, the total number of members 161,121; the reserve fund of the societies amounted to Rs. 9,62,790. During the year ending 30th June 1917, the net profit of all the societies amounted to Rs. 1,98,983.

2. Besides the Madras Central Urban Bank, Limited, which has converted itself into a Provincial Bank, having thrown open its shares to Societies in the whole of the Madras Presidency, and the Christian Central Co-operative Bank, Ltd., twelve other central Banks have been registered at Salem, Trichinopoly, Coimbatore, Tenali, Kumbakonam, Pettur, Conjeevaram, Masulipatam, Madura, Vicanagaram, Berhampur and Vellore, with the object of financing registered societies chiefly in their respective districts. In the City of Madras, there are besides the Madras Central Urban Bank, Ltd., and the Christian Central Co-operative Bank, Ltd., twenty-six Co-operative Societies, of which one is a Provincial Corporation Union and two are stores. A quarterly journal called the "Madras Bulletin of Co-operation" in English, Tamil and Telugu is issued by the Madras Provincial Co-operative Union.

3. The Government has sanctioned several valuable concessions in favour of the societies, such as exemption from stamp and registration fees and from income-tax.

NOTIFICATIONS.

Ootacamund, October 2, 1915.

In exercise of the powers conferred by section 43 of the Co-operative Societies Act, 1912, and in supersession of all rules heretofore issued by the Governor-in-Council under the Co-operative Credit Societies Act, 1901, the Governor-in-Council is pleased to make the following rules to carry out the purposes of the Act, namely—

In these rules—

- (a) the expression "the Act" means the Co-operative Societies Act, 1912;
- (b) terms defined in the Act shall bear the meanings respectively assigned to them therein.

RULES.

1. Any body of persons desirous of applying for registration as a Co-operative Society under section 5 of the Act shall apply to the Registrar of Co-operative Societies in the form prescribed in the schedule appended to these rules.

2. With every application for registration, the applicants shall submit a draft of the bye-laws agreed upon by them. The bye-laws shall be consistent with the Act and with the rules made by the Government thereunder and they shall deal with the matters specified in clauses (a) to (v) below and may deal with such other matters incidental to the organisation of the society and the management of its business as may be deemed necessary:—

- (a) the name and address of the society;
- (b) the area of its operations;
- (c) the objects of the society;
- (d) the purpose to which its funds are applicable;
- (e) the qualifications for admission to membership and the payment, if any, to be made or interest to be acquired as a condition of exercising the right of membership;
- (f) the nature and extent of the liability of the members for the debts contracted by the society;
- (g) the circumstances under which withdrawal from membership shall be permitted;
- (h) the procedure to be followed in case of withdrawal, ineligibility and death of members;
- (i) under what conditions, if any, the transfer of a share or the interest of a member shall be permitted;
- (j) the nature and amount of the share capital, if any, of the society and where there is a share capital, the maximum share capital which a single member can hold;
- (k) the circumstances under which the society may borrow funds and the procedure to be followed in so borrowing;
- (l) the entrance and miscellaneous fees and fines, if any, to be collected from members;
- (m) the maximum loan admissible to a member and the procedure to be followed in granting loans and extensions or renewals and in recovering loans from members;
- (n) the conditions on which loans may be granted to members;
- (o) the consequences of default in payment of any sum due by a member;
- (p) the maximum dividend payable on subscribed share capital to members;
- (q) the rates of interest payable by the society on borrowed funds and by members on loans granted to them;
- (r) in the case of productive and distributive societies the procedure to be followed in purchasing and selling stores, raw material and finished products;
- (s) the mode of holding meetings, the right of voting, and, subject to rule III, the manner of making, altering and abrogating by-laws;
- (t) the mode of appointment and removal of the managing committee and of other officers, if any, and the duties and powers of the committee and such officers;
- (u) the mode of custody and investment of the funds and, subject to rules V and VII, the mode of keeping the accounts;
- (v) the disposal of the net profits.

III. The Registrar shall satisfy himself that the proposed society does not contravene any of the provisions of the Act, that its draft bye-laws are suitable and that it has reasonable chances of success with reference to local conditions. The Registrar may, before passing final orders, call for such further information or make such enquiry as he may deem necessary. It shall also be competent to the Registrar, before registering a society, to make such alterations in the draft bye-laws submitted with the application for registration as he may deem advisable, provided that the consent of the applicants to such alterations is obtained. When the Registrar registers a society, he shall issue to it, free of cost, a certificate of registration signed by himself and bearing his official seal, and he shall also issue to the society along with the certificate of registration a certified copy of the draft bye-laws as approved and registered by him and these bye-laws shall, subject to the result of any orders passed by the Board of Revenue on appeal under rule IV or by the Board or the Government in revision, be the bye-laws of the society. Should the Registrar refuse to register a society, he shall record a brief statement of his reasons for such refusal and the applicants shall be given free of cost a copy of the Registrar's order of refusal. Where officers subordinate to the Registrar have been empowered to exercise any powers of the Registrar, their orders under this rule shall be subject to revision by the Registrar and all orders of the Registrar under this rule shall be open to revision by the Board of Revenue and the Government.

IV. If the Registrar refuses to register a society or any draft bye-law or draft amendment of a bye-law of a society, an appeal shall lie to the Board of Revenue within two months from the communication of such refusal to the applicants and it shall be competent to the Board to direct the Registrar to register the society or the draft bye-law or the draft amendment of a bye-law or to pass such other order as they may think fit.

V. Every society shall, before the 15th of July or such other special date as may in the case of societies applying for the same be fixed by the Registrar, prepare (a) a statement showing its receipts and disbursements during the year ending the 30th June preceding, (b) a statement showing its assets and liabilities as they stood on the 30th June, and (c) a statement showing the profit and loss as it stood on 30th June. These three statements shall be submitted to the Registrar without delay. After the Registrar has verified the statements and granted his audit certificate, the society shall publish the statements in a manner approved by the Registrar. For the 30th June referred to above, the Registrar may fix such other date as seems to him suitable.

VI. Copies of such entries in the books of a society as may be required for the purpose of section 26 of the Act shall be made by the President or the Secretary of the society and shall be certified by not less than three members of its managing body, including such President or Secretary and shall bear the society's seal.

VII. Co-operative societies shall keep the following accounts and books for the purpose of recording the business transacted by them:—

(a) Books to be maintained by credit societies:—

- (1) Minute book, recording the proceedings of the board of management and of the general body of members
- (2) Admission book, showing the name and address of each member, the date of his admission and shares taken by him.
- (3) Cash book, showing daily receipts and expenditure, and the balance at the end of each day.
- (4) Receipt book, containing forms in duplicate, one of each set to be issued for money received by the society and the other to serve as counterfoil.
- (5) Loan ledger, showing the number and date of disbursement of each loan issued to members, the amount of loan, the purpose for which it is granted and the date or dates of repayment, distinguishing principal and interest.
- (6) Ledger of borrowings, showing deposits and other borrowings of all kinds.
- (7) Liability register, showing the indebtedness of each member to the society whether on account of loans taken directly by him or on account of loans for which he stands as a surety.
- (8) Monthly register of receipts and disbursements.
- (9) Such other accounts and books as may be required or proscribed by the Registrar.

(b) Books to be maintained by central banks:—

In addition to books to be maintained as above by credit societies, all central banks, that is, societies which lend money to other societies, shall keep the following accounts:—

- (1) Interest register, showing interest payable and paid by each borrower.
- (2) Reserve fund register, showing reserve funds of societies invested in the central bank.
- (3) Suspense accounts.

(c) Properly statement to be maintained by unlimited liability societies:—

Every society based on unlimited liability shall keep a statement showing the assets and liabilities of each individual member at the date of admission as well as on the last day of each co-operative year.

(d) Books to be maintained by distributive and productive societies:—

The books for the credit branch of such societies shall be the same as for credit societies other than central banks. In addition, the following books shall be maintained by distributive and productive societies:—

- (1) Goods ledger, containing a classification of goods stocked and sold.
- (2) Stock purchase book, showing the daily purchase of articles.

(e) The following returns shall be submitted to the Registrar by all co-operative societies annually as soon as practicable after the end of each co-operative year:—

- (1) Statement of receipts and disbursements
- (2) Statement of assets and liabilities
- (3) Statement of profit and loss

(f) The following return shall be submitted every year to the Registrar by distributive and productive societies only:—

Statement of verification of stock on hand at the close of the co-operative year.

VIII. The Registrar shall keep:—

- (1) a register of the names and addresses of all societies;
- (2) a register of the bye-laws of societies, with true translations in English where the originals are in the vernacular, in the order of registration of the societies;
- (3) a register of amendments and alterations in the bye-laws of societies, with true translations in English where the originals are in the vernacular, in the order in which the same are certified by him as approved.

IX. (a) In societies with shares and unlimited liability, not less than one-half of the net profits shall be set apart as a reserve fund until that fund is equal to one-half of the total liabilities of the society other than reserve and share capital. When that proportion has been reached, not less than one-third of the net profits shall be added to the reserve fund, provided that if, by any increase in liabilities other than reserve and share capital, the proportion of reserve fund to such liabilities is again reduced below one-half, the share of the net profits to be credited to the reserve fund shall be raised to one-half until the proportion is restored. The balance of the net profits, after one-half or one-third has been credited to the reserve as above provided, may be divided among the shareholders, subject to a maximum of 4 per cent per annum on the paid-up value of each share. No dividend shall be distributed with out the previous sanction of the Registrar.

In societies with shares and limited liability, not less than one-quarter of the net profits shall be carried to the reserve fund, after which dividends may be declared up to a maximum of 9 per cent per annum of the paid-up value of each share and 7½ per cent of the net profits may be set apart for a common good fund. Until the reserve is equal to at least 12½ per cent. of the total liabilities of the society at the close of the year, the balance, if any, of the net profits, after allowing to be carried forward a sum, not exceeding three months working expenses based on the average of the previous year and any other charges expressly permitted by the bye-laws of the society, shall be credited to reserve.

Note.—"The term" net profits in this rule means net profits as certified by the Registrar under Rule V.

(b) Societies with shares and unlimited liability, registered as urban societies under India Act X of 1904, may continue to divide profits in accordance with their bye-laws as they stand at the present date, but they shall not increase the proportion of net profit to be divided among the members except in accordance with the foregoing provision.

(c) No bonus, which, when added to the dividend, brings the total of bonus and dividend above the maximum laid down in clauses (a) and (b) shall be allowed, but in the case of societies with shares and unlimited liability, the Registrar may sanction the payment of honoraria, on a moderate scale, to the office bearer of the society.

(d) Should a society, whether with limited or unlimited liability, which is competent either under the Act or under the present rules to divide a part of its net profits among its members elect to appropriate such portion or part thereof to a "common good fund," the purpose designated by the expression "common good" shall be clearly defined in the bye-laws of the society, and it shall not be other than a charitable purpose as defined in section 2 of the Charitable Endowments Act, 1890.

X. The reserve fund in a registered society shall be invested or deposited in one or more of the modes mentioned in section 32, sub-section (1), clauses (a), (b), (c) and (d) of the Act.

XI. Where a liquidator has been appointed under section 32, sub-section (1) of the Act, the following procedure shall be adopted:—

(a) The appointment of a liquidator shall be notified by the Registrar in the Fort St. George Gazette.

(b) The liquidator shall at once publish by such means as he may think proper a notice requiring all claims against the dissolved society to be submitted to him within three months of publication of the notice. All liabilities recorded in the account books of a society shall be deemed ipso facto to have been duly notified.

(c) The liquidator shall submit once in every three months a progress report to the Registrar in such form as the Registrar may require.

(d) All funds in the charge of the liquidator shall be deposited either in the Post Office Savings Bank or in a Central Co-operative Bank, and shall stand in his name.

(e) No appeal shall lie from any order of the liquidator.

(f) At the conclusion of the liquidation, a general meeting of the dissolved society shall be called at which the liquidator shall summarise the results of his Proceedings, shall point out the causes of the failure of the society, and shall take a vote as to the disposal of any cash balance that may remain with him, and dispose of it accordingly.

XII. (1) In the case of a dispute touching the business of the society between members or past members of the society or persons claiming through a member or past member or between a member or past member or person so claiming and the committee or any officers, a reference in writing may be made by any party to the Registrar. Similarly, in the case of a dispute relating to a debt due to a society by a member or a past member or persons claiming through a member or a past member, a reference in writing may be made by either party to the Registrar.

(2) The Registrar shall have power on receipt of such reference either to decide the dispute himself or to refer it for decision to an arbitrator appointed by him with the consent of the parties or to several arbitrators of whom one may be appointed by him and one other by each of the parties to the dispute.

(3) The Registrar, the arbitrator or arbitrators shall have power to administer oaths, to require the attendance of all parties concerned and of witnesses and to require the production of all books and documents relating to the matter of the dispute.

(4) After hearing the parties to the dispute and examining such witnesses and documentary evidence as may be produced, the Registrar or arbitrator or arbitrators shall give a decision or award in writing, and where there are several arbitrators the opinion of the majority shall prevail.

(5) On application to the Civil Court having jurisdiction over the subject matter of the decision or award that Court shall enforce the decision or award as if it were a decree of the Court.

XIII. Every member of a society may nominate a person to whom under section 22 of the Act his share or interest shall be transferred or the sum specified in that section shall be paid. Such member may from time to time revoke or vary such nomination by writing under his hand. Such nomination shall, in the event of his death, be given effect to by the society, provided that:—

(1) the nomination was signed by the deceased in the presence of at least two witnesses, attesting the same,

(2) the nomination has been registered in the books of the society kept for the purpose, and

(3) the nominee may become a member only if admitted by the board of management.

The sum representing the share or interest of a deceased member in the capital of a society with unlimited liability shall for the purpose of section 22 (1) be the amount actually paid up towards the value of the share or shares held by him.

THE PAPER CURRENCY DEPARTMENT

Includes Paper Currency Office, Branch Reserve Treasury, and Small Coin Depot.

Office—Accountant-General's Office, Fort.

A. Newmarch Commissioner of Paper Currency.
M. Subrahmanyam, B.A. Assistant Accountant-General in charge of Paper Currency.

For public business, Office opens at 11 A.M. and closes at 3 P.M.; on Saturdays at 1 P.M.

PAPER CURRENCY.

Nature of Arrangements.

(1) The Madras Circle of Issue consists of all the districts in the Presidency, with the Town of Madras as head-quarters, for the issue of notes for the Circle, and also Coorg and Bangalore Residency.

(2) The Exchange Department, at the head-quarters of each Circle of Issue, issues Home notes for coin or other notes, and coin for notes. Other, or foreign Circle notes for Rs. 5, 10, 50 and 100 are cashed unconditionally, but those of higher denominations are not cashed under any circumstances. Current notes will at all times be cashed at the Office at Madras. The Exchange Department also issues small silver and copper coin in exchange for coin.

(3) Although no person has a legal claim to obtain cash for notes except at the Currency Office of Issue, notes are cashed freely at monies' treasuries when the treasury officers are satisfied that no inconvenience can be caused to their treasuries by the encashment.

(4) At every place other than the Office of Issue, notes of the Home Circle are a legal tender in satisfaction of any claim against Government, though ordinarily no person is pressed to take notes in part or full of his demand.

Entire Notes lost.

(1) Entire notes lost are not paid. The loss of notes is not registered. In respect to notes which are alleged to have been completely lost or destroyed, the loss is advertised in the Fort Saint George Gazette and in the Gazette of India, but the Government acknowledge no liability. When completely satisfied that the notes can never be produced, the evidence of the claimant will be received, and the claim admitted or rejected at once; if admitted, the value of the note is to be invested, and no further proceedings taken, nor interest paid till five years.

(2) Intimation of the destruction or mutilation of a note, or portion of a note must be sent to the office where the note is payable thus—

- (a) If it be a Calcutta Circle note, notice should be sent to the Deputy Controller of Currency, Calcutta.
- (b) If a Cawnpore Circle note, notice should be sent to the Assistant Accountant-General of Paper Currency, Cawnpore.
- (c) If a Lahore Circle note, notice should be sent to the Commissioner of Paper Currency, Lahore.
- (d) If a Bombay Circle note, notice should be sent to the Commissioner of Paper Currency, Bombay.
- (e) If a Karachi Circle note, notice should be sent to the Commissioner of Paper Currency, Karachi.
- (f) If a Nagpore or Akola Circle note, notice should be sent to the Commissioner of Paper Currency, Bombay.
- (g) If a Madras Circle note, notice should be sent to the Commissioner of Paper Currency, Madras.
- (h) If a Rangoon Circle note, notice should be sent to the Commissioner of Paper Currency, Rangoon.

(3) Throughout these rules, the expression "lost note" includes a stolen note, and the expression "destroyed note" includes a note lost under such circumstances as render recovery physically impossible.*

RESOLUTION—No. 4034, dated the 23rd September 1891—By the Government of India, Finance and Commerce Department.

Read again the following letters to the Head Commissioner of Paper Currency:—

- No. 3458, dated the 29th October 1879;
- No. 914, dated the 15th February 1882; and
- No. 3308, dated the 21st August 1882.

Note.—Any person desiring to claim on a half-mutilated Currency Note should apply to the nearest Paper Currency Office for a copy of the statement in form I to be answered along with his application.

Resolution.—Mismatched Currency notes, that is, notes of which the right half of one is joined to the left half of another, when presented to the Currency Office for payment are dealt with in accordance with the orders contained in the letters read in the preamble. Under these orders no claim for the payment of the value of mismatched notes can be admitted by the Currency Office, but all claims are registered, and if the corresponding halves have already been received or should afterwards be received in the form of a mismatched note, the Currency Office, by joining together the proper halves and paying the entire notes, meets the claims as far as possible. Such notes are held in deposit in the Currency Office for three years awaiting the receipt of the corresponding halves, but thereafter the full value of both the halves is credited to Revenue.

2. The Governor-General in Council is now pleased to decide that in future, instead of crediting the value of both the halves of mismatched notes to Government after they have remained unclaimed for three years, the value of one half should be credited to Government and that of the other half to the depositor of the mismatched note.

Secretary to the Government of India.

Instructions to claimants of value on Currency notes.

Notes how described.—Each currency note has a serial letter and number and a general number thus: Y 10106—serial letter "Y," serial No. "16," general No. 10106. No action can be taken with reference to any note until it has been thus fully described, or identified in all these details.

Notes when payable across the counter.—A currency note that has the same series and numbers on both halves, and is neither mutilated nor altered nor forged, is payable to the bearer on demand at the office of the Circle from which it was issued; and, if a sub-circle note—at the office of the head circle also.

Notes lost or stolen.—The payment of a genuine currency note cannot be "stopped," as all entire currency notes are payable to bearer on demand. The Currency Department does not register the loss of notes.

Wholly destroyed notes.—When a currency note has by any accident been totally destroyed, full description of the note and of the circumstances of its destruction should be sent to the Currency Office of the circle of issue to which the note belonged. Government are under no legal liability to pay the value of such a note, but payment after five years is sometimes made as a concession.

Half notes.—A half note represents no value, nor has a person holding only one-half of a note any claim to recover value when the other half has been transferred, either by him or by the last legal holder of the entire note, to the legal possession of another person. When one-half of a note is lost, the other half should be sent to the Currency Office of the circle of issue to which the note belongs, and an application for refund of the value of the note made by the person who last held simultaneously both halves of it. Government are under no legal liability to refund value on half notes, but payment may be made as a concession, if the Commissioner or Head Controller of Currency thinks such a course warranted by the facts of the case.

Mutilated or charred notes.—A mutilated or charred note represents no value. Payment can be made only as a concession, and the decision rests in the first instance with the Currency Officer, and then, in cases of doubt or appeal, with the Commissioner of Paper Currency or the Controller of Currency.

Mismatched notes.—A mismatched note represents no value, but the Currency Department is willing to hold such notes on behalf of depositors, and to pay value on them on receipt of either one or both of the corresponding halves. Further, if a mismatched note remains in deposit for one year and no payment has been made on it, in the meantime, its value is paid on the expiration of the above period.
